Nebraska Cagers Open Season Against IST Panthers Saturday

By GLENN NELSON Sports Staff Writer Basketball coach Harry Good is hoping to open his 1951-52 campaign with a win Saturday night when Iowa State Teachers college invades Nebraska. Only four lettermen will be on hand to answer the Husker tutor's call. But his roster lists some promising sophomores and freshmen who should fill in ably. Jim Buchanan and Joe Good are the only regulars returning from last year's squad. Buchanan, senior guard from Ft. Wayne, Ind., stands an even six feet. He has been a top-notch scorer and outstanding floor man for the Huskers the past two years.

Good, a 6-1 junior guard, promises to give the Huskers plenty of scoring punch from the back court. He came to fire during mid season last year and should continue his pace this season. Forwards Jim Snyder and Bud Ward are the other veterans listed this year. Snyder is a 6-4 junior from New Winchester, Ind., and Ward, a senior hailing from Plainfield, Ind., stands 6-2. The remainder of coach Good's squad lists five sophomores and nine freshmen. Bud Exstrom, Holdrege guard; Bill Johnson, 6-6 center from Lincoln; Fred Seger, Omaha guard; Clark Smaha, Wilmette, Ill. guard; and forward Don Weber of Estherville, Ia., were freshmen numeral winners last year. They are now working for Varsity positions. Freshman prospects include Clarence Cook, 6-3 McCook forward; 6-5 center Willard Fagler of Harvard; Paul Fredstrom, 6-3 forward from Lincoln Northeast; Dave Fahrbach, Indianapolis, forward; Stan Matzke, Lincoln forward; Charles Ott, center from Lincoln, Ill. who stands 6-7; Roger Rosenquist, 6-3 forward from Omaha; Gary Renzelman, 6-5 Scottsbluff center; and Gerald Sandbulte, Sioux Center, Ia. guard.

an all time scoring record for Nebraska in 1950-51.

Last year's Panther club relied primarily on its defensive ability to tie Morningside for the North Central conference title. It was the fourth consecutive season in which the Panthers won or shared the crown.

IST's 6-2 forward Howard Pigg is the only returning regular from last year's quintet. He suffered a foot injury in early practice drills, but should be in top form for the Husker contest. Pigg was a leading scorer for the Panthers last season.

The game will be the first of 11 home tilts for the Cornhuskers. They will play 10 games on the road in addition to the Big Seven tournament at Kansas City during the Christmas holidays.

Iowa State Teachers will open its cage campaign Friday against North Central college of Naperville, Ill. B squad coach Tony Sharpe scheduled an intersquad contest as "curtain raiser" for the IST game Saturday night.

Handball Entries Due December 14

Entries for the All-University handball championships are due Friday, Dec. 14 at 5 p.m. Entries will be brought to 102, Intramural building. Players can enter either singles or doubles but not both. Schedules of matches will be posted Dec. 17 so football and baseball men may participate in handball before their spring practices begin. Players will schedule games by the players to meet dead line dates according to times when the Coliseum handball courts are available. Varsity team athletes who are permitted to use the field house handball courts may play their matches there. Two out of three games will constitute a match. Winner of the match will advance in the tournament. Pairings will be posted on the bulletin board of the Physical Education building. The team trophy will be awarded to the All-University champions. Team winner will be determined by points awarded by advancing in the tournament. Points won in singles and doubles will count towards All-University championships. In case of a large entry list, several leagues will be formed. Winners of leagues will play for the individual championship. Handbills may be checked out without charge at equipment cages. No other equipment will be available.

Current Jay Backs Rank Among Greats

K.U.'s two new backfield aces, Bud Laughlin, 200-pound Kansas City, Mo., fullback, and Bob Brandeberry, 183-pound Yates Center right half, have vaulted into the Jayhawkers' all-time career ground gaining lists. With 836 net yards in 15 games, Laughlin has moved into eighth place. Brandeberry is 10th with 683 yards in 12 games. This pair displaced two former fullbacks, John Peterson, rangy ram of the mid-thirties and Leroy Robison, who played five seasons during and just after World War II in the "Big Ten." With the finale against Missouri Dec. 1 coming up, Jerry Robertson, K.U.'s lanky bombardier from Dallas, Texas, already has notched high spots on Jayhawker single-season, single-game, and career passing lists. Second ranking flinger in the Big Seven, Robertson has gained 687 yards on 39 completions in 77 heaves.

Okie Sets Mark Fullback Buck McPhail's 95-yard rush against Kansas State last week at Manhattan is the longest rush in the history of football at Oklahoma in modern times. George Thomas's 90-yard cruise against Oklahoma A&M here in 1949 constituted the previous school record and still remains the longest scoring gallop, since McPhail was caught from behind by Carlos Oldham of Kansas State. "Too much wind against me," McPhail later cracked.

Cornhuskers Set For Season Finale; Bordogna And Giles Are Available

By ARLEY BONDARIN Sports Staff Writer

As the Nebraska Cornhuskers near the end of a long and rough football season, Coach Bill Glassford began readying his gritty young band for the season's finale against Miami Hurricanes at Coral Gables, Florida in a Friday night tussle.

In contrast to the usual rough scrimmages employed during the year's practice sessions, the Cornhuskers donned sweat clothes again Tuesday for light drills. Coach Glassford indicated that the squad will spend the remainder of the week drilling lightly in sweat suits with the main emphasis on offense. An unusual number of injuries to key men has reduced the Husker offensive to a mere shell. Nebraska hopes for a victory depend largely on whether or not the Huskers can develop an attack to go with the fierce defensive platoon.

To brighten prospects for Friday's game, it was announced that sophomore John Bordogna will play against Miami. Bordogna, the key in the Husker spread formation, has been hampered by a recurring leg injury. The young sophomore's spectacular performance against Iowa State before receiving his initial injury give Husker fans hopes of a repeat performance against Miami.

End Bill Giles was also given the green light for Friday's game. Sidelined for a good portion of the season by an injured leg muscle, the promising sophomore is slated to see plenty of action in the season's windup. An offensive wingman, Giles is considered a better than average pass catcher. His return should bolster the Husker passing attack, which in all probability will be the Scarlet and Cream's main offensive weapon.

Still on the doubtful list are Bob Reynolds and Jim Yiesley. Reynolds received a painful burn on the cornea of his eye by some line from a yardline marker. However, he will continue to work out with the team although his availability will not be known until just before game time.

Yiesley has been a defensive halfback starter through most of the season. Although sometimes suffering from inexperience, he has shown great promise and Coach Glassford chose to stick with the Husker freshman. Yiesley was injured against the Oklahoma Sooner in last Saturday's bruising battles.

Coach Glassford also announced that senior end Frank Simon and senior linebacker Bob Mullen will again captain the Nebraskans. The two returning veterans have led the Cornhuskers all season and have been a steady influence on the freshmen and sophomores as well as morale builders.
