

HONORARY MILITARY FRATERNITYPershing Rifles Program Stresses Marksmanship, Crack Drill TeamBy DARWIN McAFFEE
Staff Writer

Pershing Rifles, Company A-2, is hard at work under the leadership of company commander, Ray Shipp and executive officer, Jack Keene, preparing for the highlight of the year which will be the annual drill meet to be held at Nebraska next spring.

Founded at Nebraska in 1892, by General John J. Pershing, P. R. has become one of the largest honorary military fraternities in the United States. Over 100 chapters throughout the country are grouped into 11 regiments according to geographical location.

The National Headquarters, located at Nebraska, is charged with the job of administering to the regiments which in turn administer to the companies.

On the company level, stress is placed on work with individuals rather than riding herd on the stacks of paperwork which the administrative work demands.

Founded for the purpose of setting up a group of cadets to serve as "examples for the rest of the Cadet Corps and to provide a crack drill team on the campus," P. R. is basically an organization for first and second year ROTC students. Officers are juniors and seniors elected by the active body and are maintained principally for leadership and guidance.

Freshman and sophomores wishing to join must first serve a period of pledgeship and, if qualified, may then receive the coveted blue cord, which distinguishes all Pershing Riflemen. Pledges are accepted continually throughout the year.

At the 5:00 P.M. Monday and Wednesday meetings the pledges are taught drill movements and the manual of arms by sophomore actives who act as non-commissioned officers. Eventually the men are moulded together as a unit and practice precision maneuvers. The final test on precision is the drill meet when they compete with the other companies in the regiment. Companies in the Second Regiment are located in the states of North and South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Nebraska.

Men interested in crack or "fancy" drill may try out for the Crack Squad which each year gives a command performance at the Military Ball.

Another honor which Pershing Riflemen hold is that of serving as honor guard for the colors which are presented at each home football game, at all ROTC parades and at various other times during the year.

But all work and no play causes P.R. Pete to lose interest. At intervals throughout the year dinner dances and stags are held to further the fellowship of all members.

Also looked forward to is the spring field problem. Last year, at the National Guard camp near Ashland, all hands present experienced a battle royal with blank ammunition popping all over the place.

Then, too, the rifle team is not to be forgotten. The Sharpshooters in the company put in long hours of practice for the drill meet rifle match which counts heavily on the total score for the meet.

Last year the famed "Jody" or "sound off" cadence was innovated and served to relieve the monotony of repetition in drill during the meetings. The University of Minnesota campus, where last year's drill meet was held, responded to:

Raise your windows, raise em high.

Company A is passing by. and served notice that Nebraska was a power to be reckoned with spiritwise and otherwise. The "Jody" is being used to good advantage again this year.

Officers on the staff include: Robert Hilsabeck, William Cecil and Ronald Wasser who are in charge of plans for the drill meet; Simon Delisi, Crack Squad commander; Jerry Spitzer, Public Information officer; and platoon leaders Reed Smith and Maurice Norton. All have a Pershing Rifle rank of Second Lt.

First Sergeant is Val Anderson while platoon sergeants with the rank of Master Sergeant are: Robert Furman, Herman Neitzel, Lloyd Peterson, and Paul Kidd who is the Company Guide-on barker.

NCO's with the rank of Sergeant First Class are: David Chapman, Don Mead, and Richard Bacon, assistant platoon sergeants; Howard Deidrichsen, in charge of the rifle team; and Richard Bacon, assistant company clerk to Master Sgt. Bill Willson. Squad leaders and assistant

Young GOP Sets Meeting Thursday

Crosby To Address Gathering In Union

An address by Robert Crosby, Republican candidate for governor of Nebraska, will lead off Young Republican activities on the University campus next Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Union.

Organization plans got underway late Friday afternoon under the leadership of Dan Tolman, senior and member of Innocents Society, and Max Harding, Young Republican in charge of state organization.

Crosby's address at 8 p.m. will be preceded by a general meeting at 7 p.m. of all University students interested in Young Republican work in the presidential campaign.

The agenda for the meeting will be approving a constitution for the group, electing officers, selling memberships and setting up committees.

Tolman and Harding, leaders of the campus organization, met Friday afternoon to discuss work that could be done in Lancaster County by University Young Republicans. Harding is offering the services of the state organization to aid the campus group in getting organized.

But all work and no play causes P.R. Pete to lose interest. At intervals throughout the year dinner dances and stags are held to further the fellowship of all members.

AUF Stickers Go To All-Out Donors

AUF symbols in the form of red stickers will be put on the doors of organized houses who have given 100 per cent to AUF. The symbols will be distributed Monday.

Five houses have already reported 100 per cent contribution. They are Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Phi Delta Theta. Rocky Yapp, vice president of AUF in charge of publicity, urges all houses to have their contributions in by Monday so they may receive an AUF 100 per cent sticker.

Work Day Scheduled For Oct. 31Program Includes Visits To Local Social Agencies

Social Work Day for college students is to be held Oct. 31 from 9:30 to 4 p.m.

The purpose of the Work Day is to give students and University teachers who are interested in social work an opportunity to visit local social agencies and to talk with social workers and social work educators.

Students who are interested will meet at the Union at 9:30. From there they will go to various social agencies in Lincoln.

Mr. Stanley Good, chief of the State Division of Child Welfare, will meet at the Union at 9:30. "Friend at the Door," a 30-minute motion picture showing the social worker at work, will be shown.

Dr. Frank Glick, Director of the School of Social Work, will discuss education for Social work.

The Work Day is being sponsored by the Nebraska Committee on Training and Education for Social Work and the University School of Social Work.

A medley of three "blues" numbers, sung and played by Phoebe Dempster; "Jealousy," a marimba solo by Mary Maude Bedford; "Hallelujah," by the Hinmon Trio; a piano comic number by Tom Schavland; and piano selections by Roger Sach.

Norman Gauger was chairman of the General Entertainment committee who sponsored the show.

Music Sororities End Sale Of City Symphony Tickets

Tickets for the Lincoln Symphony now being sold at student rates by members of music sororities went off sale Friday noon, according to Marjorie Danly, president of Delta Omicron, music sorority.

The tickets which include all six concerts being presented, sold for $5.

Symphony concerts will be given on the evenings of Oct. 28, Dec. 2, Jan. 13, Feb. 17, March 10 and April 7 in the Stuart Theater.

"Although the tickets are general admission and do not include reserved seats, the student rate is lower than general admission prices," said Miss Danly. "Tickets are not selling as well as last year, although students seem interested in the symphony because they feel they cannot afford it," she said.

Tickets are being sold by all members of the three music sororities — Mu Phi Epsilon, Delta Omicron, and Sigma Alpha Iota.

The girl in each sorority who sells the most tickets will receive a free ticket.

NOSE, THROAT,and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields*FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields — 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
