

COACH BRUCE DRAKE TUTOR AND TOP STUDENTS... SHERMAN NORTON... BOB WALLER... STANLEY GROSSMAN

AGR 'B' Wins Close Call; Shorty's Win

By BILL MUNDELL Intramural Sports Columnist Alpha Gamma Rho "B" stalled out the last four minutes of their Tuesday night basketball contest to take home a coveted 32-31 victory over Alpha Tau Omega "B".

they trounced the Ag YMCA while the Red Guidons were donating their services by dumping the University Aggies. The Doan Nuts had to stave off a one-man flurry in the person of Cliff Rogers to grab their ninth win of the year.

third quarter before the Pioneers regained their stride and pulled away. Gene Bjorkland with 14 and Wes Beery with 11 topped the Pioneer scoring. Arley Bondarin led the ZBT's with 12 counters while Arnie Stern added another ten.

Cornhusker Chances Injured; Joe Good Hurt

By MARSHALL KUSHNER Sports Editor

The Nebraska outlook took on a rather drab appearance with the news that Joe Good may miss the basketball fray with Oklahoma Saturday.

that Bruce Drake has whipped up to allow Norton to put that optic talent to use. Bob Waller, Sterling Jones, Stan Grossman, Norm Fleishman and John Rodgers will all be fighting for starting berths against the Huskers.

Don Weber will probably vie for starting forward slots. It might be said that "as Joe Good goes, so goes the Nebraska basketball team."

The Cornhuskers will be trying to raise themselves from the Big Seven cellar, while the Sooners have little, if no chance, of taking second place, but will be trying to protect their third place spot.

Hard-luck Joe seems to be the most susceptible Husker to the bump and bruise department. Early in the season Joe received a sprained ankle that kept him out of action for several games and now Joe is the victim of a broken noggin.

The mishap occurred during the Missouri-Nebraska game last Saturday. Jumpin' Joe and Bill Stauffer and a few cohorts were extended high in the stratosphere for a loose ball.

The Nebraska starting assignments have not been made, but it is expected that Jim Buchanan and Joe Good or Fred Seger will start at the guard positions; Bill Johnson will be at the pivot post; Stan Matzke, Paul Fredstrom and Game time has been slated for 7:30. The Nebraska B team of Tony Sharpe will play host to the Outfit air field team in the curtain raiser. The Nebraska-Cornell wrestling match will be held preceding the main event.

The big man for the Sooners this year is Sherman Norton. Norton was the boy who hit 39 points in the Big Seven basketball tournament at Kansas City to set a new tournament mark.

A continual threat under the basket, the Huskers have a justified fear of Norton's fine hoop eye and several play concoctions

Second round handball contests, both single and doubles, must be played by Saturday, Feb. 9. The winners are responsible for reporting the results of the matches and should keep watch of the bulletin board at the RE building as to whom their opponents will be.

I-S Coach's Team Needs More Speed

What are you going to do with a coach who sees his team break eight meet records, swim some of the fastest times in school history and then asks for more speed?

HUSKER PROBLEM... Will Joe Good be ready for the Oklahoma contest Saturday? Joe injured his nose and elbow in the Missouri game and may be out of action this week.

Well, the answer of the Iowa State swimming team to Coach Jack McGuire, might be some national records as the Cyclones heed his call for "more speed."

Stauffer's 31 Against NU Is New Mark

Will the Cyclones go for records against Colorado Saturday? "Yes," was McGuire's simple and direct answer.

Ramming in 31 points against Nebraska Saturday night, Missouri's Bill Stauffer stamped a new single-game high on the Tiger record books, and closed in on two other school marks.

"The team performed very well against Nebraska," McGuire admits. "The slight disappointment I felt over some mighty fine performances was that I thought several men might break national marks last Saturday."

The husky all-conference hustler blasted the previous high of 26 points—an individual mark he shared with little Bud Heineman. Earlier this season, "Stauffer" got his 26 against Oklahoma in a Big Seven tournament game. Heineman's biggest night came in the Iowa game at Iowa City last winter. Curiously, all three performances took place away from home.

What events will the Cyclones use in the Colorado meet for record attempts? "I'm not sure yet," McGuire said. "A lot will depend on how the men look by Friday. We'll make our final decision then. We'd like to go for the medley relay record but will have to wait to see. Any others? Yes, but I'd rather not say right now."

Stauffer now is in excellent position to overtake Heineman's modern seasonal record of 283 points—and the all-time peak of 311 points in a single season set by George Williams back in 1921. This latter figure was attained when one player shot all of his team's free throws.

Several of the girls participating in athletics at Grant Memorial have received their local and intramural ratings. This rating entitles girls to officiate games in Lincoln or in neighboring towns as well as the intramural games.

The girls who have received their local rating in volleyball are: Rosemary Amos, Carmean Boyer, Kay Christoffel, Bonnalyne Eilers, Carol French, Delores Irwin, Mary Janet Maxwell, Virginia Noble, Marilyn Odgen, Judy Pollock, Joan Savage, Sally Jo Speicher.

The intramural representative meeting is going to be held at 5 p.m. Thursday in room 101 at Grant Memorial. The make-up basket ball practice is going to be held this Thursday at 5 p.m.

Missouri Tigers To Challenge Kansas State's Vaunted Attack

Kansas State's version of a basketball twister roars into Tigerland Saturday night, its onslaught against Missouri's poky-playing cagers due to start at 8:30 p.m.

But Coach Jack Gardner's swift sharpshooters are no garden-variety basketball team. Quick on the draw, and true on the target, they currently hold a No. 2 national rating among the collegiate cage powers.

Can Coach Sparky Stalcup's slow-down tactics take the steam out of Kansas State's customary assault? Tolman did .071 to win against Iowa State.

Fessler never has been under .071 in the highs. This means he'll need a superb effort, rivaling his "miracle catches" of touching down throws again Kansas State and Kansas last season, to press the flashy Bedker. Second in the loop's indoor highs last year, Bedker skinned to a .075 winner in the Cyclone meet last Saturday.

During the 1951 season, Missouri's spread formation produced new single-game and seasonal records in forward passes thrown and completed—and total aerial yardage.

The junior ATO's tried desperately to regain the ball but it was no go—the Aggies had revenge on their minds. The Taus had earlier dropped the AGR's 33-26 in league VI play.

Wayne Frost topped the winning scorers with eight markers, ably assisted by Vince Kramper and Dick Moonson with seven apiece. Ted James was the game's leading scorer, as he potted ten for the ATO's.

It was strictly "no-contest" as the leaders punched to a 28-8 halftime margin and kept the pressure on the remainder of the game.

Shortys moved into the top rung in league X as they mastered the previous leaders, the Dorm A Comets for the second time this season. This time the score was much closer, the final tally reading 38-36.

It was a nip-and-tuck affair all the way with the lead exchanging hands seven times and the game being tied up five times. Shortys jumped to an early lead and lost it midway in the initial quarter and from then on it was back and forth.

Again it was a well-rounded attack that befuddled the Delta Pi's. Eight men broke into the scoring column for the victors with Chuck Chamley leading the way with nine and Stu Thorell adding another seven.

The victorious "short-stuffs" grabbed the 38-36 margin with about two minutes remaining and proceeded to stall away the time. The Comets got their golden chance just 15 seconds to go in the contest in the form of two free throws, but elected to take the ball out of bounds and rot but one desperate heave at the basket before bowing.

Bill Griffin topped the game's scoring with a 15-point effort and was assisted by Chuck Gasson with ten and Bob Kroenke with eight. Kroenke got recognition in both books as he tipped in a two-pointer for the Methodists, also.

Jack Brestol more than met the whole Big Nu scoring attack as the Phi Psi center scorched the nets for 21 points. Dave Alkire added 11 and Charlie Betzelberger contributed another ten. Milt Fred topped the Sigma Nu score card with seven markers.

Rich Satterfield's three counters were tops for the losers. Eight men broke into the scoring for the winning Ramblers. Pioneer House added win number seven to their thus far perfect record by copping a 40-28 affair from Zeta Beta Tau.

From there they cut the margin to 12-18 at the halfway mark and narrow the margin to two points at one time in the Big Bill Luther of the Lutherans and Bob Almen of the Baptists shared scoring honors for the evening with an even dozen apiece. Beta Theta Pi "B" and Kappa Sigma "B" took narrow victories over Beta Sigma Psi "B" and Delta Upsilon "B" in their Tuesday night games. The Betas dropped the
