

AUF Position Open
All University Fund booth board position applications will be accepted until 5 p.m. Tuesday in the AUF office, room 305 of the Union.
In order to qualify for board membership, a student must be carrying at least 12 University hours. He must also have had experience in AUF. Application blanks are available in the AUF office.

Political Guide
Democratic candidates for United States senator (both short and full terms) are discussed in the "Political Guide" on Page 2.
Stanley D. Long is the only candidate for the full term and Henry Fillman and William Ritchie are opposing each other for the short term nomination.

Search Week Begins Today

MARCH 26, 31

Kerr, Kefauver Plan Speeches At NU

Sen. Estes Kefauver and Sen. Robert Kerr, presidential candidates for the Democratic nomination, will make appearances on the University campus this week prior to Nebraska primary April 1.

The two senators' appearances are being sponsored by the University convocation committee.

Senator Kerr of Oklahoma will speak Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Union ballroom. He is expected to discuss education, foreign policy and his accomplishments as governor of Oklahoma.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee will speak in the ballroom Monday, March 31, at 8 p.m.

According to Dr. Carl Schneider, chairman, the committee has a definite policy on scheduling political speakers. It consists of five points:

1. Candidates for political office may be afforded facilities of the University on the theory that such speakers are a part of the University's educational program.
2. The convocations committee is not taking the initiative in inviting any candidate to speak but will consider requests emanating from the candidate himself or his representatives. The facilities of the University and the cooperation of the convocations committee will be advanced only to candidates for national political office.
3. The convocation committee wishes to avoid the appearance of giving University aid and comfort to any particular candidate or party. Therefore, the committee will insist (a) that each political speaker be introduced by a member of the faculty or administrative staff; (b) that each speaker confine himself to discussing current issues of national importance and not descend to the level of a vulgar political rally.
4. It is understood that the committee cannot guarantee the availability of a hall for performance of this kind.
5. It is further understood that programs of this nature are in addition to the regularly scheduled program of convocations and that classes cannot be dismissed for a political speaker, should his appearance occur during class time. It is the intent of the committee that those speeches be given in the evening.

Other members of the convocations committee are Dr. George Rosenlof, Dr. LeRoy Lease, Dr. Frank Sorenson, Duane Lake, Julius Cohen, Lynn Kunkel, and Bob LaShelle.

A general meeting with various campaigning clubs on campus will be held to encourage "intensive publicity and campaigning for candidates."

Duplicates of Nebraska primary ballots will be used. Considering the time for application by absentees has been set for 4 to 6 p.m., March 27 and 28, in the YWCA office at Ellen Smith hall.

Write-in votes will also be permitted, Miss Krasne explained.

Polls will be set up on both city and Ag campuses. The mock ballots will include names of all candidates for national and state offices and delegates for national convention. The voting will not include district elections, such as those for Board of Regents and state senator. Miss Krasne said. No county officers or delegates to county conventions will be elected.

Block, Bridle Club At Ag Initiates Eight Members

Eight Ag college students were initiated into Block and Bridle club Thursday, March 13.

New members of the animal husbandry departmental organization are Joel Wadell, Dale Van Vleet, John Obermire, Merton Dierks, Leon Riepe, Kenneth Clement, Lloyd Young, and Denzil Clegg.

The annual Jr. Ag-Sar-Ben livestock show, which will be held April 5, is sponsored by Block and Bridle club.

UN'S WEAKNESSES

Eagleton To Speak On Charter

By PEG BARTUNEK
Staff Writer

What are strength and weaknesses of the United Nations charter?

This and other questions pertinent of the UN will be discussed by Dr. Clyde Eagleton, professor of international law at New York university, when he appears before the Nebraska University Council on World Affairs model UN conference beginning April 3.

During the first afternoon session of the conference, Dr. Eagleton will serve as a consultant in discussion pertaining to the charter amendment. He will act in an advisory capacity giving criticisms and additional information as well as evaluating facts and procedures of the UN.

Dr. Eagleton will present his principle speech, "The UN Charter: Its Strengths and Weaknesses," the first evening of the conference.

In connection with his participation in the model assembly, he will also speak before the Kiwanis club, when he will give a critical evaluation of the UN program up to the present.

Dr. Eagleton, however, while well versed in the evaluation of the UN, has been evaluated himself by Dr. Frank E. Sorenson, a NUCWA sponsor personally acquainted with Dr. Eagleton.

He has said: "I believe Dr. Eagleton is one of the best informed persons in

SEARCH WEEK . . . Executive committee members are: Ruth Schinn, Rev. Richard Nutt (standing), Pat Wiedman, Steve Eberhart, student co-chairmen; Pat Wall, Not pictured—Dr. J. O. Burnett, Ray Engstrom, Dr. M. C. Latta, Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, general chairman, and Dean W. V. Lambert. (Daily Nebraskan Photo.)

Students May Schedule Personal Interviews With Speakers

Personal conferences with Search Week speakers will be arranged for all students wanting them throughout this week, according to Mary Lou Hawk of the Search Week committee.

Each speaker will be assigned a house they will arrange their own appointments.

Women's Athletic Association Announces Filings For Former Appointive Offices

Seven new filings are being offered by the Women's Athletic Association this year.

These positions have been appointed by the WAA council in the past, and this is the first year they have been open to filings. The openings are for assistant intramural co-ordinator, officials chairman and five positions on the sports board.

Filings are to be made in the WAA office at Grant Memorial gym between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Yell Squad Filings Deadline Extended Until Tuesday Noon

The filing deadline for cheerleading positions on the University Yell Squad has been extended to Tuesday noon.

Practice sessions will be held, as previously announced, at 3:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the Coliseum. Each candidate will be taught two yells.

Through Saturday nine girls and three men had applied for Yell Squad positions.

A previous announcement stated that only Dick Clausen was eligible for assistant Yell King. All Yell King applicants, however, are also eligible.

Tryouts for cheerleaders will be held at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Coliseum. The Yell Squad advisory board will judge the candidates.

Men trying out are asked to report to Jake Geier Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the Men's Physical Education building for acrobatic practice.

Yell King for the 1952 squad will be chosen by the board at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Candidates are Don Devries, present Yell King; Ira Epstein and George Hancock.

Holdover members of the squad are Judy Wiebe and Jo Berry. The 1952 squad will be composed of ten persons—four women and six men.

Names In The News

By CHARLES GOMON
Staff News Writer

TRYGVE LIE, secretary-general of the UN, offered Communist forces in North Korea the services of the world health organization to combat the disease epidemic which the reds claim is rampant behind their lines.

Lie will speak at the University commencement this June.

GEN. DWIGHT EISENHOWER dumbfounded everyone by obtaining large numbers of write-ins in both the New Hampshire and Minnesota primaries. The general's name did not appear on the ballot in either state, but Republican voters put him ahead of Sen. Robert A. Taft in New Hampshire and second only to native son Harold E. Stassen in the Minnesota balloting.

THE UNITED STATES SENATE approved the Japanese peace treaty. Called a treaty of conciliation rather than one of revenge, the treaty is one of the most liberal ever offered to a defeated nation in modern times.

The treaty was signed in San Francisco last fall after some 14 months of negotiation on the part of its architect, John Foster Dulles.

SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER won the Democratic primary in New Hampshire over President Truman. It was reported from Florida where the president is vacationing that Democratic national chairman Frank McKinney was on the carpet for urging Mr. Truman to enter the New Hampshire race. The president hadn't wanted to commit himself there.

Kefauver's handshake and his friendly manner were given credit for bringing in the vote.

GEN. LORD ISMAY, personal chief of staff to British Prime Minister Winston Churchill during World War II, was made secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Lord Ismay, called "Pug" by his friends, is described as having the shrewdness and tact so necessary in his new position. As secretary-general Ismay will be the NATO's highest civilian official. The new post was created at the recent Lisbon conference.

FULGENCIO BATISTA completed taking over the Cuban government after an almost bloodless coup. Ex-President Prieto was forced to go into exile in Mexico.

Batista's attitude toward the principles of democracy was hard to determine from his statements. Sample: "I am a dictator, with the people. . . . The only blood which will be spilled will be that of those who oppose us. No one will be persecuted. . . ."

At week's end there was little doubt that for better or worse the former strong-man of Cuban politics was firmly in control.

J. R. LAWSON, proprietor of a grocery store in Coral Gables, Fla., shouted, "Drop it," and 10 steaks, two hams, four chickens and two packages of sliced ham fell from the skirts of two women shoplifters.

Dr. Bernhardt, Stampfer To Lead First Meetings

By L. J. ZAJICEK
Staff Writer

Mapping a way to a more secure life is the purpose of University Search Week, Monday through Thursday.

The program is under the leadership of University pastors and students. It was formerly Religion-in-Life Week.

Dr. William Bernhardt, registrar of Iliff School of Theology in Denver will open the convocation in the Union hall room Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. His address will be "Wanted Bases for Unity."

The pre-convocation part of Search Week started Sunday with an orientation meeting in Grace Lutheran church. In the evening a movie, "Come to the Stable," was shown in the Union.

The code word for the week's conference is BUF. Each letter stands for a certain day's major theme.

Monday's B symbol is for brotherhood. Dr. Bernhardt will keynote this point in an address in the Ag Union lounge at 5 p.m. with "What Makes Brotherhood Tick?"

Rabbi Judah Stampfer, Search Week team member, will discuss brotherhood with a city campus student group meeting at 4 p.m. Vespers are scheduled at 5 p.m. in the Ag Union lounge.

The Rev. David Balla will hold a marriage session at 5 p.m. in the Union. At 7:30 p.m. in the Cathedral he will hold a Catholic conference.

The code letter U stands for understanding. It will be the theme for Tuesday.

Starting off at 6:40 a.m. in the Episcopal chapel will be a breakfast and later a retreat. The retreat will deal with, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" A mass will be held in the Union at 8 a.m.

F of BUF signifies faith. Convictions will be stressed in a Teachers college convocation at 11 a.m. Wednesday by Dr. E. McClung Fleming, Dean of Park college in Parkville, Mo.

Fleming and Dr. Harold E. Jones will replace Dr. Arthur McGiffert and Dr. Harold C. Bernhard respectively.

Fleming, in addition to being Dean is a history professor. He received his Ph.D. at Columbia in 1943.

"Education and the Fourth R" is the topic of Dr. Fleming's address Wednesday.

Jones is minister of the First Congregational church in Omaha. He will address the closing convocation of Search Week Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Union.

Love Hall Wins Second Estes Carnival Trophy

Love Hall retained possession of the Estes Carnival trophy Friday night when their booth, "Leap Year in Dogpatch," was announced as the winner out of seven entries.

The Love Hall booth featured "Schmoo" roping, dart throwing at Mammy Yokum's patches and ringing of a pig's nose. This is the second consecutive win for Love Hall.

Offered as prizes in their booth were a dinner at Love Hall, a car wash, a coke date, socks darning and shoe polishes.

Estes Carnival is sponsored by Ag YM-YWCA, with proceeds going to help finance student expenses to the YM-YWCA conference held in Estes Park, Colo., during the summer.

Ag YW President Marilyn Cook presented the trophy to Barbara Wahlstrom, chairman of the Love Hall booth.

Other booths included the Amika Sports Review, which featured "Bad-mitten," "Gopher-golf," and "Basket-balloon." The persons who gathered the most points in each of the games was given a prize.

Ag Men's Club conducted a "Political Poll" in which spectators tried to hit an elephant or donkey with a ball.

"Wheels of Fortune" was operated by Alpha Gamma Rho, and featured two large wheels which gave a prize every time. It also included a demonstration of the champion AGR raw egg eaters.

Loomis Hall provided an "Es-trogram Service" for all who attended.

"Einstein's Kitchen" was the Home Ec club's booth, which gave a prize for the right chemical combination.

The Farm House booth featured a "Ring Your Candidate" election, in which spectators voted for their favorite candidate by trying

Rising Prices
At Macalister college, Minnesota, students added a new twist to their annual Sadie Hawkins dance. Minimum cost per couple was 50 cents, plus a penny for every inch of the boy's waist.

If you don't think the American dollar goes as far as it used to, find out how far it is to Europe.

Freshmen, Sophomores Begin Moot Court Cases

Moot Court competition of the College of Law initially clicked off a few paces in the sophomore and freshmen arguments through Thursday and Friday.

The sophomore round pitted the team of Bill Grant and Robert Green against Al Curtis and Lloyd Kelly.

The case concerned a mythical Lincoln scooter employee who accepted a drink out of a gin bottle. It was against company rules to drink while on the job. The employee took the drink in spite of the rules and found that the gin bottle contained carbon tetrachloride. The issue involved was whether the employee might collect workmen's compensation for the gin bottle incident.

The judges, Lincoln lawyers, decided in favor of Grant and Green. Their decision, however, was not based on the bottle issue.

All cases in Moot Court are decided on the way each team handles its oral and written argument. The written argument goes to the judges and also to the opposing teams. Thus everyone concerned has a clear idea of the case in question.

The freshmen round of competition began Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Ronnie Hunter and Eugene Wohlner won a decision over William Cronan and Raphael Moore.

Donald Roche and John Pfann decided Stewart Reynolds and Keith Mumby.

Kenneth Legg and Richard Hanson won over the team of William Lowe and Charles Ferguson.

Moot Court is a series of voluntary competitions designed to familiarize law students with procedure in appellate court. The court is set up on a three year basis, with two sessions each year. Freshmen in the college start off the cycle, and if they are lucky they might end up as the third year winners. The final two teams in the third year argue their case at the Capitol before three Supreme Court justices. Winners of this final round receive gold medals and have their names inscribed on a bronze tablet at the College of Law.

By DICK RALSTON
Staff Writer

The difference between an old-fashioned coed and a modern coed is that the old-fashioned coed took the cigarette out of her mouth before pulling her nightie over her head.

"He: 'Something seems to be wrong with this engine. I. . . .'

She: 'Don't talk foolishly. Wait until we get off the main road.'"

"Whoever told that guy he was a professor? He just doesn't know how to teach the stuff. Every time he tries to explain something, he digresses so much that no one can understand what he's talking about. I think he ought to quit teaching and go on back to the farm."

"Yeah, I flunked too."

Groups of religious students are kneeling all around campus praying that this energetic snow storm will melt enough momentum to bury Burnett Hall and other campus lean-to's. The weather man doesn't offer much hope for them, however. All he can promise is a "few light, scattered snow flurries."

Nevertheless, the students are continuing their pleas.

Some hope was given, though, by the weather man to one student group. He promised the tennis fiends warmer weather—"20-25" degree highs.

We can still make beer money shoveling snow.

