Each of the thirteen candidates meets the following qualifications:

1. She has at least a 7.5 weighted average.
2. She is attractive.
3. She is active in no activities defined as such by the AWS activities board.
4. She is not pinned, going steady, engaged or married.
5. She has never won a beauty or queen title before.

Judges for the contest are the male members of The Daily Nebraskan staff—Tom Rische, Don Pieper, Ken Rystrom, Bob Banks, Marshall Kushner, Dale Reynolds and Bob Sherman.

IVCF To Hold Meeting Tonight At 7:15 In Union

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will hold its meeting Thursday, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in Room 315 of the Union.

Inter-Varsity missionary staff members under the direction of Bill Widen will be in charge of the program.

Coeds who wish to leave for home before Friday must have properly signed AWS special permission slips. The pink slips may be obtained from any housemother. Each coed must have the slip signed by her housemother and by a senior AWS board member. She should then return the slip to her housemother. The same procedure should be followed if a coed wishes to return to school after classes officially begin Thursday, Jan. 3.

Marilyn Lane Revealed As 'Miss Snowflake' At Union Open House Tuesday Night

Marilyn Lane, freshman in Teachers college, was presented as "Miss Snowflake" Tuesday evening at the Union Christmas open house.

Over 1,000 students attended the Christmas party and donated 10 and 25 cent gifts which entitled them to vote for one of the 17 freshman candidates for "Miss Snowflake."

Candidates for the title represented organized women's houses, Towne club and women's residence halls. They were:

Winifred Stolz, Pat Bradley, Karen Bokke, Marilyn Bourck, Ann Skold, Barbara Kokrda, Audrey Marx, Joan Larson and Jo Kociemba.

Barbara Turner, Marlene McCullough, Barbara Beck, Janet Ickes, Phyllis Dudley, Delores Garrett, Janie Madden and Marilyn Lane.

The gifts received at the Christmas open house were distributed by the Red Cross carolers and Marilyn Lane Wednesday evening.

Stuffed animal door prizes were won by Shiela Overguard, Jan Hepperly and Jane Hawthorne.

During intermission, the University Madrigal singers, directed by David Foltz, sang Christmas music.

Jimmy Phillips' combo provided music for dancing in the Union ballroom.

Bass-Baritone R. Anderson, NU Alumnus, To Give Concert

Concert artist Robert Anderson will sing Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Anderson, who has received wide acclaim as a bass-baritone throughout the U.S., received a bachelor of music in education degree from the University. He was a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia in 1948.

Also in 1948, Anderson won the National Carnegie Hall auditions. He is at present singing with the American Guild of Musical Artists' Opera company and teaching voice at the Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburgh.

Anderson's program will be:

Doch Weichet Ihr Argen . . . Bach

Gute Nacht . . . Bach

Vier Ernste Gesänge . . . Brahms

La Calunnia "Il Barbiere di Seville" . . . Rossini

Air Des Roses . . . Berlioz

Legende De La Sauge . . . Massenet

Song of the Flea . . . Moussorgsky

Old Mother Hubbard . . . Foster

Journey's End . . . Foster

Tickets may be purchased Thursday at 8 p.m. at the door of the Union ballroom. Admission is 60 cents for students and $1.20 for adults.

Proceeds will go to the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia scholarship fund, awarded yearly to an outstanding male student at the University.

Peterson To Speak At Ag Conference

Gov. Val Peterson will be one of the principal speakers at the annual Nebraska Town and Country Church conference scheduled for Jan. 15 and 16 at the College of Agriculture.

Peterson will speak on the Missouri Valley Basin project. He is expected to tell what has been done and what will be accomplished. His talk will begin at 9:40 a.m. on Jan. 15 in the College Activities building.

The conference is open to all denominations interested in town and country programs.

Under a new plan at Indiana university "straight A" averages don't win scholarships for students, but for one student 15 hours a week clerking in a Bloomington meat market did.

F. W. Hoover Issues Registration Changes

Several changes have been made in registration procedure for second semester, Dr. Floyd W. Hoover announced Wednesday.

All students with more than 27 hours as of September, 1951, will be admitted to the assignment committee in descending order according to the total number of University hours. Students with less than 27 hours must obtain registration tickets Jan. 11 at the Military and Naval Science building. Tickets will be available from 8 a.m. until noon and from 1 until 5 p.m.

Ag students with less than 27 hours may obtain registration tickets from Dr. Hixson in Agricultural Hall Jan. 11. Persons with registration tickets will be admitted starting in ascending order with ticket number A 100 after sophomores, juniors and seniors have registered with the assignment committee. Students with more than 120 hours will register first.

According to Hoover, this is a combination of the registration system used last spring and the system used last fall.

Registration for undergraduates will be held from Jan. 14 to 18th. Military and Naval Science building.

The number of hours necessary for admittance will be posted on a blackboard in front of the building and will be announced in The Daily Nebraskan.

Students may check their credit hours in the office of registration and records, Room B17, Administration building.

A new system will be inaugurated by the assignment committee this year. Each student will be given two IBM cards for each class, lab and quiz section.

Coad, Swingle, O'Brien, Hoyt To Represent Seniors As Class Council Members

Student Council announced the members of the senior class council Wednesday. Campus improvement committee chairman Peggy Mulvaney reported the four new members, chosen from eight applicants.

Senior class council members are Catherine Coad, Kathryn Swingle, Joan Hoyt and Pat O'Brien.

A married couple checked into a hotel, and after cleaning up, they forgot to turn off the faucets in the tub. A short time afterwards, the guest in the room directly under them opened the window and stuck out his head. "Turn off that water," he screamed. "What the — is the matter with you?"

"Stop your swearing," the first returned. "I've got a lady up here."

"And what the devil do you think I have down here—a fish?"

"Who's that?"

"Girl I used to sleep with."

"What?"

"Yeah! She and I took the same lecture together."

Gail: "Get hot!"

Boy: "Get hot? Oh boy!"

Gail: "Yes—get hot from mine house!"

"Get cold—yes, dat's what we got—more cold weather."

Temperatures will drop again today to a mean high of 4 above, and occasional light snow was predicted.

A newcomer at the Pearly Gates knocked for admission.

"Who's there?" asked Saint Peter.

"It is I," came the correct reply.

"Go to hell," he answered.

"We've got too many English teachers here already."

Walker Wins Engineering Scholarship

Roy E. Walker is the winner of this year's Sigma Tau engineering scholarship. The award is given annually to a senior engineer at the University for high grades and personal qualities.

Sigma Tau is a national engineering honorary society of which Walker is a member.

Walker, the son of Mrs. Mary E. Walker of Lincoln, is preparing to be a civil engineer and will graduate in January. He has been on the scholastic honor roll every semester since he entered the University and has a grade average of 90 per cent for his entire course.

The duplicate cards, colored brown, must be taken to class instructors by students on the first day that classes meet. The cards which will have PAID stamped on them by the controller will indicate that registration has been completed.

Students who lose their brown-colored cards must expect some delay in completing their enrollment even if their fees are paid, said Hoover.

Fees are to be paid during registration week at Grant Memorial hall. In previous years registration and fee payment have occurred in separate weeks.

Courses may be dropped and added Jan. 28 and 29. Students who do not complete their worksheets before Christmas vacation will have to drop and add in order to make changes in classes and sections.

Students should see their advisers to plan registration before vacation so that necessary changes can be made without difficulty.

A limited number of evening classes are open to students with class conflicts. Classes are free to students carrying 12 hours or more if tuition fees are paid at registration time.

Students, however, must have permission from their advisers to enroll in evening classes. Those carrying more than 16 hours of regular class work must also have permission from the dean of the college. Permission blanks may be obtained in Room 101, Architectural hall.

A student wishing to change colleges must first see his adviser, then the dean of the college in which he is now enrolled and, lastly, the dean of the college into which he wishes to transfer.

To change courses within a college, a student must see his adviser and the dean of his college.

17 Nebraskans On POW List

MUNSAN, Korea—At least 17 Nebraskans are on the list of POW's released by the communists Tuesday. The Reds claim on the prisoners continued to be the big news throughout the western world and in Korea itself.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN negotiator at the cease-fire conference, sailed into the communist attitude toward the talks at a news conference in Munsan. The admiral said the reds have continuously attempted to sabotage the sessions by unreasonable demands, and that the allies cannot put faith in their "good intentions." Joy went on to say that he did not know what "we would do" to the communists if we found out that they murdered the 7,853 men who are still missing according to UN rosters, "but I do know what we would all like to do."

Truman Doubts Truth Of Prisoner List

WASHINGTON—President Truman advised an attitude of skepticism regarding the names on the red prisoner list. He said that pending a defense department check of the list, families in this country should regard the list as highly unofficial and possibly incorrect.

Meanwhile the Pentagon worked around the clock on the list trying to match the names, ranks, and serial numbers released in Tokyo by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters with unit designations and next of kin from the Washington files. At last report at least 17 Nebraskans' names had been cleared by the defense department.

Reds Execute Two Spies

MOSCOW—The Soviet supreme court revealed that it tried and executed two men on charges of spying for the U.S. The two had Russian-sounding names. The court claimed the men were parchuted into Russia proper by "American officers" and carried guns, forged papers and poison. According to the reds, the "spies" were recruited from west European D.P. camps.

Commission To Study German Elections

PARIS—The political committee of the UN general assembly voted to set up a commission of five neutral powers to study the possibility of elections for all Germany. The Russians opposed the move to hold free elections on the grounds that the time is not yet ripe.

Young Indicted For Perjury

WASHINGTON—Former insurance man E. Merle Young of Washington was indicted, with three others, for lying before a senate committee. The committee was investigating charges of influence peddling in connection with RFC loans.

It was revealed at the grand jury hearing that Young had perjured himself while testifying about his wife's receipt of a $9,450 mink coat.

Airline Workers Return To Work

WASHINGTON—Pan American Airlines employees went back to their jobs following the appointment by President Truman of a fact-finding board. The airline was strike bound three days. The board will attempt to mediate the dispute between the owners and ground personnel.

SOUTHERN SUNSHINE . . .

Texan Distributes Oranges To Chorus

Texas sunshine in the form of Texas oranges came to a very cold University campus Monday.

A Texan who four months ago was unhappy about coming up to our beloved "Yankee country" has had a change of heart since he met Nebraska and its occupants.

Earl Schuman of Fort Worth, a graduate student in the University school of music, was so moved a few weeks ago by the fine singing of a student chorus that he was directing that he made the one hundred members of the chorus a promise.

"You gave me a real big thrill," he drawled in typical Texas style, "and I thank you from the bottom of my heart. When I come back from Thanksgiving I'm going to bring each of you a big, juicy Texas orange."

There were some doubting Thomases in the group who thought that the vacation might dull his memory. But, at the chorus' regular rehearsal, he handed out the oranges "direct from Texas."

Aaron Schmidt, another graduate student, got into the spirit of the thing by handing out candy kisses to each of the members.

After a rousing chorus of "Jingle Bells," Dr. David Foltz, University music professor and regular chorus conductor, adjourned the class for the holidays.
