Navy Band To Play Twice In Coliseum Wednesday

'Pride Of The Navy' Created In 1925 By Special Congressional Action

The United States Navy Band, "Pride of the Navy," will present two concerts Wednesday in the University Coliseum.

A matinee will be at 4 p.m. and the evening performance will be at 8:15 p.m.

The ensemble of artists was formed when President Calvin Coolidge signed a special act of congress in 1925, designating the Washington Navy Band as the official United States Navy Band.

The band has toured through the United States, Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama and Jamaica presenting classical works along with their ultra modern "swing-phoette" section.

L.Cdr. Charles Brendler, who has conducted the band since 1941, heads the band's personnel. He is the first Navy musician to attain the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the Regular Navy.

Richard Townsend, assistant conductor; Anthony Mitchell, clarinet; Carl Grove, saxophone; Gordon Finlay, cornet; Robert Baird, trumpet and Ben Mitchell Morris, tenor vocalist, are included among the soloists.

Tickets will be on sale at the Coliseum at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Reserved main floor and balcony seats are $1.50 and general admission seats are $1 for the evening performance.

Reserved seat tickets and general admission tickets are also on sale at Walt's Music Store. There will be 1,200 seats reserved for the evening performance and five thousand seats will be sold at general admission prices.

The Lincoln appearance of the band is sponsored by the American Legion Drum Corps and the tour is approved by the President.

Ag Builders To Congregate In CA Building

Ag Builders have changed its mass meeting location from the College Activities Building to the lounge of the Food and Nutrition Building.

Jean Vierk, Ag general chairman, disclosed Monday.

Conflict with Union activities was the reason for the change, she said.

The meeting time was set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Speakers for the Builders' get-together will be the Ag Builders' sponsor, Dr. Hixson, and Dean Linscott, president of Builders.

Miss Vierk said that new students on Ag campus who wish to work for the organization should come to the meeting and sign up.

Another purpose of the meeting is to orientate new workers with the year's activities and functions of Ag Builders.

Entertainment and refreshments for the mass meeting will be arranged by a special committee of the parties and convention committee.

Students may vote in the Union from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Candidate Officer Association is sponsoring the election.

Indication? College Polls Show Eisenhower Favorite In Race For President

If the nation goes as most college students go on Nov. 4, Dwight D. Eisenhower will be our next president.

In a recent poll, the Associated Collegiate Press found that 57 per cent of the students polled favored Eisenhower.

The other major candidate, Stevenson, showed a 33 per cent following.

Many of the strong Democratic parts of the country are not voting the "solid block" way of other national elections.

In Texas, for example, students call themselves Democrats, but give like their preference in all of the polls taken there.

This situation is also true in Oklahoma.

A freshman coed at Oklahoma State Teachers College said that she was a Democrat, but favored Ike for this election.

She added that she didn't see how we could be any worse off under the Republicans.

A fact that might give an accurate advance picture of how the election will end is that over 56 per cent of the students polled said that they agreed with their parents in their choice of candidates in almost every case.

A sophomore student at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College was still undecided in his choice of presidential candidates, but did voice his opinion.

He said, "Either candidate will probably send my friends, and perhaps myself, to the army."

Young Republican Survey Finds Oldest, Youngest Voter

Who are the oldest and youngest voters in Lancaster County?

The University Young Republicans recently made a survey to answer this question.

Charles A. Sweet, of 2219 St. Mary's St., was found to be the oldest voter. He will be 97 Nov. 7.

Sweet first voted in 1876, on his 21st birthday. The election was between Benjamin George Harrison and Rutherford B. Hayes.

Sweet's vote was cast for Harrison. Sweet was born in Cooperstown, N. Y. He was a lawyer and is still vice president of the bank in Palmyra.

He has lived in Nebraska for 78 years and has voted for 75 years.

Last week, several young Republicans escorted a notary public to Sweet's home where they accomplished his absentee balloting.

Barbara Lucas, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, was found to be the youngest voter on campus. She will be 21 Oct. 29.

Miss Lucas will be introduced at the Young Republicans meeting at the downtown Republican headquarters Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting is the last before the election.

Students who are 21 before Nov. 4 are eligible to vote in the election. They need not register if they live in communities with a population of less than 7,000.

'French Labs Make Progress Despite Lacks'

French research laboratories are making remarkable progress despite the pronounced lack of efficient equipment, foreign source books and journals, reported Dr. C. E. Georgi appearing before a meeting of Phi Beta Kappa Tuesday evening.

Dr. Georgi, professor of bacteriology, recently returned from Paris where he spent a year's research in the Sorbonne's biochemistry laboratory. His talk included impressions he received while in France.

"The lack of equipment is the result of World Wars I and II," Dr. Georgi continued.

A striking feature of the French laboratories is the international character of the laboratory staff. Scientists from all over the world pool their knowledge to bring about the greatest possible achievement.

"My family and I were treated especially well by the French," Dr. Georgi said. "Contrary to what Americans often hear concerning their unpopularity in France."

"Even though foreign persons must carry a card of identification after being in France three months," he emphasized, "I was never asked to show mine during the entire year. In other words, an American is not a marked person, as we are sometimes led to believe."

The cost of living in France, Dr. Georgi said, was extremely high and rose 12 per cent during his stay. Foreigners must pay high rents although the Frenchmen have controlled prices.

Eisenhower's Views Unchanged

NEW YORK—"I have changed in no way" since the presidential campaign began, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower said. He said his views and convictions on national issues are the same as they were four years ago.

He answered charges by Stevenson saying the Democratic candidate had a mentality "completely untutored" for the "tough business" of dealing with Russia. "If a journey to Korea and a close study of military and political problems there can save the life of a single American soldier and bring peace of mind to a single American family, I must make that 'journey,' he said.

'Ike Political Chameleon'

NEW YORK—Adlai Stevenson denounced Eisenhower saying he was a political chameleon. "I am not a Vanderberg internationalist in Michigan and a Chicago Tribune isolationist in Chicago," Stevenson said. "I talk the same way about tidewells oil in Texas as I do in Michigan and talk the same way about civil right in Richmond as I will talk here (Harlem) tonight."
