Constitution Approval . . .

Last Wednesday the Student Council placed its stamp of approval on the proposed constitution. Per se, this action seems sensible and timely.

But what would happen if violent disagreement arose concerning one article of the long constitution during the hearing Wednesday? Is the Council prepared to take such action necessary to change any portion which might seem adverse to any opponent of the new system?

One Race, Nationality Answer To War, Peace Problems

By Rod Riggs

Recently it was brought to my attention in one of my classes here that the cause of the wars and the reasons that peace can't be lasting is "the superficiality of the agreements made between the peoples of the earth."

reason, if there is any one right decision. It is the teacher's job to furnish the basis for the decision, one way or the other, not the decision.

Works of Sigmund Romberg Are Music Lover Favorites

By Art Epstein

Last week the column was devoted to "pop" music of the modern ballad variety. This week the column discusses another phase of popular music—light semi-classical.

His first musical break came one night when he was dining in a New York cafe. He told the owner how bad the dinner music was. The owner invited Romberg to play with the musicians there.
