Russia Warns U.S.
 UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Andre Vishinsky warned that United Nations adoption of an American resolution backing United Command negotiators at Panmunjom would lead to collapse of the truce talks and expansion of the Korean War. The Soviet Foreign Minister said the United States knew in advance that these terms would be rejected by China and North Korea.

Vishinsky called for creation of a UN Commission to include Russia, the United States and Communist China. He suggested that Britain, France, India, Burma, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, North and South Korea be included.

He charged that the United States wanted to keep the war going and expand it in order to gain control of the world and increase the profits of "American billionaires." He said the problem of repatriation does not exist. The real problem is, he said, that the American command resorted to bayonets to extract from the prisoners a refusal to be repatriated.

Ike Names Lodge, Dodge Assistants
 AUGUSTA, GA.—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Joseph M. Dodge, Detroit banker, were named as assistants by President-elect Dwight Eisenhower. They have the duty of easing the Truman administration out of Washington and replacing it with that of Eisenhower.

Lodge, as chief liaison man, and Dodge, as envoy to confer with budget officials, were empowered to sit in on high-level administration policy conferences and report back to Eisenhower.

Lodge, who was defeated for re-election, is regarded as a likely choice for a cabinet post. He has been mentioned for Secretary of State. Dodge, according to Eisenhower associates, will probably be named Director of the Budget.

State Senators To Meet
 LINCOLN—State senators and senators-elect will meet Wednesday at the statehouse to study recommendations of Legislative Council committees studying state government. The Council, composed of members of the Legislature, cannot pass laws but can make recommendations for consideration by the Unicameral in January.

The Council will consider the following items among others: Re-enactment of the 1949 road revenue bill, elimination of a state property tax substituting a sales or income tax, and retention of the present school retirement system.

VISUAL MUSIC
Hand Painted Movies Scheduled In Morrill Hall

By PAT PECK
 Feature Editor

Do you see spots before your eyes? Don't laugh. It may have taken someone 10 years to paint them there. Anyone interested in seeing man-made spots dance to music should enjoy the movies being shown in Morrill Hall, Gallery B at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The films are the work of a Scotch-Canadian artist, Norman McLaren, and are distributed by a Canadian film company. They offer the viewer the unique privilege of seeing what he is hearing. A preliminary film describes the way in which McLaren creates his designs on film.

McLaren has conceived the idea of drawing abstract pictures of sound. No camera is involved in making the movies. The sound track is put on the film first. The sound track is a series of light and dark lines along the side of the film with varying spaces between them. Every sound has its own peculiar pattern. McLaren works with clear film on which the sound track has been made. By looking at the sound track he determines what sort of abstract design would appear to the eyes as the vibration sounds to the ear.

McLaren's designs are drawn on the clear film with pen or brush, using celluloid dyes, pigments or ink. Designs may be on one side of the film or on both sides. Film is painted one frame at a time. The several films range from five to ten minutes each in length. The entire showing takes less than an hour.

Those who remember "Fantasia" may recognize some of the abstract designs used in that Hollywood production as comparable to those used by McLaren. The films have titles such as "Loops," "Hen Hop," "Stars and Stripes," and "Begone Dull Care." "Hen Hop" features square dance music to which the designs move in rhythm. "Begone Dull Care," the most recent of the films done by McLaren which is being shown, features the music of the Oscar Peterson Trio. The movie is an expansion of "Fiddle Dee Dee," also included in the series.

The movies, which received their initial showing Sunday, represent a new experiment in camerless movie making.

Cosmo Club To See Slides Of Europe Trip

Colored Slides, called "Glimpses of Europe," will be shown to the Cosmopolitan Club Wednesday in Room 316, Union.

The pictures were taken by Nevada Wheeler and her sister, Geneva Wheeler, during their second trip to Europe. They flew from Lincoln to Amsterdam and visited seven countries during last summer.

The Wheelers say, "The people of these countries are as interesting as the scenery." Countries visited were Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Directory Distribution Opens

Books Available From House Representatives

The Student Directory is out. Nebraska Builders will begin distribution of the directories through representatives from the organized houses Tuesday. House representatives may pick up their directories at the Builders office from 4 to 5 p.m. Directories may be picked up from representatives in organized houses.

Students who purchased their directories from the booth in the Union may obtain the book by presenting their receipt at that booth.

Jack Gillespie, sales manager, said that about 2,500 directories have been printed the supply is not expected to last long after distribution opens. Gillespie set a tentative closing date for sales on Friday, but definite word will be given when house sales are tabulated. House representatives must turn in their total receipts before they will be able to distribute directories.

The directory will have several new features this year according to Terry Barnes, business manager.

The book is printed in two colors for the first time this year. The fraternity sections are listed on yellow pages and the women's organized houses are listed just after them on white pages.

The student section is divided from the faculty listing by a tab.

The new directory lists all the honoraries and their presidents and phone numbers. A calendar and several blank pages for additional telephone numbers are also included.

Miss Barnes said that the 12 per cent increase in printing rates and the lack of a corresponding rise in advertising rates had made it necessary to raise the price of the directory to $65.

The directory bears the new official seal for Nebraska Builders. The design was adopted following a University-wide contest last year and is being used for the first time.

Debating as one team unit, Paul Laase, Jack Rogers, Ken Philbrick, and Dave Gradwohl captured the highest rating of any team in the conference in the preliminary rounds of the "kick-off" debate held at Omaha University Nov. 7 and 8.

However, they did not participate in the finals because no two speakers had debated the required four rounds.

The team of Paul Laase and Jack Rogers won two debates and lost none in the conference. The other three University teams, composed of Dave Gradwohl and Ken Philbrick, Marvin Friedman and Reed Belden, and Norman Alexander and Russell Gutting, each won one debate and lost one.

Paul Laase was one of ten finalists in discussion. Midland College was the final winner of the tournament, defeating 9 other participating schools.

Crew Spots Open For 'The Circle'

University theatre is now recruiting crews for the second production of the year, "The Circle." John Tolch, stage director, said that the theatre is interested of people of many talents and that regularly enrolled students who have some knowledge of lighting, properties, sound, costuming and makeup should apply.

Those interested should see Tolch at Room 153 in the Temple building before 5 p.m. Friday. People without experience will be trained and developed. He said that the first ones there would be chosen for the crew.

Housemother Mrs. Gaddis Dies Sunday

Mrs. Agnes Gaddis, Kappa Alpha Theta housemother, died from a heart attack early Sunday morning, in a local hospital.

She had been housemother of the sorority since last fall. Before that, she served as housemother for the Theta Xi fraternity.

Mrs. Gaddis was graduated from the University where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. She was past president of the Chapter CS of PEO.

Mrs. Gaddis was active for many years in the Westminster Presbyterian church where her husband was elder and head usher.

Surviving are her husband, Al, of Chicago; a daughter, Patricia Van Burgh of Long Beach, California; and a sister, also of California.

Bloodmobile Schedules Visit At Hotel Monday

The Bloodmobile will be in Lincoln at the Cornhusker Hotel Monday according to Shirley Murphy, blood donor recruiting chairman.

Miss Murphy said that the need for donors is great, and all persons who wish to give blood, but have not yet filled out pledge cards are urged to do so.

Donor cards may be obtained from the bulletin board at the Military and Naval Science Building and the Ag and City Unions.

Miss Murphy reminded donors of a contest to determine the Blood Donor of the month. The winner will be chosen on the basis of how many people he enlists as blood donors.

To win the contest each entrant must give blood himself and leave the list of names of his donors in the Red Cross box in the Union basement by 4 p.m. Monday.

The goal for the University this month is 35 pints of blood and donors are needed if the goal is to be met.

Miss Murphy reminded prospective donors of the requirements to give blood: 1) must be at least 21 years old or have written permission from parents, 2) must not have given blood in the last three months, 3) must weigh at least 110 pounds and 4) be in good physical condition.

Cards and additional information about Red Cross can be obtained from: Corliss Kruse, secretary of the Red Cross college unit; Wilma Kindhart and Nan Brindly, men's donations; Alice Craig, newspaper publicity; Sandra Curran, posters; and Phyllis Meyers, correspondence to donors chairman.

"What's the matter, little boy? Haven't you anybody to play with?"

"Yes," said the little boy, "I have one friend, but I hate him."

Two fellows were standing outside Kansas' stadium Saturday. One said, "What are those holes in the boards for?"

His friend said, "Those are knot holes."

To which the first replied, "Well, if they are not holes, what are they?"

The weather will be like our professors' lectures—continued dry. Better keep your storm coats out, though, because the high won't be much over 60 degrees.

Dentist—I'm sorry, but I'm all out of gas.

Girl in chair—Ye gods! Do dentists pull that old stuff, too?

Junior-Senior Board To Hold Tuesday Meet

Junior-Senior Class Board will meet in the Student Union Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. to discuss tentative suggestions from the Student Council concerning the Board's new constitution.

The board will work on their plans for their spring picnic and the Junior-Senior Prom.

During Ivy Day, the Board is going to award a cup to the man and woman with the highest cumulative averages for seven consecutive semesters. A vote is to be taken to decide on the cup to be used. Samples of cups from a local jewelry store will be voted on.

Letters are being sent to the class officers of all Big Seven schools by the Board. This letter will be a questionnaire to find out what officers these schools have; what activities the officers sponsor during the school year; what powers and duties the officers have; and how much money they have and where they get it.

Rocky Yapp, president of the Junior Class, will preside at the meeting in the absence of Don Pieper, president of the Senior Class.

THAILAND BARRISTER

Sanya Plans Law College Visit While In Lincoln

Judge Dharmasakti Sanya has come all the way from Thailand to gain a better insight into the American Law system.

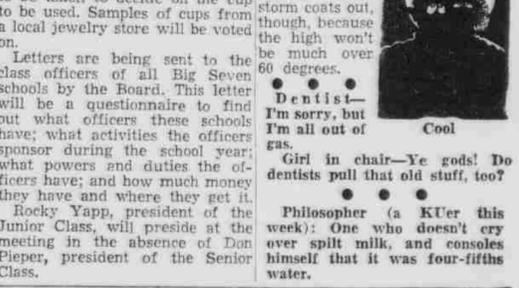

Sanya, chief judge for 14 northern provinces of Thailand, is here as a guest of Justice Robert Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court. Simmons met the Thailand judge while he was visiting in the Far East under the auspices of the State Department.

The Thailand barrister will remain in Nebraska until Saturday. He visited the Supreme Court of Nebraska on Friday. He plans to visit the University College of Law, Sanya's trip to the United States is sponsored by his own government and the U. S. State Department.

The judge, who is a member of the English bar as well as that of Thailand, studied law in London. While in this country he will observe procedure at county, district and municipal courts. He will visit the law college at Creighton and will attend the annual meeting of the State Bar Association Thursday and Friday.

Judge Sanya seems impressed by the trials by jury in the American system, which Thailand does not have. However, Thailand's judicial system is similar in principle to that of
