University Singers, Symphony To Give Beethoven's Ninth

By SARA STEPHENSON
Staff Writer
Beethoven's Ninth Symphony (the "Chorale") will climax the 25th anniversary celebration of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m., Monday, May 12 in the Coliseum.
Joining the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra for this last presentation will be the University Singers and a quartet of solo voices which will perform during the last movement to Schiller's "Ode to Joy."
The quartet of soloists will include Jack Anderson, bass, junior; Ray Schauberg, tenor, graduate student in the School of Music; Marjorie Murphy, soprano, graduate assistant in the School of Music; and Janice Wagner, contralto, junior. Solo voices and University Singers will be directed by Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook. Leo Kopp will direct the Lincoln Symphony.

flute, violin and trumpet are contrasted against the strings in this achieving unique instrumental effects of balance and color.
Those possessing season symphony tickets will be admitted free upon presentation of the 1951-52 season ticket stub. Tickets are 50 cents for student and $1 for adults at all Lincoln music stores or at the door the night of the performance.
This will be a family night as well-meaning that the whole family will be admitted for the price of the adult tickets.

Three Musicians To Relate Story

The story of Beethoven's Ninth symphony will be related by Jo Smith, Barbara Gilmore and Ray Schauberg at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Room 16 of the Music building.
This discussion, sponsored by Delta Omicron professional music sorority, is being held in connection with Lincoln Symphony and University Singers presentation of Beethoven's Ninth symphony May 12.

U. R. Carlson To Speak On 'Undercover Work'

John Roy Carlson, noted journalist, author and lecturer, will speak on "Undercover Work in Europe and the Arab World" Friday afternoon in the Union.
Carlson, who was graduated from New York university in 1932, is an authority on American subversive groups and their activities.
He is the author of several books dealing with underground activities.

Kappa Alpha Theta, Rosemary Amos Win Speech Contest

Winners of the annual inter-mural extemporaneous speaking contest sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho were announced Friday.
Kappa Alpha Theta was named the organization with the highest ranking based on accumulative ratings of its two speakers, Lee-Ellen Cressman and Rosanna McLaughlin. The winning house was presented a gavel.
Rosemary Amos was announced as the highest ranking individual speaker in the contest and received an engraved silver loving cup.
Don Overholt and Lee-Ellen Cressman placed second and third respectively in the individual speaking division.
Twenty-three students representing 12 organized houses entered in the contest. Entrants drew topics concerning current events to speak on and were allowed twenty-four hours for preparation.
Judges of the speeches were debate coaches and members of the varsity debate squad.

Leadership Meet
Students interested in acting as leaders during New Student Week should attend a mass meeting at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 313, Union.
Duties and functions of the leaders will be defined. New Student Week program will also be presented in brief.
Any student, particularly male, is eligible to be a leader during the week beginning Sept. 7.

More picnic weather in the middle of the week. Today and Wednesday will be fair and mild, according to predictions of Lincoln weather authorities. A year ago the temperature rose to a high of 69. Pretty hot.

Professor—"You in the back of the room, what was the date of the signing of the Magna Carta?"
"I dunno."
"You don't, eh? Well, let's try something else. Who was bonny Prince Charley?"
"I dunno."
"Well, then, can you tell me what the Tennis Court Oath was?"
"I dunno."
"You don't! I assigned this stuff last Friday. What were you doing last night?"
"I was out with some friends."
"You were! What audacity to stand there and tell me a thing like that! How do you ever expect to pass this course?"
"Wal, I don't, mister. Ye see, I just come in to fix the radiator."
"What was the hardest thing you learned at college?" asked the proud father.
"How to open beer bottles with a quarter," said the son.

Reynolds 'Amused' By Battle Of Innocents Activities, Alums

By SUE GORTON
Managing Editor
"I wish they hadn't done this." All American Bob Reynolds told members of The Daily Nebraskan staff as he read the Bob Reynolds for Innocent story Monday in a Lincoln paper.
The Lincoln paper reported that certain members of the Innocents alumni society "are reportedly 'deeply incensed' that Reynolds, an All-American football star and leading batter with the University baseball team, was not named."
While reading the account for the first time during baseball practice, the whole controversy seemed amusing to Reynolds.
He told The Daily Nebraskan that he did not feel he should be an Innocent for he did not have the necessary average (5.2) nor the activities. "As far as I am concerned," Reynolds commented, "the matter is settled."
Elsworth DuFau of the alumni society said in the story: "A great many of us alumni are disappointed and feel deeply that a man who has brought as much credit to the University and to the state of Nebraska as Reynolds should be left out of the Innocents. They talk about activities. Isn't an All American rating enough?"
However, Bill Glassford told The Daily Nebraskan that he felt being an All American did not automatically make the individual eligible for membership in Innocents.
Glassford asserted that certain groups have certain rules for membership and that as far as he was concerned, "the rule is a rule."
The honorary Innocent society member said that he was just an "innocent bystander."
DuFau said he had talked the matter over with a "number of well-known Innocents alumni" who had agreed to do something definite about honoring Reynolds.

One-Third Turn Out To Vote

Don Pieper and Rockford Yapp were elected senior and junior class president, respectively, by narrow margins in Monday's election of class officers.
Pieper, Arts and Science college, won by a plurality of 62 votes over his nearest opponent, Ronald Raitt. Pieper polled 267 votes to Raitt's 205.
Yapp Ag college student, won over his nearest competitor, James Weber, by a margin of 53 votes. Yapp had 254 supporters to Weber's 201.
A total of 1,735 students voted of a total of 5,200 who were eligible.

Both Ag, Pharmacy Amendments Carry

Both the amendment to the Ag Executive Board constitution providing for more representation on the board and the petition allowing Pharmacy college representation on the Student Council passed by wide margins in Monday's election.
The Ag Exec Board amendment, which was voted upon only by Ag college students, was favored by a 133 to 79 margin, while the Pharmacy representation petition, voted upon by the entire University, was passed by a huge 1,318 to 389 margin.
Pharmacy college has been represented jointly with Dentistry college in the past, and the two have been fighting, for several months, for separate representation. Neither college entered enough candidates in the election to make them eligible for representation.
The Ag Exec Board amendment will provide for representation on the board from various departmental clubs, religious organizations and honorary organizations.

Reynolds 'Amused' By Battle Of Innocents Activities, Alums

Several recently graduated innocent alumni told The Nebraskan that the matter of principle and personality was involved. They felt that the out-going Innocents had the right to pick their successors.
Student members of Innocents society have not commented on the matter.
Agronomy Society Sponsors Essay Contest At Ag College
Essays are now being accepted for the National Agronomy Essay contest, sponsored by the National Society of Agronomy.
The contest is open to all College of Agriculture students. Each essay may be from 600 to 1,000 words, and it may be written on any phase of agronomy.
The essay should be written in a popular style, such as found in farm magazines.
The top three winners of the contest will receive expense-paid trips to Cincinnati, Ohio, to the National Agronomy society meeting. They will also receive $25 apiece for the publication of their essays in the magazine, "Crops and Soils."
Essays other than the top three may also be printed in "Crops and Soils," for which the writer will receive $25.
Essays should be submitted to the Department of Agronomy by May 12. Anyone seeking further information about the contest should contact Dave Sander, Room 203, Crops laboratory.
Ag Students To Learn About Job Possibilities

P.M. Headlines

By CHARLES GOMON
Staff News Writer
Petroleum Workers Settle Wages
DENVER—The Independent Union of Petroleum Workers announced a wage settlement with Standard Oil of California.
While the settlement seemed small in relation to the nationwide nature of the oil dispute, it may open the way for settlement of the remainder of the union's demands.
This refinery and pipe-line workers' union is part of a coalition of AFL, CIO and independent responsible for the strike, called last Wednesday, froze activity at key aviation gasoline refineries and distribution facilities.
As a result, Interior Secretary John H. Chapman issued an order curtailing the use of gasoline by airlines and private flyers. Chapman's order cut airline fuel by 30 per cent.
It is estimated that Nebraska has about 30 days' supply of motor fuel on hand.
Seaton Speaks Against Censorship
WASHINGTON—Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska was one of three newsmen-turned-senators who spoke sharply against President Truman's recent censorship order.
The president decreed that executive departments might decide for themselves whether or not information concerning their activities might be made public.
Senators Seaton, Monroney (D-Okla.) and Moody (R-Mich.) took part in a radio discussion on the freedom of access to information about government agencies.
Sen. Seaton referred to the executive order as "worse than the disease it tried to cure."
Reds Claim U.S. Using Germ Warfare
PYONGYANG, Korea—The North Korean radio claimed that two American fliers who were shot down behind Communist lines in Korea admitted dropping germ bombs.
The Communist propaganda machine has been vocal in its denunciation of the U.S. for alleged use of bacteria as a weapon of war. The American government, as well as the UN command in Korea, has denied the charge.
Both the UN and the International Red Cross have offered to make impartial surveys in Korea to determine whether or not germ-warfare is being used. Both organizations have been denied access to the Communist side of the lines.
Hoof, Mouth Disease Spreading
WASHINGTON—Reports that the dread hoof and mouth disease is spreading toward the U.S. from Canada has alarmed American cattlemen.
An outbreak was recently reported in southern Canada and an embargo was immediately placed on Canadian beef

AUF To Hold Mass Meet For Speakers

A special All University Fund speakers mass meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. in Room 306, Union.
The purpose of the meeting is to enlist speakers for the All University Fund drive next fall.
Bob Hasebroock, director of the speakers' board for AUF, said that all students who are interested in this phase of AUF activity are invited to attend. He added that students who participate need not have taken any previous speech courses and need not have participated previously in the activities of All University Fund.
Hasebroock emphasized that students who participate as speakers for AUF will do their work next fall, not this spring.

Union Board At Ag Elects 4 Membebrs

Four new members were elected to the Ag Union board Friday.
New senior members are Bill Waldo, member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Farmers Fair board and this year's general entertainment committee sponsor; and Don Leising, member of Ag Men's club, Voe-Ag association, Farmers Fair board and this year's hospitality committee chairman.
Junior board members are Mary Ellen Maronde, member of Kappa Delta, Home Ec club, Ag YW cabinet and Phi Upsilon Omicron; and Don Lees, Ag Men's club, 4-H club, Red Guidon and this year's general entertainment chairman.
The Ag Union board chairman will be selected next week, along with four committee chairman.
The first function of the new board will be the direction of an Ag Union fun day, scheduled for Wednesday, May 14. Activities will begin around 3 p.m., with competitive games, including races and softball.
An all Ag campus picnic will be held at 6 p.m., followed by a community sing.
