Miss Iowa, Nancy Norman, Returns To NU After Miss America Pageant

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Staff Reporter

"It was a marvelous production! The girls were just wonderful and the audience was very receptive!"

Those were a few exclamations made by Nancy Norman in an interview Wednesday. Miss Norman was Iowa's representative at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N. J.

In Atlantic City she was competing for her third beauty title in two months. Blue eyed, brown haired, Miss Norman was first selected by the Shenandoah Chamber of Commerce to represent her hometown in the contest for Miss Southwest Iowa. After winning that crown she was given a trip to Clear Lake where she competed for and won the title of Miss Iowa of 1951.

Miss Norman and her mother then made the trip to Atlantic City at the expense of the Clear Lake Jr. Chamber of Commerce. In addition to the free trip, she received from her home town backers, a fur cape, watch, three formals, two bathing suits, a luggage set, jewelry, an original dress, her crown, trophy and other prizes.

The Miss America contest was divided into three parts, she explained. A parade in formals, a talent contest and a parade in bathing suits. In order that the audience at each of the three preliminary shows could see a portion of all three parts, the girls were divided into three groups of seven girls each.

Miss Norman was in the group from which the winner, Miss Utah, was chosen. Three of the five finalists were from this group, she added.

"She was so tall," Miss Norman exclaimed, "I was about the tallest in our group." Miss Norman is only five feet three inches tall.

The selection of Miss Utah for the title of Miss America was a surprise to everyone, according to Miss Norman. Miss North Carolina was the betting favorite, she said. Miss Norman complimented the winner as being very poised and intelligent.

She thought the selection was wise however in that Miss Utah could make good use of the scholarship prize. She was highly talented, dazzling the crowd when she appeared as Queen Elizabeth in the talent show.

Miss Norman, a voice major, sang "Romance" by Romberg as her entry in the talent contest.

A great variety of skills and abilities were exhibited in the show. One prize winner showed a film of herself water skiing, she related.

NEBRASKA'S MISS IOWA . . . Nancy Norman smiled her way through the Miss Iowa contest to win the title for 1951. A junior in the University, the beautiful Miss Norman was privileged to enter the competition for Miss America.

During the contest entrants were not allowed to speak to any men. An appointed chaperon accompanied each girl at all times. Even mothers were not allowed in charge of their daughters.

The one opportunity for socializing with males came at the ball where the girls were escorted by midshipmen from the Naval Academy. Miss Norman was paired with a Lt. Commander. "It was the first time I'd ever date an officer!" she said.

Even though she did not win, Miss Norman said she was satisfied to have had the "wonderful experience."

Miss Norman is a junior in the University, is a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority, a madrigal singer, University singer, Orchestral, and Sigma Alpha Iota.

Sept. 28 Set For Annual Hello Dance

September 28th has been set as the date for the annual BABW Hello Girl dance.

Walt Goodbrod and his orchestra have been hired to furnish the music for the ball. At this dance the Hello Girl of 1951 will be chosen from a field of twelve candidates nominated by independent women's houses and organizations.

Lois Larsen is the present Hello Girl. She was the Towne Club representative in last year's contest. The new "Girl" will be presented by Miss Larsen during the intermission.

All ticket buyers are eligible to vote for their favorite contestant. Candidates are chosen on the basis of beauty, scholarship and participation in activities.

This is the first all-University dance of the season. Plans have not yet been completed but the names of the girls will be announced soon, according to BABW president, Jo Hoff.

English students on Ag campus! English B, section 25 at 8:20 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and English 3, section 26 at 1 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, both meet in 103 Animal Husbandry Hall instead of the place announced in the printed class schedule.

Other students aiding in the event include William Waldo, Donald Leising, Glenn Veihmeyer, and Fred Hosterman.

Directing the various committees on the faculty for the reception are Prof. A. E. Barager, Prof. C. W. Smith, Wayne C. Whitney, Prof. Clarence Miller, Prof. Carolyn Ruby, Dr. C. C. Minter, Dr. L. R. Snyder and Cal Orr.

NU Almanac

This is one "old maid" story that is different.

The story is told about the two telephone repair men who were working outside an old maid's house. Suddenly, the lady heard a solid stream of profanity coming from outside her window. She reported this fact to the telephone company, who called the repairmen to give an account of the incident.

Upon being asked, the burly repairman shyly looked up at each other, and one finally stammered out, "Well, boss, it's like this, Me and Joe were standing there on the working when my hand slipped and I accidentally poured some white hot lead down his back. Joe was rather taken aback at this, so he gently looks up at me and says, 'Really Mike, you should be more careful in the future.' And so I says to him, 'Yes, Joe, I certainly will try to do better in the future.'"

Now for the weather story: The high yesterday was near 75, with a low of 61. There will be a high today near 72, with a low tonight near 50. There will be a fresh North-Westerly breeze, and temperatures will run somewhat cooler than yesterday. This will continue on tomorrow with the high tomorrow near 70. Fair weather is expected for today and tomorrow.

A sailor and his girl were out riding in the country on horseback. As they stopped for a rest, the two horses rubbed necks affectionately.

"Ah, me," said the sailor, "that's what I'd like to do."
"Well, go ahead," answered the girl, "it's your horse."

Mystery Evening

Something will begin the evening of Sept. 29th, an informed source told The Daily Nebraskan Wednesday.

The source added that whatever it was that would take place should remind 13th and O of the Fourth of July.

According to the report, there will be plenty of noise and music. But even persistent questioning would not force further information out of the mysterious authority.

At the end of the interview, he promised more information in tomorrow's Daily Nebraskan.

NU Women Invited To Annual Tea

Women students and house chaperons are invited to the annual tea given by the Dean of Women, Marjorie Johnston, and her staff in Ellen Smith hall on Friday, Sept. 21 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Freshman women and new students are particularly urged to come. Mrs. R. G. Gustavson, Helen Snyder, assistant dean of women, and Mary Augustine, assistant to the dean of women, will form the receiving line.

Sharon Fritzer, president of Mortar Board, and Nancy Button, president of A.W.S., will greet the guests. Assisting in the drawing room and court will be Ruth Shinn, executive director of Y.W.C.A.; Madeline Girard, secretary of Panhellenic Council; Miss Katherine Parks, director of counseling and activities at Women's Residence halls; Mrs. R. H. Hastain, Mrs. Verne Huff, and Mrs. Adele Hurley, head residents of freshmen halls; and members of Mortar Board.

Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. Arthur Westbrook, Mrs. Frank Henzlik, Mrs. Arthur Hitchcock, Mrs. G. W. Rosenof, Mrs. Carl Bergmann, Doretta Schlaphoff, Mabel Lee and Mrs. T. J. Thompson.

Members of Delta Omicron, Mu Phi Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Iota music sororities will furnish the musical background for the tea. Presidents of the women's organizations will assist with the serving.

16 Ag Seniors Attend Omaha Market School

Sixteen senior animal husbandry students from the College of Agriculture attended a marketing school at Omaha last week.

It was the 10th annual school. Expenses were paid by the Omaha Livestock Exchange, livestock commission firms and packers.

Those who attended include Rex Crom, David Daniels, Howard G. Frey, Wayne Frost, Lawrence R. Fuchs, Vernon A. Garwood, Leland E. George, Ward Hansen, Ralph Hansen, Ted B. Jeary, Phillip Olsen, Sterling Olsen, Harley Richardson, Richard Russell, William J. Schneider, and Dean Wunderlick.

Nebraska Style Of English Taught To Foreign Students In Speech Class

When in Nebraska, speak as Nebraskans do. Foreign students at the University are learning to do just that through two special classes offered by the department of speech.

The courses, which are taken for credit, include instruction in the English language, American social habits, and listening and speech training. Miss Lucile Cypreansen, instructor of the course, is assisted by several seniors majoring in special speech education.

If foreign students have difficulty with other courses because of language trouble, they are

AUF Dance Plans Unanimously OK'd In Year's First Action

'Pop' Klein Needs Girls For Concession Stands

"Pop" Klein urges that all girls interested in working at concession stands during University football games attend a meeting at 5 p.m. Monday in the N club room of the Coliseum.

The girls will receive 75 cents an hour.

Student Council opened its year's activities Wednesday by unanimously approving a policy report submitted by the All University Fund. President George Cobel conducted the meeting.

The report, read to the Council by AUF president Sara Fulton, included plans for a charity dance to be held at King's Ballroom in late October. The dance is to culminate the AUF drive for funds which will begin Oct. 1.

This would be the first off-campus dance sanctioned by the Student Council. Approval still must be secured from the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs.

The final vote for Ugliesh Man on the Campus will be taken at the door and the UMOG will be presented later in the evening.

All profits from the dance will go to AUF since the manager of Kings will donate the ballroom for the event. After a short discussion of AUF plans, George Wilcox's motion to accept the report was passed.

Plans for this year's migration to the Nebraska-Kansas State football game at Manhattan Oct. 6 were discussed by the Council. This will be the first trip to Kansas State since before 1940. Accompanying the migrants will be a pep band of approximately 40 members.

The campus parking situation was another item on the Council's agenda. It was stressed that, due to future investigation, students should refrain from parking in faculty parking lots. If it is discovered that too much space is being devoted to the faculty, the situation may be adjusted.

Leo Hill, Lincoln businessman, has donated a 10th Street lot with more than 50 spaces to be used for student parking. This new lot will make up for some of the 150 parking places lost during the summer through University building plans.

Members of the Council discussed further expansion of voting booths for University elections. Last spring's constitution balloting at which 40 percent of the student population voted was cited as an example of the expansion program.

Officers of the Student Council are George Cobel, president; George Wilcox, vice-president and chairman of the election committee; Miriam Willey, vice-president and chairman of the Judiciary committee. Other officers will be elected at next week's meeting.

Faculty advisors for the Council are Henry F. Holtzclaw, assistant professor of chemistry, and Mary Mielenz, supervisor of English in Teachers College high school.

Council members and organizations they represent are as follows:

Cobel, Engineering Executive board; Wilcox, military department; Willey, YWCA; Kent Axteel, publications; Sharon Fritzer, AWS; Rex Messersmith, YMCA; James De Marco, Cosmopolitan club; Wayne White, Ag Exec board; Dee Gade, Tassels; Peggy Mulvaney, Mortar Board; Jack Cohen, Innocents; Don Noble, Corn Cobs; Dean Linscott, Builders; Nancy DeBord, Coed Counselors; Dave Cargo, Religious Welfare Council.

Organizations who have not elected their representatives are WAA, ISA, BABW, Panhellenic, Interfraternity Council, N-Club and Law College.
