

Single Elimination Tourney Set Up For IM Softball

By BILL MUNDELL
Intramural Sports Columnist
Intramural softball conceded defeat to the elements today. By an overwhelming margin, nature and the April showers downed the I-M softball round-robin league play for the second straight year.

With 36 of the first 46 scheduled games rained out, the round-robin participation in the spring sport has been dropped. In its place, as last year, a single elimination tournament has been set up to determine this year's championships.

Two tourneys have been established, one each for the Fraternity teams and the Independent outfits. The champions of these two tourneys will meet, weather permitting, for the 1952 All-University title.

A total of 48 teams will battle for the crowns, 26 fraternity teams and 22 independent clubs. Six additional teams have gained the tournament play, joining the original 42 outfits listed for league competition. These teams all indicated a desire to enter a team in this year's action, but failed to meet the entry deadline.

It was decided that since the softball play was, in effect, starting from scratch, these teams should be allowed to participate. They are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Zeta Beta Tau and Sigma Alpha Mu in the fraternity struggle and the City YMCA and M-Street Boys in the independent fray.

The opening round of play has been set for this Monday, April 28 at both the Coliseum and Ag College fields. The first round will continue through Monday, May 5, with open dates set for Wednesday, April 30 and Saturday, May 3 for postponed first-round contests. In the event more time is needed to complete the first round because of weather conditions, the second round will be moved back accordingly.

Freshman Jump Artist

HEADED FOR DRAKE... Eugene "Hoppy" McCue, freshman broad jumper, is on Coach Ed Weir's select crew to compete in the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Ia. Friday and Saturday. Hoppy, a member of Nebraska's potent broad jump trio, will be vying against a field of great performers at the Drake Relays.

Colorado Cindermen Will Invade Monday

Assistant Sports Editor
Coach Ed Weir's Nebraska thin-clads will dual the University of Colorado Buffaloes in Lincoln Monday, after their return from Drake Relays at Des Moines. The Buffs, coached by Frank Potts, display a well-balanced track and field team which should give the Huskers some fine evenly matched competition. Although Coach Weir will take only half a dozen men along to the Drake Relays when he leaves Thursday noon, he plans to enter every man on the team in the CUU meet Monday.

Don Bedker and Dan Tolman are listed to make the Des Moines journey for the hurdle events. Glenn Beerline and Hoppy McCue will carry Nebraska's hopes in the broad jump, and Cliff Dale and Paul Grimm will enter the shot put. Dale will also compete in the discus event.

But the Drake Relays do not offer Nebraska's individual track stars a chance to show their ability. Such men as Lee Moore, ace distance runner, and other Husker track standouts will be unable to run because only relay events will be held on the track.

Sickness and injury of several key members of the squad dampened the Husker mentor's hopes of fielding several good relay teams capable of running against the ruzzed competition offered at Drake.

"I don't see how we can score too heavily as far as team points are concerned," the cinder prof said. "We're looking forward to the Colorado meet Monday, when we can count on team strength."

The Buffaloes' strength is concentrated mainly in the hurdles, shot put and javelin events.

Merwin Hodel, one of the leading ground gainers in Big Seven football last year, carries a great part of the load for the Silver and Gold in the hurdles. He holds a tie for the conference indoor record in the low sticks.

Wally Tanner, number one man for the Buffs in the shot put throw, has hit over 53 feet on several occasions.

in the Big Seven meet last spring. George Holley, champion javelin thrower in the conference for the past two seasons, puts Colorado in solid in that event. Ted Wassam also placed

Husker Hurdle Champ

CONFERENCE TITLE-HOLDER... Don Bedker, Nebraska's Big Seven indoor champion in both the high and low barriers, will be running for high stakes in the Drake Relays at Des Moines Friday and Saturday. Bedker, now in his final year of competition, placed third last week in the high sticks in the Kansas Relays, and hopes to win more track glory at Drake.

Husker Golfers Face Colorado Here Saturday

Nebraska's gold team will be gunning for their third straight conference victory when they swing back into action against the University of Colorado at Hillcrest Country Club.

The Husker squad, undefeated so far in the season, looms the team to beat in Big Seven competition.

Coach Bob Hamlet will pick four men by Saturday to carry the Scarlet hopes against the Buffaloes.

The remaining schedule: April 28—Washburn college at Topeka

Novak To Start Against Sooners

Ray Novak, regular first baseman for the Husker baseball squad, will start on the mound against the Oklahoma Sooners Friday. It will be the first of a two-game series with Oklahoma, last year's Big Seven champs.

Novak, who doubles as a full-back on Coach Bill Glassford's grid team, has a record of one win against no defeats for the season.

Coach Tony Sharpe said that there would be no changes in the regular lineup except for filling in Novak's spot at the first sack. Bill Giles will take over at that position while Novak carries the mound chores.

The remainder of the infield will have Bob Reynolds at second base, Ray Mladovich at shortstop and Bob Decker at the hot corner.

The OU series looms as an important one in the eyes of Nebraska followers. The Scarlet, ranked third in the league with a two win, one loss record, need both wins to say in the running for the conference championship.

Bob Gleason Will Pitch For B Team

Despite still prevailing cloudy skies, the Nebraska B baseballers were still expecting the cry of "play ball" to be heard Thursday at 4 p.m.

If thwarted Thursday by rain the Nubbins will open against Milford Trade school at Milford Friday.

Coach Ed Berg announced that Bob Gleason who has been sent down from the varsity for more seasoning will start on the mound for the Nubbins. Don Muenster and Bob Kremke will be used in relief.

Berg should field a strong club with the addition of three varsity performers. His infield has been bolstered by the acquisition of Al Karle, shortstop, and Fred Seger, third base. Don Becker will start in left field and lend needed hitting punch.

The starting lineup and batting order is as follows:

- Al Karle SS
- Dan Brown 2B
- Denny Korinek CF
- Fred Seger 3B
- Walt Finke RF
- Don Becker LF
- George Minter 1B
- Chuck Jensen C
- Bob Gleason P

Other players expected to see action are: Gerry Sandulite, Stan Elmer, Les Singer, Don Sterba, John Welch and Jack Crawford.

Soph Mound Sparkler

Switzer, Wilson Headed For K-State Jump Mark

Wily Ward Haylett, the head man of Kansas State track and field fortunes, has come up with another 1-2 punch in the broad jump which promises to be as potent as the Wildcats' famous Herb Hoskins-Jim Danielson broad jump combination of 1950. This time, it is two Wildcat sophomores, all-American footballer Veryl Switzer and basketball star Gene Wilson, who are piling up the points in the broad jump event everytime they enter a track and field show. And Haylett, who tutored the U.S. Olympic ten jumpers in 1948, thinks he has two of the best in Switzer and Wilson.

Neither of the two young Cat athletes have approached the mark of 25 feet, 2 1/2 inches, which made little Herb Hoskins the country's No. 3 broad jumper in 1950. However, Switzer jumped 24 feet, 3 3/4 inches in the Colorado Indoor Invitational meet this spring to equal Danielson's best mark. Wilson leaped 24 feet to win the Kansas Relays championship last Saturday after Switzer injured a knee and had to be content with third place with a jump of 23 feet, 8 inches.

It's interesting to compare the marks of the two Wildcat sophomore jumpers with those made by Hoskins during his sophomore year at Kansas State.

In 1950, Hoskins was ranked third among the country's best jumpers and Danielson ranked ninth. The latest statistics of the NCAA show Switzer ranked fifth in the nation and Wilson tenth.

Hoskins best mark indoors as a sophomore was made in the Oklahoma-Kansas State dual at Norman. Switzer's and Wilson's were made at the Colorado Indoor Invitational Relays at Boulder.

Each of the jumping trio made their best sophomore marks of the outdoor season at the Kansas Relays. However, both Switzer and Wilson will have the Colorado Outdoor Relays, three days and the Big Seven conference meet in which to better their present sophomore marks. It is possible that Switzer and Wilson also will compete in the NCAA, AAU and Olympic trials in June.

Hoskins won the Big Seven conference outdoor crown as a sophomore and finished second in the conference indoor. Switzer won the Big Seven indoor championship this March.

This book is a guide to your future

Its subject: How have college graduates made out?

Published by Harcourt, Brace, New on sale at your local book store.

How this book came about

They Went to College is based on a survey sponsored by TIME, whose interest in this group stems naturally from the fact that most of TIME's readers are college-trained.

TIME is written for you and people like you, people like the thousands of graduates of the more-than-a-thousand American colleges who answered TIME's questionnaire and revealed many facets of their lives—from the courses they took, to their religious beliefs.

This mountain of data was tabulated and analyzed by Patricia Salter, West at the Columbia University Bureau of Applied Social Research, then turned over to Ernest Havemann, a former editor of TIME and a specialist at making interesting reading out of statistical material.

The result is a book of major importance to everyone.

Is it true that our colleges are turning out atheists and radicals? How do graduates stack up against the self-made men who battled their way without the help of four years in college—but got a four-year head start in the business world? Are they better husbands and wives? Is a sheepskin really worth all the effort?

You'll find answers to your future in the answers to these questions, questions that are explored in They Went to College, TIME's new book about one of America's most influential groups of people, the U.S. college graduates.

In its pages, you'll peer into the post-graduation careers of the ex-Greasy Grind, the ex-EMOC, the ex-All-Around Student and the One Who Just Sat There.

How many of them married, how many children did they have, who got divorced, who got the best jobs, what do they think of courses they took?

These are just a few of the former dark areas of conjecture and folklore lighted up by this unprecedented study.

Low-Down on Higher Learning

They Went to College is required reading for everybody who wants the real low-down on higher learning.

If you're an undergraduate, you'll learn much about your probable future.

If you're a college graduate, you'll find out how you stack up against your peers.

If you're a teacher, you'll discover what has become of your students. And, no matter what your interest, you'll find fuel for plenty of debate in this book.

Because its audience represents one of the largest concentrations of college graduates reading any major magazine in the world today, TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine, undertook the comprehensive study which is the basis of this milestone book.
