Wells, Kuyper Named Soloists For Concert

Two performances of the University Singers annual Christmas carol concert will be given Sunday at 3 and 4:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook will direct the Singers' concert. Jack Wells, sophomore, and Eugene Kuyper, graduate student, will be soloists.

Admission will be by ticket only. Tickets are free and available at Miller & Paine, the Union and the Ag Union.

The concert will open with "Ode to Peace" by Ralph Williams and close with "Fantasia on Christmas Carols" by Vaughn Williams. A string quartet and a number of shorter traditional carols are also on the program.

The School of Fine Arts and the Union activities committee are sponsoring the concert. Between performances, there will be a coffee hour for the singers.

The program: Ode to Peace, Ralph Williams. Gloria in Excelsis Deo, Bach. Dark the Night, Welsh. Whence Is That Goodly Franchise?, French. Christmas Is Coming, English. Happy Bethlehem, Basque. A Spotless Rose, Howells. The First Noel, arr. by Pochon. Molto Lento, Rubinstein. Adeste Fideles, arr. by Pochon (String Quartet). Fantasia on Christmas Carols, Vaughn Williams.

CHRISTMAS CAROLERS... University singers present their annual Christmas concert. Sunday's program will include familiar carols by French, German and English composers, as well as "Fantasia on Christmas Carols," by Vaughn Williams.

Roy M. Green To Speak On Radio Show, Sunday

The program for this week on "Your University Speaks" will be a talk on "The Engineering Manpower Problem" by Dean Roy M. Green of the engineering and architecture department.

The program may be heard Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1, at 12:30 p.m. on radio stations KFAB, WOW, KOIL, and others throughout the state. The program will be broadcast again at 10:15 p.m. over radio station KOLN.

Bachelor Elections To Be Held Today

City campus women will go to the polls today to vote for the six most Eligible Bachelors on the campus. Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Ellen Smith hall, where pictures of all candidates will be posted. Women must have their ID cards with them in order to vote. Ag women voted Thursday at the Ag Union.

The six candidates chosen as 1951 Eligible Bachelors will be presented at the Black Masque ball which will be held Dec. 14 in the Coliseum. Tex Beneke and his orchestra will play at the ball. Tickets may be purchased from any Mortar Board or Tassel. The price is $3 per couple. The Mortar Boards and Tassels are also selling black mask souvenirs for five cents apiece.

In previous years, eight Eligible Bachelors were presented instead of six.

The candidates for Eligible Bachelors are: Pat Allen, junior; Rex Coffman, senior; Dick Huebner, sophomore;

Sinfonia To Act As Host To Province Convention

The University Sinfonia chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, the largest national honorary music fraternity in the U.S. will be host to seven other chapters for the annual province convention Saturday and Sunday, December 1 and 2.

Chapters attending include Simpson College, Indianola, Ia.; Drake University, Des Moines, Ia.; University of South Dakota, Vermillion, S. D.; Morningside College, Sioux City, Ia.; Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and University of Omaha.

After registering Saturday morning, they will witness the rehearsal of the University Singers under the direction of Dr. Arthur Westbrook. A business meeting will be followed by a banquet in the evening when 14 men will be initiated into the organization.

Carlton Chaffee, the province governor from Simpson College, will preside at the meetings. Denny Schneider, president of the local chapter, will act as master of ceremonies at the banquet and David Foltz, professor of voice in the music college, will lead the group singing.

Sinfonia is devoted to advancing the cause of music in America, to the development of the true fraternal spirit among its members, to the fostering of mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, and to giving recognition to outstanding youth in musical activity.

Cobel, Willey Represent NU At Big 7 Meet

George Cobel, Student Council president, and Miriam Willey, vice president, are representing the University at the Big Seven student government association convention in Boulder, Colo., Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

Nanci DeBord, Don Noble, George Wilcox and Wayne White will also make the trip. Mary Mielenz, Council faculty advisor, will attend the convention also.

The convention will have four committees on student affairs. They are: permanent organization and student government; athletic, student life, and academic. The University was selected at the convention in Lawrence, Kas., last spring to discuss finance at the Boulder convention.

Art Honorary To Hold Tea Delta Phi Delta, art honorary, will hold a tea Friday in Gallery A, Morrill hall, at 3 p.m. Background music will be played during a group discussion of current doings in the art world. All students are invited.

AUF Position Filings To End Today; Three New Positions Added To Board

AUF workers may file for positions on AUF boards for the last time Friday.

Present and future executive boards will interview Ag campus applicants Saturday from 9 until 10 a.m. and city campus applicants from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Applicants may sign for a ten-minute interview in the AUF office before Saturday morning.

Members for the solicitations and the publicity boards will be made from the lists of filings. Eight positions are open on each board.

The solicitations board is divided into eight areas, sororities, fraternities, organized houses, denominations, organizations, faculty, unorganized students, Ag college. The Ag college position is open to Ag AUF workers only.

A radio department has been added to the eight parts of the publicity board art, newspaper, speakers, special events, office, booths, education of workers and mass meetings.

Two other offices were established this year. They are assistant treasurer and office secretary post.

The assistants' jobs are evaluated at four activity points by the AWS board and the board positions are worth three points.

The present executive board will retire Dec. 13 and the newly selected boards will take over.

Applicants must have had at least one year of AUF experience. They must have a weighted average of 5 or above. Students are asked to list three positions in order of preference and give reasons why they think that they are qualified to fill the positions. The amount of time an applicant can devote to the organization is also a factor.

Filings will close at 5 p.m.

Alpha Kappa Psi Schedules Panel On Wage Stabilization

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, is sponsoring a panel discussion on wage stabilization in Love Memorial library auditorium Dec. 12 at 8 p.m.

The business group is sponsoring the panel to bring to the people of Lincoln the views of men in the labor relations field on the questions concerned with wage stabilization.

Five men in the labor relations field will be on the panel. They are as follows:

Eli Rock, regional chairman of the wage stabilization board at Kansas City; Donald Devris, director of Nebraska Associated Industries; Dean Cooper, personnel manager of Cushman Motor company; Gordon Preble, president of Nebraska State Federation of Labor; and Dr. Richard Bourne, professor of labor and economics at the University.

College of Business Administration will act as moderator for the discussion. The panel will be open to the public.

To Help Minorities... 'Relations' Group Has First Meet

The first annual meeting of the Lincoln-Lancaster County council of Human Relations will be held on Saturday, Dec. 1, at the Cornhusker hotel.

The council is made up of individuals and representatives of various organizations throughout the city for the purpose of bettering the working and living conditions of the minority groups such as the aged, national and racial minorities, D.P.'s, the handicapped and others.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. A registration fee of 50 cents will be charged. Dr. Curtis MacDougall, professor of journalism at Northwestern university, will be the guest speaker at the first meeting at 10 a.m. The meeting will break up into workshops covering housing, employment, group education, and individual action at 11 a.m.

A luncheon, more work shop meetings, elections and report of work shops will be on the afternoon program. Whitney Young of Omaha will speak at the luncheon. Anyone who does not wish to attend the luncheon but would like to hear Whitney speak may do so.

Cooper Foundation Gift Boosts Wildlife Exhibit

An exhibit on Nebraska wildlife in the University State Museum is a step nearer realization.

The museum has received a gift of $5,000 from the Cooper Foundation of Lincoln, according to Dr. C. B. Schultz, museum director. The gift was made through the University Foundation.

The exhibit, called the Hall of Nebraska Wildlife, will consist of 16 different groups of Nebraska wildlife. The wildlife will be shown in their native haunts in exact detail down to the smallest blade of grass, Dr. Schultz said.

The hall will occupy a space of 5,400 square feet on the first floor of the museum in Morrill hall. It will give museum visitors, Dr. Schultz said, an opportunity to study 16 regions of the state and Nebraska's widely varied wild plant, bird and animal life. Between each of the 16 exhibit cases will be photographs of typical Nebraska landscapes. All will be specially lighted.

The Cooper Foundation gift will permit construction of at least three major exhibits: Pronghorn antelope in the high plains of Sioux county; whooping crane in the sand hills lakes and beaver on the Elkhorn river in northeast Nebraska.

The museum has built with its own funds an exhibit of bobcats in Banner county. A second exhibit, showing foxes along the Platte in Cass county, is now being constructed with a $500 gift from Dr. D. D. Whitney, retired University zoology professor.

Dr. Schultz said the Hall of Nebraska Wildlife will be one of the finest natural history exhibits in the midwest, when completed. Funds to complete the hall will be solicited from interested Nebraska citizens.

German Film On NU Agenda For Dec. 7, 8

The University YMCA, continuing its foreign film project, will present the German film, "Die Fledermaus," Saturday, Dec. 7 and Sunday Dec. 8.

The colored film with English subtitles will be given in Love Library auditorium and starts at 8 p.m.

"Die Fledermaus" is based on the world famous operetta by Johann Strauss. The comedy revolves around an overly-confident husband, his wife who tried to make him jealous, the "third party," a wealthy prince who gives rings to all his female companions.

The New York Daily Mirror said, "This is one of the best comedy importations, studded with Strauss waltzes. All roles are performed superbly."

Tickets are 65 cents and may be obtained at the University YMCA office, Temple, or the door before the film.

THE QUESTION Should football at the University be "de-emphasized?"

THE ANSWERS

Lloyd Kavich, sophomore in Arts and Sciences—"Absolutely it should be de-emphasized because the tail is wagging the dog. It is the team that's the major part of the University rather than the team being a small part of the 'U.' Gaylen Hargrave, junior in Engineering—"I don't think it should be cut down if they're getting to that. I think it should be continued.

Bill Giesenhagen, freshman in Engineering—"I don't think they should cut out spring practice, but if students play football they should take care of studies first." Bev Mann, junior in Teachers College—"No, because it is the one thing that brings the University together in spirit. Without a team for all students to back, they just go their own way. Instructors shouldn't treat football players any different than other students."

Harriet Wenke, sophomore in Business Administration—"It should be de-emphasized to some extent. Spring practice is obsolete. The University should find some way to get Nebraska high school students here instead of so many imports." Jan Pickard, sophomore in Arts and Sciences—"Football should be left as it is. Maybe a little rougher."

Mary Ellen Gerhardt, sophomore in Teachers College—"No, I think it's not emphasized too much now."

Ruth Gates, sophomore in Teachers College—"No, I think it should be played up because the team needs it."

FOREARMED IS FOREWARNED...

Red Cross Unit Sets Up Civil Defense Program

Now is the time for all good men and women to come to the aid of their country.

This modified speed typing sentence has an underlying meaning. The Red Cross civil defense committee under the direction of Carr Trumbell has been a program of student education on civil defense at the University.

The Red Cross civil defense program started in early fall when movies concerning atomic attacks were shown at mass meetings. Representatives from different houses on campus attended the meetings and reported on the civil defense information.

The civil defense committee recently revised this program for a new type of program that would bring these movies into the various houses on campus. The representatives of these houses would be furnished with information to supplement the film.

The films shown concerning an atomic attack include preparation for and effects of a "typical" A-bomb raid.

Civil defense at the University, says Trumbell, will probably include more than instruction on an atomic attack. He stated that future plans include recruiting University students who would work in case of a local emergency. "Such emergencies," would include floods. He added that these students would be able to be of assistance in many unforewarned emergencies.

Forearmed is forewarned, not forewarned is forearmed might well be the unofficial motto of the Red Cross civil defense committee.

A man boarded a train at New York and told the porter, "Now, porter, here's $5. I want you to wake me tomorrow morning and get me off this train at South Bend. I sleep heavily, and I'll fight you and tell you anything to go on sleeping, but get me off this train at South Bend."

The porter thanked him, and promised the man that he would get off at South Bend.

The next day the man woke up in Chicago, with South Bend far behind. He stormed up to the porter, who was talking to the conductor, and told him off in no uncertain terms.

Then he got a train back to South Bend.

"My, that man was mad," said the conductor.

"Lawdy, that's nothing," stammered the porter, "You should have heard the man I put off at South Bend."

"Have you any social prestige?"

"Nope, not a drop."

Fair to partly cloudy today and tonight, with the day's high near 65.

I've got gnus for you!" said the Mother Gnu when he came home from work.

Senator Wherry Dies

WASHINGTON — Nebraska's Senator Kenneth S. Wherry, 59, died Thursday at 11:45 a.m. (C.S.T.) in a Washington hospital. Doctors said the senator, who had been ill for weeks, died of pneumonia. Wherry, a republican floor leader of the senate, underwent an operation last month for removal of a growth in his intestines. He was reported recuperating until he was brought back to the hospital Thursday morning.

Cease-Fire Termed Mistake

KOREA—The virtual cease-fire Wednesday appears to have been a mistake. Artillery fire in the west and battles in the east began at 10 p.m. Wednesday (C.S.T.) as Americans received renewed orders to shoot to kill after an unclear truce of more than 48 hours.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth army, said the truce and reported cease-fire orders were a result of the misinterpretation of his orders by lower command officers.

A-Bomb Tests Continue

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — An atomic test bomb exploded at Frenchman's Flat proving grounds Thursday afternoon was invisible and unheard in the Las Vegas area, 75 miles away.

The bomb was the seventh in the current series of nuclear tests but it was the first of the A-bombs in the autumn and early winter tests that has been touched off so late in the day. Others have come before 11 a.m. (C.S.T.).

Like most of the earlier explosions, it was apparently a "baby bomb," or some portion of the nuclear weapons the atomic energy commission has announced it is experimenting with.

Villanova Football Hero Dies

VILLANOVA, Pa.—The violent death of Villanova college football hero Dominic "Nick" Liotta remained a mystery Thursday. The big co-captain died in or near his dormitory Wednesday. Conflicting reports of cause of death were submitted by several authorities.

Handsby, Mullen, Simon, Regier, Ponsiego...

will be remembered throughout their lives; and times they were greatly disturbed by their plays and also the times they would pat them on the back and say "good job."

Bob Mullen, better known to us as "Moon," ends his football career at 26 years old, weighing 210 pounds and stands at six feet, 2 inches in height. From Conneville, Pa., Mullen has shown us many thrills playing defensive tackle and lineman. He will graduate in January with a degree from Teachers College.
