

NU Celebrates Ivy Day Festivities

Mortar Boards Mask Twenty Members

Squeals and screams from University coeds Saturday afternoon announced the selection of twenty new members of the honorary Black Masque society of Mortar Board.

Following a custom of 46 years, the new members were masked at the traditional Ivy Day festivities on the campus.

Besides the twenty University coeds one faculty member was chosen as an honorary member of the society.

Running true to tradition, the girls were informed of their selection only when retiring members of the society presented them with black masks.

Nancy Porter, past president of Mortar Board, masked Miss Mary E. Mielenz, supervisor of English at Teachers College high school.

Outstanding Service

She was selected for her outstanding service as faculty advisor to University Builders, Student Council, Mortar Board and Coed Counselors and for her work on the Teachers College Advisory committee and the faculty committee on student affairs.

Miss Porter began circling the junior women in search of the new Mortar Board president.

The head mask was placed on Sharon Fritzler. Sharon is a Teachers College student, member of the Associated Women Students board, Student Council, Nebraska Masquers and the YWCA cabinet.

Sarah Fulton, Teachers College student, donned the mask of vice president of the society.

AUF Head

Sarah is president of the All-University Fund board and a staff member of the Cornhusker student yearbook.

New Secretary of the senior women's honorary is Jacquelyn Hoss. Jackte is a managing editor of the Cornhusker and a member of the All-University Fund board. She is a Teachers College student.

Fourth officer of the Black Masque society is Marilyn Moomey, treasurer. An Arts and Sciences student, Marilyn is vice-president of the Associated Women Students and a member of the Union board.

Office of historian for the society was placed on Anne Barger. Anne is a student in Teachers College, vice president of the All-University Fund board and of University Builders, and summer activities coordinator.

The rest of the honorary society's membership is composed of fifteen girls who are:

Nancy Button is a Teachers College student. She is president of Associated Women Students and a member of the Women's Athletic Association board.

Builders Presy

Marilyn Coupe is president of the Builders organization. She is a student in Teachers College and a member of the College Days committee.

Joanne Engelkemier is a University Ag College student. She is vice president of the Home Ec club, associate editor of the Cornhusker Countryman and a chairman of Hospitality Day.

Eleanor Erickson is also a student in Ag College. Her activities include vice president of the Ag YWCA and former editor of the Cornhusker Countryman.

Mary Hubka is a student in the College of Arts and Sciences. She is president of Coed Counselors, member of the Student Council and the city campus YWCA cabinet.

Dorm Counselor

Delores Irwin is president of the Women's Athletic Association. She is a dorm counselor and a student in Teachers College.

Beverly Larsen is vice president of the campus pep society, Tassels. She is a member of the Cornhusker staff, All-University Fund board and in Arts and Sciences college.

Peggy Mulvaney is a Teachers College student and vice-president of Coed Counselors. Peggy is also secretary of the Women's Athletic Association, member of Student Council and president of the Badminton club.

Joan Raun is another Ag College student to be masked into the Mortar Board society. She is president of the Home Ec club, secretary of the Ag Executive board and former notification chairman of Tassels.

Union, AWS Boards

Juanita Rediger is a former Daily Nebraskan staff member and an Arts and Sciences student. Juanita is a former cheerleader, present secretary of Builders and a member of the Union and AWS boards.

Jacquelyn Sorensen is a managing editor of the Cornhusker yearbook. Jackie is secretary of the AUF board, managing editor in the Arts and Sciences College.

Marilyn Vingers is president of the women's pep society, Tassels. Marilyn is in Arts and Sciences College, member of the Cornhusker staff and the Student Council.

Jayne Wade, member of the College Days committee, is the seventeenth new member of the society. Jayne is vice president of Builders, secretary of Tassels and a Teachers College student.

Arts and Science Student

Patricia Wiedman is vice president of the campus Red Cross. She is a member of the AWS board, Religious Welfare Council, president of Aquaquettes, swimming club, and Arts and Science student.

Miriam Willey is vice president of the campus YWCA, treasurer of the University Council for World Affairs and member of the Student Council. Miriam is also on the Coed Counselors' board and a student in Teachers College.

SHARON FRITZLER

JERRY JOHNSON

Innocents Tackle 13 Men, Two Honoraries

When Bob Raun rushed out and tackled Jerry Johnson the Innocents began their 1951 tapping.

Raun, president of this year's society, a senior men's honorary, revealed Johnson as his successor by the tackle.

The Innocents also tapped 12 other students and two University faculty members in ceremonies which climaxed the fiftieth observance of Ivy Day, Saturday afternoon.

Named to honorary membership of the society were Cornhusker football coach Bill Glassford, and George W. Rosenlof, director of admissions and registrar. They were tackled by Innocent alumni Col. C. J. Frankforter, Associate Professor of Chemistry, and Donald Lenz, conductor of the University band.

Johnson President of Innocents

Johnson, who has been outstanding in

College of Agriculture activities, is president of Ag Executive board, as well as secretary of Kosmet Klub. He is also a member of Corn Cobs, Tri-K, Alpha Zeta, Coll - Agri - Fun board, American society of Agronomy and new students week. He belongs to Alpha Gamma Rho.

The next man tapped, the new vice president, was Bob Reichenbach, assistant business manager of The Daily Nebraskan and business manager of College Days. He is vice president of Arnold Air society, a member of Interfraternity council, Alpha Kappa Psi and Kappa Sigma.

Billig New Secretary

Tapped as the new secretary was Dick Billig, managing editor of the Cornhusker and a member of the All-University-Fund board. He belongs to Kosmet Klub and is treasurer of Phi Kappa Psi.

Gene Johnson, new treasurer, is assistant business manager of the Cornhusker. He is treasurer of Corn Cobs, AUF and the junior class. Business manager of the College Days program, a member of Theta Nu, Cadet Officers association, Johnson is a member of Beta Theta Pi. The new sergeant-at-arms, Delbert Kopf, received his honor through his mother since he was with the baseball team in Colorado. Kopf is the new president of Corn Cobs, and belongs to Alpha Zeta, Tri-K, N Club, Junior Livestock judging team and Alpha Gamma Rho.

Next to hit the ground was Gene Robinson. The new vice president of Corn Cobs and president of the University 4-H club. Robinson is treasurer of Alpha Zeta and a member of Tri-K, Red Guiton, Scabbard and Blade, Cornhusker Countryman and Farm House.

Pub Board Member Tackled

Gerald Matzke followed. Vice president of NUCWA, president of the Nebraska Collegiate World Affairs organization, and a member of the Publication board, Matzke is vice president of the junior class. He belongs to the National Board of Directors for Collegiate Council of the United Nations, the five-state regional director of the C.C.U.N., Kosmet Klub, Candidate Officers association, Theta Nu and Phi Gamma Delta.

A member of Student Council, general manager of the Nebraska Blue Print and president of Pi Mu Epsilon, George Cobel, was the next newly tapped Innocent. Cobel belongs to the Engineering Executive board, American Institute of Chemical Engineering and Engineer's Week.

Jack Cohen, assistant business manager of The Daily Nebraskan, a Corn Cob and secretary of the Junior Class, was the next man to be tackled. Cohen is a member of the Interfraternity council Union committee, College Days committee and Zeta Beta Tau.

A news editor of The Daily Nebraskan and a Student Council member, Kent Axtell, was the new innocent. Axtell is a past publicity chairman for AUF, a member of Kosmet Klub, ROTC band, Gamma Lambda, Union publicity committee, Nu Meds and Phi Kappa Psi.

The editor of the Cornhusker Countryman and a member of the Student Council, Rex Messersmith was the next new innocent. Messersmith is past Ag editor of The Daily Nebraskan, a member of the YWCA cabinet, Block and Brille, Alpha Zeta, Ag Union building committee, Farmers Fair board, chairman of the Ag Union public relations committee and vice resident of Farm House.

Al Blessing's mother received his Innocent's baldric for him because he is with the University golf team in Kansas. Blessing is circulation manager for The Daily Nebraskan and a member of the varsity basketball squad. He is an Alpha Tau Omega and treasurer of the Interfraternity council.

The members of the old Innocents choose their successors.

Farm House Wins Annual Innocent Cup

Scholarship and activities paid off Saturday for members of Farm House fraternity as they won the Innocents trophy for having the year's outstanding record in the two fields.

Of the 17 fraternities competing for the cup, ten were mentioned by Bob Raun, former president of Innocents, as being outstanding. Raun made the presentation. Trophies were given houses ranking first, second and third.

Ranking second in the competition was Zeta Beta Tau. Alpha Gamma Rho placed third. This is the third year they have possessed the trophy.

Daily NEBRASKAN

Vol. 51—No. 133

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Monday, May 7, 1951

Fulton Hoss Moomey Button Coupe Barger Reichenbach Billig E. Johnson Kopf

Engelkemier Erickson Hubka Irwin Larsen Mulvaney Matzke Gobel Cohen Axtell

GLASSFORD

Raun Rediger Sorensen Vingers Robinson Wilcox

WADE Wiedman Willey Messersmith Blessing

ROSENLOF

Honoraries Name Mielenz, Rosenlof and Glassford

Three University faculty members surprised the Ivy Day audience Saturday when they were named honorary members of Innocents and Mortar Board.

Mary Mielenz, supervisor of English at Teachers college high school, was tapped by Mortar Board president, Nancy Porter, for her outstanding service to University organizations. Miss Mielenz is faculty advisor for the University Builders, Student Council, Mortar Board and Coed Counselors. She is also on the Teachers college advisory committee and the faculty committee on student affairs.

Tackle Rosenlof

First to be tackled by Innocents was George W. Rosenlof, director of admissions and registrar.

Rosenlof, a graduate of Hastings college where he received his B.S., got his Masters degree from the University, and his Ph. D. from Columbia university. He is on the Board of Directors of Hastings college and is president of the North Central Association of Universities and Colleges.

Rosenlof has been extremely active in looking out for the welfare of foreign students at the University. He has helped them to gain admission and has given them much help during their stay on the campus.

Glassford Bites Dust

Given a taste of his own medi-

College of Agriculture June graduates, (men) interested in Vet-Ag teaching should see H. W. Deems, 302 Ag hall, before May 10th. Jobs are available starting June 1 and July 1.

MIELENZ

Virginia Koch Reigns As 50th Annual May Queen

Virginia Koch reigned in simulated regal splendor as the University May Queen at the 50th annual Ivy Day Saturday.

Miss Koch was chosen for the honor by secret vote of University junior and senior women. She was crowned in traditional ceremonies at the Ivy Day court by her maid-of-honor, Susan Reed.

Miss Koch is a senior in Arts and Science, majoring in English. She was former editor of First Glance, former YWCA member, Aquaquette, Coed Counselor and Union entertainment committee. She was last year's junior attendant to the May Queen. She also served as treasurer of AUF and was president of WAA. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mortar Board

Miss Reed, maid-of-honor by virtue of second place in the student women's balloting, is a Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa, former assistant editor of The Daily Nebraskan and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The two pages in the court were Susan Reinhardt and Barbara Crowe.

Miss Crowe is a freshman in Ag college. She is Ag YW delegate to national convention, Ag Y cabinet member and affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega.

Miss Reinhardt is a freshman in Arts and Science, member of the Coed Counselor board, Builders assistant, Alpha Lambda Delta and a member of Delta Gamma. Barbara Adams and Sue Gorton were freshmen attendants.

Miss Adams is editor of the First Glance, in the college of Arts and Science, Alpha Lambda Delta and a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Miss Gorton is AUF publicity director, Builders assistant, Alpha Lambda Delta, Coed Counselor board member, news editor of The Daily Nebraskan, and affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma. Joan Krueger, Sylvia Krasne, Joan Hanson and Jean Holmes were the sophomore attendants.

Managing Ed.

Miss Krueger is in the college of Arts and Science, on the NUCW steering committee, vice president of Delta Sigma Rho, College Days publicity chairman, debate squad, managing editor of The Daily Nebraskan, Builders board member and a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss Krasne is in the College of Arts and Science, YWCA representatives council, Tassels, AUF board and president of Sigma Delta Tau.

Miss Hanson is in the College of Arts and Science, a Tassel, secretary of AUF, president of the college Red Cross unit and a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss Holmes is in the College of Agriculture. She is state president of the Home Ec club, University Home ec club council, Ag

Ivy Day Court ...

IVY DAY ROYALTIES—Ivy Queen Virginia Koch and her royal court watch over the May Day proceedings from their throne on the Administration grounds. Two senior women, four juniors, sophomores and freshman, chosen on the basis of scholarship and activities make up the queen's court. Susan Reed, University senior, is the queen's Maid of Honor.

The Weather

Generally fair to partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, with little change in temperature.

The Independent Students Association meeting scheduled for tonight will be held this afternoon at 5:00 p.m. in the Union. Plans for the fall will be announced and discussed.