

The Benchwarmer

By BOB BANKS
Sports Editor

This is the story of Tommy Carodine, a boy who might have become one of the best football players in Cornhusker annals.

As a student at Boys Town high school in Omaha, Carodine's record both in the class room and on the gridiron was phenomenal. Scholarastically he was in the upper one-fourth of his class and was Mayor of Boys Town, the highest honor a student can attain at that institution.

An all-state halfback for two years, Carodine indicated he was an individual who could combine his abundant athletic prowess with a great deal of solid intelligence.

Under Coach Skip Palrang, Carodine led Boys Town through some of its greatest years in football. He was a real triple threat of the old school, combining his skillful running along with a capable throwing arm and some good punting. Boys Town did not limit its schedule. It played inter-sectional games as well.

Carodine was the toast of high school football circles. Colleges early began bidding for his services. After all, here was a boy earmarked for success. His high school record gave conclusive evidence that a college academic load would not be too tough for him, and, of course, here was no doubt about his football ability.

Such was the background when Carodine was graduated from Boys Town in 1948. Despite the fate cast his way in early life, he had come through and was a credit to Boys Town.

Theoretically then, here was a young fellow who really was an athlete, a scholar and a gentleman.

Following graduation, Carodine passed up his own University in favor of Loyola college at Los Angeles. But here the apparently perfect scene was due for a rapid reshuffling. Not due to the lack of his football ability, but because he could not crack the books and would not attend classes, Carodine was expelled from Loyola. During his last semester, he failed three courses.

According to a Loyola administration official, one of the failures resulted because Carodine would not attend classes.

Carodine then returned to his own state and enrolled in the University. He was ushered in with all the publicity due any returning hero. Nebraska was apparently to offer him a second chance.

However, there is some confusion in Carodine's entrance. According to a University regulation, "an applicant for admission coming from another university or college must file in the office of the Director of Admissions an officially certified transcript of work already completed, showing the student to be in good standing and entitled to an honorable dismissal."

A high Nebraska administration official said that "Carodine was admitted to the University by virtue of his high school record, and Nebraska had no knowledge that he had previously attended another university."

"His grade transcript from Loyola came after he was enrolled and attending classes in the University, and Loyola gave him an honorable dismissal, but his record indicates that he did very poor scholastic work."

"Since his high school record was good, the University could see no point in dismissing him despite his mediocre record at Loyola. However, had the University been aware of his Loyola scholastic marks prior to his transfer, Carodine might not have been admitted," the official asserted.

How Carodine managed to get an honorable dismissal from Loyola in view of his scholastic standing is difficult to understand. Even more complex is the manner in which he entered the University without someone being aware of his Loyola record. Obviously, here is a case violating the University regulation stating that a transfer student must be in good standing at his previous college before he can enter the University. Certainly some light needs to be shed on such a situation.

According to the latest report, Carodine is still classified as a regular University student, despite his dismissal from the football team and his failure to attend classes.

In an interview with a Daily Nebraskan sports staff member, Carodine indicated that he would try to make the Nebraska football team in 1952. In my opinion, Carodine does not deserve another chance. How he got into Nebraska was more than I could find out. Once here, he continued the same old practices started at Loyola. Any man deserves a second chance, but Carodine had his, and he fluffed it.

In a recent University convocation address, Chancellor R. G. Gustafson had the courage to point out the greatly-overemphasized college athletic program that exists nationwide. It is up to the Nebraska student body to back up its Chancellor in his convictions on athletics. The most effective way to help is to begin at home, right here on our own campus. We want a good football team, but it is not the most important thing in our college careers.

The Carodine case will play a big role in determining where Nebraska really does stand on athletics.

Intramural Rifle Schedule

The all-University rifle shooting tournament began Monday, October 22, with 34 teams competing in the five leagues.

Sergeant E. F. Mueller, United States Marine Corps, is in charge of the intramural tournament.

All rifle matches are held in the Military and Naval Science building, at 5:30, 5:40, or 6 p.m. Teams failing to appear on time will default the matches.

National Rifle Association rules will apply in conducting the matches. Three positions will be used in the tournament: prone, sitting and kneeling or standing.

The leagues and the teams in each league:

- League 1: InterVarsity 1, Air Men 1, Home 4, Beta Theta Pi 1, Delta Upsilon, Theta Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha.
- League 2: Air Men 2, Nebraska College, Beta Theta Pi 2, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Chi, Delta Chi.
- League 3: Independent 1, Northtown Infantry 1, Plunger, Cowan, Beta Theta Pi 3, Delta Sigma Phi, Tau Kappa Omega, Red Quince, Lambda Chi Alpha.
- League 4: Independent 2, Northtown Infantry 2, Brown Palace 1, Beta Theta Pi 4, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Chi, Theta Xi, Beta Beta Beta.
- League 5: Independent Student Association, Lambda Chi Alpha, Brown Palace 2, Beta Theta Pi 5, Phi Delta Theta.

Prizes: $100—InterVarsity 1 vs. Dorm A.

Reynolds Stars, But Missouri Wins

By MARSHALL KUSHNER
Assistant Sports Editor

It was another dismal afternoon of football for the Nebraska football team and followers as the Missouri Tigers dropped the Huskers 35-19 before 25,000 homecoming fans.

The game opened with the Tigers kicking to the Huskers. The Husker drive penetrated deep into Missouri territory, but penalties hurt the Husker drive and the Tigers gained possession of the pigskin.

Tiger quarterback, Jim Hook, fired a long pass to end Bruce Wood in the end zone, but the play was called back as the Missouri line was offside.

Bobby Reynolds was calling the offensive plays and completed a 23 yard pass to Frank Simon. On the next play, Harold Carter intercepted a Don Norris pass on the Missouri 26.

Speedy Mizrou halfback Junior Wren crashed off tackle and cut down the Nebraska 16 yard line from the line of scrimmage on the 46. The ball was placed on the 1 yard line after the Nebraska line was penalized three straight times for offside.

Jim Hook plunged through the middle on a quarterback sneak and the Tigers went into a 6-0 lead. Defensive linebacker Paul Fuchs successfully made the extra point and the Tigers led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Huskers started the second quarter with the ball in their possession on the Bengal 36 yard line. Bob Reynolds fired a bullet pass to Frank Simon on the 11 yard line.

Ray Novak and John Bordogna combined their efforts to bring the ball down to the five yard line. Bobby Reynolds then plowed through for his first touchdown of the season, being forced to carry several Tiger tacklers across the double stripes with him. Bobby Decker's attempted conversion was good and the Huskers knotted the score, 7-7.

A long pass from Tony Scardino was complete on the Nebraska 49 and then lost the ball on a fumble which was pounced upon by big Paul Fuchs on the Nebraska nine.

Fullback Al Androlewicz went to the Nebraska 49 on the next play and the Tigers rolled down to the Nebraska 16. When it appeared that the Huskers lost their heart, George Clira fell on a loose ball on the Nebraska 11 and the Cornhuskers prevented another Bengal six pointer.

The fourth quarter was about to contrast in every way, shape and form with the third quarter, which saw no scores being made and mostly straight, power football being employed by both teams.

Jack Fox opened the scoring parade with a five yard jaunt after taking a pitchout from quarterback Hook. Fuchs found the target again and scored a bulge as the Tigers romped 23-13.

Hook then pitched a pass worth six points into the arms of Bruce Wood and Fuchs was converting with aggravating, monotonous regularity. The Tigers led 35-13 and it was all over but the shouting.

With 45 seconds yet to be played in the rout, freshman ace Bob Smith took the kickoff on the Nebraska 9 yard stripe and raced 91 yards for a Nebraska tally and the longest run of the day for either squad. Decker's kick was again blocked.

The Husker attempted an "onside, kick" for the kickoff and Coach Bill Glassford's strategy paid off. Nebraska gained possession of the ball on the 34, but didn't have the gas to carry them across into promise land the clock rapidly ticking the remaining seconds off.

Highlighting the Husker attack was Bobby Reynolds, who displayed his all-American abilities on offense and defense. John Bordogna, Ray Novak, Jim Cederdahl, Bobby Decker and Bob Smith all played good ball for the Husker backfield. Scott, Mullen, Boll, Paynich and Simon stood out in the line.

I M Football Play-offs Announced

Ed Higginbotham, University director of intramural sports, Friday announced the teams which will play in the touch football play-off tournament beginning Monday, October 29.

WAA Sports Columnist

While the Nebraska football team is out of town for the week ends maybe I can swing a little bit of the Nebraska sports spotlight to the feminine side.

Sporting events at N.U. are not completely confined to the male students. If anyone is dubious about this last remark, I'm sure Ginger Nye at the Delta Gamma house can show you "concrete" proof that girls are active in sports. The best she has been wearing is a result of a soccerball injury. This column will be dedicated to spotlighting girls' sports and the girls who participate in them.

The first spotlight falls on the Kappa intramural soccer team. It defeated the Delta Gamma team 12-6 to become 1951 Intramural Soccer Champions.

With side line cheers and the ROTC band music in the backgrounds Patsy Peters started off the game by kicking a double. Mary Hubka caught a Kappa fly to put the Kappa one-third on the way to the outfield. Patsy Peters dramatically slid in home to score the first Kappa run. Betty Coad also scored to make the score 3-0 before giving the DGs a chance to kick.

Jan Champagne and Mildred Yeakley kicked singles to get the DGs on the way. Patsy Peters, Kappa pitcher, catches Lanny Esch's and Phyllis London's flies. Mary Hubka comes up to get away a hard kick down center field to bring Champagne and Yeakley home to score. Shirley Siffles booted the ball far enough to enable her to make it home for DG run number three. Jean Wilson caught a Delta Gamma fly to put the DGs out in the field.

A fly knocked by Andy Huntington brought in Marilee Holquist and Joe Seleck. Carmen Boyer was put out on first while teammate Andy Huntington scored for the Kappas. Patsy Peters then scored on Moberg's punt who got another run before the third out.

The last half of the second inning started out with Sara DeVoe scoring on Amy Leiders' fly. Marilee Holquist catches Yeakley's fly to account for one of the outs.

Joan Pike started out by sliding into third which puts her in a position to score on Jean Wilson's kick. Wilson in turn scores on Marilee Holquist's kick. Marilyn Vingers caught a fly for the Kappas' first out. The catch was so good that the ROTC band started playing. Andy Huntington scored and Patsy Peters kicked to score Carmen Boyer. Vingers catches another fly for the third out.

Soccerball homerun queen Phyllis London did it again as her teammates cheered. Phyllis has quite a reputation for home runs. Andy Huntington made a spectacular catch of Mary Hubka's fly. Betty Coad scoops up a fly at first. Joan Pike catches Sara DeVoe's fly for out number three.

Time prevented the last incomplete inning to be counted. The Kappa team should be congratulated on its fine playing throughout the tournament. They are very deserving champions. The game was completed in intramural tradition by the DGs giving three cheers for the Kappas and the Kappas three yells for the DGs.

ATO 'B' Gridders Defeat Sigma Nu; Sigma Phi Epsilon Wins By Forfeit

By DOUG WILCOX
Sports Staff Reporter

In the intramural grid program last Thursday, Alpha Tau Omega "B" squad played Sigma Nu "B" squad in a tilt sparked with the ball handling of Mat Baley, the competent quarterback for the ATOs. The final score was 19-6 in favor of the ATOs.

An interception by Lyle Blue of a Sig Nu pass followed by his racing to the Sig Nu 5 yard line set up the first touchdown for the ATO squad. The TD was later made from five yards out. The try for the extra point was no good.

Later Baley passed 40 yards into the hands of Bill Weber, who caught the ball and scored. The try for the extra point was good on the same combination pass to Baley to Weber.

The final ATO score came on a pass from Baley to Gene Cotter. The conversion try was no good, so the final score stood at 19 points for the winners.

The Sig Nu "B" team scored six points in the game, but their is not immediate information available on how the TD was made.

Epsilon "B" squad and Theta Chi "B" squad ended in a forfeit of the Theta Chi's, which gives the Sig Eps a chance in the play-offs next week.

The games originally scheduled for last Friday were called off because of the rain. Much of the playing season in the 1951 intramural football campaign has been rained out.

The teams which were scheduled to be played on Friday were the Tri-dents versus City YMCA, Delta Tau Delta "B" squad versus Beta Theta Pi "B" squad, Nebraska Co-op versus University YMCA and the Warriors versus the Methodist House.

With the cancellation of these games coming on the last day of the intramural season, there is no chance for these squads to play off their scheduled games, so the teams have the same status they had before the cancelled games.

The intramural lay-offs will be covered and be brought to you through The Daily Nebraskan.

Sig Eps Win Free Throw Tournament

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the intramural free throw team championship with a grand total of 278 points. Closely following the Sig Eps were the Sigma Chi's with 255 points.

Way behind in third place is Phi Gamma Delta with 166 points. Near the leaders is Delta Upsilon and Phi Delta Theta with 148 and 141 points, respectively.

Following these are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 108; Phi Kappa Psi, 90; Delta Tau Delta, 70; Alpha Tau Omega, 63.

Beta Theta Pi, 38; Theta Chi, 48; Kappa Sigma, 29; Sigma Nu, 25; Ag Men, 20; Hoop Mania, 20; Delta Sigma Pi, 20; Alpha Gamma Rho, 10, and Independents, none.

Schedule for Monday, Oct. 29, at 5 p.m.: 1. Buchanan, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Marshall, Sigma Chi.

2. Mariko, Phi Gamma Delta vs. McGarr, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

3. Lima, Phi Gamma Delta vs. March, Sigma Chi.

4. Shindler, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Newell, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

5. Trumbull, Sigma Chi vs. Maunin, Phi Gamma Delta.

6. Canaday, Theta Chi vs. Bachman, Phi Kappa Psi.

7. Curtis, Sigma Chi vs. Ragan, Delta Tau Delta.

8. Hunsicker, Delta Upsilon vs. Benedict, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

9. Matheson, Delta Tau Delta vs. Cream, Phi Gamma Delta.

10. Branson, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Adams, Phi Kappa Psi.

11. Miller, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Hanson, Sigma Chi.

12. Smith, Phi Delta Theta vs. Halston, Sigma Chi.

13. Schuman, Theta Chi vs. Sloan, Alpha Tau Omega.

14. Clark, Sigma Nu vs. Stratton, Delta Upsilon.

15. Carver, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Eaman, Alpha Gamma Rho.

16. Fox, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Tomica, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

17. Belland, Delta Sigma Pi vs. Mother, Delta Upsilon.

18. Kavenon, Sigma Chi vs. Allen, Delta Tau Delta.

19. Newberry, Phi Delta Theta vs. Wells, Sigma Chi.

20. Alder, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Krueger, Sigma Phi Epsilon.
