

YWCA To Explain Special Projects At 'Rendezvous'

A general explanation of the YWCA, with emphasis on commission groups and special projects, will be the main feature of the YWCA Rendezvous Friday, Feb. 1, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. in Ellen Smith hall.

Commission leaders will explain the content and times of meeting for the 17 weekly discussion groups. Girls who are interested may sign up at that time.

Those interested in projects and an active working situation may sign up for one of the 11 project groups. Included in this category is the community service group, under the leadership of Barbara Raun.

Girls in this group will work

FINAL WEEK

Add, Drop Procedure Announced

Students wishing to add and drop courses may do so this week by following a procedure issued by Dr. Floyd W. Hoover, acting director of registration and records. No adds may be made after Feb. 16.

Steps for adding a course are as follows:

1. See your adviser.

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. If the class is closed, you will need the permission of the chairman of the department in order to enter.

4. Beginning Wednesday, you will need the permission of the instructor and/or the chairman of the department to enter any class. (The instructor will tell you which permission is necessary.)

5. Report to the assignment committee in the Military and Naval Science building with your add and drop worksheet and your schedule of classes.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

12 Graduates Are Awarded Commissions

Twelve University of Nebraska students who received their degrees Saturday were also granted commissions in a branch of the regular armed services or the reserve.

All had successfully completed either the Army, Navy or Air Reserve Officers Training Corps program at the University in addition to University graduation requirements.

The men:

Army Reserve: James D. Lutes, Hebron, a College of Agriculture graduate.

Regular Navy: Max A. James, Clarinda, Ia., electrical engineering; Harold R. Schreiber, Denver, Colo., architectural engineering; and Leonard Carstensen, Odeobolt, Ia., mechanical engineering.

Regular Air Force: Wendell C. Bauman, Lincoln, mechanical engineering.

Air Force Reserve: Stanley A. Dworsky, Lincoln, business administration; Robert J. Kotter, Spencer, architectural engineering; Stanley T. Low, electrical engineering; Dale M. Osterman, Malcolm, electrical engineering; Robert G. Pierce, Lincoln, mechanical engineering; Donald F. Schneider, Lincoln, business administration; and Clarence E. Wood, Big Springs, chemical engineering.

Kiesselbach Receives Agronomy Award

Dr. T. A. Kiesselbach, University professor of agronomy, was awarded one of the two top Nebraska Crop Improvement association awards Monday night at the group's 50th anniversary banquet.

Kiesselbach, known as "Mr. Corn," received the annual agronomist award. He and his associates have published more than 80 papers in technical journals relating to crops and crop production. Kiesselbach is the author and co-author of more than 40 Nebraska experiment station bulletins. He has devoted his time to teaching and research.

Veteran agronomist, Kiesselbach was the second secretary of the organization now known as the Nebraska Crop Improvement association. Ralph Raikes, Ashland farmer, who presented the award, praised Kiesselbach for his research contributions in the last 45 years.

The second award was presented Lloyd E. Welch, prominent Thayer county farmer. Welch has been raising certified seeds since 1938. The award was presented by Dr. F. D. Kelm, chairman of the University agronomy department.

at some Lincoln service agency to learn about the agency, its place in the community and the particular need it fulfills. About two hours a week will be spent learning the place of the volunteer worker in a local agency and about the community in general.

Last semester about 20 girls worked at the South-West Community Center, the Urban League, the YWCA nursery, Recreation for the Aged and similar agencies.

Membership dues of $1 for second semester may be paid Friday.

Refreshments will be served.

Commission groups and their leaders are the following: Student-faculty, Barbara Bredthauer; office staff, Barbara Hershberger; fine arts, Elaine Smithberger; camp counseling, Gladys Johnson; comparative religion, Bobbie Dunn; jobs and futures, Mary Ann Pasek; noon discussion, Neala O'Dell.

Community service, Barbara Raun; community tours, Jane Jackson; worship workshop, Phyllis Knerl; leadership training, Miriam Willey; conference co-op, Pat Lindgren; the battle for ballots, Syvia Krasne; current world problems, Nancy Dark; goals and values, Norma Lothrop; Christianity and social problems, Nancy Wier; and the freshman commission group.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)

2. Ask your dean to sign your add and drop worksheet.

3. Show the worksheet to your instructor and pick up your brown enrollment card. (In some cases the instructor will ask you to notify the chairman of the department so that the space you are vacating may be given to another student. You will not be required to explain why you are dropping.)

4. Report to the assignment committee with your add and drop worksheet and your brown enrollment card.

Students wishing to change sections of a course may do so Wednesday. Changes should be arranged with the department chairman.

The following projects are offered: KNUS weekly radio programs, posters, speakers bureau, May morning breakfast, Lenten service, all membership meetings, National YW Week, YW-YM banquet, YWCA workday, letter contacts to alums and parents, membership news letter.

Fees may be paid in the Military and Naval Science building until Feb. 4. After that date, payments may be made at the comptroller's office in Administration building.

Dropping procedure includes the following steps:

1. See your adviser. (Teachers college students should see their advisers about variations in steps 2, 3 and 4.)