

Joan Hanson Named President For 1951-52 All University Fund

Joan Hanson, Teachers College junior, will guide the 1951-52 activities of the All University Fund.

Other officers elected Thursday night were: Vice president in charge of solicitations, Sue Brownlee; vice president in charge of publicity, Rocky Yapp; secretary, Jane Calhoun; and treasurer, Harlan Wiederspan.

The past executive board of AUF announced the election slate five days preceding the election. The slate was open for nominations from the floor.

Miss Hanson, the new president, formerly held the position of secretary of the organization.

JOAN HANSON

She is president of the Red Cross College Unit and a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss Brownlee was previously in charge of solicitation of organized houses. She is a member of Delta Gamma, a Cornhusker section head and Builders assistant.

Yapp, a member of Beta Theta Pi, was in charge of Ag solicitations last fall. He is a Kosmet Klub worker.

Miss Calhoun, formerly in charge of denominational solicitations, is a Cornhusker section head, cheerleader and Builders assistant.

Wiederspan held the position of assistant treasurer. He is a Corn Cob pledge and a member of Beta Theta Pi.

The newly elected executive board will work with the previous board until formal installation, Dec. 13.

Applications for AUF board positions will be open Nov. 28 and 29. Application blanks will be available at the AUF office in the Union.

Eligibility requirements include a five average and membership in the sophomore, junior or senior class.

The new executive board announced that it will welcome applications from all interested students. Previous work in the organization is not a requirement for a board position.

Board members will be selected by both the newly elected and outgoing members of the executive board on the basis of applications and personal interviews.

Hindus Addresses Convo, Coffee Discussion Today

Maurice Hindus, convocation speaker, will talk informally at a coffee discussion hour at 2 p.m. Monday in the Union music room.

Lecturing at an all-University convocation in the Union ballroom at 11 a.m. Monday, Hindus is speaking on "After Stalin, Who and What?"

The coffee hour is being sponsored by the Union convocations committee so that students and faculty members will have an opportunity to meet and talk with Hindus, Russian-born author.

The committee asks that students bring questions which they wish to ask the speaker.

Eleven o'clock classes are being dismissed for the convocation—the second of a series of four planned for the year.

As a war correspondent in Moscow for three years during World War II, Hindus wrote for the New York Herald-Tribune. Since the war he has traveled in the Middle East and has written several books about his trips.

Hindus came to the United States from Russia at the age of 14 and later attended Colgate university and Harvard. In 1922 Hindus spent several months with the Russian Doukhobars in Western Canada, and the resulting articles led to an appointment by Glenn Frank, the editor of Century Magazine. Frank commissioned Hindus to go to Russia to investigate and write about conditions in the villages.

Among Hindus' works are "Red Bread," "Humanity Uprooted," "Green World," "To Sing With the Angels," "The Bright Passage," "The Cossacks," "Mother Russia," "Hitler Cannot Conquer Russia" and "In Search of a Future."

Lynn Kunkel, chairman of the Union convocations committee, is introducing the convocation.

BABW To Hear Knowles Speak At Monthly Meet

BABW will hold an open monthly meeting for independent women in the Union, Room 315, at 7:30 p.m., Monday.

Rex Knowles, Congregational-Presbyterian student pastor, will give a Thanksgiving talk entitled, "The Silent Drum."

The purposes of the monthly meetings are to unite the independent women and announce coming activities.

Interview dates will be announced later.

AUF officers for 1950-51 were President, Sarah Fulton; vice president, Adele Coryell and Anne Barger; secretary, Joan Hanson, and treasurer, Stuart Reynolds.

Black Masque Ball . . . Bachelor Candidates Announced

Who will be behind the black masks at the Black Masque ball? Six Eligible Bachelors, chosen from the tentative list of 29 candidates announced Monday by Mortar Boards, will be presented at the turn-about ball Dec. 14.

Unofficial list of candidates released by Poochie Rediger, publicity chairman of Mortar Board, is as follows:

Pat Allen, Acacia, business administration junior; Pete Bergsten, Alpha Tau Omega, business administration sophomore; Jack Russell, Pioneer House, junior in Ag College; Rex Coffman, independent, Ag College senior.

Dick Cordell, Sigma Chi, junior in Teachers College; Les Demmel, Cornhusker Co-op, business administration junior; Joe Gifford, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, arts and sciences senior; Jack Greer, Beta Theta, Pi, Teachers College junior.

Dick Huebner, Beta Sigma Psi, business administration sophomore; Gary Jones, Tau Kappa Epsilon, sophomore in Engineering College; Kent Kelley, Delta Sigma Phi, arts and sciences junior; Bill Knudsen, Sigma Nu, business administration senior.

Dick Lender, Delta Tau Delta, business administration senior; Dean Linscott, Alpha Gamma Rho, junior in Ag College; Jim Massey, men's dorm, arts and sciences junior; George McQueen, Brown Palace, arts and sciences senior.

Hod Myers, Sigma Phi Epsilon, business administration senior; Jim Munger, Phi Delta Theta, arts and sciences senior; Jack Nichols, Theta Chi, junior in Engineering College.

Mort Novak, Pi Kappa Phi, senior in business administration; Dick Regier, Phi Kappa Psi, Ag College senior; Tom Rische, Theta Xi, arts and sciences senior; Bart Roehman, Sigma Alpha Mu, sophomore in business administration.

Jim Smith, independent, Ag College senior; Marv Suvalsky, Zeta Beta Tau, business administration senior; Wayne White, Farm House, junior in Ag College; George Wilcox, Kappa Sigma, senior in arts and sciences; Con Woolwine, Phi Gamma Delta, business administration senior; Dick Worrall, Delta Upsilon, arts and sciences senior.

The six Eligible Bachelors will be elected at an all-woman election Nov. 30. According to Miss Rediger, campaigns may begin Monday, Nov. 28.

Tex Bencke's orchestra will play for the Black Masque ball. Coeds are to ask their dates, call for them, pay all expenses and make costumes for them.

Tickets costing $3 per couple are being sold by Tassels. Speculator tickets will cost 50 cents per person. Black masks are being sold for five cents apiece. As part of the Black Masque theme, the Mortar Boards ask that all couples wear black masks.

it happened at nu...

If someone told Bobby Reynolds that he would "see him in the funny papers," he wouldn't have been joking. At least, not last week.

The scene—Ringside at Joe Palooka's bout for the world's heavyweight boxing title. The announcer, describing the event, named the celebrities present for the event.

Thus, the radio audience heard that Bob Reynolds was among the sports stars attending the fight.

Even the funny papers recognize Nebraska's All-American.

Sigma Chi, Buchanan, Coryell Win KK Titles

Sigma Chi's skit, "The March of Time," won first place in the Kosmet Klub fall revue Friday while Adele Coryell and Jim Buchanan were crowned Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet.

The winning skit was a release of a new "film" about African natives and their capture of two white men for their feast. A ceremonial dance was accompanied by a brass jazz band. The final chorus to "Stars and Stripes Forever" featured a dancing ape, conquerors of Tarzan, who had attempted to save his brethren from the native's pot. Charles Curtis was skit master.

Second place went to members of Phi Gamma Delta, who presented "Flicker Flashbacks." The Fiji's combined the standard "Curse you John Dalton" routine and a Charlie Chaplin take off with vaudeville acts. Bob Swaim directed the skit.

Sigma Nu won third place with a "television" show featuring Perry Homo, a crooner, and a duo piano number. Bill Knudsen engineered the Sigma Nu skit.

Kappa Sigma did a mystery involving Sam Axe, "private eye," giving the story behind Nebraska's initial win at Iowa State. After being riddled by three subversive groups, Sam Axe finally delivered the winning formula to Bill Glassford. Don Wagner was skit master.

Alpha Tau Omega gave the audience a look at a night club troupe trying to impress a visiting talent scout during a morning rehearsal. Instrumentals and a vocal solo were features of the skit, directed by Win Cady.

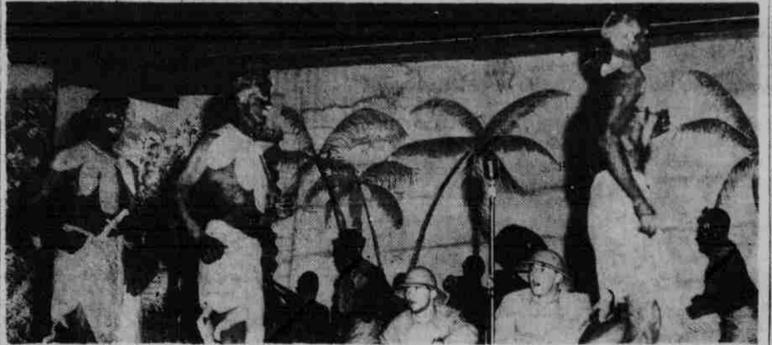

Beta Theta Pi used a chorus, band and dance team to give incoming freshmen an insight into the fraternal side of college life. Original lyrics featured the Beta skit which was directed by Stu Reynolds.

Each fraternity received a participation plaque from George Wilcox, director of the revue. The show, theme was "Hello Hollywood," and each skit was in some way connected with the film capital.

Miss Coryell is a junior in Teachers college and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Buchanan is a senior in Teachers college, a varsity basketball player and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The royalty were elected by the audience from 12 candidates.

Time Marches To First Place

THE WINNER . . . The Sigma Chis jazzed up the Dark Continent natives in the Friday night Kosmet Klub revue and "March of Time-d" into the first place spotlight. Here the African aborigines dance to a 1952 jazz number. (Courtesy Lincoln Star.)

Photograph Competition Ends Jan. 15

A trip to New York and work with top picture editors and cameramen await the winner of the Graflex-INP Press fellowship award.

Sixteen cash prizes totaling $550 will be awarded to teen-age photo contestants. Teen-agers can also compete for another $1,150 in prizes.

The winner of the press fellowship award will cover on-the-spot news assignments, work in modern photo labs, study with picture editors, sit in on editorial conferences, ride a radio prowl car, work with top cameramen, observe operations of a wirephoto network and enjoy special events planned for him.

The award is open to all who enter, although competition will be divided into three classes on the basis of experience—teen-age, non-professional and professional. Separate prizes will be awarded in each class.

Last year, according to the judges, teen-age contestants stole the show. They were commended for their style and imagination.

The contest drew entries from every state and several foreign countries.

In the 1952 contest, teen-agers may submit up to ten black-and-white and five color entries before Jan. 15, 1952. The original negative must have been exposed by the contestant, but he is not required to do his own processing or other darkroom work.

Official contest rules folders for this year's contest, each containing five entry forms, will be available at all Graflex dealers or by mail from Graflex, Inc., Rochester 8, N. Y.

Judges for the contest will be announced later.

Crops Judging Team To Enter Chicago, K.C. Competitions

A crops judging team from the University College of Agriculture left Sunday to participate in crops judging contests at Kansas City and Chicago.

Team members are Charles Stuber, John Rawlings, Don Reeves and Robert Berke. The team is coached by Prof. Dave Sander.

The Kansas City contest is slated for Tuesday and the Chicago competition the next Saturday. Expenses for the team are paid by the Tri-K club and the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben.

Prince, Sweetheart

THE ROYALTY . . . Adele Coryell and Jim Buchanan exchange "blue blood" smiles soon after they were presented as Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet, respectively, during Friday night's Kosmet Klub revue. (Courtesy Lincoln Star.)

Names In The News

By CHARLES GOMON Staff News Writer

SUMNER SCHLICHTER, Harvard economist, stated that the U. S. was in for a continued period of strikes, high taxes, and organized pressure groups. These pressure groups, society's lobbyists, will exert an increasing amount of influence on our economy.

JUAN PERON, dictator-president of Argentina, admitted that he is trying to build a fascist-type state. Strange as it may seem in the light of this statement, Moscow has halted its propaganda attacks on Peron with the result that "the experts are stumped."

THE SAVANNAH SPECIAL, crack passenger train of the Atlantic Coast Line, was wrecked on the way to its namesake city killing two persons and injuring 21 others.

COL. JAMES M. HANLEY, eighth army judge advocate and the man who originally released the figures on communist atrocities in Korea, issued a supplementary statement raising the total number of Americans murdered from about 5,000 to 6,270. Gen. Ridgway in the meantime dispatched his public information officer, Col. George Welch, to Korea from Tokyo to check on the story.

KEYES BEECH, Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News foreign correspondent, pointed out several unusual aspects surrounding the release of the figures on communist murders in Korea. One such factor was that Col. Hanley apparently hadn't consulted either Gen. James Van Fleet, eighth army commander, or Gen. Matthew Ridgway, far eastern commander, on the advisability of releasing the figures.

Although it has been confirmed that the South Koreans have indulged in executions which have not always been free from doubt as to their legality, nothing has been officially mentioned on this subject.

ROBERT MUNSON, A.P. correspondent in Tokyo, quoted a high far east command officer, whose name was not given, as saying that the question of the treatment of prisoners is what has been holding up the cease-fire talks at Panmunjom. The officer said, "The reds don't want to talk about what happened to their prisoners."

Charles Coburn To Talk; Read Selected Excerpts

Charles Coburn, appearing in St. Paul's Methodist church Saturday, Nov. 24, will give selected scenes from some of his stage and screen roles.

Coburn did not become a

N.U. Almanac

By MARLIN BREE Staff Writer

A citizen was walking up the street when he was collared by a character.

"Shay, can you tell me where to find the Alcoholic Anonym-much?" he asked.

"Why, do you want to join?" "Join, nothing, I want a re-sign."

"Don't you wish at times that you were barefoot again?"

"Not me, lady, I work on a chicken farm."

They all laughed when I got up to sing. How was I to know that I was under a table.

The birds do it; The bees do it; The little bats do it. Mama, can I take flying lessons, too?

Saturday's high, according to the weather station, was around 28, although thousands of Cornhusker football fans would question the accuracy of the weather bureau's thermometer.

Monday should be somewhat warmer than Saturday and Sunday. However, the forecast for Tuesday is colder again.

"My car's out of gas. What'll I do now?"

"How should I know, I've never been out with you before."

Amen.

movie actor until 1937 at the age of 60. Before he stepped into the movie business he had completed 40 years on the stage.

He had been program boy, usher, theater manager, press agent for shows, juvenile, romantic leading man, Shakespearean actor and head of his company.

After his wife's death, he left the stage to be in one motion picture. After his initial appearance in "Of Human Hearts" Coburn went on making picture after picture until he has become "one of the more familiar personalities in movies."

Lately he has gone into a third medium of show business, television. Co-starring with Spring Byington he has been photographed in a new program "Bed and Board" which will be released soon.

At 70 he adopted a side line—breeding, training and driving horses. His stable is now in the Grand Circuit throughout the country.

Coburn developed defective vision in his right eye about 30 years ago. His left eye remained normal. So Coburn adopted the monocle which along with his cigar, has become a characteristic.

He is not English, as many believe, but a native of Georgia. He was born June 19, 1877—the eighth generation of Coburns in America.

Coburn will talk about experiences in his 60 years of show business and read excerpts from his stage and screen appearances.

AWS Appeal Board

AWS appeal board will meet Monday at 5 p.m. to discuss the requests which have been filed for permission to exceed the maximum 11 activity point limit.

The board will hear no appeals at the meeting. Since this is a new division of AWS, board members will plan their work and set a time when women who are appealing may appear before them.

Appeals will be heard following Thanksgiving vacation.

Sigma Tau, Eta Kappa Nu, Electrical Engineering Honoraries, Pledge 37

Blue and white ribbons and wooden paddles are a sign of 30 new Sigma Tau pledges. Seven electrical engineering students pledged Eta Kappa Nu.

Sigma Tau, engineering honorary fraternity, pledged the men Thursday evening. Initiation will be Dec. 13. New pledges are: Nestor E. Acevedo, Joseph V. Benak, Richard V. Bierman, Dean T. Buckingham, Dale T. Caddy, Leonard Carstensen, Paul H. Chismar, Samuel R. Congram, J. Donovan Crook, Gordon R. Denker, Thomas N. Grigsby, Gifford E. Gorker, Harvey W. Hendley.

Jack Harburt, Everett E. Johnson, Theodore D. Kratt, Robert J. Krotter, Lewis E.

Lawson, Paul F. Leonard, Cecil M. Littleton, Robert L. Parsons, Rogers C. Ritter, Herbert A. Saxton, Norman L. Scott, Stanley Scott, Paul J. Sienknecht, Robert C. Tefft, John T. Warren, John M. Whitlock and Clarence Wood.

Eta Kappa Nu pledges are: Thomas N. Grigsby, Wayne T. Gustafson, Max A. James, Paul F. Leonard, John A. Marks, Donald L. Mortensen and Curtis E. Sorenson.

Men are elected to membership in Sigma Tau on the basis of social ability, practicality and scholarship. Members must be in the top third of the junior or senior engineering class.

Pharmacy College Scholarship Winners Announced By Burt

Winners of the 1951-52 College of Pharmacy scholarships have been announced by Dean Joseph B. Burt.

The following will receive scholarships from the American Foundation for pharmaceutical Education equalizing $80; Richard Murray, Janice Teter, James Stephenson, Marvin Kohll and James Stancik.

The Lincoln Drug Company is awarding scholarships of $80, 080 and $50 to Tom Whitcomb, David Sjogren, Lubor Venci, Miles Hilbrand, Russell Goodwin and Gifford Pease respectively.

Juniors and seniors are eligible for these awards. The selection of the winners is based upon scholastic standing.

Sorin Appears In Symphony's Fall Concert

Samuel Sorin was featured guest pianist at the sixth annual University Symphony fall concert Sunday.

The concert was conducted by Prof. Emanuel Wishnow, who has conducted the symphony since the first one in 1945.

The first selection was "Oberon" by von Weber, followed by Schubert's "Symphony No. 5 in B Flat" and "Matinee Musicale," an arrangement by the contemporary English composer Benjamin Britten. The final number was "Concerto No. 1 in B Flat minor" by Tschalkowsky.

Fossy Soivakovsky, viola, was the first soloist ever to play with the University orchestra. Other soloists in order of appearance have been: Dimitrie Morkewitch, cello; Maria Brognotte, piano; Dorothy Powers, violin; and last year Ossy R. nardy, violin.

The orchestra is a student organization with selection by try-out.

Sorin appeared at the University under the sponsorship of the Union music committee. His playing has brought him high praises from listeners and requests for return engagements.

Circlet Theater Play Stars Law Student

David Downing, a junior in law college, has one of the three leading parts in "The Heiress," to be previewed at the Circlet theater Nov. 26.

"The Heiress" is taken from Henry James' novel, "Washington Square," and from the adaptation for the stage by Ruth and Augustus Goetz. It is one of the few successful plays taken from a novel. The play had outstanding success during 1947 in New York.

It is the story of an extremely wealthy woman, wealthy in rights as well as inheritance, but lacking in such things as social graces. Her father is trying very hard to have his daughter be the image of her dead mother.

She is wooed by a man her father considers to be a fortune hunter. It ends with an eloquent and unfortunate marriage which makes the woman cold and bitter towards life.

Free student tickets may be secured for the preview in the Union activities office.

Maj. Crutsinger To Talk At Air Society Meeting

"How Flying Safety Affects the Nation and Organization of Strategic Air Command" will be discussed by Major W. J. Crutsinger at the Arnold Air Society meeting Tuesday.

The society will meet in the Military and Naval Science building lounge at 7:30 p.m.

Major Crutsinger comes from Offutt air force base in Omaha.