

Bums Even Playoff Series

By RON GIBSON
Sports Staff Reporter

Pouncing on three New York Giant pitchers with a furious 13 hit attack, The Brooklyn Dodgers tied up the National League playoff series with a 10-0 pasting of their inter-city rivals at the Polo Grounds Tuesday.

Jackie Robinson, who led his team to a tie for the National League title this year, was the hero of the Dodger victory. The flashy Negro second baseman had three hits in five at bats, including a two-run home run. He was aided and abetted by Andy Pafko, Rube Walker and Gil Hodges, who also clouted four-masters.

The ten-run Dodger bombardment backed up a fine pitching job by Clem Labine, who went all the way allowing only six hits. On the Giant side of the ledger, the 13 Brooklyn hits were divided among hurlers Sheldon Jones, George Spencer, and Al Corwin. Jones, the starter, drew the loss.

The game was marred by seven errors. The tension felt by both clubs was evident, as the Giants committed five errors and Brooklyn bobbled twice.

The New Yorkers were continuously frustrated by excellent clutch pitching on the part of Dodger Labine. The Giants staged serious threats in the second, third, and fourth innings, but each time Labine poured on the coal and extricated himself from his difficulties. The young right-hander didn't allow a bingle after the fifth inning.

Giant fans had little to cheer about. The New York club was weak at the plate, and their work afield was shoddy.

The two teams will meet today at the Polo Grounds for the final playoff game. The victors will lock horns with the New York Yankees in the world series.

A running account of the Brooklyn victory:

First inning:
With two out and PeeWee Reese on first, Jackie Robinson slammed the first ball pitched to him into the left field stands for two Dodger runs.
2 runs, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Bottom half: The Giants got Don Mueller on first when first baseman Gil Hodges muffed an easy grounder. Monte Irvin hit into a force play to end the inning. 0 runs, 0 hits, 1 error.

Score: Brooklyn 2, New York 0.

Second inning, top half:
With Hodges on first, Billy Cox bunted. A wild throw by Sheldon Jones gave Cox life as Hodges went to third. Catcher Rube Walker sent a grounder to first, and Hodges was out on a rundown between third and home, shutting off the Dodger threat. 0 runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

Second inning, bottom half:
The Giants threatened as Bobby Thompson doubled and Willie Mays beat out an infield hit. The rally fell short as Wes Westrum and Jones went down in order to end the inning. 0 runs, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Score: Brooklyn 2, Giants 0.

Third inning, top half:
When the Dodgers got two men on, New York reliever George Spencer came on to pitch to Pafko. After retiring Pafko, Spencer got Hodges to bounce back to the pitcher. The throw to first hit Hodges going down, but first sacker Whitey Lockman recovered the ball in time to get Duke Snider at the plate on a close play. The Dodgers set up a squawk, but to no avail. 0 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

Third inning, bottom half:
An error, a single, and a base on balls loaded the sacks for the Giants. With two out and a three-two count, Giant Bobby Thompson struck out, leaving the bases full. 0 runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

Fourth inning, first half:
Catcher Rube Walker was left on first after singling to right, as Spencer took care of the Bums with comparative ease. 0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Fourth inning, last half:
New York put on its last serious threat with two singles. Again hurler Clem Labine pitched his way out of trouble. 0 runs, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Fifth inning, top half:
The Dodgers got their third run as Jackie Robinson got his third straight base hit, a single driving in Duke Snider who had doubled. Pafko ended the inning by bouncing into a double play. 1 run, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Fifth inning, bottom half:
The New Yorkers got their last bingle as Labine got the middle of the batting order to pop up or strike out. 0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Sixth inning, first half:
Gil Hodges opened the frame with a home run smash into the left field seats, making the count 4-0. Cox got life on a two base error by third sacker Bobby Thomson. Cox went to third on a fly to right. Then pitcher Clem Labine attempted to squeeze Cox in. The Giants had Cox trapped between third and home, but he scored as pitcher George Spencer dropped the ball trying to tag him. Furlito skied to left.

At this point the contest was delayed for twenty minutes because of rain. Upon resumption of play, the Dodgers went at it again. Reese singled and Snider hit to right center scoring Labine from third. Robinson ended the frame with a pop foul to first. 3 runs, 3 hits, 2 errors.

Sixth inning, last half:
The Giants got only one base-runner on a walk, as Labine kept on mowing them down. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Score: Brooklyn 6, New York 0.

Seventh inning, last half:
Andy Pafko greeted Giant relief chucker with a smash into the left field stands for the Dodgers' third four-bagger. A walk, a single, and an error by centerfielder Willie Mays gave Brooklyn another run. 2 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

Seventh inning, top half:
The Giants went down in order. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Score: Brooklyn 8, New York 0.

Eighth inning, top half:
Brooklyn went down in order for the first time. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Eighth inning, bottom half:
The New Yorkers again had nothing across. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Score: Brooklyn 8, New York 0.

Ninth inning, top half:
The Bums continued to carnage, as Billy Cox walked and catcher Rube Walker slammed one out of the park, making the score 10-0. 2 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Ninth inning, last half:
A walk to Westrum gave the Giants a ray of hope, but Labine got pinch-hitter Hank Thompson to pop up and Eddie Stanky and Al Dark to ground out. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Final score: Brooklyn 10, New York 0.

Sharpe Holds Fall Baseball Workouts

By RON GIBSON
Sports Staff Reporter

In order to get a good look at outstanding candidates for the baseball team next season, NU diamond coach Tony Sharpe is holding daily baseball workouts on the University field.

The workouts, which will continue until October 12, are to give freshmen and sophomores a chance to show what they can do. In February, when the varsity begins working out in the field house, Sharpe will ask out the men who have made a good showing in fall practice. Those who don't make the varsity will drop to the B squad.

The top prospects will compete for starting spots on the baseball team. Since Sharpe will have only seven returning lettermen, the rookies will have to take up a lot of slack. The seven letter-winners who will be back next year are outfielders Bob Diers and Jerry Dunn, infielders Bobby Reynolds and Ray Mladovich, catcher Jack Hull and pitchers Al McCormick and Andy Bunsen. Coach Sharpe lost starting infielders Bill Jensen and Johnny Rego, power-hitting outfielder Bill Fitzgerald, catcher Bob Lohrborg, and pitcher Del Kopf, a front-line pitcher. All of these players graduated.

Coming up to compete for these positions vacated by graduation are several promising rookies. Al Karle, a freshman, is a good fielding shortstop and has power at the plate. Karle played for Kearney in the Cornhusker league last summer. Milt Frei is a promising sophomore outfielder. Also making strong bids are catchers Chuck Jensen and Ted Holtgrewe. Jensen is a freshman and Holtgrewe a sophomore. A good outfield contender is Dug Wells.

On the mound Sharpe has two good-looking prospects in Fran Hofmeier, a southpaw, and right-hander Bob Gleason. In addition, six members of the 1950 Millard State Championship Legion team will be available in the spring. Pitcher Bob Kremke, catcher Murray Backhaus, infielders Bill Heldt and Jack Helme, and

Huskers Drill For First Big Seven Football Tilt

More fundamentals and more action against the Wildcats. Inensive drills.

That was the order of the day Tuesday, as Bill Glassford started grooming his gridders for their encounter with the Kansas State Wildcats.

Glassford announced that pass defense would receive special attention during the rest of the week. Movies of the Texas Christian-Nebraska game, indicated that pass defense is a big sore spot on the 1951 team.

Glassford said that Bobby Decker, Jim Levensky, Jim Sommers and Max Kennedy will be called on to carry the biggest share of defensive backfield duties against the Kansas Staters. These four players also saw a lot of action against the Horned Frogs last Saturday.

Assisting with the defensive chores will be linebackers George Citra and Bill Schalbaker.

The brightest news in the Husker camp was that another linebacker, Cliff Hopp, will have the cast taken off his arm this afternoon. After injuring it during the Curtis drills, Hopp was forced to the sideline to three weeks. He re-injured it in the TCU contest but expects to be ready for the night.

Harvey Goth, defensive tackle, is also improving after a leg injury, but Glassford does not know when he will be able to resume play.

Despite the fact that Kansas State is considered as the weakest team in the Big Seven, Glassford does not consider the game Saturday to be any pushover. In fact he asserted that "we'll have to be at our very best to get by those Wildcats."

The Husker coach pointed out that the University of Iowa, rated one of the better teams in the Big Ten, had to go all out to beat Kansas State. At the end of the first half in that game, Iowa held a 2-0 edge. The Hawkeyes came back to score two touchdowns in the second half and win, 16-0.

The Cornhuskers will leave Friday noon by train for Junction City, Kas., where they will spend the night.

Theta Xis, Betas, Acacias, Delta Sigma Phis Win IM Contests

By DOUG WILCOX
Sports Staff Reporter

With good weather prevailing the intramural squads started another thrill and spill packed day at Agriculture College, the intramural football grounds.

Starting the day was a game between the Theta Xi and the Alpha Gamma Rho with the Theta Xi squad emerging victorious.

After a tight battle, the final score was Theta Xi 14 and Alpha Gamma Rho 6.

The scoring of the game ran as follows. A.G.R. scored on Dick Munsen's 20 yard run after catching a 30 yard pass from the hands of Gene Engel, quarterback for the A.G.R.'s.

Theta Xi was not left in the cold by the Agriculture boys as they scored on a touchdown pass and run.

Bob Bale ran for a short 5 yards to even the score, and then clinched the game by adding the extra point on a pass to Andy Boris.

Bale again passed to Al Blaha for another six points and added the extra point with a pass to Boris.

The outstanding player for Theta Xi was Bob Bale.

A little later in the afternoon the Beta Theta Pis played Tau Kappa Epsilon. The end of the tilt saw the Beta's beat the Tekes, 13-7.

The Betas scored on plays from quarterback Bud Wieder-spahn, who passed to Bill Hein for a TD.

Not to be slighted Wieder-spahn, again passed to Tom

Harrington for 6 points and then followed through by passing the extra point to Harrington.

Weiderspahn sparked the squad to victory.

The T.K.E.'s scored on a play by Ronald Sterkel who ran over for a T.D., and then finished off the scoring by running over the extra point.

Due to a religious ceremony taking place in Omaha, the Zeta Beta Taus were weakened as they took on the Delta Sigma Phis.

The final score was 26 to 0 in favor of the Delta Sigma Phis.

The Delta Sigma Phis had a polished attack as they scored on a 20 yard pass play from Joe Lafella to Darrell Addamson.

Bob Hallock highlighted the scoring by running back two interceptions for 40 yards each and TD's.

Again the Delta Sigma Phi's scored Long on a 40 yard pass from Addamson to Don Dell Paoli.

The two extra points were made on passes from Joe Lafella to Hallock and Pete Flusar.

The most valuable player of the game was Darrell Addamson who played good ball all the way through the game.

The next schedule game was cancelled because of a Jewish holiday and has been rescheduled in the tournament.

The game was scheduled between Sigma Alpha Mu and Delta Sigma Pi.

The final game on the schedule was the tilt between Acacia and the Theta Chi's with the Acacia's emerging triumphant over the Theta Chi's.

The final score in this game was 6 to 0 with the Acacias scoring on a pass from the hand of Don Searcy to Chuck Miner.

The try for the extra point was unsuccessful and so the score stood at 6 to 0 until the final gun sounding.

Rifle Contest Is Planned

An All-University rifle shooting tournament has been added to the Nebraska intramural athletic program.

Intramural Director Ed Higginbotham announced Tuesday that any organization or group of men on campus may enter the tourney. Four men will comprise a team.

The matches will be held on the rifle range in the Military Science building. University students may practice on the firing ranges from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Competition will be conducted from three positions: (1) prone, (2) sitting, (3) kneeling or standing. National Rifle Association rules will be used.

Entries must be filed by Friday, October 12, in room 103 of the Military Science building. Entry fee per team is five dollars.

It will cover all expenses. Guns will be furnished free to all who need them. Students may use their own guns provided they are regular .22 caliber rifles, with a trigger pull of not less than three pounds. The sights cannot contain the Nebraska intramural athletic program.
