Dancers To Depict Seasons

A holiday from each of the four seasons will be represented in the 25th spring recital of Orchesis, modern dance group.

The recital will be at 8 p.m., Friday and Saturday, in Grant Memorial hall. Tickets, at 60 cents each, may be purchased from any Orchesis member, in Grant Memorial hall or at the door before each performance.

The four holidays depicted are Fourth of July, Halloween, Christmas and Easter.

For the Fourth of July, the dances are "Celebration," by Morton Gould; "Yankee Doodle Dandy," in which two senior girls, Delores Irwin and Wanita Bott, dance to the different tempos of George M. Cohen's song; "Summer Hoedown," a take-off on a square dance, and "Perspective," which contrasts the music popular at the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and popular music of today.

The Halloween dances are "Dem Bones" and a dance depicting the witches and goblins of Halloween.

Included in the Christmas dances is a Christmas story in two acts, based on the operetta "Scrooge's Christmas."

The Easter season includes dances of a more spiritualistic type and number—"Spring Interlude," by members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Council, Class Officer Candidates To File

Candidates for class offices and Student Council representatives may file in Dean Hallgren's office, Room 209, Administration building, beginning at 8 a.m. Monday. The filing will continue until Saturday noon.

Candidate's names will be placed on the ballot in the order of filing, announced George Wilcox, chairman of the Council elections committee.

A filing fee of $1 will be required of all candidates this year. This fee must be paid in the office of Dean William C. Harper, director of commercial enterprises. The fee will be credited to the Student Council. Each candidate must include his receipt with his application.

The purpose of the fee, Wilcox said, is to "stimulate responsibility on the part of the candidate and to help finance the election." He added that the money received will be used to cover the cost of the ballots and pictures used in the election.

Election of the new class officers will be held May 5, in the all-University election. A president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer for next year's junior and senior class will be elected.

The representatives will be chosen by students in the college. There will be two representatives from the College of Agriculture, three from Arts and Sciences, two from Business Administration, two from Engineering, one from Law, one from Pharmacy and Dentistry, and three from Teachers college.

it happened at nu...

The Union ballroom was filled to capacity Wednesday night as a University audience heard an address by Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, candidate for the Democrat nomination for President.

Quite a few people were standing in the back of the ballroom in an effort to hear the Senator's remarks. Very suddenly a little lady slipped in the ballroom door and perched on a table near the back.

The little lady probably never would have been noticed except for one factor: she proudly wore a coonskin cap—mark of a Senator Estes Kefauver supporter.

The good and bad points of the present primary system will be presented by Shumate, University professor of political science. He will also criticize the national and the all-star primaries.

Each of the speakers will devote five minutes to his remarks. Following the speeches, Sam Gibson, executive director of the campus YMCA, will ask questions. Marvin Stromer will serve as moderator of the discussion.

The end of the hour will be devoted to questions from the audience. Hester Morrison, YMCA representative, said that questions directed toward Kefauver must be limited to topics concerning his view-point toward primary elections. She said that Kefauver's participation does not necessarily indicate that he is endorsed by YMCA and YWCA.

Returns from the University mock primary election will be announced during the meeting. Sylvia Krasne, election chairman, said she hoped to have the unofficial results tabulated before the end of the meeting.

'Y' Panel Discussion To Include Kefauver

Sen. Estes Kefauver, Dr. Roger Shumate and Raymond McConnell Jr. will present a panel discussion on primary elections Monday at 5 p.m. in Love library auditorium. The YWCA and YMCA are sponsoring the all-membership meeting which is open to the public.

Kefauver, who will address a University convocation Monday night, will speak on the national primary.

McConnell, editor of The Journal, will discuss the all-star primary.

The election will serve a four-fold purpose, stated Miss Krasne, chairman of YW battle for ballots committee.

The purposes are as follows: 1. The ballot emphasizes the significance of a primary election where there is a wider choice of candidates.

2. It familiarizes students with actual voting procedure. 3. The results of the student mock primary will have statewide interest and influence.

4. The placement of the polls on city campus and Ag campus will enable the voting board to compare the voting. The board urges Ag students to vote on Ag campus.

Students must present ID cards and have them punched in order to vote. Unofficial results will be announced at the YW-YV Union Monday at 5 p.m. in the Union faculty lounge.

The Daily Nebraskan will carry the official returns in Tuesday's edition.

All NU Students May Vote Monday In Mock Primary

You don't have to be 21 to vote in the University mock primaries. All University students are eligible to vote in the YM and YWCA-sponsored elections between 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Monday in the Union, Ferguson hall or Ag Union, according to Sylvia Krasne and Marv Stromer, chairman of the mock primary.

The election will serve a four-fold purpose, stated Miss Krasne, chairman of YW battle for ballots committee.

The purposes are as follows: 1. The ballot emphasizes the significance of a primary election where there is a wider choice of candidates.

Taft Backers Advocate Write-In Vote In Primary

Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer and Rep. Howard Buffett, took the stage Thursday night to tell an audience at the Union why they would vote for, (write-in his name), Sen. Robert A. Taft in the Nebraska primary election next Tuesday.

Gen. Wedemeyer expressed his concern over the socialistic trend to give increased powers to bureaucratic Washington. The Taft supporter also voiced his concern over the "penetration of Communism." To counteract this trend, General Wedemeyer advocated studying Marxist theory "objectively."

"We lost China and renounced a 'faithful ally' in Chiang Kai-Shek," the General said, in regard to Taft's foreign policy. General Wedemeyer said this "unrealistic China policy" led to the Korean war. He added that President Truman's move to put ground troops into Korea was justified in order to stop Communist aggression but that "we must create from among the Asian nations military forces and put them in Korea and bring our boys home."

In answer to a query concerning Taft's reputed "conservatism," General Wedemeyer said, "He (Taft) wants to give both economic and military aid to other people," but the American people's interests must be met first.

Also in answer to the "conservatism" charge, Representative Buffett said "Senator Taft wants to conserve everything good in our system... he has an allegiance to human liberty."

SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

Val Peterson Presented Petition - 700 NU Names

Seven hundred University students presented Gov. Val Peterson a petition Thursday morning, pledging their support and confidence of his campaign for U. S. senator.

Jackie Sorenson is head of the "Val Peterson for Senator team," and Jerry Matzke is chairman of collecting signatures.

"Longest doggone paper I've seen in this office since my campaign began!" Peterson declared when it was presented "and the only paper that would make me happier would be an election certificate."

On the committee for collecting signatures for the petition was Jean Caha, Dolly McQuiston, Jan Lindquist, George Coble, Charles Kliffin, Gene Johnson, Don McArthur and Jerry Robertson.

Governor Peterson accepted their petition and offer of support with compliments to the students for their keen interest in public affairs.

"Nothing could be more inspiring to me as a candidate... nor to any person seeking the confidence of the voters, than to have 700 students representing every county in Nebraska offering their unsolicited support."

The petition read: "We the undersigned 700 students representing every county in the state of Nebraska, are the 'Val Peterson for Senator team' at the University of Nebraska.

"We believe that the selection of a senator is simply a business proposition. The people of Nebraska are the employers selecting an employee to represent them. In any business the man best qualified should get the job.

"From the standpoint of education we recognize Governor Peterson as one of the best trained men in public life in Nebraska. His studies in government have attracted national attention.

"Governor Peterson has demonstrated during three terms as Governor that he has down-to-earth common sense and that he is a fighter for his convictions.

PETERSON RECEIVES PETITION... Nebraska's governor, Val Peterson was recently presented with a petition from 700 NU students supporting him in the race for the United States Senate. Shown conferring with him about the petition are students (l. to r.), George Coble, Student Council president, Jerry Matzke, chairman of the University group which circulated the petition, Dolly McQuiston, and Charles Kliffin.

States Senator is his nation, his state and the public. A Senator must be effective. He is to represent his state.

"Val Peterson possess the youthful energy which is a certain prerequisite for being an effective spokesman for Nebraska in Washington.

"We demand active representation in this day of great crisis and concern to the young people of our state and our nation.

"Governor Peterson was elected President of the Council of State Governors. Certainly this proves that he is a leader's leader. We want to see a "leader's leader" replace a "do nothing" Senator during these more difficult times.

"As University students preparing to take over the burdens and the responsibilities of the government of the United States during the next generation, we join in urging the election—the employment—of Governor Peterson as our United States Senator for the next six years.

Hospitality Day At Ag College Attracts 500 High School Girls

High school girls from nearly 40 Nebraska schools are touring Ag campus Friday to learn about opportunities in home economics.

Approximately 500 girls registered Friday morning for the third annual Hospitality Day, according to Rugh Hoffmeister, general chairman of the home economics faculty and student planning committee.

Hospitality Day program began with a style show.

University students styled fashions and traditions typical to "A Weekend on NU Campus" at 10 a.m. in the Ag Union. The show followed a welcoming speech by Dean William V. Lambert.

Girls modeling fashions made in home economics clothing courses were Pat Hasson, Dolores Gade, Doris Hueffel, Jewell Clausen, Joan Raun, Mary Ann Grundman, Ann Lammers, Sharon Reed, Corliss and Carrie Meston.

Even University boys acted as models in the style show. Raymond Harmon, Rocky Yapp, Bill Waldo, John Stone and Gary Hild styled either military uniforms, Corn Cob outfits, tuxedos or Farmers' Fair costumes.

Also participating were Judy Wiebe, Dolly Rhodes, Marilyn Brewster, Dixie and Donna Borggaard, Elizabeth Gass, Connie Clark, Mary Jean Niehaus, Barbara Raun, Carolyn Gierhan, Nancy Chamberlain and Ann Koker.
