NU Purchases Science Research Instrument

The University of Nebraska is purchasing an important research instrument with a gift of $11,000 from Mrs. Margaret Wheeler Casady of Des Moines, Ia.

The instrument is an infrared spectrophotometer. Mrs. Casady's gift to the University of Nebraska Foundation will be supplemented with an additional $4,000 from the Foundation's Mortimer J. Brown Fund. The instrument costs $15,000.

The research tool will provide University scientists in the fields of physics, chemistry and biology a quick and efficient method of determining the composition or architecture of molecules. Other means are more cumbersome and time-consuming.

Mrs. Casady made the gift to the University in memory of her deceased brothers, Hiland H. Wheeler of Lincoln and Mason Wheeler of Seattle. The gift is also in appreciation of the educational opportunity offered her brothers and herself by the University.

Lincoln Students Have All-State Scholarships

The scholarships are part of a national program of interesting promising students in summer music camps.

The Lincoln awards are designed to encourage Nebraska high school students to play stringed instruments.

The students were selected from recommendations made by music supervisors in the Lincoln schools.

Tomorrow Is Final Date For Summer Sports Registration

THE LINEUP

By CHARLES KLASEK

As many of you have observed during the past two weeks, there are approximately 340 high school boys and girls on the University campus studying music, speech, and art under the guidance of University personnel. Yet it is interesting to note that a great majority of the boys enrolled in the All-State Fine Arts Course do not limit their interests and activities to music, speech, and art. Many of the boys have left enviable athletic records behind them in their various high schools.

Taking a few names at random we can see that the fellas are equally proficient in the music room as on the athletic field. Gerry Dahmke of Syracuse was a member of the Syracuse football squad that went undefeated for two years until upset by Wilber in the final game of the 1952 season. Gerry also was on the Syracuse cage squad which compiled an enviable basketball record during the 1951-52 season. Gerry plays saxophone in the All-State band and dance band.

Tom Hebard, another sax player, of Nebraska City, is well-known to fans in that area as a top-flight defensive halfback and offensive end. He is also an outstanding swimmer and lifeguard. Larry Jones, an accomplished baritone player, of Sidney, was a member of that high school's state championship track squad. He ran anchor on Sidney's winning relay team. Varsity football is also on Larry's activity list. He is only a junior.

However, about the most famous athlete at All-State is Lou Dunkak of Omaha. Lou was an outstanding basketball player and baseball player for Omaha South until his graduation this spring. While playing for the Omaha Metz Junior Legion baseball squad, Lou attracted so much attention with his pitching ability that he was offered a contract by the Omaha Cardinals. But Lou turned the contract down so that he might study piano. He is one of the finest high school pianists this writer has heard in many an age.

I could go on for quite a while mentioning such names as Don Geis of Beaver Crossing and Lloyd Castner of Ashland who have excelled both as athletes and as musicians for their respective high schools, and who clearly illustrate the fact that music and athletics can work in harmony for the betterment of the individual.

Union To Present 'Different' Film Feature Sunday

By Marilyn Moomey (Union Activities Director)

The Film Feature Sunday will offer an opportunity to see a movie which is different from the usual run of films.

The "Dance Film Festival" offers a gala program of modern dance and classical ballet on the screen. The program includes such films as "Satin Slippers," "Fable of the Peacock," "The Moor's Pavane," and "The Desperate Heart," as danced by Ulanova, Valerie Bettis and Australian Ballet Groups.

The music is taken from the works of Tchaikovsky, Straus, Chopin and Rimsky-Korsakov.

Don't let the title frighten you away as the movie is very entertaining as well as being a great classic. Don't miss the opportunity to see it.

It will be shown at 7:30 in the Union Ballroom, free to all. The Film Feature for next Sunday will be "The Razor's Edge," starring Tyrone Power and Gene Tierney.

Cancellation Of Softball, Ping-Pong May Be Forced

A lack of interest in the summer sports program may force cancellation of the softball and table tennis tournaments.

According to a Physical Education Department report only one individual has registered for the ping-pong tournament and only one team has entered the softball competition.

The closing date for registration in both the softball and the table tennis tournaments is Friday.

If no more entries file at the Physical Education office, Room 102, the softball and ping-pong tournaments will be cancelled.

Entries for the tennis tournament may still be entered at the P. E. building. The closing date for filings is July 2.

Ex-European Chaplain To Address IVCF Meet

Rev. Isaac Anderson, who served five years as a chaplain in Europe during and after World War II, will address the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting.

Rev. Anderson, whose present home is in Annandale, Minn., is here attending the Field Mobilization course which the University is offering for reserve army officers. He served in Europe from 1943 to 1948.

The meeting, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in Room 315, Union, is open to the public.

MU Fails In Title Bid; Holy Cross Wins

The University of Missouri failed in its attempt to hold the Collegiate World Series championship title in the Big 7, Tuesday night, when Holy Cross nosed them out 8 to 4.

Missouri, Big 7 champions and District 5 representatives in the series, proved hard to beat as they stayed in the game until the seventh inning, at which time they were leading 4 to 3. That was the end of it though, as the Crusaders mustered 3 runs in the seventh and two more in the ninth to win.

Missouri had been unbeaten in the tournament until Monday night when Holy Cross got five runs off a weakening Tiger hurler in the sixth inning and went on to win 7 to 3.

In their first meeting of the tournament last Friday, Missouri edged the Crusaders 1 to 0. The defeat sent Holy Cross on the long road to the finals. They were forced to play two games Sunday, in the double elimination tourney, while Missouri took the day off.

The Missouri loss kept the Big Seven from acquiring the trophy two years in a row. Oklahoma won it last year.

Book Chat Monday

"They Went to College," by Ernest Havemann and Patricia Salter West, will be reviewed by Arthur J. Vennix in the faculty lounge Monday afternoon at 4 p.m.

The book is based on a survey of U.S. college graduates made by TIME magazine and analyzed by the Columbia University Applied Social Research Department. It claims to be the first complete study of college graduates ever published covering opinions on politics, activities, family life, etc.

"They Went to College," should help to dispel some of the fables surrounding higher education, such as, that the educated do not have children, that college is a marriage mill, that Phi Beta Kappas are most likely to succeed, and many others.

Mr. Vennix, who is the Divisional Librarian in the Social Studies Room at Love Library, has been at the University since 1949.

He received his B.A. degree from Jordan College in 1936 and his M.A. degree from the University of Denver in 1949 following military service in Europe.
