

Huskiers Hit NMS, 59-43

By ED BERG
And
RON GIBSON

With Fred Seger and Jim Buchanan showing the way, Nebraska's basketballers climbed back on the victory trail Tuesday night with a 59-43 win over Northwest Missouri State.

Buchanan paced the Husker scorers with 16 points, but it was the always moving Seger who ignited the Nebraska offense and ended the four-game Bearcat win streak.

Holding a 36-32 half time lead, Harry Good's boys were forced to the limit before shaking the hustling Missourians. Dick Buckridge, mainspring of the visitors attack, netted 16 tallies to share high game honors with Buchanan. His chief support came from veteran George Nathan who chalked up 11 points.

Nebraska's superior height and a successful fast break offense proved the difference. It was Seger, a sophomore guard from Omaha Benson high, that engineered the victory drive with his topnotch passing and rugged rebound work.

The Huskers jumped to an early lead on field goals by Buchanan and Stan Matzke, along with a free toss by Matzke. The Bearcats got into the act on a one-pointer by George Coulter, and a field goal by Dick Buckridge. For the Scarlet, Seger hit his first of five free throws to make the score 6-3 Nebraska.

Gerry Sandbulte potted a field goal and a free toss to raise Nebraska's total to nine. The Missourians then closed the gap, as free throws by Ono Monachino and George Nathan along with buckets by Nathan and Buckridge boosted the Bearcats' count to nine. Seger dunked a free toss to make the first quarter score 10-9 Nebraska.

The Missourians, dominating play in the first half of the second period, rolled to a 19-13 lead midway in the frame for their biggest lead of the night.

Scoring leader for the Bearcats in the second quarter was Buckridge with three two-pointers and two free tosses. Teammates Bob Wright and Nathan added two points apiece to run the visitors' second period total to 12.

For Nebraska it was Fireballing Seger, who led the way, counting five points on two fielders and a free shot. Charley Ott, Buchanan and Clark Smaha each scored two-pointers, and Don Weber flipped two charity shots through the hoop to make the halftime score NU 23, Northwest Missouri State College 21.

In the third canto the visitors managed to stay within range of the Huskers, seldom trailing by more than three points.

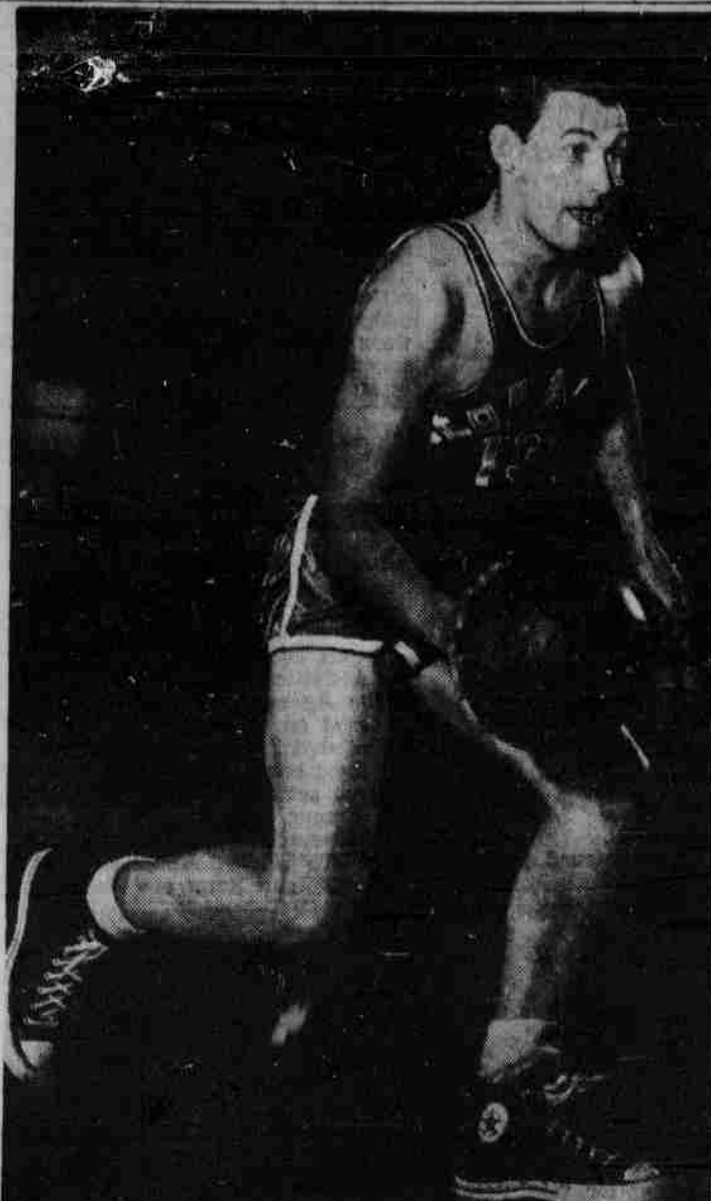

But the sharpshooting of Bucky Buchanan, Otto, Willard Fagler and Matzke more than made up for the scoring done by the Bearcats' Chuck Ramsey, Nathan, Buckridge and Coulter.

Coulter started the third frame with a free shot, but Buchanan topped that with a field goal. The Bearcats' Nathan drove in for a layup two-pointer, and followed this effort with a free toss. Husker Don Weber countered with a free shot, and Buchanan plunked in a set shot from the left side. Ott added two on a two-handed jump shot to make the score 39-25 with four minutes remaining in the third period.

The Missourians again closed in on the home club as Ramsey, Buckridge and Coulter combined for five points. Buckridge and Ramsey hit long, looping fielders and Coulter dunked a charity throw, raising the visitors' score to 30 points. Matzke kept the Huskers out in front with a field goal, making the count 32-30.

Then Cornhusker Fagler set the nets ablaze with two fast shots from the floor to give the Nebraska total an upward kick. Bearcat George Nathan potted a field goal in the waning minutes of the quarter to make the third period score Nebraska 36, Northwest Missouri 32.

Nebraska's fast break, sadly neglected in the first 30 minutes, turned the ball game into a one-sided affair the fourth canto. The Huskers chalked up 23 points with their fireball tactics. Matzke, Seger, Fagler, Bill Johnson and Buchanan ended up on the scoring end of the downcourt rushes Buchanan looked especially sharp as he began hitting with his usual consistency.

SPARKS HUSKERS—Jim Buchanan, senior guard from Fort Wayne, Indiana, led Nebraska to a 59-43 victory over Northwest Missouri State College Tuesday night. Buchanan scored 16 points to take top honors in that department for the Cornhuskers.

Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi Lead Intramural Wrestling Tourney

By GLENN NELSON
Sports Staff Writer

Finals in the intramural wrestling tournament will get underway Wednesday at 5:15 p.m. on the Coliseum mats. Consolation matches will be held at that time also.

Sigma Chi and Beta Theta Pi currently are leading the race for the All-University championship with a total of 12 pin points apiece. Delta Tau Delta is third with 10 points.

The semi-final bouts, staged Monday, produced 12 falls. This assures a full card of rugged wrestling on tap for Wednesday. Gary Ashbaugh, Sigma Chi 177-pounder, turned in the quickest pinning of the tourney Wednesday, throwing MIT Dewhirst, Delta Tau Delta, in just :18 of the first round. He will meet Tom Harrington, Beta Theta Pi, in the finals. Harrington applied the cradle to Stan Snyder, Sigma Chi, ending the match in 1:52.

In the heavyweight division, Ed Husmann, Pi Kappa Phi, flattened J. Benedict, Sigma Phi Epsilon, in 5:35. He later decided Eldon Park, Delta Tau Delta, 7-3.

Max Kitzelman, representing Chi-O-Pa, will oppose Husmann in the finals. Kitzelman threw Herschel Morton, Sigma Nu, in 4:50. Park and Morton will tangle in the heavyweight consolation contest.

Don Lorenz, Men's Dorm, and Jerry Yeager, Delta Tau Delta, promise rugged competition in the 167-pound finals. Lorenz threw Royce Tonjes, Sig Ep, in 2:59 and later won a referee's decision over Ben Leonard of Sigma Chi to enter the finals. Yeager dished Claude Berreckman, Alpha Tau Omega, 16-5 and pinned Carl Ofe, Sig Chi, in 2:40, to gain the final round.

Tonges and Ofe will battle for third and fourth positions. Ofe dished Bert Sample, Delta Tau Delta, 7-3 to enter the semis. Leonard was last year's champion in the 167-pound class.
