A certain sorority pledge class decided that things were too quiet around their house to suit them. They made up their collective minds to remedy the situation by spraying moth ball powder in every room of their house.

The actives took the little joke in their stride and let the pledges think they had pulled the moth-sprayed wool over their eyes. However, later that evening, the pledges received a rather cool welcome from the actives in the form of a mass dunking under the shower in spite of the fact that they probably rid the house of any moths that might want to settle in the house.

A motion for the support by the Student Council of the proposed senior class officer plan was unanimously accepted.

N-club representative, Ira Epstein, told the Council that they were interested in having a representative on the Council next year. Under the new constitution, the N-club does not have a representative.

The question was tabled until the next meeting when the club may present a motion.

AUF Reveals Goal Of $5000 For '52

Joan Hanson, president of the All University Fund board, has announced the goal for the 1952 fund drive and the organizations that will be beneficiaries to the drive.

AUF is maintaining its last year's goal of $5,000 in spite of an expected enrollment drop of approximately 1,000 students.

The organizations to benefit from the money received during the 1952 fund drive will be: Lincoln Community Chest; World Student Service Fund; and Cancer research at the University.

These organizations were chosen by the student body through a poll given by AUF. After the polls had been completed, the AUF executive, solicitations, and publicity boards voted on the percentage to be given to each of the chosen organizations. The money will be divided as follows:

Lincoln Community Chest.....40% World Student Service Fund.....40% University cancer research.....15% Operating expenses.....5%

World Student Service Fund is the only international student relief agency that is recognized by UNESCO, National Student association, and World Student Conference Federation. The main categories of WSSF overseas aid are: medical aid; maintenance of rest centers; aid to refugee and DP students; aid to TB students; educational supplies; emergency food and clothing; community centers and self-help hostels. WSSF is also the only student relief organization to which only students and faculty members can contribute.

The Lincoln Community Chest is organized for the task of financing the needs of 27 private welfare agencies and their branches. There are six general types of services given by the local Chest agencies. They are: care of children and aged; military services; youth guidance; relief and rehabilitation; community health; and coordinating services.

In return for the funds given to the Chest by students through AUF, the Chest gives $8,000 to the University YMCA and YWCA. In other words, the Chest gives the Y group three fourths more return.

The money given through AUF to further cancer research at the University will be used for a special microscope for the study of cell growth and research. Dr. Thomas Pace and his associates are now studying cells and their relation to cancer, which still remains one of the mysteries surrounding cancer.

The purpose of AUF is to organize, promote, and to administer all solicitation of money from the total student body of the University. No other organization may be permitted to ask for donations from the total student body of the campus without the permission and approval of AUF. The intent of this limitation is to prevent students from being solicited by every organization which might see fit to carry on a campus drive.

All money which is received by AUF is given only to organizations which will use the money on the University campus, in the state, or for needy students of university age in devastated countries to further their educations.

AWS, Coed Counselors To Form Spring Slates

Will you be a worthy board member? Associated Women Students and Coed Counselor interviewers consider this question as they talk to applicants for the spring election slates.

Coed Counselor interviews end Saturday. Officers and senior board members have been interviewing candidates from 4 to 6 p.m. each day this week.

AWS interviews are 1 p.m. Friday and 5 p.m. Thursday, and Feb. 28. Approximately 16 girls are interviewed each hour.

Women who can not be interviewed at these times, will be called to appoint a time which is convenient.

The candidates for officer and board positions in Coed Counselors, AWS and Women's Athletic association will be announced a few days before spring elections.

Mary Hubka, Coed Counselor president, says that applicants are judged on the following basis:

- 1. Sincere interest in the Coed Counselor program. 2. Creative ideas to contribute. 3. Available time for meetings. 4. Determination to continue in school during the entire year.

5. Number of AWS activity points (Applicants cannot face the possibility of exceeding the 11 maximum if elected.)

Interviewers will explain the organization to the interviewees. Candidates may ask questions of the board members.

Six seniors, six juniors and six sophomores will be elected to the board from the slate. Each class is equally represented by unaffiliated and affiliated women.

Nancy Button, AWS president, said that AWS applicants are judged on knowledge of the organization and interest in AWS.

Five seniors, five juniors and five sophomores comprise the members of AWS board.

AWS makes and enforces the rules governing women's residence houses. The organization sponsors Coed Follies and co-sponsors the Ivy Day sing.

Officers and senior board members hold court each week to counsel coeds who have broken AWS rules. The board regulates the activity points of University women under their newly revised system.

NATO Sets Defense Budget

LONDON—The western allies announced that Western Germany could spend $2.5 billion for defense in the 1953 fiscal year without hurting her economy. This statement was issued by the North Atlantic Treaty executive board.

The three-man board also said that the United States would increase its defense spending by 30 per cent in that fiscal year to a total of $57 billion.

Britain is expected to contribute $4.2 billion toward the defense of western Europe, an increase of 21 per cent. France will spend $3.5 billion or about one-tenth again as much as she now spends.

The executive board is made up of W. Averill Harriman of the United States, Sir Edwin Plowden of Britain, and Jean Monnet of France. These men have the job of figuring how much each of the western powers should contribute toward the rearmament of Western Europe.

Pact Council Discusses Germany

LISBON—The Council of the North Atlantic Pact convened in Lisbon. The council discussed the draft of an agreement which would give Germany the same guarantees against aggression as those given to members of the Atlantic pact.

American Secretary of State Dean Acheson addressed the opening session of the council with the statement, "We must take actions that will strain all of us to the utmost."

Paulo Cunha, Portuguese foreign minister, welcomed the delegates to his country and then made an appeal for the admission of Spain to the Atlantic pact. He said the defense of the Iberian peninsula would be impossible without Spain's participation in the pact.

Allies Reject Red Demand

PANMUNJON, Korea—For the fifth straight day allied negotiators rejected a communist demand that Russia be one of the six "neutral" countries which would police a Korean armistice.

U.N. sources apparently are convinced that if Russia got a position on the police board it would be easy to launch a new propaganda campaign showing Russia to be a "peace leader."
