

NU Sweeps Buff Series; Sooners Here Wednesday

By John Rego

The Nebraska baseball club returned home after sweeping a two game series from the University of Colorado to set the stage for an important, and probably decisive series with the Oklahoma Sooners Wednesday and Thursday.

The "Okies" lead the conference with a 4-0 record, while Nebraska with a 4-1 record is close on their heels in the second place slot.

At Boulder Friday and Saturday, the large partisan crowds watched the Buffs go down before the Cornhuskers to the tune of 6-5 and 13-8 but not without causing the visitors plenty of grief and giving the highly spirited fans many exciting moments.

The first tilt saw Dick McCormick get the pitching nod from Coach Tony Sharpe and when the final frame was history, the tall redhead had racked up his second conference win against one loss.

For the first eight innings "Pinky" had the mountain boys well under control, allowing seven hits and two runs, but in the ninth, with the score 6-2, he weakened and Colorado got on him for three runs.

Bufs Threaten
In the ninth Catcher Hagin opened with a double to left, Johnson walked, and Corbetta tripled to chase Hagin and Johnson across the plate. Larson went out on an infield pop up, but May, pinch hitter batting for Pitcher Manire, hit a long fly scoring Corbetta for the third tally. Centerfielder Tuck bloomed a double to right, but McCormick got Ryder to pop out to Leach to end the game.

The Huskers took an early lead in the first inning when Reynolds reached first on a fielder's choice, stole second and scored on a double by Jerry Dunn. In the third with Reynolds and Diers on second and first, Dunn homered over the left field fence for three more scores.

Single runs in the sixth and eighth innings accounted for the other tallies. Jerry Dunn with a homer, double and single was the batting horse of the afternoon.

Before leaving the hotel for

Wildcats Down NU Tennismen

The Cornhusker netmen strengthened the ends of their somewhat tattered victor mantle by winning one singles match against the Kansas Staters Monday on the local courts.

But the Wildcats still had plenty of steam and won by a convincing score of 6-1. Husker Bob Radin received credit for winning the first singles match of the tennis season. He defeated Don Upson in three sets by scores of 6-8, 11-9 and 6-4.

He utilized a cannon ball service and a slamming service in getting the victory. The second set was a marathon affair with neither player willing to budge an inch. But Radin finally took it on the 11-9 count.

He dropped the first set but won the second and took the third far more easily.

Radin was also as effective in the defensive department as he was in the offensive. He repeatedly returned balls which appeared to be lost.

Curran Loses
Jamie Curran continued his losing streak by dropping straight sets of 6-0 and 6-3. Curran tired easily as the match progressed but picked up enough steam to score three points in the second set.

Jeff Delton also continued his losing ways although he made a fairly good bid for honors in the second set. The first set went to Kansas Stater Chris Williams, 6-3. Delton added one more point to his cause in the second set, but that little bit was hardly enough.

John Schroeder, who earned a berth on the Husker squad by defeating Andy Butten in a challenge, did not fare so well against Don Harris. He dropped his match by scores of 6-2 and 6-3.

However, Schroeder played good sets for the amount of time he has had on the team. He may improve as the season progresses and be a real asset.

Weaver Disappoints
Walt Weaver played a rather disappointing match as he lost to Dave McFarland, 6-1, 6-4. During the earlier part of the season he showed definite promise, and he will probably pull out of his slump with more experience.

Only a sophomore, he has the ability to go a long way in conference competition.

Kansas State had things all its own way in the doubles matches. Curran and Weaver easily fell to the antics of Coad and Williams. Too much court experience and know how proved to be the Nebraska's downfall as they lost 6-1, 6-3.

Radin and Delton fell even more easily to the Wildcat twosome of Coad and Williams. They dropped their tilt in straight sets of 6-1, 6-3.

Weatherman Helps
The Huskers should improve now that the weatherman has turned his sunshine their way. They had been hampered during the whole season by rain and wind.

Higginbotham had his squad working out in the Coliseum during the storm. But these quarters were hardly sufficient to get his team in good shape or to bring its tennis up to top form.

The Huskers will try to crash the win column when they meet the Denver university on Wednesday. But Higginbotham believes the Denverites will field one of the most powerful squads his men have faced.

JERRY DUNN . . . was a big factor in the Husker's first win over Colorado. He collected a single, a double, a homer and drove in four runs.

BILL FITZGERALD . . . his triple drove in three Nebraska runs in the second game of the Colorado series.

the second game, the club received two telegrams bearing good news. One announced that Hurler Del Kopf was named a member of the Innocents Society, and the other from the ailing Ray Mladovich said that all was well and sent good wishes.

However, the joy was short lived when Colorado opened the first inning with vengeance, scoring three runs off the slants of starter Kopf. A single and two successive homers by Nix and Hagin accounted for the markers. The Buffs added another in the second on a single, a stolen base and another single.

Nebraska broke in the scoring column in the third with two runs. Lohrborg walked and Kopf singled with no one out. Diers and Reynolds went out, but Rego spanked a single to left scoring Lohrborg and Kopf. Nix gave way to Anderson.

Huskies Tie
In the fourth the Cornhuskers knotted the score at 4-4 when Fitzgerald opened up the frame with a single. Jensen reached first on an error and successive singles by Leach and Lohrborg.

From this point on the game became a see-saw affair. Colorado added another run in their half of the fourth, but Nebraska came back with three more tallies in the fifth frame.

Reynolds reached first on an error, went to second on a passed ball, and scored on a single by Diers. Dunn singled, moving to second. After Fitzgerald sacrificed, the two runners to Mladovich said that all was well and sent good wishes.

In the sixth Kopf gave way to relief hurler Dale Bensen. A wild pitch by Bensen scored Hagin, but the next two batters went down on strikes to end the threat.

Bufs Move Up
In the eighth the Buffs moved in front with two runs to the resounding joy of the partisan crowd.

In the do-or-die ninth, the Huskers broke the game wide open with a six run spurge. Leach, doing a great job of filling in for Mladovich at first, and Lohrborg both walked with no outs. Shall pinch hit for Bensen, went out on strikes, but Rego walked to load the sacks.

Reynolds followed with a single to left scoring Leach and Lohrborg. After Diers struck out, Dunn was walked to fill the bases once again. Fitzgerald picked a triple to right center and three more runs romped across the plate. "Fit" also scored after Rightfielder Nix dropped a fly ball.

Balderton led the team in point scoring with 18, Crareh being second with 16, Kanamine third with 15.

Nine University basketball players were awarded letters, Coach Harry Good announced.

Bob Pierce was the workhorse of the team, playing 895 minutes out of a possible 920 in the 23 Cornhusker games in 1950-51.

Players who were awarded letters were Bernard Akromis, Omaha; James Buchanan, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Joseph Good, Lincoln; Paul Kipper, Lincoln; Bob Mercier, Lincoln; Bob Pierce, Lincoln; James Snyder, Winchester, Ind.; Harrison Ward, Plainfield, Ind.; Norman Wilnes, North Platte.

Eight Gymnasts
Eight gymnasts fulfilled the requirements for a letter at the University during the season of 1950-51. Coach Jake Geier announced.

Eddie Craren, Omaha, lettered in both swimming and wrestling. Al Dunavan, Beatrice, led the Cornhuskers with 314 placement points during the season.

Others who lettered were Ira Epstein, Omaha; Arthur Hillman, Deshler; Paul Hughes, Randolph; Gerald Tubbs, Hastings; Bob Yarwood, Omaha; Donald Yoder, LaGrange, Wyoming, student manager.

Freshmen numerals were awarded to Milo Brabec, Geneva; Max Kennedy, Beatrice; Tom Kidd, Lincoln; Frank Sorenson, Lincoln.

Eleven Wrestlers
Eleven wrestlers were awarded letters at the University for the season of 1950-51, Coach Al Parlin announced.

Herb Reese, Omaha, with ten victories in 10 meets plus the Big Seven heavyweight crown, was the leading point maker.

Others who lettered were Louis Caniglia, Omaha; Harold Gilliland, Curtis; Kenneth Fisher, the 100 yard dash mark will be under fire by Bob Miller of Wilsonville who has run the 100 in :10 flat this year which is one-tenth of a second under the 15 year old mark of :10.1 set by Childers of Lebanon in 1936.

Good High Jumpers
In high jump the competition will be good as there are three contenders for the old mark of 6 feet, 1/2 inch set by Frederick Meyers of Bradshaw. Ray Kelly of Danbury and Walter Shafiq of Harrisburg have both cleared 6 feet 1 inch this year in competition.

The third contender is Gerald Grassmick from Sunflower of Mitchell, he has cleared six feet even this year.

There are two other marks which have not been surpassed in competition this year, but within reach.

Earl Long, who is the defending half mile champ, has run the half in 2:03.3 this year for McCool, but without much opposition. The state mark for the event is 2:01.1.

The mile relay team from Snyder is just 4.5 seconds off the old mark set by St. Joseph last spring.

Class D team racing will be wide open since there is no defending champion this year.

THE BENCH WARMER

By Bob Banks
Assistant Sports Editor

Oh for a Clyde Lovellette. Thusly did June Bierbower, who writes the lady's view on sports around Lincoln, sum up the sorority of Nebraska basketball in her story on the Varsity-Alum tilt.

Miss Bierbower's viewpoint coincides with that of most observers over the state. What Nebraska needs, they say, is another good tall center who can sink 'em and grab 'em off the backboard.

Nebraska has been highly fortunate during the past two years to possess such capable pivots as Milton "Bus" Whitehead, 6-9, and Bob Pierce, 6-7. Both men were instrumental in the Alum's victory.

However, with all due respect to both men we see no point in rehashing their past glories since their cage careers at Nebraska are finished.

She Hit The Nail
As we said before, Miss Bierbower hit the nail on the head when she asserted that Nebraska needed a tall center.

Although Nebraska is not noted for its All-American centers, there are a few worth mentioning who could have solved next year's dilemma.

First is Dale Toft, who stands about 6-7. He led his Grand Island teammates to two consecutive state basketball titles back in the late forties.

But like many other top-notch prep athletes of that period, he thought his athletic future was not at the University. Toft migrated to Denver University, and last year received All-American nominations. He still has one year left to play.

And to our notion Toft is a more effective center than a clumsy Clyde. Even in high school he was as polished and poised as many a college ball player. He has a lot more in his favor than just the amount of space he takes in the air.

Rivers Helped?
The next player whom we believe could have filled the bill for the Cornhuskers is Roland Rivers of Seward. He also played on a state championship team in Class B. In his senior year he beat out all the Class A centers for a berth on the All-State first five.

He enrolled in the University but later reversed his decision and went to the University of Wyoming. Probably not as talented as Toft, nevertheless he certainly could have been a shot in the arm to Cornhusker basketball.

A third player who would have helped the situation is Fritz Davis, basketball captain of the Navy five next year. During his prep days at Lincoln Northeast, Davis consistently outdueled Bob Pierce.

He too entered Nebraska but later on decided he could do better elsewhere.

There are undoubtedly plenty of others one might mention who could assume the vacated pivot post for the Husker quintet. But as someone once said, there is no use in crying over spilled milk.

Hope For More
The players are gone and nothing can be done to regain them. The best we can hope is that in the future a few of the tall centers stay in their home state.

There were no exceptionally big giants on the prep scene during the past season who are seniors. Northeast's Paul Fredstrom has all the makings of a college ball player, but his 6-3 1/2 is more adaptable to forward than to center.

So all we can do is wait awhile and hope for another tall center who can hit the hoop and rebound. And like Miss Bierbower, we'll settle for a Lovellette if no body else appears on the scene.

Thirty-Eight Letters Given To Athletes

Nine University swimmers have been awarded letters for the 1950-51 season, Coach Hollie Lepley announced. Letters went to Buele Balderston, Omaha; Edward Craren, Omaha; Ted Kanamine, Omaha; Tom Harley, Lincoln; Jerry Desmond, Lincoln; Pat Healey, Lincoln; Homer Munson, Washington, D. C.; George Hill, Omaha; Robert Phelps, Lincoln.

Balderton led the team in point scoring with 18, Crareh being second with 16, Kanamine third with 15.

Buc Pitcher In No-Hitter

Pittsburgh hurler, Cliff Chambers, made baseball history Sunday afternoon as he twirled a no-run game at the Boston Braves to win 3-0. Chambers' is the first no-hitter in the current young season.

Chambers had been an obscure flinger until he accomplished what no other Pittsburgh pitcher has ever done in the National League.

Lockman Out On New Trick

Tricks of the trade. Connie Ryan, Cincinnati second sacker found another in a game against the New York Giants. The Giant's Whitey Lockman reached second on a single and a sacrifice. He hid the ball under the bag; then asked Lockman to step off. He did so. Ryan dug up the ball and tagged him out.

'ROUND THE LOOP...

Black-Lovellette Clash Avoided

By Shirley Murphy
"Can Charlie Black stop Clyde Lovellette?" This was the big question for the Kansas university alums in the battle against the varsity basketballers. Lovellette broke Black's all-time KU scoring record last season when he reached 1093 with a final 10-digit night against Oklahoma A and M. Black accumulated 1083 points in 87 games over a four year period and threw from every angle in the book.

However the problem of the clash was solved. It was learned that Black could not play in the basketball clash.

The outspoken alum in the Jayhawk competition was Ray Evans, two-sport letterman. Evans competed against the varsity in his two favorites, football and basketball.

Evans is known as a "clutch" player. He is famous for his 54-yard touchdown run against the Missouri Tigers in 1946. The play was completed in the last year of the first half and was a decisive move in the making of a 20-19 Jayhawk victory.

The Golds versus the Silvers is the climax of the Colorado spring football drills. The potentialities of the 1951 grid squad are then open to display. The game features thirteen lettermen. The Gold team has the edge in experience with seven award winners to the Silver team's six.

The winning team will get the opportunity to throw the losing coaches into the swimming pool of the men's gym. This is one of the more quaint customs associated with the annual intra-squad tussle.

DEAN BRITTENHAM . . .

Brady Sophomore got one of two Husker firsts against the Sooners by winning the javelin. He also plans to play on the NU cage squad next season.

IRVING THODE . . .

broad-jumper added points to the lost cause of Nebraska by picking up a second in the broadjump. His teammate, Glenn Beeline, failed to place in the event.

Crippled Huskers Lose to Oklahoma

By Jim Petersen
The Cornhusker track squad, riddled by injuries and losses to the service, were defeated by a superior team from Oklahoma in a dual meet Saturday evening.

The Huskers were without the services of their ace pole vaulter, Don Cooper, who was forced to remain at home due to a pulled muscle which he received at the Drake Relays. Had Cooper made the trip, Nebraska would have undoubtedly picked up first place points in that event.

The Sooners took 11 first places and set four new meet records in their victory over Nebraska. Jim Wilkinson of Oklahoma set a new mile record for the meet, covering the distance in 4:24.1. Jerry Meader of Oklahoma set a new mark in the 440 when he posted a 48 second flat for the event; Don Crabtree and George McCormick, both of Oklahoma, tied in the 880, and both became record holders for the meet with a 1:55.5; and the other record went to Oklahoma's mile relay team which posted a 3:18.9 for the event.

Cox Second
Quannah Cox of Oklahoma was the top-point man of the day, he got a total of 11 points. He placed second in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and got first place in the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Lee Alexander was the star of the Husker attack, garnering ten points for the Scarlet cause, picking up two first places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He was also the only double winner of the day.

Dean Brittenham of Nebraska was the only other Nebraskan to pick up an undisputed first for the Huskers when he heaved the javelin 176 feet 8 inches.

The Husker's Dick Meissner and the Sooners' Dick Jones, two of the best high jumpers in the area, tied for first in their pet events when they both cleared the bar at 6 feet 4 inches.

Kehl Below Form
Len Kehl, Big Seven indoor vaulting champion of Nebraska, had an off day in that event and could only manage to get a second; Cox of Oklahoma won the event with a vault of 12 feet 6 inches.

Ray Prochaska, assistant coach, steered the crippled Husker squad in the absence of Coach Ed Weir, who is recovering from an operation.

The meet was delayed due to the annual Oklahoma State High School Track Meet. It became a two-light affair, with the mile relay being run in semi-darkness.

Field Events
High Jump—Tie for first between Richard Meissner, Nebraska, and Richard Jones, Oklahoma, 6 feet 4 inches. Tom Chubbill, Oklahoma, 6 feet.

Shotput—Won by Clair Hayes, Oklahoma, 49 feet 5 1/2 inches; second, Joe Horkey, Oklahoma, 47 feet 3 1/2 inches; third, Paul Grimm, Nebraska, 46 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Javelin—Won by Dean Brittenham, Nebraska, 176 feet 8 1/2 inches; second, Tom Coleman, Nebraska, 175 feet 8 inches; third, Warren Monson, Nebraska, 168 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Pole Vault—Won by Jerry Lemon, Oklahoma, 12 feet 8 inches; second, Tom Kehl, Nebraska, 12 feet 3 inches; third, Jim Smith, Oklahoma, 23 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Discus—Won by Joe Horkey, Oklahoma, 137 feet 11 inches; second, George Prochaska, Nebraska, 129 feet 5 inches; third, Lowell Nilsson, Nebraska, 128 feet 10 inches.

Broad Jump—Won by Quannah Cox, Oklahoma, 23 feet 8 1/2 inches; second, Ray Horkey, Nebraska, 22 feet 4 1/2 inches; third, Jim Smith, Oklahoma, 23 feet 1 1/2 inches.
