

Blood Donors Schedule Gala

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA LIBRARY APR 3 1952

the DAILY NEBRASKAN

KU Victory Scene
Joan Krueger, editor, reports on the victory celebration at University of Kansas following the basketball team's NCAA championship game. See page 2.

VOL. 51—No. 118

Voice of 6000 Cornhuskers
LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Wednesday, April 2, 1952

Show Tickets
Jr. Ak-Sar-Ben tickets must be turned in to Jim Smith who will accept them in the Ag Union all day Thursday.

NUCWA Conference Opens Today

Korean Vet To Address Mass Meeting

"The boys in overseas hospitals really appreciate blood donors."
Sgt. William E. Welsh, ordnance chief, Marine air detachment of Lincoln Naval air station, told the Red Cross blood board planning a rally for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Union ballroom. Sergeant Welsh will give the principal address at the rally.

In an informal discussion with Jim Adams, blood recruitment board special events chairman,

Sergeant Welsh told of a friend he had in a Japan hospital who needed blood transfusions every day.

"He used to say 'I wonder who gave this pint?' when the nurse would give him the transfusion," Sergeant Welsh said. "The fellows really think of where blood comes from."

Sergeant Welsh enlisted in the Marines in 1943 and served until 1946 in the Pacific islands and Japan. He made the marines his career in 1948 and served in Korea until he was injured and sent home last July.

"In Korea I served with the only jet outfit there," he said. His position as ordnance chief concerns fire control and loading, checking and unloading rockets and guns.

The rally is open to the public. University Red Cross blood donors may sign the memorial book. Red Cross blood donation cards must be presented to the cards in charge of the book before a donor may sign. Recruitment board members, Jean Perrin, Wilma Kindhart and Elaine Kagawa are in charge.

Del Leinemann, blood recruitment chairman of Lancaster county Red Cross, will speak at the rally.

A movie, "Blood and Bullets," will be shown picturing the use of blood donations.

The highlight of the evening according to Adams, will be the presentation of the Beta Delta of the month. This award is given to an outstanding Red Cross blood donor or blood program worker.

Shirley Murphy, Red Cross College Unit blood recruitment chairman, will present the Beta Delta of the month certificate, crown and large blood donor's pin.

The rally will close with the singing of "Hail Beta Delta," blood donor's song. RCCU board will lead the singing. Copies of the song will be handed to rallyers as they come in the ballroom.

The rally was planned to have dotted blood to Red Cross honor University students who during the year.

Pledge cards for the April 28 and 29 blood drive will be available at the door.

Sergeant Welsh

NU Tassels To Initiate 25 Pledges

Tassels, women's pep organization, will initiate 25 pledges who have earned a sufficient number of initiation points at 6 p.m. Wednesday in the Union.

The occasion will be the annual initiation banquet. The outstanding pledge will receive a plaque.

Pledges have been working for points since last spring by distributing flash cards at football games, selling pompons, pennants, and tickets to various school functions, ushering at school functions, and serving the University in other ways. Points were also awarded for working with Corn-Cobs on homecoming.

Banquet chairmen are Sylvia Krasne, program; Jo O'Brien, properties; Elaine Grunford, decorations, and Connie Clark, invitations.

Ag Students To Discuss Exec Board Revision Wednesday

The new revision to the Ag Exec board amendment to its constitution will be discussed Wednesday night at the second Ag Bull Session of the year.

The Bull Session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Ag Union lounge.

Dr. Mueller To Talk At Nu-Med Meeting

Dr. R. F. Mueller will speak to Nu-Meds, honorary fraternity for pre-med students, Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Mueller will speak on thyroid and parathyroid surgery.

The meeting place has been changed to Love library auditorium instead of the Union, as was previously announced.

FILINGS OPEN

Board To Pick New Publications Staff

Students interested in applying for staff positions on the 1953 Cornhusker or on the 1952-53 staff of The Daily Nebraskan may obtain application forms from the Office of Public Relations, 1125 R. Street, upstairs, Thursday.

Dr. R. V. Shumate, chairman of the Committee on Student Publications, said selections of the two staffs this spring will be made separately.

Applications for The Cornhusker positions will be due in the Public Relations office on or before 5 p.m. April 23.

Applications for The Daily Nebraskan positions will be due in Public Relations office on or before 5 p.m. April 30.

Though the Committee has set no definite date for hearing applicants and making its selections, Dr. Shumate said it is

Mock Primary Results

WHO WON? . . . Student counting board, (l. to r.) Dick Marrs, Louise Stam, Marv Stromer and Sylvia Krasne, tabulate the results in the mock primary election conducted by the YWCA and YMCA Monday. Miss Krasne and Stromer were co-chairmen of the election.

NU Election Nets 429 Votes For Ike, 318 For Kefauver

By LOUIS SCHOEN Staff Writer

Sen. Estes Kefauver and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower won first choice for their respective party presidential nominations by a wide margin in the mock preferential primary staged Monday on campus.

Sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA, the election's official results gave Eisenhower a total of 429 write-in votes, a plurality of 278 over his closest challenger for the Republican nomination, Sen. Robert Taft, who received 151 write-in votes.

Former Minnesota Governor Harold E. Stassen, the only major Republican candidate whose name appeared on the ballot, received 108 votes.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Estes Kefauver seemed to be the only candidate in the running. The Tennessee senator received 318 votes, a plurality of 290 over his nearest rival, Sen. Robert Kerr, who received only 28.

A total of 1,076 students cast ballots for the presidential nomination.

Here are the final official results, as released to The Daily Nebraskan Tuesday afternoon.

On the Democratic ticket—

For President, first choice:
Sen. Estes Kefauver 318
Sen. Robert Kerr 28
Pres. Harry S. Truman 6

Sen. Paul Douglas 6

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 6

Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson 5

For President, second choice:
Kerr 92
Kefauver 47
Stevenson 29
Eisenhower 18
Sen. Richard Russell 12

For Vice-President, first choice:
Kerr 47
Alben Barkley 30
Stevenson 29
Russell 19
Kefauver 16
California Governor Earl Warren 8

For Vice-President, second choice:
Kerr 21
Kefauver 16
Stevenson 12
Russell 7
Barkley 5

Delegates at Large to National convention:
William Ritchie, Francis P. Matthews, Willard E. Townsend, and Charles Knowles.

For Alternate Delegates at Large to National Convention:
H. C. Larsen, Hugh B. Riley, Frederick M. Deutsch, Essie Davis.

(Continued on Page 4)

International Court Convenes In Model Session At 7:30 p.m.

The Model United Nations Conference on Charter Amendments, sponsored by Nebraska University Council on World Affairs, will open at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday with a model session of the International Court of Justice in Parlors ABC, Union.

The case at court will be Aquitania vs. Franconia, in which Aquitania is suing Franconia for collection of claims of the Whitehall Construction company arising from an unfulfilled contract.

The model court session is a project of the International Law class of the Law college. Students of the class have been preparing the case for two months.

Chief Justice will be F. E. Taylor, local attorney. Members of the court will be Guy Chambers, Thomas Davis and Charles Flansburg, all local attorneys. Willard B. Cowles will be technical adviser, and Paul Douglas and L. Kenneth Cobb will act as counsels for Franconia and Aquitania, respectively.

William Blue and Lewis E. Pierce will present the oral arguments for Franconia, while Cobb and Donald L. Brick will present Aquitania's case. William Cobb will act as bailiff for the court.

The mock session is free to all students and the public.

Thursday's model meetings will be the first and second plenary sessions of the conference.

The first session, scheduled for 3 p.m., will include adoption of the conference agenda and rules or procedure, election of a permanent president, an introductory address by Chancellor R. G. Gustavson and consideration of recommendations.

The second Thursday session will feature an address by Dr. Clyde Eagleton, professor of international law at New York university.

Committee sessions will fill Friday's schedule. Representatives of nations will attend the committee meeting on modification of the veto in Room 313, Union, and the committee meeting on the powers of the General Assembly in Room 316. According to the NUCWA executive board, it is important that each nation be represented at both meetings.

The third plenary session is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the Union ballroom. The agenda will include consideration of recommendation from committees, completion of instructions to a future drafting committee and adjournment.

Conference officials are Jack Solomon, president; Paul Lasse, chairman of the committee on modification of the veto; Doris Carlson, vice chairman of the veto committee; Joan Krueger, chairman of the committee on powers of the General Assembly; and Vernita Helmstadter, vice chairman of the General Assembly committee.

Members of the model secretariat are Charles Gomon, secretary general; Elaine Smithberger, assistant secretary general; Vernita Helmstadter, director of the department of research; Allan Garfinkle, director of the department of technical arrangements; Pat Allen, director of the department of conference procedure; Marilyn Mangold, director of the department of public information; and S. J. House, faculty adviser.

The model secretariat will maintain office hours in the NUCWA room in the Union during conference hours to answer questions and supply information concerning the model meeting.

Executive board of NUCWA consists of Virginia Koehler, president; Miss Helmstadter, secretary; Jerry Matzke, treasurer; and Dr. Frank Sorenson and House, faculty advisers.

Convocation Friday To Feature Debate

"Who is benefiting from our foreign policy—Russia or the United States?"

This question will be debated by two prominent former government employees, O. John Rogge, lawyer, and Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., historian, at the all-University convocation Friday.

The convocation will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in the Coliseum. All classes will be dismissed.

Schlesinger, associate professor of history at Harvard since 1947, received the Pulitzer Prize in history in 1945 for his best seller, "The Age of Jackson."

A graduate of Harvard in 1938, Schlesinger attended Cambridge university in England in 1938-1939. He became writer for the Office of War Information in 1942, and joined the Office of Strategic Services in 1943.

Rogge has been active in the exposing of many American fascists and has been influential in a number of Government investigations.

A graduate of the University of Illinois in 1922, Rogge received his LL.B. at Harvard Law School. He was admitted to the Illinois bar at 21, when an employee of the firm of Hopkins, Starr and Hopkins in Chicago.

He has served as attorney for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee. He has handled several Treasury Department investigations.

Rogge became assistant attorney general of the Department of Justice in charge of the criminal division in 1940. In this position he investigated the activities of the Huey Long machine in Louisiana, which held control over that state's court system.

In 1943, Rogge became special assistant to the Attorney General.

He was especially active in exposing fascists in America from 1943 until 1946, but in 1946, he was dismissed from the Department of Justice on the accusation by Chief Justice Tom Clark that Rogge had "willfully violated the long-standing rules and regulations" of the Department.

Following his dismissal from the Justice Department, Rogge entered private practice in New York and has continued to be actively concerned with exposing American fascists.

He was named as delegate to the August 1948 meeting of the World Congress of Intellectuals at Wroclaw, Poland, where he

Parrot Tracks

By DICK RALSTON
Feature Editor

Joe: "Why do girls kiss each other and men do not?"

Jerry: "Because girls have nothing better to kiss and men have."

"Does your girl always have her own way?"

"Does she? Why, she writes her diary a week ahead."

This poem is for men only! Coeds will please go on without reading it. It's really unfit for publication but I got permission to print it as long as I guaranteed that only men would read it.

Skies should remain fair today with little change in temperatures. The main change from yesterday will be in wind velocity. No, it won't be greater; there will be little wind at all. All may just as well go to class.

Windy
A young college grad was out looking for a job. While waiting to see the manager, he struck up a conversation with the office boy.

"Do you suppose there is an opening here for a college graduate," he asked the boy.

"There certainly will be," replied the boy, "unless the boss raises my salary to $3 a week."

P.M. Headlines

By CHARLES GOMON Staff Writer

A-Bomb Tests Enter New Series

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—An atomic bomb will soon be detonated at the highest altitude yet attempted, according to atomic scientists at the Frenchman's Flats proving ground in Nevada.

A new series of tests is now being planned for the next several weeks. To date 13 atomic blasts have been set off in the continental U. S., most of them on this tract of desert outside Las Vegas. The atomic energy commission is reported to have constructed some type of launching platform at the site, but exact information is of course not available.

Steel towers recently built on the scene could be used either for detonating bombs, as was the case at Alamogordo, N. Mex. in 1945, or to house cameras to record the blast.

In April about 2,000 marines will participate in maneuvers in connection with the atomic tests.

Eighth Jet Ace In History

KOREA—Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oiltown, Pa., commander of the 51st fighter wing, became the eighth jet ace in history. American jets shot down nine BIG's, claimed ten probables and six red planes damaged in a series of air battles over northwest Korea.

At Panmunjom the truce sub-committee, which has been discussing whether or not to allow Russia to participate on the truce supervision team, gave up and turned the question back to the full membership of the committee.

The communists insist that Russia qualifies as a neutral nation and therefore may serve on the team. The UN delegates are just as insistent that the USSR is anything but neutral in the Korean war.

French Close In On Reds

INDO-CHINA—French troops closed in on five battalions of Communist Viet-Minh guerrillas near Haiphong, Indo-China. The Reds advanced into French territory in a bold bid to cut communications between the northern capital of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong to the east.

About 5,000 of the rebels were fighting a desperate last-ditch stand against the hard-driving French forces. According to Gen. Raoul Salan, commander in the area, about 1,049 reds have been killed and 1,062 others wounded since Friday when the clean-up began.

New Jersey Convicts Surrender

TRENTON, N. J.—Twenty-three convicts meekly surrendered to guards in the state penitentiary in Trenton, thus ending the series of riots which broke out Sunday.

Perons Honor Billiard Players

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine—Two Argentine workers were honored by Dictator Juan Peron and his wife Evita for their endurance in a recent contest.

The winning pair had played billiards continuously for 66 hours.

Incidentally, Peron recently told his countrymen that the new television system he inaugurated in Argentina would be better than its American counterpart in every way. This may puzzle American manufacturers of TV equipment since the Argentine network is entirely equipped with American-made machines.

Senator From Tennessee

AUDIENCE APPEAL . . . Sen. Estes Kefauver addresses an audience of 1,500 persons at the Union Monday night. The crowd overflowed into the halls and a large share of the audience heard the senator's remarks over the P.A. system in the Union lounge. This was Kefauver's last speech before the Nebraska primary.