Deadline Set For SS Test Applications

Applications for the last Selective Service Qualification Test to be given this term must be post-marked not later than midnight March 10, according to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service.

The tests will be given April 24 to an estimated 100,000 students. Application blanks may be obtained from any draft board.

When an application is filled out the draft board also gives an envelope addressed to the Educational Testing service at Princeton, N. J. The testing service assigns applicants to the nearest testing center and gives him an admission card.

Some of the testing centers in this area are the University, Wesleyan university, Union college, Creighton university and the University of Omaha.

To be eligible to take the test, an applicant (1) must be a selective service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student; (2) must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, graduate or undergraduate, leading to a degree; (3) must not have previously taken the test.

General Hershey emphasized that a passing grade on the test does not insure deferment of the student. Results of the test serve only as guides for local draft boards. They are not compelled to follow them. He explained that a score of 70 is passing in the test. Only 10 per cent of entire population of this country is able to achieve such a score, he said.

Reed, Merle Meet With School Administrators

Dr. Calvin H. Reed and Dr. Merle A. Stoneman of the elementary education department attended the American Association of School Administrators meeting in St. Louis, Missouri.

While in St. Louis, Reed and Stoneman were also present at meetings of the rural education section of the National Education Association. The meetings took place February 23-27.

Companies To Conduct Interviews For Ag Grads

Job opportunities for graduating seniors in the College of Agriculture will be offered by various companies and manufacturers this spring, according to Ephraim Hixson, associate director of resident instruction at the College of Agriculture.

Hixson said that the companies would conduct interviews some time this spring if enough students were interested. He said that January graduates, June graduates and summer graduates that would be interested in having an interview or in finding more information about job opportunities should leave their name in Room 306, Agricultural hall.

Companies that will be seeking college graduates for employment this spring include feed manufacturers and distributors, packing companies, farm machinery com-

YMCA Doubles Membership

City campus YMCA has more than doubled its membership this semester, Sam Gibson, executive director, announced Wednesday night. The total membership now exceeds 200.

Rudy Wiens, YMCA world service secretary, was featured speaker at the meeting. He showed slides and commented on conditions in modern Egypt making special reference to the work being done by the YMCA in that area. He also discussed the background for the

Barnes Gets NU Builders Board Post

Terry Barnes, former Ag Builders publicity chairman, was named business manager of the 1952-53 Student Directory at a Builders board meeting Wednesday evening.

The meeting was held after a mass meeting of nearly 100 city campus and Ag Builders. In an effort to recruit new workers for Builders projects each committee chairman explained the functions of his committee.

Bob Hasebroock announced the expansion of a district chairman program calculated to reach more high school students and attract them to the University.

Plans for accelerating publication of next year's Directory were presented by Nita Helmsstadter, Directory editor.

At the mass meeting Ag and city Builders had a chance to meet their sponsor, Mary Mielenz, and the new president, Dean Linnscoot.

"Bravery out and beyond the call of duty" might be the award given to Ginny Cooper for the outstanding assistance she gave to the Lincoln police force at Coed Follies.

Miss Cooper portrayed an Irish policeman in the Pi Phi Follies skit. When the onslaught of males came, Miss Cooper got carried away by the uniform and dug right in trying to help get the boys out of the theater.

Truly unselfish service to the cause of womanhood.

2 Contests To Highlight Dairy Royal

Showmanship contests and a coed cow milking contest will highlight the Dairy Royal program Tuesday on Ag campus.

The Dairy Royal, a new campus showmanship contest, will be conducted in conjunction with open house in the newly remodeled dairy barn, where the program will be presented.

A tour of the barns and a demonstration of the milking parlor will begin at 7 p.m. Door prizes will be awarded for guessing weights of animals.

The showmanship contest, which follows, will be split into two divisions, one for contestants who have had no dairy showmanship experience and one for experienced showmen.

Winners in each division will compete for the grand championship trophy.

Seventeen contestants have entered the junior—the inexperienced—division, while only six have entered the senior division.

Sharing the spotlight Tuesday night will be the showmanship contest which is a coed cow milking contest. Fourteen girls have entered.

Entrants are Mary Ann Nelson, Katy Coed, Lynce Turner, Jo Armstrong, Joe Miller, Sally Murphy, Joan Legge, Sallie Matteson, Phil Moyer, Polly Ackerson, Shirely Ochsner, Barbara Kokra, Lois Pierce and Eleanor Erickson.

Between acts Dick Pearson will present magic tricks.

Mothers of Sunshine 4-H club members will serve a free lunch following the program.

The Dairy Royal is being sponsored jointly by the Varsity Dairy club and Sunshine 4-H club.

Block, Bridle Show Entries Due Friday

Applications for animals to be shown in the annual Block and Bridle show, scheduled for April 5, are due Friday at 5 p.m. in Room 201, Animal Husbandry hall.

Coeds wishing to enter the western-style horseriding contest, a special feature of the show, are also to have their names in Room 201, Animal Husbandry hall, by Friday.

Drawings for animals and horses will be held Saturday. Classes of livestock are swine, beef and sheep. Students showing animals will obtain preference of breed as far as they will go, according to Rex Messersmith, Block and Bridle president.

Block and Bridle Show is a traditional livestock showmanship contest featuring a variety of horse acts. It will be presented this year for the 18th time.

Students showing animals in the Block and Bridle show will be judged both on fitting and showing. The coed western-style horseriding contest will be judged entirely on the riding ability of the girls.

Co-chairmen of this year's show are Rex Messersmith and Frank Sibert. Cal Kuska is master of ceremonies.

Animals for the show will be furnished by the Animal Husbandry department. Horses for the riding event will be furnished by the Block and Bridle club. Coeds will be permitted to ride their own horses in the contest.

Winners in each class of livestock will receive plaques with their names engraved on it. Coed horse riding contest winner will receive a trophy.

Parts Assigned For 'Street Scene'

A realistic picture of life in lower east side New York is the theme of Elmer Rice's Pulitzer Prize winning "Street Scene." The play will be a University Theatre production March 25 and 26.

The cast as announced by director Dallas Williams, will include 16 men and 11 women.

The plot centers around three characters, Mr. and Mrs. Murrant and their daughter, Rose. Mrs. Murrant is a faithless wife, who steps out on her husband. For this he eventually kills her. The daughter, Rose, falls in love with a young Jewish boy, Sam, but realizing she cannot marry him due to their difference in beliefs, and because of the death of her mother, leaves home, providing the tragedy of the plot.

Mrs. Murrant is played by Mary Sidner, an Everett, Business Administration junior; Herb senior in Arts and Sciences. She has also appeared Wilms; Charles Rossow, sophomore in Arts and Sciences.

The part of Murrant will be played by Les Mathis, a graduate student, who appeared earlier this year in the part of Vann, in "Idiot's Delight."

Marian Uhe, in the part of Rose, is a sophomore in Teacher's college, and has appeared in "George Washington Slept Here."

Mrs. Fiorentino and Mrs. Jones, described as two gossip women will be played by Janis McCaw, freshman in Arts and Sciences, and Marjorie Line, a junior in Teachers college.

The part of Lippo, husband of Mrs. Fiorentino, will be taken by Harry Stiver, graduate student.

Sam, the young Jewish boy in love with Rose, will be Kenneth Clement, sophomore agriculture economics major, who appeared in "George Washington Slept Here."

Janice Harrison, freshman in Arts and Sciences; Maxine Zimmerman, Teachers college sophomore; James Ehret, Teachers college sophomore; and Bob Hoig, Arts and Sciences sophomore.

"Street Scene" was first produced in 1929. It was later made into a musical and played in New York City for a season. It is well known abroad for its convincing realism.

All the action of the play takes place in front of a Brownstone apartment house in the tenement district. The people are of all nationalities and live by violence and passion.

"Street Scene" will be the last University Theatre production of the season.

Second Junior Division Career Program To Feature Nursing Speeches, Discussion

Have you looked at your career lately? Would you like a student's viewpoint, as well as an authority's, on a vocation?

The second program in a series, sponsored by the Junior Division, will be presented on the field of nursing Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Ellen Smith hall.

Dr. Arthur A. Hitchcock, director of the Junior Division and Counseling Service, will open the program by giving information on fields of nursing, including practical, hospital, private and teaching nursing and their duties. He will also mention the history and importance of nursing, prerequisites for nursing, demands in the field, occupational trends, nursing abroad and retirement.

Miss Irma N. Kyle, director of the school of nursing in Omaha, will cover the details in the nursing field. She will discuss requirements for admission, necessary education, and methods of job placement.

Miss Kyle will also mention the number of persons in the nursing profession in the state, the number who apply for training during the year in Nebraska and how many are accepted and how many are rejected. She will also discuss the salary of nurses, giving starting pay and advanced pay, cost of training, nursing practice possibilities in Nebraska and state regulations.

A senior nursing student from Omaha will accompany Miss Kyle to give a student's point of view on the profession.

Following the program, students may ask questions concerning the nursing field. The Junior Divisions feels that benefits were received from student questions at the first program on law, Feb. 26.

Two more programs will be offered in the "look at Your Career" series. Dentistry will be discussed March 11, and medicine, March 18.

Country Dance Group To Plan Meeting Series

Ag Country Dancers will decide on plans for the remainder of the second semester at a special meeting Friday night in the College Activities building, according to Dick Kollars, president.

Dancing will be from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., and the meeting will follow from 8:30 to 9:30. All members of Country Dancers and other students interested in square dancing are urged to attend, said Kollars.

Ag Country Dancers meets each Friday night and holds one all-University square dance every month. It is now planning for the Square Dance Festival, a meeting of local square dance clubs, to be held next month in the Coliseum.

U.S. To Increase NATO Air Power

WASHINGTON—The United States will add no more Army divisions to its ground force in Europe this year but will send considerable more air power to help meet the present goals set up at the Lisbon session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Defense Secretary Lovett stated this and other points in outlining the part the United States would have under the NATO master plan. Since Lovett talked only of divisions, it seems reasonable to expect smaller, sub-divisional units such as anti-aircraft outfits to continue appearing overseas however.

U.S.-Japan Sign Defense Agreement

TOKYO — State Minister Katsuo Okazaki, on behalf of Japan, has signed an agreement granting the United States air, naval and Army bases in Japan to serve as a defense of the islands and a barrier to Communist expansion in the Pacific. The agreement implements the U. S.-Japanese security treaty and becomes effective with the ratification of the Japanese peace treaty and the end of occupation.

Russell Announces Presidential Plans

WASHINGTON — Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia has announced that he is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Russell announced his decision after being formally urged to run by the Georgia state Democratic executive committee.

tee. His announcement gave no indication whether he is prepared to lead a Southern Democratic revolt if President Truman is renominated and if a third party is formed during the 1952 campaign although there has been speculation as to this in some quarters.

Truman To Announce Election Plans Before March 29

WASHINGTON — President Truman said he would not announce whether or not he will seek re-election until after he returns from a trip to Key West, Fla. The President is leaving on Friday of next week. He is expected back in time for a speech in Washington to the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson day dinner March 29.

Alaska-Hawaii Fight Continues

WASHINGTON — President Truman said the fight is still on for statehood for both Alaska and Hawaii. The senate has voted 45 to 44 to send the Alaska statehood bill back to committee, thereby shelving it. Mr. Truman expressed hope that the Senate will reconsider its action. Proponents of Hawaiian statehood immediately bid to bring the measure to the floor, but the Senate recessed without reaching a decision on what to consider next.
