Ag Campus Frosh To Eat With Profs

Rotation System Set For Better Relations

Faculty members from nine Ag departments will be present at the "get acquainted" session in the Ag Union lounge Sunday evening, according to William Waldo, Ag Union Board president.

The faculty chairman for the evening is Mrs. Urban Wendorf. She will be assisted by a student hostess, Jo Ann Meyer and a student host, Wayne White.

The departments which will be represented at the "get acquainted" meeting are the ag extension, chemistry, engineering, economics, animal husbandry, home economics, vocational education, poultry and botany.

Waldo said the dinner was being held to acquaint the faculty and students with each other, especially the freshmen and new students.

The "Pot Luck with Profs" is being sponsored by the Union, the faculty and their wives. The dinner will last from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

A new system is being used this year, he said. Each freshman will be contacted by some upperclassman to go to the dinner during the coming weeks.

Twenty-five upperclassmen will be allowed to attend the dinners with the new students, Waldo said. Each upperclassman may sign up in the Union office for admission to the session if they bring along two new students to the dinner.

Church Night Plans Made For Friday

Activities have been planned by most student religious organizations for Friday evening's All-University Church Night.

University freshmen were welcomed to the student homes during New-Student week. All-University Church Night, however, is the traditional welcome to all the students.

Wesley Foundation students will have a square dance at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Presbyterian - Congregational house is meeting at its student center for a party.

Lutheran Student Association is meeting at its new student house at 535 North 16 for rides to the Lutheran Church at 17th and A, where there will be entertainment and games.

The Cotner Association is planning a picnic for the students.

All-University Church night is coordinated by the Religious Welfare Council, with most student religious organizations on campus taking part.

University Instructor Anderson To Assist In UNESCO History

Dr. E. N. Anderson, professor of history, has been appointed to assist in the writing of a UNESCO-sponsored Cultural and Scientific History of the World.

The history is to have contributions by eminent scientists, historians, economists, and educators of the entire world.

The history is to be presented in the form of six volumes, with one responsible for the editing of each volume. Each editor will receive contributions from many authors, and will include those contributions in his particular book. Dr. Anderson was invited to contribute in the writing of the fifth volume, which will contain the account of the world's history during the 19th Century.

The men who will participate in the writing are in three groups: the six editors, the editing committee, and corresponding members, to which Dr. Anderson has been appointed.

During the next year, a journal of contributions, "Cashiers," will be published in France in the French language. This magazine-type journal will contain articles written about the certain phases of history, as they will appear in one of the six volumes.

The plans for the history have been in existence for only one year, and the entire collection of volumes is scheduled for completion in 1957. The idea for the world-wide participation in the work has been fostered by the mutual desire of historians

Student Council Proposes Migration To Kansas U

University Theatre To Move To Temple Arena For Season

Seating Limited To 124 A Night

University Theatre productions this year will be done in the Temple Arena Theatre instead of a downtown theatre.

Since the Arena Theatre seats only 124, the number of seats available for each production will be limited to about 1,000.

This year, plays will run for eight nights, Wednesday through Saturday in two succeeding weeks. Last year plays were presented for two nights only and sometimes in the middle of the week.

University Theatre is presenting the plays on week nights this year so that students will be able to attend without any conflict with week-night studying or meetings. Season ticket purchasers should stop at the box office in the Temple Building several days before the opening day of the production to reserve a seat for the particular night he wishes to attend. Kosmet Klub workers are selling tickets.

Three plays will be presented this year: Outward Bound, a fantasy drama by Susan Vane, The Circle, a comedy by Somerset Maugham, and Ghosts, a drama by Henrik Ibsen. The first production, Outward Bound, will open October 29.

With the number of seats being so limited this year, Max Whitaker, of the University Theatre staff urges all students to buy their tickets and make reservations early.

No Polio On NU Campus Yet This Year

Doctors Cite Several Prevention Measures

The University has not had any polio cases among the students thus far this year. However there still remains a serious threat from the disease according to University physicians.

Although the cause of polio is unknown, Dr. S. L. Fuenning of the Student Health Center has some advice on protection against the disease.

The most important thing to remember is to practice good personal hygiene and to avoid over-exertion or exhaustion, he said.

Anyone with a cold or headache should give it immediate attention without becoming panicky or exciting themselves. Another good point to remember is to eat plenty of the proper foods daily and avoid large crowds.

Lincoln, Omaha Overcrowding Has Decreased

According to a recent federal housing census, increases in the number of dwellings in the Omaha and Lincoln areas during the last 10 years has kept up with the population gains in both cities.

Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer, chairman of the Nebraska department of business research, who based his study on this census, commented, "The whole picture, as presented by these census ratios, is a very favorable one as far as housing in the two cities is concerned."

On the favorable side, Dr. Palmer found that overcrowding has diminished—rental values have gone up and the percentage of dilapidated, no bathroom dwellings has decreased 10 per cent.

Vacancies in Omaha dropped from 5.3 to 4.7 of a per cent. In Lincoln from 7.1 to 1.3 per cent. For the first time in the history of either city the number of homeowners exceeded the number of renters.

New Band Members See 52-53 Plans

Approves '52 Class Councils, Appoints Committee Members

The Student Council approved the Kansas-Nebraska game at Lawrence Kansas on Nov. 8 for the University's annual migration at a meeting Wednesday.

Though the Colorado game had been proposed for the migration, it was voted down by the council because of the high price of the trip; which the council felt would not permit many of the students to go. Total expenses for the Boulder trip were estimated as high as forty dollars. The expense for the trip to Lawrence is tentatively set at slightly under 10 dollars.

This decision by the Council is subject to approval by the faculty, administration, and by the railroads. If approved, the migrants will leave Lincoln on Nov. 8 at 6:00 a.m., arrive in Lawrence at 11:30 a.m. and, after seeing the game, leave Lawrence at 11:30 p.m. and arrive in Lincoln the following morning at 2:30 a.m.

The names of the migration committee members were revealed at the meeting. The committee, headed by Eldon Parks, includes Bill Adams, representing the Innocents society, Connie Clark, representing Tassels, Jim Weber, representing Corn Cobs, and Dick Newell, and Bob Peterson, representing the student council.

2. Announced that the Council office will be open three days a week. Members on duty will be Rocky Yapp on Monday from 1 to 2 p.m., John Marks, Tuesday from 2 to 3 p.m., and Wayne White on Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m.

3. Decided that the Junior-Senior Councils will be extended for the year. The members of this council will be selected from those applying by the Campus Improvement Committee.

Time and place for other activities, including those of Gamma Delta, will be announced from week to week in Friday's church column of this paper.

To help clarify Lutheran student work on the campus, Pastor Norden pointed out that the center under construction on North 16th is a project of The National Lutheran Council, while that of the chapel and center at 16th and Q, described above, is of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

P. M. Headlines

By SALLY ADAMS

NEW YORK—Dwight D. Eisenhower spoke out in favor of amending the much-disputed Taft-Hartley law. Addressing the American Federation of Labor convention, the Republican nominee did not ask for repeal of the law.

The general said the present law "might be used to break unions." Although not making specific suggestions, he said the law's non-Communist oaths should be extended to cover employers as well as union leaders.

In direct opposition to Stevenson's Labor Day speech, Eisenhower said he was against granting the president power to compel arbitration.

Eisenhower said these features of the present law should be retained: collective bargaining; right to strike; advance notice of a strike; requirement that unions and employers fulfill contracts; regular report to union members on their organization's finances.

WASHINGTON—Eighteen Midwest and West Coast Communist party leaders have been arrested by the Justice Department. The warrants charging the conspiracy to overthrow the government by force and violence were issued on the request of the FBI.

Helen Mary Winter, wife of one of the 11 top Communist leaders convicted in New York in 1942, was among those arrested. Arrests were made in St. Louis, Rock Island, Ill., Charleston, Mo., Seattle, Detroit, Los Angeles, Portland, Eugene, Ore., Chicago, and Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON—President Truman assailed the use of "the big lie" reflecting on the loyalty of government employees and the calling Gen. George Marshall "a traitor."

Not naming names, the President told the National Conference on Citizenship that "it is a big lie to attack one of the greatest generals and patriots whom this country ever had and call him a traitor."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, seeking re-election in Wisconsin, has called Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson "monumental liars" and has said Marshall is "steeped in falsehood."

Sen. William E. Jenner, who is also running for re-election in Indiana, has said Gen. Marshall is a "living lie" and "front man for traitors."

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis and the anthracite industry have come to terms on an interim agreement to prolong the production of hard coal. The present contract expires Oct. 1. The agreement calling for a boost in the royalty paid to the United Mine Workers welfare fund by the mine owners, will be in effect until a new contract is made.

Both sides said they recognized the need for a boost in royalty payments.

There is still the possibility of strikes in the soft coal mines either on Sept. 20 or on Sept. 30.

LINCOLN—Gov. Val Peterson has requested that the Corps of Army Engineers investigate the situation before raw garbage is permitted to be dumped in the Missouri River.

The governor's wife to Army Secretary Frank Pace was released shortly before Omaha dumped 60 to 80 tons of garbage in the river. Peterson said he was sympathetic with Omaha's problem by that the action must protect human and animal health downstream.

Nebraska City, which gets its water supply from the Missouri, has protested against the garbage dumping.
