Passes Limited To '52 HC Dance

Costs Mount To $2500

Only Varsity football players and their dates, pep band members and their dates and University officials will be admitted free to the Homecoming Dance in the Coliseum Saturday night.

Don Noble, president of Corn Cobs, said Tuesday that more free admissions could not be permitted if the dance is to be a financial success. He mentioned that Cobs and Tassels work the entire school year to earn money to finance the Homecoming Dance.

Homecoming Dance.
The organizations spend approximately $2500 on the project. This figure includes paying the dance band, renting the Coliseum and financing publicity, decorations and job pool.

Money is raised by selling tickets to the dance and selling balloons, pom poms and N flowers during football season. Cobs and Tassels also receive a commission on each Cornhusker sold.

For the last three or four years, a loss of $50 to $100 has occurred from the number of free passes issued. Cobs and Tassels will receive no free admissions.

The Homecoming Dance accomplishes two purposes, according to Noble. First, it offers an incentive to University alumni to attend festivities, and second, it pays tribute to football players for activities during the season. The dance is not limited to University students.

Their use also saves wear and tear on lungs. Bells can be used for both the Wednesday night rally and Saturday game."

13 Polled On New Distribution Policy

"Have you been able to get your copy of the Daily Nebraskan?"

This was the question fired at 13 University students in a spot poll taken Tuesday afternoon. The poll was concerned with response to the present policy of the Daily Nebraskan of not distributing school papers to organized houses on campus.

Strange as it may seem, the poll discovered that six of the students interviewed were in favor of the present policy, six were against the policy and one disapproved of the past and the present policy.

Here are the opinions of those interviewed:

DeLoris Jackson, affiliated, Arts and Science: "It's hard for students that get out of classes at 11 a.m. to get a Daily Nebraskan. They should be delivered to organized houses."

John Vannes, unaffiliated, Arts and Science: "From what I've noticed, boxes are now filled when they weren't before. Perhaps there are too many papers in certain places instead of equal distribution throughout campus."

Jim Vanderslice, affiliated, Arts and Science: "I'm having a hard time finding Daily Nebraskans since they've stopped distributing to organized houses."

Wes Barton, affiliated: "There aren't enough now being distributed."

Williamette Desch, affiliated, Arts and Science: "It's hard for dorm girls to get Daily Nebraskans, especially for those who have noon classes."

Barry Starns, unaffiliated, Agriculture: "There are plenty on Ag campus."

John Gourlay, affiliated, Arts and Science: "They're all gone when I get out of my classes. Organized houses it's a little hard since they aren't distributing to

Eden Suggests POW Solution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden laid down four principles for settling the deadlocked prisoner of war issue and asked Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky to accept them. In a policy speech, he turned down Vishinsky's proposal for a new commission to end the war.

Eden gave these four principles for settling the prisoner issue:

1. "That every prisoner of war has the right, on the conclusion of an armistice, to be released.
2. "That every prisoner of war has the right to be speedily repatriated.
3. "That there is a duty on the detaining side to provide facilities for such repatriation.
4. "That the detaining side has no right to use force in connection with the disposal of prisoners of war. In other words, after an armistice, a prisoner of war may not be either forcibly detained or forcibly repatriated."

Eden's proposal, if accepted by the Communists, would give Korean truce negotiators at Panmunjom a solution for the prisoner of war dispute.

Chinese Regain Pinpoint Hill

SEOUL, KOREA—Fifteen hundred Chinese Communists captured Pinpoint Hill on Sniper Ridge Tuesday night. It was the 18th time Chinese troops have re-taken the Central Front position, since its capture by South Koreans Oct. 14. Under barrage of Communist gun fire, South Korean troops feel back to basic defense position on Sniper Ridge. The assault was believed to be an all-out effort by the Chinese to regain the last of the Central Front hills seized by UN forces in October.

Liquor Laws Strengthened

LINCOLN—City Council took steps to strengthen laws against sale of liquor to and for minors. An ordinance was introduced to double the maximum penalty from $50 to $100 against a minor who procures beer or hard liquor by giving the wrong age, against a person purchasing for a minor, and against a dealer selling to a minor.

Mayor Victor E. Anderson said attention centered on a suggested card system with a card to be signed by the minor where the proprietor is in doubt.

"There are means of determining information from Army discharge; driver's licenses or other means but at times these cards belong to others," Anderson said. "The card will deal with name and age and the cards will be carefully checked. Where there is misrepresentation, prosecution will follow. The (liquor) Association, through their attorneys, promise 100 per cent cooperation."

Churchill Accuses Russia

LONDON—Prime Minister Winston Churchill has accused Russia of blocking peace in Korea in an attempt to disperse the strength of the free world and cripple the buildup of European defenses. He gave support to the U.S. refusal to force UN prisoners of war in Korea to return to their Communist-ruled homelands. He also hailed the election of Dwight Eisenhower and urged France and Germany to get together for the cause of European unity.

"France should take Germany by the hand and lead her back into the family of nations," he said. "There can be no effective defense of European culture and freedom unless the new Germany... plays a strong and effective part in our system."

Delta Gamma Contributes $30 To Polio Fund

Delta Gamma sorority contributed $30 to the Polio Fund, Mary Margaret Loomis, Delta Gamma president, said Tuesday.

The donation, Miss Loomis said, was made by contributions from members.

Contributions to the Polio Fund were made earlier this year by houses who felt that the need for aid to polio took priority on money they would have normally used for homecoming displays.

The idea of contributing homecoming money to polio started when the Daily Nebraskan printed a story about Kansas State fraternities and sororities donating money to that cause.

When the Nebraskan first printed the story it was not intended to imply that the University houses should give up their homecoming displays. But there have been several houses that have donated, some homecoming money and some money that they had collected from their houses.

'Bachelor' Theme Selected

University students will dance to the music of Neal Hefti and Francis Wayne at the second formal of the year, the Mortar Board Ball, Friday, Dec. 12.

The Hefti and Wayne team has been acclaimed as one of the finest among the country's young bands.

The formal will feature the theme "Bachelor's Ball" and will be carried out by decorations and presentations.

The Mortar Board Ball is a turn-about dance where the girls ask the boys, give them corsages, call for them, and provide the evening's entertainment.

The six Eligible Bachelors and 12 semi-finalists for Beauty Queen will be presented immediately following the dance intermission.

Neal Hefti and Francis Wayne are a combination which is new to the music world. Hefti is a trumpeter, and Wayne the vocalist.

Hefti, who was born in Hastings, has arranged for Charlie Barnett, Woody Herman, Charlie Spivak and Horace Heidt.

His band has risen fast in the musical world, and is currently being compared with Ray Anthony, Billie May and Ralph Marterie. His "originals" include "Sure Thing," "Cornal Beet," and "Why Not." Disc jockeys say that the band, while not loud, has a remarkably ability for jazz, and excels in other types also.

Francis Wayne, Hefti's wife, has turned in several outstanding recordings. Her version of "Happiness is Just a Thing Called Joe," with Woody Herman's band, earned her the Esquire Award as the most promising female vocalist of the year.

This year's dance chairman for the Ball is Gimmy Koehler, Mortar Board vice president, and the committee chairman are:

Decorations: Jean Holmes and Joan Hanson.
Presentation: Adele Coryell and Jean Louder.
Publicity: Joan Krueger, Jeanne Vierk, Doris Carlson and Joan Hanson.

The game warden talking to a fisherman during a fishing season, asked if he had caught any fish.

"None," was the reply.

"What are those doing on your line?" the warden wanted to know.

"Oh, those, I had to tie them up while I fished. They were eating my bait."

Mother-in-law: A woman who is never putspoken.

Tomorrow will be fair, dry, not too cold. If you look up, you may see a few clouds.

A fellow called over to the Temple and asked for two tickets for Friday's performance.

The ticket-seller said, "I'm sorry, we haven't any seats left for tonight. In fact, we have standing room left for only two."

"Am-n-n," said the theatergoer, "are they together?"

Junior Division Plans Study Session To Aid NU Students

For those students who got down slips, and others with study troubles, the Junior Division Guidance Council in charge of the program, said that a campus-wide demand for "academic assistance" led to the forming of the study sessions.

Poe said that the temporary schedule calls for four one-hour sessions, to be held from 4 to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for a period of two weeks. He urged all students interested in small personal sessions at the Junior Division, Temporary A, before Monday noon so that a definite schedule can be arranged.

"All aspects of studying will be covered, including note-taking, adequate assignment and test preparation, and methods of using time to the best advantage," Poe said.

Similar programs have proven very helpful in the past, Poe said, pointing out that "of the 75 students who enrolled for our last session, a vast majority of them raised their average, usually from one-half point on up."
