YWCA To Open Membership Drive Today

YWCA cabinet members will open the second semester membership drive Monday night by visiting all women's organized houses.

They will sell memberships for one dollar and sign up coeds for commission groups and projects.

Purchase of a membership entitles a woman to vote in the spring YW election.

Later in the week all Lincoln women and those who do not live in organized houses will be contacted by cabinet members.

Two new commission groups have opened this semester. Nancy Weir is leader of the Christianity and social problems commission.

The battle-for-balloons commission will discuss national and state elections—the candidates and the issues.

FINANCIAL ANGLE

Dr. Fuenning, Knowles Discuss Need Of Full-Time Psychiatrist

Does the University need a full-time psychiatrist? This question was partly answered by Dr. Samuel I. Fuenning, director of Student Health, in an interview Saturday.

Dr. Fuenning told The Daily Nebraskan that "I have always felt that sooner or later we would like to have a full-time psychiatrist at Student Health, and for the past several years, I have recommended the idea to the administration."

According to Dr. Fuenning, about the "only thing keeping the University from having a psychiatrist on duty all the time is the financial angle."

Rev. Rex Knowles, Presbyterian student pastor, told members of Delta Theta Phi law fraternity Thursday night, among other things, the University needs a full-time psychiatrist.

Dr. Fuenning told The Nebraskan that although Dr. Richard Gray, psychiatrist at the Nebraska State hospital, is on duty at Student Health only from 1 to 5 p.m. Fridays and 8 a.m. to noon Saturdays, there is psychiatrist service available any time during the week.

"Our physicians," he said, "are trained to handle mental problems as well as physical problems, and if they feel that an individual needs the aid of a psychiatrist, they can get him to one immediately. We would like to have psychiatric cases referred to Student Health at any time."

Reverend Knowles, who has a brother, Dr. Roy Knowles, psychiatrist and director of Southern School of the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kan., believes that a psychiatrist at the University could serve a dual function.

lectures and other things. Student Health center, he said, quite often has requests from University departments for the services of a psychiatrist.

Dr. Fuenning estimated that Student Health's yearly expenditures for psychiatric services total "about $2,700."

According to Reverend Knowles, in many cases persons with mental maladjustments are dismissed for psychiatric care at home.

AXO's Shooting Gallery Wins Penny Carnival Cup

Pleasant confusion, not excitement had their day at Penny Carnival, Saturday, Feb. 9.

Alpha Chi Omega's "Al High for Alpha Chi" won first place in the Coed Council sponsored event. The theme was a shooting gallery, with Alpha Chi's as targets. Toy pop guns loaded with red and white marshmallows took the place of regulation rifles.

Candy imitation guns were the prizes given those hitting their living targets. Rosellen Vogelanz, and Marlene McCullough were in charge of the prize winning booth.

Second place was taken by Delta Gamma and the "Delta Gamma Gamble." Third place went to Kappa Kappa Gamma with "Chez Kappa." Honorable mention was given to the Residence Halls for Women and "A Heart for Your Dart."

The Delta Gamma booth contained a giant slot machine with sorority names in the place of the usual bells and lemons. With the presentation of a ticket, a large cardboard penny was given the ticket holder to place in the machine. If two "DG's" came up candy was given out. If three "DG's" showed, a jackpot of a song and dance plus candy was presented.

The Kappa booth was a fashion review. The house of Kappa showed as the new fashions a box jacket, of cardboard; a tissue faille dress, of tissue paper; a smoking jacket, covered with cigarette packages and pipes; a dinner dress with a pencil skirt, covered with carrots, radishes and pencils, and other types of wearing apparel.

The Residence Halls' booth featured a large red heart covered with small white hearts. Those with good aim got candy kisses for hitting the white hearts with darts.

Adding to the gayety of the occasion were the following booths: Alpha Phi, "Phi Formation"; Alpha Xi Delta, "Lemon Drop Inn"; Towne Club, "Seal Test"; Kappa Alpha Theta, "Penny-A-Pop"; Alpha Omicron Pi, "Per An AOLeg"; Chi Omega, "Chi O Horseshoe."

Delta Delta Delta, "Knothole Follies"; Kappa Delta, "Mad Hats"; Sigma Kappa, "SKingo"; Phi Beta Phi, "Phi Phi Pound Parlor"; Gamma Phi Beta, "Spin for a Gamma Phi Star"; and Sigma Delta Tau, "Dart Your Dwelling."

it happened at nu... Saturday morning the ATO's awake to find their "Big Red Door" missing, hinges and all. Saturday night the landmark was still unfound.

A check revealed that someone in the Tau house had been up almost every hour of the night. In addition, house members were sleeping within 25 feet of the crime.

Who, how, where questions are still buzzing around the chapter.

What kind of a leader are you? This topic will be discussed in an illustrated pamphlet to be distributed to persons attending the leadership conference Saturday.

The first section of the pamphlet deals with types of leaders—the "Policeman," the "We-Must-Get-Results," the "Politician," the "Good-fellow," "Democrat."

What makes a group click is presented in the second section. The role of the leader, the role of a group member, the role of a resourceful person and the role of an observer will be discussed. This section will deal with concepts currently being taught in the field of group dynamics.

Other sections of the pamphlet deal with techniques for discussion leaders and techniques for committee leaders.

The pamphlet will also include aids for campus leaders such as how to schedule rooms for meetings, get advisory help, schedule

Service Fraternity To Hold Rush Party

Sigma Theta Epsilon, national Methodist service fraternity, will hold its second semester rush party, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The group will meet at the Wesley Foundation, 1417 R street, and all interested college men are invited to attend.

The fraternity sponsors deputations, a Gray-Y group and other service projects, as well as being active in intramural sports. Any person who is interested in participating in such a program but unable to attend the party may indicate his interest by calling the Foundation office, 2-3117.

Wanted: Reporters

The Daily Nebraskan needs reporters. Any student with free time during any afternoon—even a couple of hours—is welcome to report for the paper.

A meeting for all students interested in reporting will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in Room 20, basement of the Union.

At that time plans will be made for regular assignment and reporting hours.

In the meantime anyone interested in reporting is asked to check with Sally Adams in The Daily Nebraskan office.

Episcopal Services Continue Despite Pastor's Resignation

All Episcopal services and activities will continue despite the resignation of Father John D. B. Sweigert who recently resigned to re-enter parish work in the Diocese of Salina, Kans.

Several candidates for the position are now being considered by the bishop but no replacements have been announced.

Episcopal plans are to keep the Blessed Sacrament available and regularly administered and the chapel open for worship at all times to keep the club room available for student use and to provide an educational program.

Regular services will be held at 7 a.m. Wednesdays and Fridays, conducted by either Father W. F. Barnard or Father David Gracy.

Names In The News

KING GEORGE VI, probably Britain's most beloved monarch, died in his sleep. His daughter, Elizabeth, who was in Egypt, flew back to England almost immediately to be coronated and to arrange for a funeral for her father.

ELIZABETH II thus became the first British ruling queen since Victoria died 51 years ago. Three-year-old Prince Charles is next in succession to the throne.

HAROLD L. ICKES, secretary of the interior under Roosevelt and Truman, died in Washington. He was 77 years old.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN decided to leave his name on the New Hampshire primary ballot. He will be opposed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, whose name was also previously entered for the March 11 primary. The President still insists that the use of his name in the New Hampshire election is no indication of his availability for the democratic nomination.

THE ALLIES agreed at least in part to a Communist proposal for a high-level conference within 90 days after a Korean armistice is signed. The Allies, however, refused to recognize the Red suggestion that the conference deal with "other problems in Asia." Instead of this, the third, point of the Communist proposal, the United Nations command recommended discussion of "other Korean questions related to peace." The first two points, accepted by the Allies, were a withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea and a peaceful settlement of the Korean question.

WEST GERMAN BUNDESTAG approved Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's plan to recruit soldiers for western defense. It added, however, a number of conditions to the plan, including an equal voice for the Germans in the West's strategy councils. Adenauer was authorized to proceed with his present negotiations on the creation of a six-nation European army and talks with the United States, Britain and France on a peace contract with the West German republic.

FIFTH AIR FORCE reported that nine Allied planes had been lost in the Korean air war last week. The report stated that only one of the planes, a Sabrejet, was lost in actual combat with enemy planes. Several were shot down by ground fire, while the other was lost from mechanical failure.

COMMUNIST RADIO at Pyongyang claimed that Red guns sank an Allied ship off the west coast of North Korea. Allied sources had no comment.

LINCOLN CITY LINES and the city of Lincoln fixed a 60-day extension to the bus company's previous 90-day notice of cancellation of service. The bus lines reported that it believed that "the city is trying to work the bus problem out so we are willing to give them another 60 days."

A CIGARET was blamed for a spectacular apartment house fire in Omaha. Five persons were burned to death and a dozen more were injured, none seriously. Property damage was estimated at $10,000.

ROBERT LOVETT, secretary of defense, announced that the United States now has a better fighter than the Russian MIG-15 jet. However, he added, it may take sometime to equal Russian aircraft production.

GEORGE F. KENNAN, who wrote his Russian "containment" policy under the name of "Mr. X," was nominated by the President as ambassador to the Soviet Union. The senate must confirm the nomination.
