EDITORIAL PAGE

WEEKEND IN THE ROCKIES -

Hindsight

running things.

In this particular case, The Daily Nebraskan will implement hindsight and say that the Student Council should have made Colorado our official migration. Of course, we have to admit that when the decision was made to have no official migration we agreed that this was probably the best idea. Nevertheless, it sure looks now as if a real slambang official migration could have been worked

The primary objection to an official migration was the cost. It was argued that the cost-it was estimated that a good trip would cost around $50-would cut the migrators down to a select few and official migrations were supposed to be for the school as a whole. Therefore, the Council told the administration that it could not recommend an official migration. Instead, the Council suggested that everyone wishing to attend an out-of-town game should go to Colorado and make at least one large contingent at at least one

The student body has certainly accepted the Council's suggestion because practically the whole University took up their books Friday and silently stole to Boulder. If as many would have gone on a tradition. Let us hope that two years from now an official trip, it would have been an overwhelm- it is seen fit to that there is an official trip to the ing success. A sanctioned migration would have mountains .- D.P.

Newspaper editorial writers and campaigning brought along a lot of others who cannot make the comprehensible to your readers, politicians are notorious for their use of hindsight. trip by car. Of course, the Jaycees sent a train but said readers might well conclude Both look back and point out the proper way of University students did not show much inclination of the United States is to take adto mingle with that older crowd. However a few vantage of all who are unable to went that way, including the band.

> One comment about the migration-official or not-which must be made is that the enthusiasm around the Lincoln campus last Friday was unlike anything this writer has seen in his three years here. There was a real air of excitement that touched every conversation and showed on nearly every face. This campus was really a happy place. Six weeks examinations were just over and students were looking for a place to relax. The Nebraskan can hardly call a mad weekend in Boulder and Denver a relaxing experience but it has its medicinal qualities.

Official or not, the migration was a terrific suc- to publish irrelevant, wild and cess and definitely points to the advisability of prejudiced attacks that lack suffikeeping the tradition. If none of the other advantages existed, it would still be wise to ship off the call on you to amend your style. University to some other campus once in a while Think, man, think, before you to see how things are run at our neighbors. New scribble your drivel in the heat of friendships are made and old ones strengthened.

Perhaps, it is good that we have hindsight because it helps in planning for the future. We learned last weekend that a trip to a school like from the editorial columns of the support has cooled in many in-Colorado can be a success and worthy of making

Daily Nebraskan. To conclude, as stances. The St. Louis Post-Disthe immortal Max Shulman said, one of the shortest, most concentrated charity -also indicates that AUF money is not in vain. drives in campus history. With a goal of $5,000 to However, many students would like to know, individual, relegated to the posimark.

Over Their Goal

The Daily Nebraskan wishes to express congratulations to AUF for reaching their goal and ucation has been furthered through WSSF. for eliminating from their oft-criticized organization many phases which have drawn student condemnation.

AUF did a good job this year in making more people believe in what they're doingdespite the fact that one gets a little weary making out checks to campus organizations. Next year's AUF drive should show the result of this year's work and perhaps should incorporate more of the suggestions put forth by irate-donors.

Perhaps the greatest complaint about AUF is that students give their yearly $2-or whatever their contribution may have been destined to beand have no specific assurances that their money is going to some worthy cause. This year, of course, it will be easier to see the results of AUF money on our own campus-through the cancer research work of Dr. Frank Pace. And the ex-

Margin Notes

United States Slipping?

Japan nosed out the United States as the -world's second largest shipbuilder in the third quarter of 1952, a news article reported this week. Britain, building more than one-third of the world's ships, held first place.

It looks as though the United States is beming a second-rate power-or is it that we've "Fot so many ships we can't use any more?

Overplayed?

The headline announcing the results of the Gamma Globulin tests in reducing polio paralyals sounded like the outstanding news story of The year. But the farther the reader went into the article, the less encouraging the GG tests appeared. Nevertheless, we've got our fingers

We Dun Wrong-But Why?

We'll have to admit it. We climbed over the fence between the Union parking lot and the service drive. Sure, we knew we were breaking the law, but we didn't know why. Might we ask, "Just what purpose does that fence serve- except to force car parkers to take a hundred extra steps around the thing?"

Daily Thought

Like a postage stamp, a man's value depends on his ability to stick to a thing till he gets there.-Chamberlain.

Thursday was a big day for the AUF board as istence of the campus Y's-supported through the Dear Editor: the All-University Fund went over their goal in Community Chest which, in turn, supports the Y's be reached, the drive opened Oct. 6 and went over throughout the year, just exactly how students in tion of vice presidential candidate, the top Oct. 23. Pledges and late collections will foreign lands are aided through their contribuis overshadowed by the more highly publicized and perhaps tion rooted in the Civil War era.

Texas is the most violent cases undoubtedly boost this total far above the $5,000 tions-through AUF-to the World Student Serv- worthier presidential aspirant, A ice Fund. It would be interesting to know, if contemporary example may be possible, specific people in other nations whose ed- found in John Sparkman, the

> Also high on the list of AUF gripes is that this organization advertises that it is the only official charity-collecting agency on our campus-which might be true. However, organized houses are beseiged each week of the entire school year with letters from every conceivable type of organization-desiring contributions to their worthy cause.

An admirable project for AUF to undertake might be the channeling of all such requests through a central committee-for all campus organized houses and organizations—to determine whether they merit student support. All causes look worthy on the surface-AUF might benefit the student body by investigating the veneer right off many of the groups that hit students for

It is unfortunate that our campus cannot follow sonal contact. It is with this fact blinders of party lines of a man the example of other universities and colleges in mind, that the writer feels the whose qualifications for the posithroughout the country and have one purchase at need for the focusing of attention tion of Vice President are of the the beginning of each school term include year- executive candidate. book, theatre tickets, athletic event tickets, charity contributions and so forth.

In lieu of this sort of project, AUF might fully live up to its purpose and serve as that organization which keeps all-comers away from the student pocketbook .- R.R.

The Daily Nebraskan

FIFTY-FIRST YEAR Member Associated Collegiate Press Intercollegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF

The Dally Nebraskan is published by the students of the University of Nebraska as expression of students' news and o shious only. According to Article II of the Br-Laws soverning student publications and administered by the Beard of Poblications, "II is the declared spolicy of the Board of Poblications, under its turisdiction dhall be free from editorial consorship on the part of any member of the faculty of the University, but the members of the staff of The Dally Nebraskan are personally responsible for what they are of on or cause to be printed."

Subscription rates 25 2.00 a seme-stor. $2.50 mailed or $3.00 for the college year. $4.00 mailed. Single copy 5c. Published daily during the school year except Sentendays and Sundays, racations and examination periods. One issue published during the month of August by the University of Nebraska under the respective of the Second Class Matter at the Post Office in Lincoln. Nebraska, under Act of Company.

March 5, 1879s, and at special rate of newtone received for the Second Class Matter by the Second Class Matter the Second Class Matter and the Second Class Matter the University of Nebraska under Act of Company.

Name 5, 1879s, and at special rate of newtone received for the Second Class Matter than the fight to re-

March 5, 1879, and at special rate of soutane provided for in Section 1103. Act of Congress of October 8, 1817, authorized September 10, 1922.
Water Control of the Associate Editor Ban Pieper
Name in the state of the state
Hick Raiston Gray Stanksman flot Stall
Bports Editor Giens Neison Charles Editor Charles Editor
Natalie Katt, Jan Harrison, Joe Moran, Reger Wait, Scott Chiles, Marshall Becker Dick Coffee, Nancy Gardiner, Pat Durke, tentry macrinal, Dol Harding Decade Markey Tel
onedgrass, bort Brown, Tom Becker, Howard Vann Bob Serv Gary Francisco, Paddy Wright.

Letterip

D.P. Personal Dear Editor

Attention: Don Pieper We have just firmshed reading your latest harangue, and find the rather inherent stupidity of it quite hard to digest. For some time now, Pieper, you have been mouthing incoherent drivel from the supposed immunity of the edi-torial chair. But now the time has come to deflate the balloon of pomposity with which you have cloaked yourself.

Your latest effort, entitled "Golden Roads," which ap-peared on page two of the Daily Nebraskan on Oct. 23, 1952, illustrates your policy, to wit, writing before you think. We would like to specifically refer your attack on the Federal Agency which settled the case in which you state, "Typically, the government settled the mine owner's claim to U.S. advantage," also quite prejudiced; and to further illustrate this point, we quote your statement in the following paragraph, "Moreover, it should justly be $60,000." This statement purports to set you up, Pieper, as a more capable legal expert than the govern-ment officials who decided the

What points do you summon to buttress your weak and inadequate argument that the United States has successfully and typi-cally defrauded a South Korean gold mine of the sum of $40,000? Do you defend your contention on ethical grounds, on factual grounds, or are you just angry with the government of the United States in general?

A Student Views The News

The inferences you have cast appear small in print, but unless they are supported by facts readily that the intent of the government muster adequate defenses. This, Pieper, is irresponsible journalism.

And this brings us to the crux of our argument. We feel that you have repeatedly published rresponsible and irrelevant editorials during the course of the school year. Many of your editorials have been of little or no interest to a majority of stu-dents (citations omitted) and we feel that your political writings have been slanted so much as to furnish an extremely biased viewpoint.

As we see it, your editorial license does not give you the right passion. Strive zealously to write calm, factual and interesting prose. Try to ascertain what we, almost overwhelmingly pro-Eithe students, feel to be important, "Good night, Dan, I'll see you in the papers.'

Yours for better journalism, JAMES WATT HEWITT CHARLIE WRIGHT

Yea Sparkman . . .

Democratic nominee for the na-tion's No. 2 executive position.

Since his nomination in July, the tendency to minimize the ability of the affable and unassuming Senator from Ala-bama in the face of the more pretentious, gaudy and audible nature of his Republican opponent has indeed been appalling. Such an attitude by the Amerlcan public can readily be likened to the small child whose attention is attracted by the shiny new penny in preference to a somewhat less colorful but obviously more valuable dime.

labor legislation. As is illustrated Sparkman, himself, has to a by his active and universal progreat extent through numerous gram of social progress, Senator public appearances contradicted Sparkman is motivated by a deep this indifferent attitude. Unfor-sense of public responsibility. tunately, the great masses of the With the conclusion of these people, either through disinterest words, the writer wishes to appeal or inconvenience, have been de- for a just consideration independ-prived of such enlightened per- ent from and unbiased by the upon the virtues of a most capable highest order and whose honest endeavor in the field of govern-

Even the most superficial investigation into the personal history of John Sparkman reveals unusual drive and ability, Born the son of a southern tenant farmer, a position of social and economic depravity readily apparent to one familiar with the social structure of the South, he has risen to a position of prominence both within his party and the nation. This alone would seem to indicate a man of unusual worth and initiative.

His family background and heritage also hold the key to that his leadership in the fight to regain control of the Alabama state machinery for the more liberal elements of the Democratic Party. Other indications of his liberal views become apparent upon investigation of his position upon some of the more important problems of the day.

An advocate of world unity, Sparkman has supported every program for world co-operation. In addition to the United Nations, to which he was appointed delegate in 1950, he has sup-ported the Marshall Plan, the Morth Atlantic Treaty, and the Mutual Defense Assistance Pro-

Crib Notes

Halloween Dance, Coffee Hour Heads Union's Weekly Activities

Shirley Murphy Dance, bridge and craft lessons are still pro-

Donna McCandless, dance instructor, is teaching students new turns to the fox trot and two-step.

The last two lessons in the dancing series, which is Spooks and goblins will still be roamin' around Nov. 1 at the Union.

A Halloween dance complete with pumpkins, cornstalks, black and orange streamers and Jimmy Phillips combo is scheduled for Saturday, 9 to 12 p.m. It's been hinted by Dee Carag, one of the sponsors, that a surprise feature is being added as students enter the ballroom, She wouldn't tell what it was, however.

Jack Wilson is the other sponor for the dance which is a joint Murphy Ag and city campus party. Marilyn Lane is secretary to the committee working on the dance.

Union talent show winner, Marilyn Lehr, and the Aggie's trumpet trio will furnish intermission entertainment. Tickets are 44 cents per person and may be purchased at the door. And before I forget, it's a jeans dance!

Why, Pieper, do you feel the claim should have been $60,000? ballroom, there won't be a round-up dance. P.S. Because of the Halloween dance in the Coffee Hour is scheduled at the Union following the Huskers-Missouri game Saturday in the main lounge.

Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the ballroom, will be devoted to tango, Charleston, jitterbug and shag. James Porter, bridge instructor, is shaping beginners into pros and pros into better pros. Bridge lessons are from 5 to 6 p.m., Wednesday. Handicraft students are busy both Tuesday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Union basement craft shop, Mrs, Charles Coleman instructs handicraft. And while we're talking about sports, the Ben Hogan story will be the theme of Sunday night's movie, at 7:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom, "Follow the Sun" is the title. Glen Ford and Ann Baxter star as Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hogan in the drama of his rise to fame, accident and come-

Ping pong is the last of today's notices. Third round play-offs must be complete by Saturday.

Other deadlines are fourth round, Nov. 8 and finalists, Nov. 15. Winners must remember to sign Mizzou guests are also invited to the Halloween the bulletin board at the right of Union activities

Independent Vote Is Unknown Factor In Nov. 4 Election

The presidential campaign has moved into its Stevenson to Eisenhower and most of the young final stages with both candidates heading for the power in the Democratic state organization joined North-East where electoral votes are richest per him. Old guard Democrats led by John Nance

The independent vote is still an unknown fac- censed over the defection. Most of the bittertor and known factors are rapidly switching camps. ness and invective of their campaigning is concen-It is a rare election year that such an exchange of trated against their pro-like brothers rather than supporters can occur between two parties.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, long a paradoxical figure, has changed his mind again. Morse has shown a marked inclination to run on the GOP ticket while supporting much of the Democratic platform. He incurred the resentment of many Republicans and the approbation of independent voters for such unorthodox behavior. Last week, he formally resigned from the Republican party after announcing his support of Gov.

Statisticaly, the press is still patch, a highly respected newspaper and an early Ike fan, has now switched from support of Eisenhower to Stevenson and challenged other borderline backers to do the same.

won him a position on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, on which he served with

Naturally, coming from the ranks of common men himself,

Sparkman is the friend of both the groups which form the life blood of our American system of free enterprise. He is an announced advocate of agricultural aids, and ment are beyond reproach.

JACK P. GREENE

unquestionable judgment.

farmer and the laborer,

In the opposite camp, Eisen-Oftentimes in American presi- crats may win the electoral votes, but the amazdential campaigns, a truly worthy ing upsurge of Republican power in Southern > Texas is the most violent case in point. The campaign has aroused an unbelievable amount of bitterness in the Lone Star state.

Gov. Shivers led the bolting movement from hower has broken the "solid South." The Demostates has wrought irreparable changes in a tradi-of international relations have find that this campaign has not answered their questions. So much effort has been spent by both parties in exploiting past errors of opposing candidates that definite programs for the future are lacking on a number of issues. Even the Woman's Christian Temperance Union apparently faces the same problem. Recently they submitted letters to both candidates asking the Republican forces.

their views on such issues as curbing drinking in the armed forces and diplomatic circles, prohibiting advertisement of alcoholic beverages and orality in occupation theaters. Polling organizations are active again this year,

Garner and Speaker Sam Rayburn are highly in-

Independent voters across the nation will probably play the decisive role in the election. They are faced with great responsibility and too many but their predictions are subdued after the faux pas of '48. Experts talk around and about the subject, but few will tell you which way to place an election bet. State officials in Washington, D.C. and other

"qualified sources" have come out with one of the few specific predictions for Nov. 4. On the basis of the rising tide of voting registration, they estimate an election turnout of 55,669,850. This is the largest vote in U.S. history, but according to the Census Bureau figures, it is only approximately 57% of the "potential" vote-civilian population of voting age. Every vote is neces-

Election Day is Nov. 4.

Doctor - Did Johnny take his medicine like a man? Mrs. Jones - Yes, Doctor, just like a man; he made an awful fuss about it."

Main Feature Clock Varsity: "One Minute To Zero," 1:18, 3:21, 5:24, 7:27, 9:30. State: "Woman of the Country," 1:00, 3:58, 6:56, 9:54.

a sympathetic supporter of liberal Halftime Practice The half-time performance for the Missouri game will be practiced by all participating students at 5 p.m. Thursday.

KNUS

3:00-3:15 Jay's Junction

3:15-3:30 Treasury Show

4:00-4:15 Spins & Needles

4:30-4:35 This I Believe

4:35-4:50 Robin's Nest

4:50-5:00 News

3:30-4:00 Workshop Players

4:15-4:30 Garretson's Waxworks

Send a Friend a Scarey

Halloween Card Goldenrod Stationery Store 215 North 14th Street

VARSITY Gary Cooper "Springfield Rifle" State Theatre Now WOMEN OF THE NORTH COUNTRY"

- ALSO -

"Tropic Heatwave"

Campus capers call for Coke

Win or lose, you'll get different opinions when the gang gathers to rehash the game. But on the question of refreshment, everyone agreesyou can't beat ice-cold Coca-Cola.

COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. OF LINCOLN, NEBR. "Coke" is a registered trade-mark

1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY