Turn In Sale Books

Tassels, Cobs To

Tassels and Corn Cobs must check in their Cornhusker sales books and money to the Cornhusker office on Monday from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., stated Don Noble, Oct. 29, 30, 31, Nov. 1, 5, 6, 7, and Journalism. business manager, Wednesday.

Pep club members who do not check in Monday will be penalized accordingly by their respective organizations as far as the total number of yearbook sales unless special arrangements are made with Noble.

Monday terminates the first of three Cornhusker drives. This drive was to suggest the number of books that might be sold. The second drive, which will end in the latter part of November, will determine the number of beauty candidates that each organized women's house may nominate. The number will be based on the amount of sales.

The third and final drive, which will terminate about two weeks after second semester begins, will give new students and others who have not yet bought Cornhuskers a final chance to purchase them.

The 30,000 fans who attended the Nebraska-South Dakota football game here last Saturday consumed 5,400 sacks of peanuts, 1,400 sandwiches, 2.500 hot dogs, 7.400 ice cream bars and 8,000 bottles of soft drink.
