

16 Groups To Compete In Carnival

The Union ballroom will again assume a Mardi Gras atmosphere with the arrival of the Annual Penny Carnival. Sponsored by Coed Counselors, the carnival will be from 2 to 4 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 9. Sixteen organized women's groups will be operating the booths.

COUNCIL OFFICE

Permits Available Feb. 3, 4

University parking permits can be obtained Tuesday and Wednesday from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Student Council office, 305 Union.

Starting Friday, permits will be sold by Sgt. John Furrow in the buildings and grounds office at the west stadium from 1 to 5 p.m. on Mondays and Fridays.

Rex Messersmith, chairman of the Student Council parking permits committee, announced that all persons receiving tickets are to turn them into Furrow as is stated on the tickets. After three violations a student will be reported to Dean T. J. Thompson.

The Council committee is now formulating a plan which would allow students to park in a stall on campus after 1 p.m. rather than after 1:30 p.m. as it is now. This plan would allow students with 1 p.m. classes to wait until the last minute and then use unfilled faculty parking spaces.

However, the committee emphasizes that no action has been taken as yet. The Daily Nebraskan will publish a map of University parking areas next week along with new parking rules which may be adopted by the committee.

Tickets For Ag Sno-Ball Go On Sale

Tickets for the Ag Sno-Ball dance Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the College Activities building are now on sale in the Ag Union office. The price is $1.50 per couple.

The Sno-Ball is the first Ag dance of the second semester, and is sponsored by the Ag Union dance committee, Bobby Mills and his orchestra will provide the music.

A special feature of the dance is the presentation of the winner of the baby picture contest and the person whose picture is voted the "cutest."

The baby picture contest ends Wednesday at 5 p.m. The idea of the contest is to identify as many of the baby pictures on display in the Ag Union as possible.

Twenty baby pictures, 10 boys and 10 girls, of prominent Ag students are on display in a showcase in the Ag Union. The person who identifies the most pictures will win the contest, and will receive a valuable prize at the Sno-Ball.

Ag students are also asked to pick one of the baby pictures as the "cutest" one, and place its number on the ballot. This person will also receive a prize. The contest is sponsored by the Ag Union and is under the direction of Jeanne Vierk and Fred Hosterman.

Teacher Placement
All students planning to teach during the year 1952-53 should attend the second meeting of prospective teachers, Thursday at 4 p.m. The meeting, sponsored by the Teacher Placement Division, will be held in Love library auditorium.

Woodrow W. Reed, guidance consultant and Junior Division instructor; Sumner J. House, instructor of political science; Miss Virginia Trotter, assistant professor of home economics; Sharon Fritzer, Marilyn Clark, Mary Jane Barnell, Nancy Button, Marilyn Mooney, Pat Wiedman, Gertrude Carey, Hester Morrison and Jean Loudon, AWS board members, will be the other judges.

The Typical Nebraska Coed will be selected from the finalists at a second interview session Feb. 12. Judges will be the same AWS board members and

Five Speakers Tell US Stand

AIR WORLD AFFAIRS... Lincoln Conference on World Affairs held last weekend featured these persons. Discussion leaders were (standing, l. to r.) Willi Hoechel, German teacher; Dr. Otto Hoiberg of the University; Doris Carlson, president of NUCWA, and Prof. Robert C. Sorenson, Research speaker; (l. to r., seated) Dr. Amiya Chakravarty, India, professor at the University of Kansas; Dr. Tibor Kovecs, Hungary, executive editor of the United Nations World; Dr. Clyde R. Miller, Institute of Propaganda Analysis and the Rosenthal foundation; Dr. Maynard C. Krueger, professor at the University of Chicago; and Dr. Edgar Palmer, co-chairman of the conference. (Courtesy of the Lincoln Journal.)

World Affairs Analyzed

At the Lincoln World Affairs conference in Love library Friday, Saturday and Sunday five research speakers discussed the positions that have been taken by the United States or stands that should be taken in the international situation.

Dr. Clyde R. Miller of New York said that leaders of powerful nations in the world like American military power because they have received important US handouts.

"Those not in power do not like our might," he said, "and those who do not like our military power do not like us for other reasons." Maynard C. Krueger, professor of economics at the University of Chicago, said the economically developed and the economically underdeveloped nations have been separating more and more in the 19th and first half of the 20th centuries.

Krueger believes that the underdeveloped nations do not lack in natural resources or human resources but in technical skill. "American productive power is the greatest force for reducing the great inequality in the economic condition of the world," he concluded.

Speaking on the Point IV program, Tibor Kovecs, executive editor of the United Nations World, said, "We must go through with the Point IV program not because we want to fight Communism, but because we want to give the underdeveloped parts of the world a chance for a good living."

"The US explains its entanglement with colonial powers by saying it is fighting communism all over the world," said Amiya Chakravarty, "but Communism did not produce all the problems of the colonies."

In the second day of the conference Miller pointed out that, "By the manipulation of symbols, millions of people are persuaded to believe anything." He continued by saying, "Uncle Sam looks too much like a penny pincher and doesn't portray enough of the robust humor and feeling of generosity of our country."

Krueger said "We cannot hope for political stability in such nations as China and India until a more decent standard of living is achieved there."

"Peace is only possible through good will," said Chakravarty, "the fact that the individual's life can only influence a few is not a limitation."

Miller, Krueger, Chakravarty and Kovecs agreed that the problems facing the U. S. today are colonialism in Asia and the Middle East and suspicion and distrust with which foreign peoples view our expanding military might.

Paul S. Cadbury, member of the recent English Quaker delegation which visited Russia, said Sunday, "The real challenge to communism is not criticism. We've got to show by example that we have a better system and we've got to make our system work better."

Cadbury outlined the fears prevalent in the U. S. and Russia. Russia fears that the West will start a war, the West's industrial potential and a re-armed Germany, adding German industrial potential to that of the West.

Americans, he said, seem to fear Russia and the possibility of her starting a war, the atom bomb and its unknown power, and appeasement. Earlier he said, "Appeasement and peace-making are not the same thing."

University YWCA, YMCA and NUCWA were three of the 46 civic groups sponsoring the conference.

Masquers Will Present Kaufman, Hart Play Feb. 21-23; Miller, Clement Play Lead Roles In Annual Production

"George Washington Slept Here" by Kaufman and Hart has been selected for the 1952 Masquers play. Starring roles will be played by Marty Miller and Ken Clement. Wes Jensby will direct the play and Norma Erickson will be technical director.

Nebraska Masquers, University chapter of National Collegiate Players, will present the play Feb. 21, 22 and 23 at 201 Temple building. Each year the honorary fraternity presents a three-act play for University audiences, taking complete responsibility for production, direction and acting.

The male lead, Newton Fuller, will be played by Clemente, a sophomore majoring in agricultural economics. He has had roles in "Othello," "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Special Guest," "Through a Glass Darkly," "Summer Fury" and "Elders to the Sea."

Miss Miller will play the role of his wife, Annabelle Fuller. She is a senior majoring in speech and drama. She starred as Emilia in "Othello" and had major roles in "Ladies of the Jury," "Curse You Jack Dalton," "School for Scandal" and "Glass Menagerie."

Wes Jensby, director, is a junior majoring in speech and drama. For the past year he has been make-up supervisor for the University Theatre. In addition he played major roles in "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Othello," and "Idiot's Delight." He has also directed "27 Wagon Loads of Cotton" and "Homecoming."

Technical director, Norma Erickson, is majoring in speech correction. She will supervise the make-up, wardrobe, property, stage, light, sound and scenery crews for "George Washington Slept Here."

Other members of the cast are: Mary Sidner as Madge Fuller. She has had roles in "Idiot's Delight," "Once in a Lifetime," "Special Guest," "The Dreamy Kid," "Media" and "Aria de Capo."

David Siler as Steve Eldridge. A junior majoring in speech and drama, he has been in "Othello," "Curse You Jack Dalton," "For Each Man Kills" and "Caesar and Cleopatra."

Christine Phillips as Rena Leslie. She had roles in "Homecoming," "Ladies on the Jury," "Curse You Jack Dalton," "School for Scandal" and "Glass Menagerie" and is a graduate student of speech and drama.

Richard Marrs as Clayton Evans. A sophomore, he has had roles in "Idiot's Delight" and "Another Way Out" as well as in Circle theater plays.

Charles Peterson as Raymond, the little boy. A sophomore majoring in speech and drama, he has acted in "Idiot's Delight," "Caesar and Cleopatra," "The Proposal" and "The Innocents." He has been property supervisor for the theater this year.

Ruth Ann Richmond as Hester. She is a junior majoring in mechanical engineering and treasurer of Masquers. She was a member of the cast of "Once in a Lifetime."

Sharon Fritzer as Mrs. Douglas. A senior majoring in speech and English and secretary of Masquers, she has had roles in "Faust," "School for Scandal" and "Caesar and Cleopatra."

Marilyn Morgan as Katie. She has acted in "Faust," "Once in a Lifetime" and "Antigone."

Don Sobolik as Mr. Prescott. He is costume supervisor for the University theatre and is a speech major. He has been in "Once in a Lifetime," "Three Men on a Horse" and "School for Scandal." Marvin Strome as Mr. Kimber. A speech major, he has had roles in "Othello," "Idiot's Delight" and "Special Guest."

Dick Garretson as Uncle Stanley. President of Masquers and a speech major, he had the lead role in "Curse You Jack Dalton."

Betty Lester as Sue. She had leading parts in "The Innocents" and "Idiot's Delight" and is a sophomore.

Marian Uhe as Marion. A sophomore, she has played in "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Homecoming," "For Each Man Kills" and "The Innocents."

Jack Moore as Leggett. He is a junior majoring in speech and drama and last appeared in "Idiot's Delight."

Charles Huestis as Tommy. He also was in "Idiot's Delight" and is a junior in speech and drama. Tickets for "George Washington Slept Here" will be 50 cents and will go on sale soon.

more, she has played in "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Homecoming," "For Each Man Kills" and "The Innocents."

Jack Moore as Leggett. He is a junior majoring in speech and drama and last appeared in "Idiot's Delight."

Charles Huestis as Tommy. He also was in "Idiot's Delight" and is a junior in speech and drama. Tickets for "George Washington Slept Here" will be 50 cents and will go on sale soon.

more, she has played in "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Homecoming," "For Each Man Kills" and "The Innocents."

Jack Moore as Leggett. He is a junior majoring in speech and drama and last appeared in "Idiot's Delight."

Charles Huestis as Tommy. He also was in "Idiot's Delight" and is a junior in speech and drama. Tickets for "George Washington Slept Here" will be 50 cents and will go on sale soon.

P.M. Headlines

By CHARLES GOMON Staff News Writer

Harold Ickes Dies

WASHINGTON—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior under two presidents, died in Washington. Ickes succumbed to complications from an old arthritic condition. He was 77 at his death.

Cigarette Causes Fire

OMAHA—A carelessly tossed cigarette was blamed for a spectacular apartment house fire in Omaha in which 5 persons were burned to death. A dozen more people were injured, one seriously.

Dunn estimated the property loss at $10,000. The flash fire blazed through the Liberty Apartments near downtown Omaha forcing 40 residents to flee their quarters.

40th, 45th Guard Units In Korea

KOREA—The second of two national guard divisions has been committed to battle in Korea. Since their activation a year ago the 40th (California) and the 45th (Oklahoma) guard divisions were sent to Japan for occupation and training duty. The department of defense announced that both divisions are now in the line in Korea.

The 45th division replaced the famed 1st cavalry division which in turn has been sent back to Japan for a rest. On the basis of agreements reached at Panmunjom on allied rotation policy it is assumed that the 40th will also replace one of the units which has been in the battle zone since the beginning of the war.

Russian Mig-15 Outdated

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett says the US now has a better fighter than the Russian MIG-15 jet. The secretary testified before a joint session of the senate-house committees that he had a superior plane but that it may take some time to equal Russian aircraft production.

Lovett condemned the disarmament policy which this country followed at the close of world war II, calling it "disintegration." He urged congress to adopt the proposed defense budget without cuts as the only way to narrow the gap between US-Russian aircraft production.

Kremlin's Control Unchallenged

WASHINGTON—Despite a state department bulletin announcement to the contrary, most other authorities agree that the Kremlin's control over the 290 million Russians is not being seriously challenged from within the USSR.

Sources described by the United Press as the "best available reports and expert opinion on Soviet life" give no basis for thinking that resistance to the Moscow regime is widespread.

COLLOQUIUM LECTURES

Chasson to Speak Thursday On Aspects Of Cosmic Rays

Robert L. Chasson, assistant professor of physics, will speak on geographical and meteorological aspects of cosmic ray research, at 4:10 p.m. Thursday. The lecture will be held at Brace laboratory following tea at 3:50 p.m.

This is the second of the spring series of physics colloquium lectures. The series will continue with the following:

Feb. 21—Hugo B. Ribeiro, combinatorial problems.
Mar. 6—Lloyd K. Jackson, recent work in the Dirichlet problem. 20—Harold C. Urey, Montgomery lecturer, subject to be announced.

April 3—Leonard Nelson, cellular localization of biologically active substances.

April 17—Miguel A. Basco, geometry of dynamical trajectories.
May 1—Walter E. Miltzer, subject to be announced.
May 15—Emerson Jones, range energy relations.

ings. About five skits and five curtain acts will be selected to take part in the show. No costumes or scenery are to be used for the tryouts, according to Miss Loudon. Judges for the preliminary tryouts will be Miss Helen T. Martin, instructor of physical education for women; Jack Wenstrand, business manager of University Theatre; Nancy Button, Sue Holmes, Sally Hall, Juanita Redinger, Virginia Koehler, Connie

Gordon, Phyllis Kort, Marilyn Bamesberger, Jean Loudon and Janet Steffen, AWS board members. Tryouts have been scheduled as follows:

Wednesday
7:00—Judges meet at Union.
7:15—Delta Delta Delta.

7:30—Alpha Xi Delta.
7:45—Delta Gamma.
8:00—Kappa Delta.
8:15—Pi Beta Phi.
8:30—Gamma Phi Beta.
8:45—Kappa Alpha Theta.
9:00—Alpha Omicron Pi.
9:15—Alpha Phi.
9:45—Love Memorial hall.

Thursday
7:00—Judges meet at Union.
7:10—Towne club (at Union).
7:30—Sigma Delta Tau.
7:45—Chi Omega.
8:00—Residence Halls for Women.
8:15—Kappa Kappa Gamma.
8:30—Sigma Kappa.
8:45—Alpha Chi Omega.

A winning skit and winning curtain set will be chosen from those taking part by five faculty judges. Acts will be judged on length, originality, costumes and audience appeal.

Judges at the performance will be Miss Mary Mielenz, associate professor of secondary education; Earl Jenkins, instructor in voice; Dallas Williams, director of University Theatre; Mrs. Lois Weaver, instructor of physical education for women; Miss Maxine Trauernicht, instructor in speech and dramatic art.

POISE PLUS... Alpha Omicron Pi's chorus line gets in a few measures of dance rehearsal in preparation for Coed Follies. Displaying their common talents are (l. to r.) Darlene Stephenson, Ka, Yelster, Evelyn Nelson, Mary Fuelberth and Marlene Rees. (Daily Nebraskan Photo.)

CLANG, BOOM, CLANG... Go the cymbals and bass drum in Sigma Delta Tau's rehearsal for Coed Follies. Doing their best to look intelligent during the racket are (standing, l. to r.) Adele Chasanov, Reva Gittleman, (sitting) Rita Krantz, Elberta Bush and Helene Sherman. Clashing the cymbals is Rosanna Locke, and beating drum Klathann Lavine. (Daily Nebraskan Photo.)

INDIANS ON THE WAPATH... Releasing their emotions in an original Cheyenne war dance are the Chi Omega moderns, rehearsing for Coed Follies. Prancing (l. to r.) are Mary Hartman, Janet Glock, Fatty Hanson, Ann Lammer, Joan Hoyt and Carol Elm. (Daily Nebraskan Photo.)