

KK Announces Sweetheart, Prince Kosmet Candidates

Innocents and Mortar Boards judged candidates for Prince Kosmet and Nebraska Sweetheart in the Union Thursday night.

Six coeds were selected from 19 candidates to compete in the finals for the Sweetheart title. The finalists are: Adele Coryell, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Sue Brownlee, Delta Gamma; Jo Berry, Gamma Phi Beta Catherine Corp, Pi Beta Phi; Carol Church, Delta Delta Delta, and Norma Lothrop, Alpha Phi.

Mortar Boards chose Wayne White, Farm House; Ray Mladovich, Delta Tau Delta; Jim Buchanan, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Marshall Kushner, Zeta Beta Tau; Wayne Handshy, Phi Gamma Delta and Don Pieper, Sigma Chi from a group of 21 as the candidates for Prince Kosmet, according to Dick Billig, innocent.

A popular election of holders of tickets for the Kosmet Klub Fall Revue will decide the winners of the two titles.

Tickets for the Nov. 16 show are now on sale from all Kosmet Klub workers at 80 cents each. A ticket allows the purchaser one vote for his choice of Prince and Sweetheart.

The theme of the 1951 revue is "Hello Hollywood." Skits by Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu will comprise this year's show.

This year voters are urged to cast their ballots as soon as convenient after it is purchased. The new system of voting early will facilitate the counting of the ballots which is under the supervision of the Student Council elections committee.

it happened at nu...

All was quiet in the eight o'clock history class. As the students dozed, the instructor lectured on.

Suddenly the silence was broken by a peal of laughter from a coed sitting in the back row. She had just woke up from her usual morning nap to read this startling announcement on the blackboard:

"The Society for Painting the Carillon Tower Purple will hold its first meeting."

Question of the hour is, "Did the ched become a charter member of the SPCT?"

ISA To Hold 'Sock Hop' On Saturday

From all reports, the dance is going to be pretty "soxy."

The dance under discussion is the annual ISA-sponsored, "Sock Hop," to be held 9-12 p.m., Saturday in the Union ballroom.

This is the one dance of the school year that gives every University student a chance to check his shoes at the door.

Fancy footwear and footwear will go hand-in-hand, or foot-in-foot, at the dance. The KFOR combo will furnish the music. Dancers may shuffle to everything from the old-fashioned waltz to the new-fashioned Charleston.

Members of ISA planning the dance are Bristol Turner, Ed King, Joyce Kuehl, Jan Hepperly, Dave Keene and Jo Lagitt.

Tickets are 60 cents and may be purchased at the door. Refreshments will be sold at the dance.

Everyone is invited to attend. The keynote for the dance will be fun and informality. It's the only dance of the year that has real "sox appeal."

THE QUESTION

"Have you read the article in Time about the younger generation? What did you think of the article?"

THE ANSWERS

Joe Liggit, senior, Teachers College: "It was pretty valid. I think they have a feeling of responsibility and they are not fatalistic. That is, they realize more the significance of world problems."

Richard Tobler, sophomore, Law College: "I agree that the younger generation must go in parties as the article stated. You never see couples going out together anymore. But youth enjoy what they do because they like to do it and not because it's taboo."

Blake Cathroe, junior, Teachers College: "The younger generation is not subdued. They are going their own way. No one wants to go into the army but they just accept it."

Nancy Weir, junior, Arts and Sciences College: "It is the article that comes the closest to expressing what the 18 to 20-year-old think. It applies to college students. Although it stated the confused state of mind it shows that youths do think."

Barbara Wylie, junior, Arts and Sciences College: "It is the first article I've read that comes close to depicting the true thought of American youth. Youth is more confused than the article intimates."

Barbara Turner, freshman, Teachers College: "I don't think we're the silent type. I don't think we have gone to the dogs and if we have it's not because of what our parents did."

Ginny Franks, freshman, Arts and Sciences College: "I didn't like it. We are not the silent generation. We're not afraid."

Pat Bechan, junior, Arts and Sciences College: "It's very true. Too much time has been spent berating the younger generation. People need to think more objectively about it and I'm glad Time brought it to people's attention."

Presidents and treasurers of 25 major campus organizations will participate Saturday in the Activities Leaders' Workshop initiated by the Student Council in an effort to reach some positive conclusions in regard to common organization problems.

Faculty members and council representatives will meet with the 50 students leaders during the workshop, which will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in Rooms 313 and 215 of the Union.

Council members who have done advance research on specific campus problems will present their findings during the seven discussions on the agenda.

OPEN POLITICAL DISCUSSION

A panel discussion on politics will be held at 11:30 p.m. Panel members, Bristol Turner, Joan Krueger, John Adams and Bill Dugan, will present their views on what would constitute a healthy political situation at the University.

This discussion will be open to the public and group discussion will follow the presentation of panel opinions.

Bachelor Filings To Open

Eligible bachelor filings open Monday.

This year six men will be selected instead of eight as before, according to Juanita Rediger publicity chairman of Mortar Board.

Each organized house may put up one candidate. Independent men who do not belong to any house or dorm may file in Student Affairs office, Room 209, Administration building. The first 20 filings submitted will be placed on the ballots. Filings close at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Ag men who wish to file should contact Joan Englekemper, 2-2903.

Applicants must have a weighted average of 4.5 and have sophomore, junior or senior standing.

Campaigns for candidates will begin Nov. 26. Names of candidates will be announced Nov. 27. An all-woman election will be held Nov. 30 at Ellen Smith hall to choose the bachelors.

At the Black Masque ball, Dec. 14, the Eligible Bachelors will be presented.

Tickets are now on sale from Tassels for the annual turn-about party. The theme of the ball this year is Black Masque. Tassels are selling black masks to wear at the ball.

The eight men named Eligible Bachelors at the ball last year are: Hobe Jones, Paul McKie, Joe McGill, Fran Nagle, Phil Olsen, Dick Walsh, Verle Scott and Bobby Reynolds.

Presidents and treasurers of each group represented will draw up specific recommendations and resolutions in regard to problems discussed. These resolutions will be presented to the workshop participants for a vote before being taken to the appropriate organizations for consideration and action.

Herbert P. Davis, professor of animal husbandry, will be guest speaker at the noon luncheon. He will give his opinion on the "Place of Activities in College Life."

The agenda for the workshop is:

Gorton, Rystrom, Goodrich, Adams, Moran Awarded Gold Keys By Lincoln Newspapers

Five University students were recognized when the Lincoln Newspapers' 1951 Gold Key awards were presented to outstanding students in the University School of Journalism.

The winners are: Kenneth Rystrom, Marjorie Moran, Barbara Adams, Sue Gorton and Hill Goodrich.

All are sophomores except Goodrich, who is a junior. Rystrom and Gorton are news editors of The Daily Nebraskan. The others are members of the Nebraskan staff.

Awarded each fall upon the recommendation of the School of Journalism faculty, the Gold Keys go to five students who have completed or are completing basic work in journalism. They are selected on the basis of outstanding work in journalism courses and their over-all grade averages.

In the spring the Lincoln Newspapers award five Silver Keys to

Tipping, Transportation, Dating, Dances Discussed By Aggies

More than 70 students attended the first two discussions of a Better Living series held Tuesday and Wednesday in the Ag Union lounge.

The first discussion featured the movie "Junior Prom." Following the film, problems shown in the movie were discussed. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Allen led the discussion Tuesday. Mrs. Ruby Ruth and Mrs. Dorothy Woods led Wednesday's group.

Slips of paper were passed out to students as they entered the lounge, and while watching the film they wrote down personal problems encountered at one time or another. These problems were then discussed by the leaders and students.

Various subjects were brought up by the students. One of them brought out the idea of exchange dances. Most of the students favored the arrangement for meeting more people.

Another problem discussed was courages. The discussion included kinds of courages, cost and the methods of delivery. Transportation problems were also mentioned.

Mary Lou Buse, activities director for Ag Union, urged students to participate more in the discussions, not only by bringing out problems that affect them but also by taking part in the solving of other students' problems.

The next discussion in the series will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 13 and 14. "Meet Four Future" is the topic. The featured speaker is George Randol. Randol, now working in the

High School Journalists Arrive Today For State Prepster Press Convention

More than 700 high school journalists representing 50 schools are attending the 20th annual Nebraska Nebraska High School Press association convention on the University campus Friday and Saturday.

According to assistant professor William R. Rice, 640 students are entered in the advance registration and from 50 to 75 more are expected as late registrants. This year an all-time record for attendance has been set breaking the high mark of 665 set last year.

The convention opened at 8 a.m. and will close at noon Saturday with a luncheon in the Union.

Governor Val Peterson, Chancellor R. G. Gustafson and Mrs. Fred Clark, the "Mary Lane" columnist of the Omaha World Herald, are the speakers at the convention.

Fifty-four awards will be given students for excellence in competition in journalism vocabulary tests, current events tests, feature sports, news and editorial writing. The contests are scheduled for Friday afternoon and the awards will be made at the Saturday luncheon.

Friday night the Omaha World Herald will present plaques to the two outstanding printed school papers and the outstanding mimeographed paper. The Grand Island Independent will give a trophy to the best 1950-51 year book. Gold keys will go to five top journalism students from the University. The Lincoln Journal is making the key awards.

The University School of Journalism and the campus chapters of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honoraries, are assisting the NHSPA with the convention.

High schools sending representatives to the convention are Omaha Central, Lincoln, Lincoln Northeast, Grand Island, Scottsbluff, Waverly, North Platte, York, Columbus, Omaha North, St. Patrick of Fremont, Scribner, Superior, University School of Agriculture at Curtis, Neligh, Central City.
