

Delts, Ag Men Reach All-U Finals

Track Team Weak—Weir

By GLENN NELSON
Assistant Sports Editor

Track Coach Ed Weir is "hoping to be lucky enough to get the same position we had in the indoor meet" in the Big Seven outdoor track and field championships, Friday and Saturday at Norman, Oklahoma.

The Husker track team was deeply concerned Tuesday about the number of squad members who have been on the sick and injured list, and said that his team is "simply not ready for a championship meet."

Coach Weir spoke words of praise for the consistently good efforts of several Nebraska track and field athletes. Among those mentioned were Don Bedker, Lee Moore, Paul Grimm, Cliff Dale and Glenn Beerline.

Bedker and Moore are seniors and will be competing in their last college track meet.

Hurdle ace Bedker performed remarkably in the Big Seven indoor meet, winning every race he entered in preliminary, semifinal and final heats. He reigns as conference indoor champ in both the low and high sticks. He failed to letter during his sophomore year at Nebraska.

Moore, Nebraska's top miler and 880 man, turned in an outstanding half mile clocking at the indoor meet at Kansas City. He churned the distance in 1:56.3, his best effort up to that time. All season Lee has been one of the most dependable NU scorers.

Grimm and Dale, who carry the biggest share of the load for the Huskers in the weights, will be counted upon for points in the outdoor championships. Both have possibilities of turning in blue ribbon performances in their respective pet events.

One of the biggest disappointments which resulted from the indoor meet for Nebraska fans was the fact that Glenn Beerline failed to score. Coach Weir described it as "just one of those days" for junior broad jumper.

Beerline has come close to 24 feet in meets this spring, and should pick up valuable points for the Cornhuskers.

Irv Thode, another junior broad jump star, scored in the Big Seven indoor carnival and should again place at Oklahoma this week end. He is closely followed by Hoppy McCue, frosh leaper.

Several of the squad members have missed a considerable number of practices due to sickness and injury. Brien Hendrickson, freshman sprinter who is entered in the 100, 220 and relay events, has just recovered from measles.

Thode and Phil Heidel, high jumper, have had trouble with injuries, and Jim Hurley, quarter-miler, has asthma. Lee Moore has shin splints which may slow him down, and Gaylord Smith may stay home nursing a leg injury.

Tentative entries for the meet: Mile run: Lee Moore, John Denny.

440-yard dash: Buele Balderston, Jim Hurley, Eugene McCue.

100-yard dash: Brien Hendrickson, Phil Heidel, Bob Fairchild.

120-yard high hurdles: Don Bedker, Gaylord Smith, Dan Tolman.

880-yard run: Dale Schnackel, Lee Moore.

220-yard dash: Brien Hendrickson, Phil Heidel, Bob Fairchild.

2-mile run: Don Wilcox, Harold Sampson, Clayton Scott.

220-yard low hurdles: Don Bedker, Gaylord Smith, Dan Tolman.

Shot put: Paul Grimm, Cliff Dale, Tom Stoup.

Discus: Cliff Dale, Tom Stoup, James Tangdall.

Javelin: No entry.

High Jump: Phil Heidel, Darrell Moreland, Bob Sand, Stan Matzke.

Pole vault: Jim Hofstetter, Jim Sommers, Robert Seidon.

Broad jump: Glenn Beerline, Eugene McCue, Irving Thode.

WINDING UP HUSKER PLAY . . . Jerry Dunn (left) and Ray Mladovich, senior members of Coach Tony Sharpe's baseball squad, will finish their college baseball careers Friday and Saturday against Colorado. Dunn is an outfielder and Mladovich a team in 1950. Other seniors on the team are Milt Frei and Bob Shortstop. Both men played on Nebraska's Big Seven championship team in 1950. Other seniors on the team are Milt Frei and Bob Diers, both outfielders.

Tigers Defeat Nebraska, 8-5

The Husker baseball team dropped its fourth road engagement in as many games Tuesday afternoon to the Missouri Tigers.

Pitcher Dick Atkinson struck out 16 Husker batters in leading his mates to the victory. He was hit hard by the Cornhusker batters, however. They collected 10 hits, including three doubles and a triple.

Missouri jumped on Nebraska's starter Ray Novak in the early innings and he was relieved by Pat Mallette. Mallette scattered the Tiger club's hits, but allowed six runs in the remaining six innings.

Bob Reynolds again led Nebraska's hitting parade for a total of three hits in five trips, including one double.

Outdoor Champ Too? It was a pitcher's duel all the way between Delt Keith Skalla and Dannehl. Dannehl, although the losing pitcher, turned in the top hurling performance but was victim of bad breaks and costly errors. The Spiker allowed but four hits while striking out seven and walking five.

Skalla allowed six hits, but spaced them effectively and continually pitched himself out of tight situations. He struck out 11 and walked eight.

The Beta Sigs jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first inning as Dannehl drove a screaming double into center field to send Roland Beideck home from first base.

It was all tied up in the bottom of the first as lead-off Mathieson doubled and then scored as Beta Sig second baseman Les Roberts muffed Karabatsos' slow grounder.

The score stood tied until the fourth when the Beta Sigs grabbed their only other tally. Del Toebben led off with a single and advanced to third as Roberts walked and Owen Otto beat out an infield hit.

Rich Eggert struck out but the situation was still serious. Dick Pearson, the hitting star of the day, then bounced a slow grounder towards first. Max Kennedy, Delt keystone man, fired the ball into home in an

Edge Beta Sigs, Delta Pi For Divisional Crowns

A crazily hopping ball and a long fly drove home the runs that netted Delta Tau Delta and the Ag Men's Club a place in the All-University finals in the intramural softball tournament. The Delts and Aggies were both forced into extra innings before capturing their respective softball divisional titles Monday night. A day of rest is in store for the two teams before their meeting for the All-U championship scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

Both teams well deserved their day of leisure after the two grueling contests. In both cases, the losing teams refused to be beaten in the regular six innings. The Delts were forced to go three extra frames while the Aggies had to play one extra chucker.

Delta Tau Delta fought from behind to defeat Beta Sigma Psi, 3-2 in nine innings, for the Fraternity crown while the Ag Men won the Independent title, 4-3 in seven innings from Delta Sigma Pi.

George Karabatsos was the hero of the Delt victory over the Beta Sigs. Jerry Yeager and Hans Mathieson led off the ninth for the Delts by walking to put Beta Sig pitcher, Spike Dannehl, in his fifth straight jam in as many consecutive innings. Karabatsos then rapped Dannehl's next pitch down the first base-line.

Beta Sig first-sacker, Frank Andresen, streaked over and camped on first base and it appeared that Karabatsos would be an easy out. It wasn't to be, however, as the ball bounced at a crazy angle, struck the bag and bounced over Andresen's shoulder while Yeager raced around third and home to victory.

Only Pearson collected more than one hit in the contest as the Beta Sig right-fielder clouted three singles in four trips to the plate.

A long fly to right field by Ag Men Don Lees in the top of the seventh inning drove in Dick Niemeier with the winning tally and gave Aggies the Independent title. Niemeier started the winning rally by leading with one out. He advanced to third as Gene Pierson singled and the sacks were loaded as Lloyd Van Vleck was walked.

Less then flew out in deep right and Niemeier targeted up after the catch and streaked across the plate with the winning run.

The score stood tied until the fourth when the Beta Sigs grabbed their only other tally. Del Toebben led off with a single and advanced to third as Roberts walked and Owen Otto beat out an infield hit.

Rich Eggert struck out but the situation was still serious. Dick Pearson, the hitting star of the day, then bounced a slow grounder towards first. Max Kennedy, Delt keystone man, fired the ball into home in an effort to get Toebben but it was too late and the bases were still loaded with one tally chucked up.

Yeager, playing left field for the Delts, saved what could have been the winning run from crossing the plate on the next play. Harvey Kroeller drove a long fly into left and Roberts tagged up at third, ready to streak home. Yeager shot under the ball and then instead of merely catching the fly, he juggled the ball while running toward the infield. When he finally gained control of the ball and stopped running he was but twenty yards beyond third base and Roberts had no chance to go home. Skall then got the final out as Andresen grounded out to second.

Skalla drove home the tying run in the fifth inning personally. With one out, Mathieson was hit by a pitch. Karabatsos, next up, forced Mathieson at second. On a wild pitch, Karabatsos advanced to second to set the stage for a single over the center by Skalla that enabled Karabatsos to score.

Both pitchers were in continual trouble from then on till the Delts finally won. The losers had men on first and third with two out in the sixth inning before Kroeller popped out to the catcher.

In the top of the seventh they got men on first and second with one out before Skalla roared Toebben to fly out and Roberts to ground out. The eighth was more of the same as with one out, there were Beta Sigs on first and third. Catcher Gerry Paulson of the Delts made a spectacular catch of Kroeller's pop foul and then Dave Olson in right field snagged Andresen's deep liner to end the inning.

Lead-off man, Beideck, reached first on a walk in the top of the ninth but the losers could not get him around.

The Delts had men on second base in each of the sixth, seventh and eighth innings with no outs, but succumbed to the slants of Dannehl before the run could cross the plate.

The champions fought back from a 1-0 deficit with single runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings while the Delta Pi's tied the court twice with single tallies in the fourth and sixth frames.

Ken Neff scored the first run of the contest as the Delta Pi speedster jashed a triple to lead off the second inning and then scored on an infield out. The first Aggie run crossed the plate in the person of Jim Peters in the third as Peters singled, stole second and then scored on an error and an infield out.

It was 2-1 for the Ag Men after the top of the fourth as Lees walked, stole second and advanced home on Carl Leising's single. A double by Jim Runyan led off the Delta Pi fourth. Runyan took second on Ken Pascall's sacrifice and then scored as an Aggie outfielder muffed a fly ball off the bat of Phil Rieland.

The Aggies duplicated the Delta Pi feat in their half of the fifth with Christian Yamate getting the hit and scoring the run as Pierson's fly was missed.

Pinch-hitter Don Loomis led off the Delta Pi sixth with a single that gave the losers a fighting chance. Runyan then singled behind Loomis and there were runners on first and third. Pascall used the sacrifice to perfection again as he squeezed Loomis home with the tying run that put the game into extra innings.

Pitchers Rich Jiskra and Rollie Haas kept control of the game, spacing the hits well and allowing no more than one run in any one inning. Jiskra, on the mound for the winning Aggies, allowed but five hits while striking out five and walking no-one. Haas was touched for eight hits as he struck out four and walked two men.

Niemeier, Leising and Peters collected two hits apiece for the victors while Runyan managed two safeties off the slants of Jiskra.

Wednesday will see the All-University championship tussle between the two Monday winners. The contest is scheduled for 5 p.m. on field one, just west of the Coliseum. As in Monday's two terrific clashes, it will be a battle of two strong pitchers in Jiskra and Skalla.

Track Coach Ed Weir indicated Tuesday that his Husker squad will be in poor condition for the conference track championship meet this week end. The Nebraska squad has been plagued by sickness and injury.

'B' Squad Completes Undefeated Season

The Nebraska "B" baseball team, coached by Ed Berg, concluded its season activities Tuesday with an unblemished record.

Although playing a limited schedule, the Bees showed power in rolling over Millford Trade school 13-3 and 16-0 and by nosing out Wesleyan, the Midwest Conference champion, 2-1.

The return match with Wesleyan, scheduled for Monday, May 12, was canceled at the Methodists' request.

Intrasquad games, designed to get a better line on prospects for Tony Sharpe's varsity squad next spring, were played Monday and Tuesday.

Fred Seger, a part-time varsity performer this year, looms as the best bet to capture a regular spot on the Husker varsity in 1953. Seger appears likely to succeed Ray Mladovich at the shortstop post.

Denny Korinek, Jack Crawford, Walt Finke and Don Becker should wage quite a battle for the outfield spots left vacant by the graduation of Bob Diers, Jerry Dunn and Milt Frei.

The "B" team outfielders will have to compete with holdover varsity members Jim Cederdahl and Dick Christoph. Cederdahl, presently a catcher, will be given a thorough trial to break into the Husker outer garden according to Sharpe's plans for the future.

Top catching prospects on the "B" team include Jerry Sandbulte and Chuck Jensen. Improving rapidly at the season's end, Sandbulte and Jensen should engage in a warm argument for the second string backstop job.

Ron Smith, Ray Weigert, Don Muenster, Bob Kremke and Bob Gleason seem to have the necessary "stuff" to make them strong contenders for 1953 mound duty.

Smith, the only left-hander of the group, Weigert, hard-throwing righthander, and Kremke combined talents to halt Millford with a no-hit job in the 16-0 game.

Virg Gottsch, Elkhorn, and Chad Taylor, Omaha, should make serious bids for starting infield assignments next year. Transfer students, they were ineligible for "B" team games this season.
