Two groups of impartial judges chose the royal candidates after Tuesday interviews.

KK's Gershwin Musical Sparked By Fine Acting

By DICK MILLER Staff Reviewer

If you don't like Gershwin, don't see the Kosmet Klub show. But if the music of that great composer, combined with a bright and colorful production, is what you are looking for, by all means go.

Despite the unnecessary length of the production, (three hours and fifteen minutes is a long time to sit in one place), the show has a color and style that make it a most enjoyable evening.

To take the production item by item: the sets were excellent, keeping the mood as well as the locale of the story well in view and adding a humor all their own. Particularly good, I felt, was the Mexican setting, and the opening scene is musical-comedy Arizona all the way through.

Mimi DuTeau and Nick Amos showed a great deal of talent and charm throughout the evening. At times it was difficult to hear Miss DuTeau, but she was pleasant to look at and her acting was quite competent. Nick Amos was completely convincing as the Eastern boy sent West, and his voice was, it seemed to me, just about right for Gershwin. His performance was satisfying in every way.

Marilyn Lehr was bright and shiny as a new brass bar-rail, and her performance kept up that impression all evening. Her singing of some of the show's best numbers was little short of terrific, especially in the deep blue number, "Sam and Delilah." Providing, with Miss Lehr, the comedy of the evening, was Hank Gibson, who turned in a finely-timed and always amusing performance as the taxi-driver turned sheriff, Phil Jackson, as the gambler, was also good, and improved as the show went on.

Dick Marrs was credibly ferocious as the bad-man and Marvin Stromer was very good in his first-act speeches about the "dear old West." Pat Loder, who ran through in the second act, was also amusing.

The dances, created for the production by Jack Moore, were for the most part excellent, although at times a little too long. The dance accompaniment to "Sam and Delilah" was excellent and Miss DuTeau's solo number in act two was delightful.

Despite some roughness and the excessive length of the production, the cast, the crew, the director Max Whittaker, and of course, the Kosmet Klub, should be congratulated for a fine production.

Tassel Applications Due Saturday Noon At Unions On City Or Ag Campuses

Applications for Tassels must be filed before Saturday noon at either city or Ag Unions.

Tassels, women's pep organization, will have its annual tea May 11 at the Pi Beta Phi house from 3 to 5 p.m. At this tea Tassel pledges will be selected from the list of candidates who have filed.

The Tassel organization is composed of one or two women from each organized house, 14 barb women at large and six Ag barbs at large. Candidates from organized houses are elected by their respective groups.

All barbs who have a 5.5 weighted average are eligible for Tassel membership.

Members of Tassels attend all home games and rallies, sell Cornhuskers and dance tickets, set up cards for the football card section, usher at campus events and work with Corn Cobs on Homecoming.

Matzke Wins $2,100 Root-Tilden Grant

Gerald Matzke, senior in Arts and Sciences college, has been named winner of a $2,100 Root-Tilden scholarship to the New York university school of law.

According to an announcement by Dean R. D. Miles of the NYU law school, Matzke won the scholarship after successful competition against four other Nebraska candidates and six candidates from the other states in the eighth Federal judicial district.

Twenty students receive the scholarship each year—two from each of the ten federal judicial circuits. The scholarships are awarded to trained lawyers who are qualified for public leadership.

Candidates are judged on scholarship, extracurricular activities, and potential capacity for unselfish public leadership, by committees of jurists and laymen.

The twenty Root-Tilden scholars will receive $2,100 annually for three years if they maintain high scholarship at NYU.

Matzke is a member of Phi Gamma Delta and Innocents societies, treasurer of the Nebraska University Council on World Affairs, and a former member of the publications board.

Gomon Completes Army Tests, Wins West Point Appointment

Hours of tedious preparation and testing finally paid off with States Military Academy at West Point for Charles Gomon, University sophomore in arts and sciences.

The work began when Gomon asked Congressman Robert D. Harrison of Norfolk for appointment consideration. Then followed weeks of study in preparation for reputedly "stiff West Point mental aptitude test."

In addition to the mental tests a rigorous physical aptitude test is required. Even with good ratings in both of these tests applicant must pass a thorough medical exam to be accepted.

Gomon spent three days at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., completing the tests and talking to army personnel from West Point.

"The biggest thing I noticed about the tests," Gomon said "is that they are done on a completely impersonal basis."

Personality did not enter into the testing in any way, he said but special interviews later were used to evaluate personality qualifications of the men.

Cadets graduate with a B. S. degree in civil engineering Gomon will enter West Point as a freshman and continue through a four year course.

Classes begin July 1 and run all year round. Cadets get no vacations their first year. The last three years they are allowed a month's vacation in the summer and about two weeks at Christmas. These are the only vacations long enough for cadets to come home.

'Unique' Pipe Contest Begins

A Kay woodie "Streamliner" pipe is being offered as prize in a contest for men students at the University.

In a unique type contest, the men competing will have nothing additional to do in order to win the new design, finger-thin pipe. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of campus accomplishments and winners will be picked by The Daily Nebraskan business staff each month. Winners will be chosen on the basis of outstanding campus records in either scholarship, athletics or activities.

The winner for this month will be notified and an announcement will be made in the April 30 issue of The Daily Nebraskan.—Advertising

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"YOUR HAIR looks as though it's been in the rain, deer," a campus Caribou told Sheedy. "If you want to horn in on the sororities, it might behoof a man of your ilk to try Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now so girl wonders whether he's man or moose!

If you're moose: it's cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and take a hair-dresser to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at the barber shop so your deer won't think you've let her down: ("What she'll say will be moose-it to your ears!")
