Farmers Fair Opens Today

Registration Dates Set

Credit Slips Now Needed

Registration for summer and fall terms, scheduled for May 12, 13 and 14, will have a new twist, Dr. Floyd W. Hoover, acting director of registration and records, announced Thursday.

The new detail in the registration process requires students to pick up grade-credit slips from the office of registration and records, Room B-1, Administration hall, before they will be admitted to the assignment committee.

The slips, according to Dr. Hoover, show a student's weighted grade average and his cumulative hours of credit on record as of Jan. 28. Students will be admitted to the assignment committee on the basis of credit hours shown on these slips.

No student will be admitted without a slip, Dr. Hoover emphasized.

Ag students may obtain their grade-credit slips from the office of Dr. Ephriam Hixson, associate director of resident instruction, Room 206, Agricultural hall.

Dr. Hoover, in announcing registration, reminded students to contact their advisers before May 12 to complete their work sheets. Appointments should be completed before registration opens.

Printed schedules of classes offered during summer and fall terms will be available in the

Flood Donations

Contributions to The Daily Nebraskan Flood Relief, supported by the All-University Fund, Student Council and various administrative officials, totaled $55.85 Tuesday evening. Donations were received from the following:

| Mabel Strong   | ..... 10   |
| Maud Melick    | ..... 5    |
| Ted Durst Ward | ..... 5    |
| Roger Heimer   | ..... 1.85 |

The need is still great. Cash or checks, made out to Daily Nebraskan Flood Relief, should be brought or mailed to The Nebraskan office, basement, Union.

Dance Begins Ag Fete

Rodeo Tops Full Program

Farmers Fair festivities will get underway Friday as students in "Aggie" garb attend the Cotton and Denim dance to begin officially the "Aggies Fiesta" weekend celebration.

Bobby Mills and his orchestra will be on hand from 9 to 12 p.m. at the College Activities building ballroom to furnish music for the be-whiskered fellows and cotton-decked girls.

Highlighting the Cotton and Denim dance will be the presentation of the Goddess of Agriculture and Whisker King. Goddess of Agriculture was elected at an all-Ag election Tuesday from 30 senior women, and the Whisker King was chosen Thursday night by the Mortar Boards.

The presentation will be made at intermission, with the Home Ec service committee in charge. Decorations theme for the dance is "Western Fiesta."

Saturday's activities will begin with a parade beginning at 9:30 a.m. It will form at 9 p.m. in front of Love Library.

Seventeen floats, a color guard and pep band will be included in the parade. The Goddess of Agriculture will ride on the Home Ec club's float.

The parade will move south on 12th street to R street. From R it will travel to 11th, on to O street, and down O street to 16th street.

From 16th street, the parade will move to Vine street and then to 33rd street. It will then go on 33rd to Holdrege street, and to Ag campus.

Following the parade a pie-eating contest will be held in the Ag Union at 11:30 p.m. More than 45 students from organized houses on both city and Ag campus are entered in the contest, which is divided into a men's and women's division. Winners of each division will compete for the championship.

Dr. Hoover, in announcing registration, reminded students to contact their advisers before May 12 to complete their work sheets. Appointments should be completed before registration opens.

Printed schedules of classes offered during summer and fall terms will be available in the

Election Slips

A representative of the office of registration and records will distribute grade-credit slips to students at Union Tuesday.

The slips, necessary for admittance to the registration assignment committee, will also be needed for voting in Tuesday's election. The slips will show not only a student's grade average and his cumulative hours but also his college.

A student's eligibility to vote for junior and senior class offices and for college representatives to the Student Council will depend upon the grade-credit slip.

Dr. Floyd W. Hoover, acting director of registration and records, Thursday advised students to obtain their slips at his office, Room B-7, Administration hall, before Tuesday to avoid the expected rush.

He also warned students to keep the slips until registration May 12-14. They will be absolute necessities to admittance to the assignment committee, he said.

KTA MEMBERS . . . Kappa Tau Alpha, national scholastic journalism honorary, has named five University journalism students to membership. They were selected on the basis of high scholarship and outstanding journalistic ability. They are (l. to r.) Jack Hart, Tom Rische, Hile Goodrich, Joan Krueger and Marjorie Van Pelt.

The English teacher took a piece of chalk and wrote on the blackboard, "I didn't have no fun over the weekend."

"Now, James," she commanded, "how should I correct that?"

"Get yourself a man," suggested James.

Overheard the comment yesterday that as spring wears on the jokes in this column get weaker and weaker. Our explanation: "Look at the calendar. Yes, there are only three weeks of classes left in this semester."

The weather today will be fair and warmer with the temperature reaching a high of 72 degrees. The lowest temperature in the morning will be 40 degrees.

A group of Warner activists promised the new pledge that his room contained a genuine feather bed. At two in the morning he limped into their room and hollered, "Fellas, you'd better come upstairs and help me look for the feather."

One fraternity man has perfected an invaluable system for approaching beautiful coeds. He says, "I'm a stranger in town. Can you direct me to your house?"

Wife: "Just think darling. Just 25 years ago today we became engaged."

Absent-minded-professor: "Really? Don't you think it is about time we were getting married?"

FARM YOUTH EXCHANGE

Mary Ann Grundman Wins Trip To Austria

Mary Ann Grundman, College of Agriculture senior, was named Friday as Nebraska's representative in the International Farm Youth Exchange program this summer. She will visit Austria.

Miss Grundman, who will graduate this June as a home economics major, will live and work on Austrian farms for three months during the summer. Then she will return and speak before various organizations to tell her impressions of the country.

An outstanding student at the University, Miss Grundman has had 10 years experience in 4-H as a member and has helped the state 4-H club office with summer camps as a leader.

Miss Grundman is the fifth Nebraska delegate to a foreign country under the IFYE project. She will be among 139 youths from the United States who will visit European countries as goodwill ambassadors.

Her expenses on the trip will be furnished by Nathan Gold of Lincoln, who has been the financial support of the trips of the other four delegates. The four included the former Helen Ochsner, Duane Sellin, John Skucius and Wanda Bath.

Miss Grundman will return in November. After fulfilling her speaking obligations she plans to teach school the second semester of the school year.

AG COED WINNER . . . Mary Ann Grundman (r.), Ag college senior, will be Nebraska's representative in the International Farm Youth Exchange program this summer. She will visit Austria. She is with Guy R. Davis (l.), assistant state 4-H club leader.

Bill Vaughn To Speak At Journalism Dinner

Bill Vaughn, editorial columnist for the Kansas City Star will be the speaker at a luncheon climaxing Journalism day at the University, Saturday.

The Honor Awards Luncheon recognizing more than 60 outstanding journalists of the territory, will be held in the Lincoln Hotel at 12:30 p.m.

Gamma Alpha Chi, Sigma Delta Chi, Theta Sigma Phi, Kappa Alpha Mu and the School of Journalism will recognize Nebraska men and women in newspaper and advertising work professionally and in high schools and University journalism seniors.

Fifteen high school seniors will receive Silver Key award for writing competition among high schools. The silver keys, bearing the seal of the school, are donated by the Lincoln Journal and Star.

Three classes of schools are entered in the competition; Class A schools having an enrollment over 600 students, class B schools having enrollment of 126 to 599 students, and class C schools will enrollments under 125 students.

Dr. William F. Swindler, director of the School of Journalism will present keys to the seniors.

Gamma Alpha Chi, women's national advertising fraternity, will reveal the winner of their "Women of the Year" award in professional advertising. The fraternity will also honor Miss Margaret Stukel of the Pender Times and Mrs. Ralph Cox of Arapahoe.

"The Headliner" award will be presented by Theta Sigma Phi, a women's journalism group.

Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity, will announce their winners for excellence in news writing during the last six months.

Winners of the annual Missouri Valley News Picture competition will be honored and awarded by the photo-journalism honorary fraternity, Kappa Alpha Mu. News photographers from Nebraska and Iowa are entered in the contest.

Thirteen Will Compete In Extemp Semi-Finals

All but 13 students were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the Delta Sigma Rho intermural extemporaneous speaking contest Thursday evening.

The winners will compete in the semi-finals Tuesday, April 29, at 7 p.m. Drawings for the semi-finals will be held Monday from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Temple building.

The original entries from three of the organized houses entered—Kappa Alpha Theta, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Chi Omega—are still in the competition.

The winners in the quarter-finals were:

Donna Tinkem, Love Memorial Hall; Noel Rasmussen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Jan Steffen, Gamma Phi Beta; Dennis Mitchem, Theta Zeta; Frank Chapman, Phi Gamma Delta; Lee Ellen Creasman, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mary Worral, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Don Overholt, Kappa Sigma; Allan Garfinkle, Sigma Alpha Mu; Gerry Fellman, Sigma Alpha Mu.

Truman Tells Of Ultimatum

WASHINGTON—President Truman declared he favored Russia out of Iran in 1945 by sending Stalin an ultimatum. The chief executive also claimed he thwarted a Yugoslav move to seize Trieste by ordering the U. S. Mediterranean fleet into the area.

A short time later a presidential press secretary, Roger Tubby, said the president had not sent a note to Stalin and that, when the word "ultimatum" was used, it was strictly layman's language.

There was evidence that the state department was disturbed by the president's statement.

Mr. Truman's remarks came in connection with a discussion of his powers in a national emergency. Reporters at the White House press conference attempted to find out what powers the president actually possesses, since he seemed to have little trouble seizing the steel industry.

Unicameral Passes Flood Relief Bill

LINCOLN, Neb.—The Nebraska unicameral legislature passed the $50,000 flood relief appropriation bill requested by Gov. Val Peterson.

The special session met for the last time Thursday morning.

Michigan Prison Rioters Surrender

JACKSON, Mich.—The nearly 200 rioting inmates of the Southern Michigan state prison agreed to surrender after officials gave in to most of their demands.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and officers of the penitentiary agreed to go along with the rebels' demands in order to "effect the release of the hostages and the cessation of resistance." Nine prison guards were held as hostages inside the barricaded cell block. The prisoners demanded reforms in personnel and procedure.

The governor also offered to throw in a steak dinner in an effort to pacify the knife-wielding convicts.

'Atomic Artillery Safe For Troops'

WASHINGTON—Gen. John E. Hull, army vice chief of staff, announced that atomic artillery would be absolutely safe for friendly troops.

The general said no atomic guns have been fired as yet, but he hinted they may be tested next year.

Maneuvers in Nevada proved that the new weapon can be used on the battlefield with safety. General Hull said the 2,000 troops taking part were able to stand up in their fox holes within about four seconds after the blast. These troops were dug in some half a dozen miles from the center of the blast area.

Fair Program

Friday
9 p.m. Cotton and Denim Dance, College Activities building.
10 p.m. Presentation of Goddess of Agriculture and Whisker King at dance.

Saturday
9:30 a.m. Parade on City campus and downtown Lincoln.
10:30 a.m. Midway opens on Ag campus mall.
11:30 a.m. Pie-eating contest in Ag Union.
1:30 p.m. Rodeo, Ag college rodeo arena, northeast corner of Ag campus.
5 p.m. Barbecue southwest of College Activities building.
8:30 p.m. Square dance in College Activities building.

Section Heads

Students interested in filling for section heads should see Dick Billig at the Cornhusker office in the basement of the Union, any afternoon during the next two weeks.

There are approximately 20 openings. Most of the applicants chosen will be those who are freshmen now. Previous experience on the Cornhusker staff is not necessary.

Elections Scheduled For Monday

Balloting for president and vice president of the Nebraska University Council for World Affairs will be held Monday, April 28 from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., at a booth in the Union lobby.

Candidates are: Allan Garfinkle, Sally Hall and Joan Krueger. The candidate receiving the second highest number of votes will be the vice president.

The election is being rescheduled for the top two offices because one presidential candidate in the previous election will not return to school in the fall.

Members will need membership cards in order to vote.

Applications for seven board positions may be made at the same booth Monday through Thursday noon next week. Students applying have been asked by Ginny Koehler, president, to sign up for an interview when applying. Interviews by new and old officers will be held Thursday, May 1, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the NUWVA office.

Board positions open are: spring conference, speakers bureau, publicity, membership, special projects, United Nations Week and mass meetings.

Names of all new officers will be announced in Tuesday's Daily Nebraskan.

'Our Report To All Nebraskans' Describes E-Week Open House

By DICK RALSTON
Feature Editor

The 40th annual engineers week opened Thursday with engineers open house—a display of the facilities and work of the students in the College of Engineering and Architecture.

Roy M. Green, dean of the college, described the open house as "our report to all Nebraskans." He said that the displays were especially aimed at high school students and, after pointing out the acute shortage of engineering college graduates, he said, "We hope that open house may serve as one means of informing high school telephone system, a mechanical man and his dog, and a small radio transmitter and receiver broadcasting ten feet. A mechanical brain and a machine that drew pictures with electrons were also featured.

The mechanical engineering department is displaying different types of engines, wood and metal working machines, welding demonstrations, and foundry work in Richards laboratory.

Charts and displays showing the condition of Nebraska's highways and methods of improving their condition were featured by the civil engineering department in Mechanic Arts hall. Different types of sils, types of construction materials, and civil defense apparatus were displayed.

In Avery laboratory, the chemical engineering department is featuring a machine that makes paper from straw. Also displayed are "dry" water and the manufacture of rayon.

Military engineers is displaying models of various types of military bridges in the drill hall of the Military and Naval Science building.

Bancroft hall, home of the engineering mechanics and agriculture departments features displays of modern farm implements and a 600-drawing display from professional engineers and other colleges and universities.
