

$726.46 Collected By Teams

Unorganized Students Contribute To AUF

Contacting only 50 per cent of the unorganized students, the All University Fund Unorganized Students Collection committee has already collected a total of $726.46. The committee, headed by Adelle Coryell, is going to start an intensive clean-up campaign this week in an attempt to reach the remaining unorganized students. Miss Coryell hopes that the clean-up campaign will come to a successful conclusion some time next week.

The city of Lincoln has been divided into 11 districts, with a team captain in charge of the

100 Percenters

Fraternities that have made 100 per cent contributions to AUF are: Beta Theta Pi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, and Theta Chi. Pioneer House is the only organization in dependent house which has given 100 per cent. Sororities with perfect contributions are: Kappa Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Phi, Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Delta Tau.

solicitations for each district. One district has not been solicited due to the illness of the team captain, Miss Coryell announced that the team captain has sufficiently recovered to start the canvass of her district. The total received so far from the unorganized students is considered to be unusually large, since last year's total from this group was $97.

The ten team captains who have helped this campaign so successfully are: Mary Stransky, Lee Spencer, Beverly Jackson, Judy Pollock, Joyce Schobert, Nancy Hemphill, Ann McKamy, Jean Steffan, Barbara Carter and Helene Sherman.

Political Orator—All that I am or ever will be, I owe to my mother.

Heckler—Why not send her 30 cents and square the account.

You may as well keep those winter coats handy. It'll just barely be over 50 today. And partly cloudy, at that.

A fire engine was racing down the street, its siren shrieking, when a drunk came staggering out of a doorway. For three blocks he chased the engine shouting, "Stop! Stop!" Finally out of breath, he dropped to the pavement and shook his fist. "All right for you—you can keep your no good peanuts."

One of the presidential candidates was being interviewed by a reporter during his campaign. "Do you wish to say anything about the Taft-Hartley Act?" the reporter asked. "No." "About the Korean situation?" "No." "About Tideland Oil?" "No." The reporter started to leave. "By the way," said the candidate unexpectedly, "don't quote me."

YM-YW STUDENT POLL

261 Quizzed On Political Beliefs

Nearly 10 percent of University students do not know both names of the vice presidential candidates.

Or at least such was indicated by a poll of 261 students conducted this week by YMCA and YCWA.

The poll showed that 20 of the students interviewed did not know the names of the major candidates for the vice presidency. All 261, however, correctly identified the presidential nominees.

Of those interviewed, 166 indicated that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was their choice for President of the United States. Stevenson supporters numbered 92, with three students uncertain.

Approximately 300 questionnaires were circulated by the Battle for Ballots Commission of the YWCA between 1 and 3 p. m. Monday. Students were interviewed by poll-takers in the Union, Love Library, on Ag campus and in off-campus coffee shops. In addition to showing the trend of student thinking on politics, the poll was designed to indicate how well students are informed on political figures and issues.

According to Neala O'Dell, chairman of the sponsoring commission, every effort was made to obtain a true cross-section of students.

Nearly one-third of the students polled by the YW-YM failed to name correctly both candidates for governor of the state of Nebraska. One hundred seventy-nine were able to name Robert B. Crosby, Republican nominee, and Walter R. Raecke, Democratic nominee.

Nineteen, however, said they believed the present governor, Val Peterson, was a candidate for re-election. Four of those interviewed named Lincoln Mayor Victor E. Anderson as the Democratic gubernatorial nominee. Anderson ran against Crosby in the primary election last April.

The questionnaires listed four United States Senators and one Representative, asking students to identify the party affiliation of each. The Congressmen were Sens. John Cabot Lodge Jr., (R-Mass.), Harry Byrd (D-Va.), William F. Jenner, (R-Ind.), and Joseph R. McCarthy, (R-Wis.), and Representative Sam Rayburn (D-Texas).

One hundred fifty-four students failed to identify the party of Senator Jenner—'01 correctly labeling him a Republican. Sixty-eight missed the party of Senator McCarthy—193 were right in calling him a Republican. Fifty-five were wrong and 206 were right in identifying Democratic Senator Byrd. Forty were wrong and 221 were right in naming Senator Lodge a Republican.

Congressman Rayburn led the identification quiz with only 36 students failing to call him a Democrat. Two hundred twenty-five were accurate.

In addition to asking students who their presidential choice was, the questionnaire also asked, "If you were to register at this time, would you register Democratic or Republican?" The same number as supported Eisenhower, 166, declared they would register as Republicans. Ninety-two, the same number as favored Stevenson, said they would sign as Democrats. Three students were uncertain.

The final question in the poll was, "How many issues of the campaign can you name?" The average number of issues (all suggestions being accepted) was three from each person. Sixty-five students however, failed to name a single one.

Corruption, foreign policy and Communism in government were most frequently mentioned.

The poll was conducted in conjunction with the Y's mock election scheduled for Oct. 31. Results of voting for presidential candidates will be compared with the preferences indicated in the poll.

Council Picks Big-7 Envoys

Yapp Submits Parking Violation Plan; Administration To Air Suggestions

The Student Council Wednesday elected two delegates and three observers for the Big Seven Student Government convention to be held at Columbia, Mo., Dec. 12, 13 and 14.

Wayne White, Council president, and Don Noble, first vice president, will be official delegates. Observers elected were Rocky Yapp, Janet Steffen and Bob Peterson. A faculty member will also make the trip, with expenses paid by the Council.

A suggestion regarding parking fines, was submitted to the Council by Rocky Yapp, parking committee member and the Council voted to submit the report, as a suggestion, to the administration. The Council did this, Yapp said, to "determine the legality of such a plan."

Yapp's suggestion, which called for fines for parking violations, to supplement or take the place of rustication (removal of a student from school for a week).

According to Yapp, J. P. Colbert, Dean of Student Affairs, requested a concrete suggestion before he could consider the matter and determine its legality. Council members stressed that in case a parking fine plan is approved by the administration, the Council will then give its official opinion of the proposal.

Yapp's suggestion reads as follows: "The Student Council of the University submits the following suggestions to the administration, concerning existing parking regulations:

1. Parking fines should be investigated as an intermediate step between the third parking violation and rustication. The amount of the fine would be determined by a joint faculty-student committee. Regulations concerning the administering of these fines would be as follows:

"1. Having received two warning tickets, and upon receipt of the third ticket, the parking violator will proceed to the campus police headquarters and pay a specified fine.

"2. The specified fine will be paid on every ticket after the second ticket has been issued.

"3. If the student refuses to pay or neglects to pay the fine within one week of the date of the violation, he will then be rusticated from the University.

"4. The campus police will handle all violations.

"5. The funds derived from the parking fines would be placed in a scholarship fund, sponsored by the University Student Council."

Other Council business included the assignment of discussion topics for the Big-Seven convention. Several Council members were assigned to make reports on various subjects for the delegates to take to the conference.

Those assigned were: academic affairs, Eldon Park; student organizations and social events, Mac Bailey; student government organizations, Janet Steffen; student welfare, Marilyn Erwin; athletic and interschool activities, Dick Huebner; public and alumni relations, Rocky Yapp and finance, Eldon Park.

Students or faculty members who have ideas on these subjects which they would like to have discussed at the Big-Seven meet, should contact those in charge of the topic reports, according to the Council.

Governor Discusses NU Budget

Peterson Says Question Lies With Taxpayers

Gov. Val Peterson discussed the requested budget for the University in a press interview held Monday evening.

Governor Peterson admitted that he had not seen the official budget that was submitted by the University, but was basing his comments on newspaper articles that carried the amount for the coming biennium.

When asked about the 31 per cent over-all increase in the budget he said, "It has been my hope that all state institutions in the coming biennium would be able to operate on the same appropriation that they did in the past biennium."

On the question of salaries paid University officials, the Governor declared that "These sums are out of line with the salaries paid in the Statehouse." He went on to add that the solution was not to cut University salaries, but to increase those of state officials.

Governor Peterson said that the salaries of state officials are not always in keeping with those of University officials when the comparative importance and responsibility of the respective positions are considered.

He said that he could not pass official judgment on the proposed budget until he had studied it carefully. "There is still the big question I have raised every two years, how much can the taxpayers afford to pay, granting the worthwhileness and desirability of the activities involved."

He went on to add that the University is only one of the four big spending agencies and that the other three would have equally good reasons for equal increases.

Childs to Talk At Conference Saturday P.M.

Marquis Childs, nationally-known columnist, will address the Nebraska State Historical Society and Native Sons and Daughters organization Saturday evening at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Childs will discuss "American Roots in a Time of Change," at the 6:30 p.m. banquet, which is open to the public.

Iowa-born Childs started his career with the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He has traveled throughout the world, is the author of several books, and is "a truly delightful person," according to James E. Lawrence, president of the society.

Banquet tickets, at $2.50 each, may be bought in the Cornhusker lobby the night of the banquet. Persons wishing reservations are requested to call the State Historical Society at 2-4302 and leave their names. Lawrence will be toastmaster for the event.

The Nebraska Historical Society and Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska are both holding their annual meetings in Lincoln over the week-end.

Political Sessions Open At Presby

The first of a series of informal political TV and radio sessions was held at Presby House Monday night in an effort to stimulate student political interest.

The Rev. Rex Knowles, Presbyterian-Congregational Student Pastor, said that the meeting and discussions prompted by the Stevenson speech last night struck a keynote to the series of political discussions that will be directed toward speeches of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates. The meetings, he said, will be conducted throughout October and will culminate in an all night session Nov. 4.

Robert Green, a third year law student, will direct the discussions after the televised or broadcasted speeches have been heard.

Bill Ramer To Speak At IVCF Meet Thursday

Bill Ramer, Inter-Varsity staff member from the University of Kansas, will be the special speaker at the Thursday evening meeting of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

The meeting will be held in the Union, Room 315, at 7-9 p.m. Rev. Ted Johnson, of the Small Lutheran Church, Fremont, will be the speaker for next Thursday's meeting.

Four Hundred Coeds View Activity Mart

Organizational Booths Total 17

Freshman coeds are now in activities.

Approximately 400 girls went through the AWS Activities Mart Wednesday to get acquainted with University activities.

Activity choices were offered in almost every field of interest through the 17 organizations who had individual booths at the mart.

According to Phyllis Kort, secretary of A. W. S., the response this year seemed to be more enthusiastic than in the past, and the girls seemed genuinely interested in the activities for which they signed up. Freshmen comments were varied as to the value of the mart.

One coed remarked that it was a fine way for the freshmen to become acquainted with the organizations, and to find out which one best suited their individual interests.

Another said she felt too many activities were being thrown at her at once, and it was difficult to decide for which one she would like to work.

Booths, decorated to illustrate the various functions and duties of each organization, gave the 400 freshmen an idea of what would be expected of them in the activity. Representatives gave additional information to those interested.

There was a steady attendance throughout the afternoon, but according to Jean Speidel, NUCWA representative, the largest crowd was during the last half hour when all freshmen were out of classes.

The 17 organizations represented were: BABW, All University Fund, Associated Women Students, YWCA, NUCWA, Wesley Foundation, Women's Athletic Association, Tassels, Student Union, American Red Cross.

Builders, Cornhuskers, Coed Counselors, Daily Nebraskan, Congressional-Presbyterian Fellowship, Home Ec Club, and Newman Club.

Name Three Judges For Penny Carnival

Rev. Richard Nutt, Methodist Student Director; Miss Mary Gutherie, Home Economics Instructor and Dr. Arthur A. Hitchcock, Director of Junior Division have been chosen to be the judges for Penny Carnival Saturday. Their decision and the voting of the students attending will determine the winner.

Voting for the booths will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and the winners will be announced at 4:30 p.m. Voters must have their tickets punched by six different booths or their votes will not be valid.

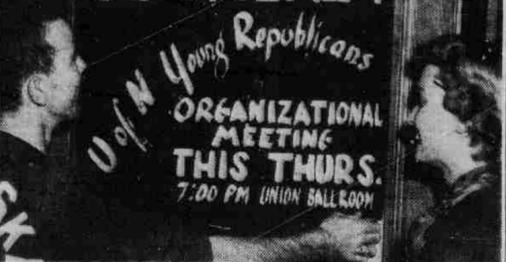

The booths will be displayed in the Union Ballroom on a competitive basis with the winning booth receiving a traveling trophy.

Nine O'clocks Stop Friday Pep Rally

Fans probably won't be present to see the lion-hunting varsity squad off Friday morning.

The team will leave the Union after breakfast, about 9 a.m. Since a great many students have classes at this hour, the rally committee decided against an early morning rally.

A rally may be planned to welcome the team home, if the members of the rally committee are notified of the arrival time before the team gets home. The present arrival time is scheduled between 4 and 6 p.m. Sunday. If a rally is planned, it will be adequately publicized and all members of the pep groups and organized houses will be notified.

At the meeting of the rally committee Monday night plans were begun for the rally preceding the Missouri game and for the two Homecoming rallies.

Government Offers Jobs To Students

Students with good backgrounds in political science, economics, public administration, international relations or related fields and who are interested in a career in foreign affairs management may be considered for a State Department trainee program.

The Department will use the Civil Service Commission's Junior Management Assistant Examination as part of the selection process for its program. The examination opened Tuesday and will close Nov. 11. It is important that students who wish to be appointed in the Department compete successfully in this examination.

A nominating board composed of faculty members will screen qualified students from among JMA competitors and nominate the most outstanding candidates for consideration.

Trainees are given regular work assignments under the guidance of a training counselor. Some time is allotted to orientation, counseling and seminars. A trainee progresses to positions of greater responsibility as he demonstrates capacity for advancement.

Women's Marine Corps Sets Interview Date Wednesday

Marine Corps 1st Lt. Margaret L. O'Neil will be on campus Wednesday to interview applicants for Women Marine Officer Candidates.

First Lieutenant O'Neil will screen candidates from Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Colorado and Nebraska. She received her BS degree from Bridgewater, Mass., Teacher's College before she entered the Marine Corps in 1950. She has attended the Women Officers Training Class and Instruction Course at Quantico, Va., and the US Naval School of Justice at Newport, R. I.

Candidates for Women Officers Training Class must be between 18 and 27 years of age and a graduate of, or a student at, an accredited college or university. The candidates will receive training at the Marine Corps Schools

Young GOP Sound-Off Thursday

Rally, Parade To Precede Meeting

University Young Republicans will sound-off Thursday night at an organizational meeting.

A band and rally will form before the meeting to parade down fraternity row. All groups and individuals interested in joining the rally and meeting have been invited to be on 16th St. at 6:45 p.m. by Dan Tolman, acting president.

Bob Crosby, Republican candidate for governor of Nebraska, will address the group at 8 p.m. His speech will cover the topic, "The Place of Young People in Politics." He was originally scheduled to be in Hastings Thursday to campaign with Robert Taft. The organizational meeting will include election of officers, approval of constitution, and setting up committees.

Young GOP at the University is being organized as a permanent group, affiliated with national and state Republican organizations. Memberships will be sold.

Infantrymen Smash Triangle Hill

SEOUL—American infantrymen smashed over the top of Triangle Hill Wednesday and battled their way down the northern slope. Meanwhile more than 1,000 Reds counterattacked on Sniper Ridge two miles east. A front line officer said they were "fighting for every inch" against the Reds.

A cable hoist sped food and ammunition to the top of Triangle where Allied troops expected a Chinese counterattack. An Allied officer said American casualties were much lighter than in Tuesday's opening battle.

UN Forces Stage Mock Invasion

WITH TASK FORCE 77 OFF KOREA—United Nations staged a mock invasion of the East Korean coast after deliberately tipping off the Communists. The plan was to have Reds expose large numbers of the estimated 250,000 men in the Kojo Peninsula area 30 miles south of Wonsan. It was not known whether the Reds fell for the trap.

American troops assembled the largest amphibious force since the 1950 Inchon landing. Nearly 100 ships took part approaching within three miles of the Korean coast. Infantrymen aboard believed they really were going to assault the beach. However, they just climbed down cargo nets in full invasion gear, boarded landing ships, and then were taken to the other side of their mother ships and climbed back aboard.

The secret maneuver was revealed at 11-hour so that Communists could not say the 20-wave assault force was "turned back" at the beaches or "scared" into not landing.

Army Preparing 'Atomic Cannon' Use

ABERDEEN, MD.—The Army is getting ready to fire an actual atomic shell from the 11-inch weapon it already has dubbed an "atomic cannon." Army Secretary Frank C. Pace Jr., made this disclosure after a public demonstration of the 85-ton monsters specially designed to fire atomic missiles.

So far the atomic cannon has not fired anything but a conventional high explosive shell. Pace said in future tests it will fire an atomic shell. He made it clear that atomic munitions are being produced at least for test purposes.

The Army says the highly maneuverable gun can unleash atomic violence with pin-point accuracy on targets up to 20 miles away. It contends it could inflict mass slaughter on enemy troops grouped for an offensive.

KFOR Granted TV Rights

LINCOLN—Station KFOR has been granted its television application by the Federal Communications Commission. James Stuart, president of the Cornbelt Broadcasting Corporation, said it was assigned Channel 10. TV studios will be in the new building being constructed at 48th and Vine next to the KFOR transmitter.

A spokesman said the station may be in operation within six months. KFOR is the second Lincoln station to receive a TV permit. KOLN received similar authorization last month.

Corn Cobs, Tassels Open Sale Of Homecoming Dance Tickets

Ticket sales for the 1952 Homecoming dance will start Thursday.

The tickets will be $5 a couple and may be purchased from any Corn Cob or Tassel or, after

Nov. 5, in the booths at the City and Ag Unions. The Homecoming dance will be held Nov. 15 in the Coliseum. Dancing will be from 8:30 p.m. until midnight to the music of Ralph Marterie and his orchestra.

Marterie has one of the most promising new dance orchestras today, according to a poll of music critics and disc jockeys, although the orchestra has been organized only since early in 1951.

Marterie's ability with the horn has earned him the title of "Caruso of the Trumpet," and many of the band leaders with whom he has worked call him the "man born for the horn."

A musician's son, Marterie was playing professionally at the age of 14 and at 17 he had settled down to regular studio work with the radio networks in Chicago. He has played with band leaders Paul Whitman, Percy Faith, Russ Case, John Scott Trotter, Frankie Black and Roy Shields.

During the second world war he served in the Navy. Marterie organized a Navy band and toured the country aiding the sales of millions of dollars worth of war bonds.

and Cob workers may check out their dance tickets this afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Corn Cob office. If the workers can not obtain tickets at this time they should notify Marty Lewis, Corn Cob treasurer.

After his tour of duty he returned to the radio and did his own network show from Chicago over a major network. In 1949 he signed a long term contract with the Mercury recording company. Don Noble said that Tassel
