

The Lineup Halftime Formation Would Honor Reynolds

It Has Been Proposed . . .

On the editorial page of today's Nebraskan appears a Letter from the sports editor of the Lincoln Star, proposing that the University of Nebraska ROTC band, the card section, and cheering section unite in honoring Bob Reynolds during the half of one of the two remaining home games. This column favors this proposal highly if it is carried out in the proper vein. Let's honor Bob as an All-American, a great football player, a graduating senior, and a great guy—not as a player whose football career was ended by an injury.

We talked briefly with Don Lentz, director of the University band, that if the proper arrangements can be made with the athletic department, the band and card section, supervised by Gamma Lambda, will gladly insert a formation in its halftime show to honor the "Ramblin'." Whether Bob plays or not the remainder of the season, the halftime tribute is one he has earned and deserves.

If You Don't Succeed . . .

In our last column Tuesday we ended with a short paragraph on last Saturday's colorful spectacle, Band Day. However, because of lack of space, the "meat" of the paragraph was cut from the column. So we'll continue where we left off. Each one of the 3,500 preppers had an instrument that was valued at a minimum of $50. This means there was a grand total of $175,000 worth of instruments on the field during the halftime performance. Each one of the high school musicians also had a uniform with a minimum value of $50. This meant there was at least $175,000 in uniforms on the playing field. Thus Nebraska football fans saw, in addition to a grand and colorful halftime presentation, a $300,000 extravaganza. Yes sir, it costs a lot of money to outfit our musical organizations this day and age.

Wildcats Are Battered . . .

It was quite a rough game we had at Memorial Stadium Saturday. An even dozen men were on the injury list when the Kansas State football team reported for a light workout Monday afternoon. Three of them have knee injuries and will not be able to play in Saturday's game against Tulsa University at Tulsa. They are ends Jack McShulskis and Ken Barr and tackle Larry Harishorn.

Three others have injuries which may keep them out of action. Linebacker Dennis Kane has a head injury; linebacker E. Pence has a broken rib, and tackle Earl Meyer has a broken finger and a severely strained neck. It was first thought that Meyer's neck was broken rather than strained. The other six are nursing bruises to be in shape for Tulsa.

Husker Workhorse . . .

Quarterback John Bordogna has developed into the workhorse of the University of Nebraska football team. John leads the Scarlet in net yards gained (362); on the greatest number of rushes (81); has thrown 26 of Nebraska's 42 passes, 11 of them complete for 161 yards, and has scored 5 of 17 NU touchdowns. His scoring total of 30 points is second only to that of Bob Reynolds who has registered 31.

Bordogna carried 25 times for a net rushing gain of 143 yards against Kansas State last Saturday, and threw 9 passes for 3 completions and 74 yards. John's record looks good now and he has done a fine job in leading the Huskers from the quarterback slot. However, at Penn State this weekend, he will get his real test. Whether or not he will be ranked with the great quarterbacks of Nebraska history will depend on his performance at Penn State and the subsequent Husker foes. On his shoulders will rest the responsibility of maintaining the Cornhusker win streak.

Penn State Stalwarts

FACE HUSKERS SATURDAY . . . Don Barney (left) and Bob Pollard, who will start against the Huskers Saturday when NU plays at State College, Pa., are expected to be top threats to the Husker cause. Barney is a veteran defensive guard. Pollard, a halfback, is leading ground gainer for the Lions. The game will start at 12:30 p.m. Lincoln time.

Betas, Kappa Sigs, Sig Alphas Win Intramural Football Games

By BILL MUNDELL
Intramural Sports Columnist

Previously unbeaten Phi Gamma Delta and heretofore winless Kappa Sigma did abrupt about-faces in the intramural grid wars Tuesday evening and suffered their first loss and gained their first victory, respectively.

Beta Theta Pi staged a terrific fourth-quarter spurge to hand the Phi Gams their first defeat in four games, 22-13 and climb into a tie for second place in league II. The Betas, trailing 13-7 going into the final stanza, powered across 15 counters to drop the Fijis from the ranks of the all-victorious.

The losers tallied first as in the opening period Ladd Hanson fired a short pass to George Barlow, who in turn scampered 30 yards to paydirt. It was 13-0 midway in the second stanza as Marty Young flipped to Fiji Don Bekder for the score and then to Ed Schmidt for the extra point.

The Betas began the long road back with Bob Howey talking just before the half and Tom Harrington garnering the point.

Miller of the Sig Alphas crashed through and covered a Sig fumble in the end-zone for the game's only tallies.

The victory kept the SAE's in a tie for first in league I while the loss, the third in four tries for the Sigs, dropped the losers into the league cellar.

Phi Deltas Edged

Sigma Phi Epsilon scored in the daylight and again in the darkness to edge a fighting Phi Delta Theta outfit on a narrow 7-6 yardage-decided score. The defending champion Sig Eps, had to ward off a Phi Delt extra point attempt in the third quarter and then hold their own in the final stanza to shove the game into overtime play which was staged in the gloomy dusk of the evening.

The fired-up Phi Deltas shoved the favored Sig Eps all over the field but finally fell before several bad breaks.

A wobbly Phi Delt pass in the second period found the arms of Ep Bill Anderson who in turn returned the ball to the Phi Delt one-yard line, a 13-yard return. Ted Kratt found a hole in the Phi Delt line and plunged for final yard for the game's first six-point.

The Phi Deltas took control of the game from that point and scored three touchdowns, but saw penalties call back two. The one that counted came on a Louie Roper to Tom Hartley 20-yard pass and knotted the score at 6-6. Twice more the losers marched down the field to gain what appeared the valuable touchdown only to have offside penalties interfere.

The Sig Eps, themselves, mustered a last-ditch drive late in the game that carried to the Phi Delt five, but found the opposition stiff and lost the ball on downs.

It was the case of who caught the ball in the overtime period. The Sig Eps tried for yardage first and ripped off 20 yards before a pass-interception halted them. The first Phi Delt attempt was in the form of a 30-yard pass that in the gathering darkness could only be judged as caught. A Phi Delt completion would likely have resulted in a victory for them and a Sig Ep interception would reverse the final tally.

It took several seconds to learn that the happy man with the football was Sig Ep Bob Svanda and the ball game was finally over.

The win kept the Sig Eps with a 3-1 record in a tie with SAE for first of league I while the loss, third in four tries, dropped the Phi Deltas into the league cellar with Sigma Chi.

The final game of the day saw Acacia gaining a forfeit win from Zeta Beta Tau, thus eliminating the Zetas from playoffs and boosting the Masons record to 3-1.

Intramural Tennis, Golf Finalists Play

By BILL MUNDELL
Intramural Sports Columnist

Intramural golf and tennis rapidly approached the semi-final play in the individual tournaments Tuesday as the fields were narrowed down to 25 men in the golf championships and 19 men in the battle for the All-U tennis crown.

Three men have already won berths in the semi-finals of the golf championship bracket, top of the four flights. They are Herb Mayer of Phi Kappa Psi, Roger Ghode of Alpha Tau Omega and Jack Moore of Phi Psi. The winner of the Al Blesinger, ATO and Lou Roper, Phi Delt match will join these three in further competition in the top flight.

Match play in this flight as well as the following flights up to the semis should have been played and recorded by last Tuesday.

Flight one finds Tom Kissler of Kappa Sigma, Larry Kreiger of ATO and Dave Downing of Sigma Chi already holding semi-final berths. The fourth position will be occupied by Dick Schilling of Delta Tau Delta, Bob Russell of Sigma Phi Epsilon or Don McKenzie, an independent.

Holding semi berths in flight two are Mike Van Horne of Delta Upsilon, Jim Munger of Phi Delta Theta and Keith Crowley of Sigma Chi. Either Jerry Hare of Phi Psi or Ted James of ATO will be the fourth man.

Only Ron Karnett of Phi Kappa Psi has reached the semis in flight number three. One berth will go to either Dean Jameson of Sigma Phi Epsilon or Allison Burns of Phi Psi while three men battle for each of the remaining two spots.

Bob Batley, Sig Chi meets the winner of independent Wayne Sinek and Phi Delt Joe Carter for one spot and Phi Delt Lee Roberts faces the winner of Phi Delt Dick Schrock and Sigma

Nu Steve Sutton

A total of 12 men still remain in the consolation bracket, made up of men who lost their first-round match play.

In the tennis championships, tournaments three and four have already set the stage for semi-final competition. Tourney three finds Frank Redman an independent, Jerry McKenzie of Phi Delta Theta, Marshall Becker of Sigma Alpha Mu and Gordon Gay of Presby House ready to do battle.

Tourney four has Roy Colson an independent, Steve Sutton of Sigma Nu, Jimmy Collins of Acacia and Stu Reynolds of Beta Theta Pi as its four remaining men.

Independent Don Isherwood, Beta Bob Tawney and Phi Gam Barry Larson have reached the semis in tourney two with the fourth spot going to either Don Bohmont of Sigma Chi or Dwight Fritts of Phi Kappa Psi.

Jack Shull of Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Nu Jim Campbell are awaiting the outcomes of two matches in tourney one. These matches are between George Karabatos of Delta Tau Delta and Bob Bachman of the Phi Psi's and between Dekt Roger Sack and Phi Psi Don Frei.

Dorm Stages Table Tennis Tournament

The intra-dorm ping pong tourney got under way Tuesday evening. Singles only will be held.

Each dorm will enter their respective winners and runners-up to play representatives from the other dorms.

All matches will be played in the basement of dorm B from 7 to 9:30 a.m.

Distance Trackmen Work; Scott Wins

By GARY FRANSDEN
Sports Staff Writer

Clayton Scott, the Grand Island distance wizard, finished far ahead of four other cross-country team candidates in a 3 1/2 mile trial run on the north field Wednesday.

Bob Rutz, Don Wilcox, Ferris Doling and John Denny finished in that order behind the swift-footed Scott. Missing the Wednesday affair was Gene Yelkin, a well seasoned veteran. Coach Ed Weir announced that Yelkin will be lost for the season as it was learned that the Franklin runner has used up his eligibility.

It will be back to the Pioneer Park today for Weir's cross-country team. Starting at 4 p.m. another 3 1/2 mile test will be held. This afternoon's run will be the third of the young season at spacious Pioneer.

Hobe Jones and Ken Jacobs, two former mainstays on Weir's track and field squad, have returned for the armed services and should give the Cornhusker distance corps a well needed uplift when the second semester rolls around.

Both boys placed in the Big

Seven Indoor Track and Field meet of 1951 when Weir's proteges roared to the title at Kansas City.

Meanwhile the rest of the Nebraskan track squad has been working out regularly. Two sophomores speedsters Brian field, have been looking good as has hurdler Dan Tolman. Tolman plagued by injuries last year, is working into fine shape, Weir disclosed.

Paul Grimm and Cliff Dale have been setting a fast pace in the weights division while a third man, Larry Smith, is recovering from a recent auto mishap and should resume his workouts shortly.

The motorist was lost. Suddenly he saw an old man approaching.

"Hi!" he shouted, "Do you know the way to Riverton?"

The old man shook his head. "No, danged if I do," he said.

The motorist drove on slowly and when he had gone about half a mile, he heard shouts behind him. The old man had been joined by another and they were waving him back. Slowly and painfully he backed his car down the narrow road.

"Well!" he said.

"This is me mate, George," said the old man. "E don't know the way, either."

NU Ranks 47th On Poll

Michigan State's top-sided win over Texas A&M last Saturday puts the Spartans in the top rung of the Williamson's System weekly ratings.

The Huskers are rated 47th behind four other Big Seven schools. Oklahoma is ranked fourth, Kansas is thirteenth, Colorado is 27th, and Missouri ranks 42nd.

Iowa State and Kansas State rank 78th and 85th respectively. Riding in the runnerup spot is Duke, followed by California.

Purdue, Maryland, Southern Cal, Georgia Tech, Virginia, and Villanova comprise the remainder of the top ten in that order.

NU Concessions Sales Boom

Cornhusker athletes sold 60,083 individual concession items at Saturday's Kansas State-Nebraska football game here, including 17,150 bottles of soft drink, 8,500 ice cream bars, 6,137 bags of peanuts, 3,000 apples and 2,340 eyeshades.

Individual sales numbered only 34,900 the week before.

Concessions Director L. F. Klein said sales at the game were the greatest on record.

Presence of 92 buses, which brought some 3,500 high school musicians to the game, increased the football parking problem with an estimated total attendance of 40,000 persons.

'Hawk-Sooner Clash Heads Nation's List

By BART BROWN
Sports Staff Writer

The game awaited by the nation will be played in Lawrence, Kansas Saturday when the league-leading Jayhawks clash with the power-packed Sooners.

In this week's Associated Press ratings, Oklahoma is ranked 6th in the nation, and Kansas 8th. Big Seven supremacy hangs in the balance, with the winner of this game probably ruling the league for the remainder of the season.

The Sooners were tied by Colorado in their opener, then roared back to swamp Pitt and Texas. They have shown explosive power in the running of Buddy Peake, Billy Vessels, and Buck McPhail.

The Sooner defense has not looked too sharp this year, having yielded three touchdowns in each game to date.

The Hawk's record reads four straight, with wins over TCU, Santa Clara, Colorado, and Iowa State.

Charlie Hoag and Bob Brandeberry are leading the Jayhawk ground attack this year. Former Army defensive star Gil Reich has proved to be an effective clutch player from his quarterback slot.

Battered Iowa State, after losing to Illinois, Nebraska, and Kansas, is in order, take on Colorado this week. Colorado had a breather last week in Little Arizona University and should be fresh for this one. No Colorado players are on the injury list, and little Woody Shelton has returned.

Missouri faces a traditional foe in Oklahoma A & M this week. Missouri boasts only one in this year, but have shown that they could play good ball in close ones with Maryland and California. Two former Army stars clash head-on when Bill Roweckamp, Missouri fullback, and Elmer Stout, A&M fullback meet.

Kansas State also faces a tough foe in Tulsa. The Golden Hurricanes were upset last week by Houston, but K-State will be

NU Stresses Passing Drills

By GLENN NELSON
Sports Staff Writer

Coach Bill Glassford's Cornhusker football team, aside from the loss of Bob Reynolds, was reported in excellent condition Wednesday as the Huskers prepared for Saturday's clash at Penn State.

The stress was on pass defense and pass protection as Coach Glassford directed his men through contact drills. No scrimmage work was on the agenda, however.

A homecoming crowd of 30,000 is expected to witness the game at State College. It will be the fifth meeting between the two schools.

Nebraska will boast the second best rushing offense and fourth best rushing defense marks in the nation when the game opens at 1:30 p.m. Eastern Standard time, although the team will miss the duty of star halfback Reynolds.

John Bordogna, Husker quarterback, will be the main offensive threat for the Huskers. He ranks ninth in the nation in rushing this week, as well as being considered the most dangerous Cornhusker passer.

Penn State will send a team that has completed 45 passes in 88 attempts for 616 yards against the Scarlet aggregation.

Tony Rados, Penn State quarterback, has pitched 73 aeriels for 38 completions and 503 yards to become the 10th ranking passer in the country.

The Lions also will present a great offensive end in Jesse Arnette, who ranks 14th among the nation's pass receivers. He has caught 16 throws for a total of 170 yards.

Both teams are currently carry-

year, though he has not been a starter.

Last year as a freshman Jim lettered while playing at halfback. He averaged about 5 yards a carry, proved an adept pass catcher, and led the team in punting with a 42 yard average.

Jim is a home town boy, having graduated from Lincoln Northeast High School. He was an outstanding high school athlete, starring in football, basketball, and baseball. Last spring Jim was a top-flight catcher on the Husker baseball team.

With a little more experience, which he would rapidly receive, Cederdahl might well be the man that Glassford is looking for, for he has the ability and desire to become a Husker great.

Husker Rushing 4th In Nation

Nebraska has climbed to fourth in the nation in rushing defense this week but dropped to ninth in total defense, according to statistics compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Only Fordham, Navy and Virginia head the Huskers in rushing defense. Last week Nebraska ranked eighth.

In four games, Nebraska foes have averaged only 79.5 yards on the ground. Lone Husker opponent ranking in the top 10 in this department is Kansas in ninth place with a 97.5-yard average.

In total defense, Nebraska has a 195-yard average. Last week the Huskers were sixth. No NU opponents are in this group.

In punting, Colorado ranks third with a 44.1-yard average on 18 punts and Missouri is tied with Illinois for 10th with an average of 42.2.
