Three Cabinet Members Named

NEW YORK—President-elect Eisenhower announced Thursday he has chosen John Foster Dulles as secretary of state; Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, as secretary of defense, and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon as secretary of the interior. Eisenhower had conferred earlier Thursday with Dulles, and with Wilson Wednesday night.

The three appointments were the first to be announced by Eisenhower for the Republican administration that will take office on Jan. 20.

Eden Endorses Indian Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Thursday endorsed an Indian plan to solve the prisoner of war deadlock in Korea.

In a speech to the U.N.'s 60-nation Political Committee, Eden called the plan a "timely and constructive way" to end the quarrel over prisoners and thus bring about a truce in Korea. The Indian proposal formally introduced Monday proposes a five-member commission to take jurisdiction over prisoners of war in demilitarized zones. Those choosing to go home would be repatriated. After 90 days those resisting repatriation would be turned over to a political conference on Far Eastern affairs. The Commission proposed by India would include Czechoslovakia, Poland, Sweden, Switzerland, and a fifth power acting as "umpire."

The proposal formerly met American objections, and the Soviet position still has not been made clear.

Truman Likes Ike's Korean Stand

WASHINGTON—President Truman said he is very happy over Gen. Eisenhower's views on the Korean prisoner of war issue, and declared "this country is a unified organization in its policy toward the rest of the world."

In his first news conference since Sept. 25, Truman laid emphasis on unity and on the effort to make the shift of power to President-elect Eisenhower as smooth as possible.

Lincoln Air Base Plans Complete

LINCOLN—Final plans for the new City Terminal building at the Lincoln Air Base have been submitted by the architects.

These plans will be reviewed by the City Council Monday, and bids will probably be asked on the basis of an overall estimate of $185,000.

The plans have been approved by United Air Lines, Braniff Air Lines and the Weather Bureau. Interior plans were changed to provide 800 square feet of space for the weather bureau at the east end.

Work is expected to start five days after award of the contracts. The completion date is next June 30.

Arts Ensemble To Present First Music Concert Dec. 4

The season's first chamber music concert by the Fine Arts Ensemble will be presented in the Union ballroom Dec. 4.

Single admission for students is 75 cents, and a season ticket is $1.50. Admission for non-students is $1.50, and $3.00 for the entire series. The tickets may be purchased from any member of Sinfonia, honorary music fraternity, and in the Sinfonia booth in the lobby of the Music Building from Dec. 1 to Dec. 4.

Season tickets are for three admissions. They are good for three persons for one concert, for two persons for one concert and for one person for another concert, or for one person for three concerts.

The program will include "String Quartet, Opus 76, Number 5" by Haydn, "Quintet for Piano and Strings" by Schumann, and "Deux Pieces for String Quartet" by Ernest Bloch.

A resident of California, Bloch is famous for his many concertos for violin and his "Israeli" Symphony. His "Quintet for Piano and Strings" has appeared in print only this year.

Emmanuel Wishnow is the Ensemble's director and first violinist. Wishnow is conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra, professor of violin in the Department of Music, guest conductor of the Omaha Symphony for the second season in succession, and concert-master of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra on leave of absence.

The other members of the Ensemble are all members of the Omaha Symphony Orchestra. They are Mrs. Gladys May, piano; Mrs. Helen Bell, cello; Truman Morsman, second violin; and Max Gilbert, viola.

The second concert of the season will be Feb. 26, and the third April 23.

Lutheran Convention Commences

Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend the Rocky-Plain Regional Convention of Gamma Delta, International Lutheran-Missouri Synod Student Organization Friday, Saturday and Sunday, sponsored by the Nebraska chapter.

Sigma chapter officers of Gamma Delta are: president, Barbara Bredthauer; vice-president, Phyllis Kort; secretary, Elizabeth Bredthauer; and treasurer, Jim Koepke.

Left Overs

By LILA WANEK Staff Writer

It was a beautiful evening and Jim, who had gathered up courage to take Mary for a ride, was carried away by the magic of the night.

"Mary," he whispered, "will you marry me?"

She answered softly, "Yes, Jim."

Jim lapsed into a silence that at last became painful to his fiancée.

"Jim," she said desperately, "why don't you say something?"

"I think," Jim replied, "too much has been said already."

Attorney: I just discovered, Mister Johnson, that I can get you a divorce on the grounds that your marriage isn't legal. Her father didn't have a license to carry a gun.

The weekend will be fair, but cold. There may be scattered clouds on Saturday.

Two backwoods men knocked on a door of cabin.

"Howdy, Joe; me and Ed just found the body of a dead man over in the holler, and we thought it might be you."

"What'd he look like?"

"He was about your build, and—"

"Did he have on a flannel shirt?"

"Yup."

"With red and white checks?"

"No, it was plain gray."

(Closing the door)—"Nope, it wasn't me."

"Just why do you want a married man to work for you, rather than a bachelor?" asked the curious friend.

"Well," sighed the employer, "the married men don't get so upset if I yell at them!"

"Is the sliced ham all right, dear?" asked the anxious bride.

"Wonderful! Did you buy it yourself?"

Beta's First In Kosmet Klub

Titles Go To Good, B. Adams

Revealed at the Kosmet Klub Fall Revue as Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet were Barbara Adams and Joe Good.

Adams Good

The two titlists were presented as the climax to the evening by Don Devries, KK President.

Elected by ticket balloting at the door, their identity was unknown until the end of the production.

Miss Adams is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. She is a Cornhusker Managing Editor, Publicity Chairman for UN Week and a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Good is a senior in Teachers College, basketball letterman and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Finalists for Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet were Barbara Bell, Phyllis Colbert, Marilyn Brewster, Beth Rohrer, Ruth Raymond, Jack Greer, Ed Berg, Joel Mead, Pat Malotte and Bernie Goodman.

Bizad Majors To Hear Judge R. G. Simmons

Chief Justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court, Robert G. Simmons, will be the guest speaker at the annual Business Administration Banquet Dec. 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Recently returning from a trip in the Far East, the Judge will talk about political and social conditions in these countries.

Also Nathan Gold of Gold & Company will present gold keys to ten freshmen for outstanding scholastic achievement in the College of Business Administration.

Tickets may be purchased for $1.50 from any member of Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Kappa Psi or Phi Chi Theta business honoraries.

Many Favor Coed Movement To Ban Stub Vote, Poll Shows

By DEL HARDING Staff Writer

Question: Are you in favor of or against a revamping of the campus election system which would require that all "queen" title voters be required to show their identification card and have it punched as a prerequisite to voting?

Dean of Women Marjorie Johnston believes "the girls are to be commended" for formulating the proposal. "I think there is a need for the choosing of the various queens to be handled by other means than by ticket sales alone. I am in favor of what the students are doing."

Julie Reynolds, Arts and Sciences sophomore, thinks it is a "very good" plan. "That way you can't stuff the ballot boxes."

Dick Tilly, Arts and Sciences junior, also is in favor of the proposal. "It will keep sororities from buying queen titles."

Henzlik Address First Meeting Of Prep Heads

Teachers College Dean Asserts Schools Must Improve Education

The school needs its community as greatly as the community needs the school, Dean F. D. Henzlik of Teachers College told Nebraska school superintendents and principals Thursday afternoon.

Dean Henzlik spoke at the opening session of the fourth annual joint conference of the University's school administration department and the Nebraska Association of School Administrators in Love Memorial Library.

The major function of the school is to improve its education through education, Henzlik said. "Unless we can provide community programs of education that will produce free men and women capable of making effective decisions and choices," he said, "free society and the American way of life will die out."

He called for a program of high school education which serves the large number of students who remain in their own communities and which would encourage them to be strong and active citizens.

The results from a poll show that more than half of the pupils have no intention of living in their home communities after graduation.

Pupils should avail themselves of opportunities elsewhere, he said, but that parents and pupils should think and believe the lone function of the high school is to act as an agency to channel youth and wealth out of the community is not tragic but, if continued, will undermine our civilization and the American way of life.

Henzlik said men's freedom and responsibility can best be realized in the processes of community living.

"Good elementary and high school education in a free society," he said, "is always closely associated with the community culture, the local living pattern and the democratic order we have learned to associate with small communities."

Friday, a panel will discuss the question of entrance requirements for the University, a topic discussed at last year's meeting.

Members of the panel include: Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, Dr. Walter Miltzer, Dean of the Arts and Sciences College; Dr. George Rosenlof, Dean of Admissions and Institutional Relations; Lloyd TeSelle, superintendent of Fairbury schools; Dr. F. E. Wear of Hastings College; Wayne Frazer, superintendent at Scottia; Dr. Floyd Miller of the State Department of Public Instruction; and Dr. Harold Hand of the College of Education at the University of Illinois.

Chairman will be Principal William Bogar of Lincoln High School.

The Association of School Administrators meeting will be held at the Hotel Cornhusker. Dr. Hand will address an evening banquet.

2,000 Cornhusker Proofs Unclaimed At Studio

Approximately 2,000 sets of Cornhusker picture proofs are unclaimed at Colvin Heyn studio.

If students do not go to the studio and select a proof for publication by Tuesday the studio will print the picture it thinks best.

Dec. 2 is the only day that retakes may be made. The studio will be open until 8 p.m. that day. No appointments will be necessary.

Sigma Chi's, Delts Place In KK Skits

Indian dances, scenery and songs paid-off for Beta Theta Pi by bringing them first place honors in the 1952 Kosmet Klub Fall Revue.

Second place honors went to Sigma Chi for their Arabian number, "Sheik of Araby."

ROTC Men May Enlist In Infantry

355th Headquarters Regiment To Move

The 355th Infantry Regiment Headquarters and Headquarters Company, which has transferred to Lincoln from Omaha, is asking ROTC students to enlist in its program.

Three provisions of this reserve program were listed by Captain Thomas, officer-in-charge at the sub office headquarters:

1. Men acquire longevity toward pay.

2. It teaches ROTC students the basic fundamentals learned by enlisted men.

3. The reserve program gives an opportunity to learn military administration.

ROTC students joining the program will not jeopardize their chances of getting a commission, Capt. Thomas said. The call for ROTC students is being issued because of the scarcity of enlisted personnel. The Regiment is allowed a maximum of 51 enlisted men.

Typical life in a University fraternity with dating problems won third place recognition to for Delta Tau Delta's "Guys and No Dolls."

The winning number, "Big Manhattan Bargain," was directed by Stu Reynolds. The Beta's re-inacted the purchase of Manhattan Island from the Indians with authentic costumes and Indian warriors.

Sigma Chi's "Sheik of Araby" concerned the rescue of an Arabian princess from the Black Arab by the Sheik. Sparkling with precision dances and tunes from Gilbert and Sullivan, the skit was directed by Ben Leonard.

Delta's "Guys and No Dolls" was under the direction of Tom Beal. The third place skit concerned the typical male worry over campus life the ratio of 4 males per female.

Also receiving recognition awards for show participation were:

Zeta Beta Tau's "Kiss Me in South Saturn Kate," Marshall Kushner, skitmaster.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's "You Can't Beat a College Education," Dave Brandon, skitmaster.

Phi Delta Theta's "Comedy Hour," Bill Devries, skitmaster.

Two curtain acts by Beta Sigma Psi and Alpha Psi Omega were awarded recognition plaques.

Hank Gibson served as master of ceremonies for the Fall Show.

Engineers' Fifth Convo Set Monday

Weston D. Birdsall of Des Moines, Iowa, petroleum marketing specialist, will speak at the fifth annual Sigma Tau engineers' convocation at 11 a.m. Monday in the Union ballroom.

All engineering classes will be dismissed for the convocation and non-engineering students are invited to attend.

Birdsall will speak on "Occupational Guideposts for Engineering Students."

Max Littleton, Sigma Tau convocation director, said the purpose of the convocation is to give students an opportunity to hear about non-academic problems they will face in beginning their careers.

Birdsall, a native of Ohio, is a marketing assistant for the Phillips Petroleum Company. He received his bachelor of science degree in education from Ohio State and an engineering degree from Nebraska in 1939. He was a member of the Engineering Executive Board, chairman of American Society of Mechanical Engineering and a member of Sigma Tau and Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honoraries.

Birdsall will be presented with a Sigma Tau pyramid machined by Glenn Vest. Other students helping Littleton in arrangements for the convocation are Rex Wiese and John Whitlock, Sigma Tau president.

"An Inspector Calls" will be the first University production for the cast's three freshmen members—Valerie Hompes, Ron Becker, and Fletcher Coleman.

Art Department Schedules New Show, Sneak Preview For Sunday

By PAT PECK Feature Editor

Sunday promises to be a big day at the Art Galleries in Morrill Hall.

On the agenda for the day are a tea, a one-man show and a sneak preview.

The Lincoln Artists Guild will hold a tea from 3 to 5 p.m. in Gallery A to open the 16th annual all-Nebraska art show. The show, which comes to the campus through the joint sponsorship of the Guild and the Associated Artists of Omaha, features the work of Nebraska residents. The show comes from a month's run in Omaha and will remain in Lincoln until Dec. 28. The tea is open to the public.

Also opening Sunday will be a one-man show of 20 paintings by Nahum Tschachbasov, a New York painter.

A style show at the tea will give viewers a sneak preview of the jewelry which will go on display at the galleries, Nov. 28. The jewelry display is number three of the Designers Today series, being held in an effort to bring contemporary art to the galleries.

Jewelry will be modeled with the costumes appropriate to it by students from the Art Department. Models are Allison Faulkner, Lee Simodynes, Catherine Corp, Phyllis Moyer, Louana Laird, Marilyn Roidy, Phyllis Schock, Ella Miyamoto, Carol Haerer and Harriet Cook.

The jewelry ranges in type from extremely casual to extremely elegant. Pieces well suited to wear with school costumes are included as well as those designed to complement cocktail dresses.

All pieces are hand-made originals lent to the department by the designer-producers. The jewelry is for sale and may be purchased at the show. No duplicates of these ornaments exist.

Among the 15 designers whose work appears in the show is Don Hazelrigg, instructor in jewelry at the University. His contribution is a earring and pendant set done in sterling silver and hickory. Sterling is a predominant material in the jewelry. It has been combined with various stones, ebony and gold.

Each contributor has about six pieces of work in the show. Men predominate—only five of the 15 are women. Some of the ornaments are intensely modern in appearance, others show the influence of the primitive. Ebony is used in effective combination with silver in necklaces, bracelets and pins. The only color that appears aside from a few gems is in an enamel pin and earring set.

Famous name designers exhibiting jewelry are John Paul Miller, Paul Lobel, Philip Morton, Fred Farr, Sam Karmner, Robert Von Neumann, Winifred Clark, Frank Lee, Arthur Pulos, Betty Cook, Nelle Peterson, Wily Sanderson, Harriet Larkin and Margaret de Patta.
