VOICE OF AMERICA

Producer Takes NU Interviews

The University may have a part in the vital Voice of America broadcast to the Far East. Romulo Soldevilla, a graduate of the University who is employed as a writer-producer for the English to the Far East unit of the Voice, is taking a series of interviews with Far Eastern students on the campus. He will also interview Robert Sakai, professor of Japanese and history. These interviews will probably be used on his program, "Young People in America," which is heard weekly over the Voice.

Soldevilla has broadcast interviews with a young opera star and with Bill Malen, the young cartoonist. He endeavors to portray the young people in every field of professional work, schools, clubs and organizations. It is possible that he will devote an entire program to Far Eastern students at NU. He has not decided yet.

SUNDAY

Lutherans To Dedicate New House

Dedication services for the new Lutheran Student House at 535 No. 16 St. will be held Sunday, by Lutheran Student Foundation. Present for the dedication ceremonies will be the Rev. Donald Heiges, Executive Secretary of the Division of Student Service. Assisting him will be the Rev. Alvin M. Peterson, pastor of the University students.

The package programs are of two types, the shortwave and package programs. The shortwave programs are started in New York, carried across the nation to San Francisco by telephone wires, converted to shortwave and boosted through Honolulu and Manila. Manila gives the program the final boost to its listeners. Shortwave constitutes 80 per cent of the Voice efforts, Soldevilla estimates.

The producer of the show need not understand a word that the foreign language broadcasters are saying, Soldevilla says. The producer makes up the program from a format. Is there a chance that some propaganda could be "put over" on the producer? No, he states. All broadcasts are monitored before they are broadcast and as they are being broadcast.

Soldevilla, who was graduated here in 1943, taught radio at NU from March, 1946 to Aug., 1947. He received his master's degree in radio from Northwestern in 1947 and taught radio at Temple in Philadelphia. He started with the Voice in 1951.

Mock, Three Campus Elections Summon Students To Pick UMOC, Pep Queen, HC

★ Honorary Commandant ★ Mock Election ★ UMOC ★

Who will be presented as Honorary Commandant at the Military Ball Dec. 5? That's the big question as 48 candidates square off for the election Friday from which will emerge the six finalists for the title. The election will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. in the Union.

The polls in City Campus Union, the Ag Union and Ferguson Hall will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and for 15 minutes after the pep rally, at which time the students may vote for their favorite National and State candidates.

Beaver coats, rattle-trap convertibles, the Roaring Twenties—that's the theme for the Ugliest Man On Campus presentation at half-time of the Missouri-Nebraska football game Saturday.

The Commandant will be chosen by the Candidate Officers Association. The 48 candidates are: Beth Alden, Mary Ann Kellogg, Janet Kokker, Lois Ann Miller, Janelle Mohr, Nancy Farnsworth, Barbara Hershberger, Marilyn Bamesberger, Artie Wescott, Cecelia Pinkerton, Susanne Bryant, Adele Coryell, Julie Johnson, Dody Newman, Joy Nixon, Janis Schmidtman, Priscilla Jones, Kathryn Grabill, Nancy Norman, Judy Palmateer, Lorraine Westphal, Ruth Raymond, Nancy Klein, Virginia Koehler, Dameris Riddle and Sydna Fuchs.

To be eligible to vote one does not have to be 21 years of age as in the authentic national election. All that is required is a student I.D. card.

Mayor of Lincoln, V. J. Anderson, will present the winning candidate as UMOC and Mayor for the day. The six runners up will also be presented. Prior to the presentation the candidates will not know the winner.

Homecoming Queen

The 1952 Pep Queen will be chosen in an All-University campus election in the Union following the Missouri rally tonight. Students carrying identification cards may vote immediately after the rally until 10 p.m.

ment that men have for monsters, ghosts, supernatural breaths of wind and Jekyll-Hydr-men-who-are-not-real-ly-men-at-all.

against superstition has made a pretty clean sweep among the peoples we call civilized, except for the last day in October, Halloween remains a museum for superstition where man hoards the relics that his forefathers considered a part of everyday life.

Children all over the world are raised in the good old tradition of trick-or-treat. Although the United States Department of Commerce has set aside the night of Oct. 30 as official Beggars Night, it is more likely that most youngsters will be putting the annual touch on their neighbors on Halloween night, Oct. 31.

armor of masks, old clothes and bed sheets plus weapons of soap, chalk and muscels go into the preparation of a trick-or-treater. The most effective means of protection are popcorn, apples and candy. Although this paragraph may seem outdated for college people, every house on campus will be "fouced" by the lollipop crowd come Halloween.

Stolen from Chuck Bean's prediction of University activity is a promise of the "usual shanty on the steps of Love Hall, the annual Halloween molasses bath for windows and walks at Farm House and AGR." Other predictions are house parties, the Union dance and record attendance at spook shows.
