Formal Season To Open Tonight

IFC Gains Permission To Hold Ball Off-Campus

Permission was granted the Inter-Fraternity Council Wednesday afternoon to hold their annual Ball off-campus and out of city limits at the Turnpike, a dance hall approximately five miles south of Lincoln on Fourteenth street.

The decision was handed to IFC representatives by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, headed by Dean of Student Affairs J. P. Colbert. IFC Social Chairman Keith Skalla, IFC President Cy Johnson and Bill Hodder represented the Greek organization at the faculty meeting.

According to Skalla, all plans for the annual Inter-Fraternity Ball are tentative, with the exception of the date of Feb. 14 which has been scheduled for the event.

The social committee of IFC—Skalla, Hodder, Ted Cannon and Hyle Thibault—is negotiating for a name band for the dance. Skalla told The Daily Nebraskan that the committee "hopes to contract Tommy Dorsey, Les Brown or Ray Anthony."

The price of tickets to the dance has not yet been set, according to Skalla. Plans for the selection and presentation of the annual Inter-Fraternity Sweetheart are also indefinite.

In the case of bad weather which might make driving on the highway to the Turnpike hazardous, the committee is working to obtain county support to make 27th St., a gravel-surfaced road, clear for motorists. Arrangements are underway to have 27th a through street for the night of Feb. 14, in case of bad weather.

The IFC representatives asked the faculty committee for permission to have the dance off-campus and out of city limits so that it will be a successful affair financially, according to Johnson. The dance is to be regulated under existing University rules for social functions, Johnson said, which includes no drinking restrictions and faculty chaperons.

Also approved by the faculty was a proposal from members of the Mortar Board Society for an activity trip for foreign students. President Sylvia Krasne could not be reached by The Nebraskan for comment on the project. Mortar Board Vice-President Virginia Koehler had no comment. She cited the indefinite financial arrangements of the plan as the reason.

Kappa Tau Alpha To Initiate Five

Five new members will be initiated Thursday into Kappa Tau Alpha, national scholastic society in journalism.

The initiation will take place in the journalism reading room at 5 p.m.

Those being initiated are Norris Heineman, Ann Mockett, Patricia Peck, Ruth Raymond and William Torrence.

Kappa Tau Alpha was organized to recognize undergraduate students in the School of Journalism for high scholastic standing.

Democrats' Cooperation Pledged

WASHINGTON — Gov. Adlai Stevenson pledged that he and President Truman will cooperate with the Eisenhower administration "insofar as it is compatible with the views of our party." The defeated Democratic presidential nominee discussed the future role of the party after he met with the President. He said the party's campaign deficit of $500,000 was the major problem facing the Democrats.

"It is not our intention to influence Democratic members of Congress," he said, "to obstruct, delay or in any way impede the national welfare and the new administration program insofar as it is compatible with the views of our party."

Stevenson said that Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell will remain in his post and he did not expect any change.

Reuther New CIO Chief

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—Walter P. Reuther won the presidency of the CIO in a roll-call vote victory over executive vice-president Allan A. Haywood. The 45-year-old Auto Worker Union president became the third president of the CIO succeeding the late Phillip Murray. It was the first time in the union's 15-year history that delegates had been called on to choose between two candidates for president. The convention is expected to re-elect Haywood as executive vice-president.

Indian Peace Plan Approved

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The General Assembly passed India's compromise peace plan by a 54-5 vote. President Lester B. Pearson of Canada was instructed to communicate it to the Chinese Communists and North Koreans and "invite their acceptance." There was little expectation that the Reds would accept the plan, but the UN hoped that there would not be a quick rejection to it.

There was hope that if the plan was to be rejected, it would be delayed until after the Assembly adjourns for Christmas. The Assembly would not convene again until early February. By that time President-elect Eisenhower's administration will be in power and the Korean problem would be removed from President Truman's lame-duck regime.

The UN Political Committee now has taken up the charge of the 13-nation Arab-Asian bloc that France's relations with Tunisia constitute a threat to international peace. France contends that her relations with her protectorate is an internal matter and not open to UN examination.

Wage Board Chief Resigns

WASHINGTON—Archibald Cox, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, resigned Thursday in protest over the President's approval of an extra wage boost for coal miners above the recommendations of top defense agency officials. Meanwhile, Truman's action has assured a year of peace in the coal mines.

McNAUGHTON SAYS:

Ike Realizes Korean Trip Hazardous

President-elect Eisenhower knows he is taking a great risk when he visits the Korean battlefield. But that risk is not so much to his own life as to the morale of both soldiers and American citizens.

Frank McNaughton, Washington correspondent for Time magazine, pointed out this risk in a journalism convocation in Love Library Auditorium Wednesday.

If no immediate solution to the war appears after Ike's Korean visit, McNaughton said, there may be a definite letdown in morale. But he said that to write-off a two-year war in no time is impossible. Ike has no formula or panacea in mind, he added.

McNaughton said that Eisenhower believes that "if one man, even a GI, could give one thought of solution, it would be criminal (of Eisenhower) if he did not go after it."

Speaking on the subject, "Washington: 1953" the Time reporter praised Ike's governmental appointments.

He said of:
1. John Foster Dulles — "If any man can pick a better man than Dulles" for Secretary of State. "I'd like to know." Dulles is patient and able but as hard as spring steel. He would revitalize the department. Dulles would like the United States to

Record Indicates Honorary Commandant Will Be Married By 1953 Military Ball

By CAL KUSKA
Staff Writer

If past history determines what will happen in the future, this year's Honorary Commandant will be married by the 1953 Military Ball.

The Honorary Commandants the past three years were married following graduation and are now either teaching school or housekeeping. Last year's commandant Mrs. George Lew- ington, formerly Jackie Sorensen, is living in Omaha and keeping house for her husband, who is attending medical school. Jackie was associate editor of the 1952 Cornhusker and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Mrs. Robert Raun, the former Eileen Derieg, was Honorary Commandant in 1950 and is employing her home ec education for her husband on a farm near Minden. Eileen was a member of Chi Omega.

The third Commandant is presently teaching grade school in Lincoln. She is Mrs. Randy Ewing, the former Pat Berge. Pat was a member of Gamma Phi Beta while at the University.

The odds for a married Commandant appear slim this year though as the finalist group contains only one engaged and one pinned girl.

Jeanne Vierk, who is engaged, is a senior in agriculture college majoring in Home Economics. A member of Alpha Chi Omega, she is president of the Home Economics club and vice president of Builders.

The pinned girl is Artie Westcott, who is also a senior majoring in home economics. Queen of the Farmer's Formal, she is a member of Mortar Board and Chi Omega.

Julie Johnson, senior in Arts and Sciences, is majoring in English. A member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, she is associate editor of the 1953 Cornhusker and honorary sponsor of Pershing Rifles.

Joan Hanson, Teachers senior, is a member of Mortar Board and president of AUF. Also she was the 1952 Typical Nebraska Coed and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Jean Loudon, president of the AWS board, is a senior in Teachers college. She is a member of Mortar Board and Alpha Chi Omega.

The sixth finalist, Adele Coryell is a member of Mortar Board and is president of Kappa Kappa Gamma. She is a senior in Teachers college.

Council Head Challenges AWS Ruling On Activities

Attention has been focused on the Associated Women Students activity point system this week through the case of Pat Ball, a junior with excessive activity points.

Miss Ball elected to drop membership in Student Council in order to comply with AWS regulations.

However, Wayne White, Council president, told The Daily Nebraskan Thursday he would not accept Miss Ball's resignation.

Under the AWS activity regulations, a coed may carry a maximum of 11 points. Miss Ball holds 15 activity points; seven as Daily Nebraskan News Editor; four as a member of Tassel, coed pep organization, and four as corresponding secretary of Student Council. She is on Council as representative from Tassel.

"If a girl can keep her average up," White said, "it is silly to make her drop organizations when she is only slightly over-pointed. If she were in 15 organizations or had 15 too many points, there would be no quarrel with the regulations."

White added that a desire to keep the organization at full strength by keeping Miss Ball as Corresponding Secretary also influenced his decision.

The AWS Board of Appeals will hear Miss Ball's case at a meeting Monday, according to Sue Holmes, chairman of the Activities Committee of AWS.

Miss Holmes did not comment on the situation.

Yearbook Beauties To Be Revealed At Friday Formal

The 40th annual Military Ball, one of the oldest University traditions, will officially open the University winter formal season Friday at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum.

Military Dress Becomes High Style Tonight

Military Ball and uniforms—the two are synonymous, according to the commandants of the Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC units when interviewed on the subject.

Colonel James A. Workman, professor of Military Science and Tactics, said that since it is a Military Ball it is more or less understood that the ROTC students will wear their uniforms.

"We have made a special effort to get the juniors their uniforms and since they do have them," he said, "I should think they would want to wear them."

"I don't think there will be a trend toward not wearing the uniform, he said, but if any ROTC student is recognized at the Ball not in uniform he will certainly be looked upon with disfavor."

Professor of Naval Science Capt. Thomas A. Donovan said that Naval students are not required to wear their uniforms but are urged and encouraged to do so.

"Since it is a Military Ball, I would presume the students would want to wear their uniforms," he said. "However, we expect seniors participating in the Grand March to be in uniform."

Mej. John B. Truell, speaking for Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of Air Science and Tactics, said that Colonel Jamieson strongly urges all Air Force students to wear their uniforms. All seniors taking part in the grand march, he said, are expected to wear them.

"It is a general assumption that any ROTC student attending the ball would wear his uniform," Truell said.

Builders Position Filings Due Dec. 17

Applications for executive positions on the University Builders' Board must be filed before Dec. 17. Board member applications are due Jan. 7.

All students who have worked on Builders' committees or have held board positions may apply for executive or board positions.

Applicants must have a weighted 5 average in scholarship and must be undergraduates carrying not less than 12 semester hours.

SC Committee To Interview Groups On Election Methods

The Student Council committee appointed to hold hearings on individual organizations' election systems met Thursday to outline the procedure to be taken at these hearings.

The interviews, according to Dean Linscott, head of the committee, will begin Tuesday night. The purpose of these hearings, he said, will be to hear and weigh the comments of the organizations on this subject of paid ticket voting.

Organizations will be notified when they are to appear before the committee.

A questionnaire is being prepared which will be sent out to all organizations concerned and organized houses to determine their feelings on ticket elections. These are to be returned to the committee for reference.

AUF Queen To Highlight '52 Auction

High Bidders To Win Various 'Properties'

Presentation of the 1952 Activity Queen will highlight the All University Fund auction Wednesday in the Union Ballroom.

The queen will be chosen from the six finalists, Jan Harrison, Jean Steffen, Muriel Pickett, Nancy Hemphill, Donna Elliott and Winifred Stolz.

All sorority and fraternity pledge classes will be given away for one day to the highest bidders. Innocents will be hired as cooks for one day. Two male faculty members will be bus boys for a day, and a food package will be presented by the Home Economics Club.

Beauty Queens, Nebraska Sweetheart and Pep Queen will also be auctioned off. Prince Kosmet and Ugliest Man on Campus will be presented as dates to the highest bidding women. Pies, to be aimed at Jerry Terry and Dick Worrall, will be given to the highest bidder. Auctioning of 22 members of the football team will conclude the event.

Bob Bachman will serve as auctioneer.

Ag Builders Board Names Chuck Beam New Editor

Editorship of the new Ag Pamphlet was changed from Terry Barnes to Chuck Beam Wednesday evening by the Builders Board.

FAMILY SERVICE ASSOCIATION

All-University Party Gives Money To Lincoln Charity

A check for $157.54 was presented late Thursday afternoon by a representative of the All-University Party, commonly known as the faction, to the Family Service Association, a Lincoln organization designed to help needy families.

The check was written on the treasury of the All-University Party—composed of the majority of Greek social fraternities—and was accompanied by a letter from the organization. The letter was brought to The Daily Nebraskan Thursday afternoon.

Part of the letter is as follows: "With the Christmas season here, it is our purpose to try to make for those not quite as fortunate as we a better and merrier Christmas. Therefore, we hope that this money shall be used to provide food, gifts and other needed articles for those who are without."

"The All-University Party is deeply indebted to such an organization through which it can express its Christmas feelings. We are especially happy to give this gift to a charitable agency which is local and reaches to so many people with various needs."

"In conclusion of the letter of presentation, the faction told the Association to 'feel free to call upon us... any time you need assistance.'"

The Family Service Association, according to inquiries conducted by The Daily Nebraskan, is a Lincoln Community Chest organization which "offers... case work service to families and individuals who need help in the following areas:

"Family problems involving home-management, financial planning, parent-child relationship, housing and health.

"Problems of children... adult problems of personal adjustment... difficulties which threaten the security of the marriage relationship... problems faced by unmarried mothers... and requests for foster care for children."

Dr. Paul Meadows, University professor of sociology, is president of the Association. Vic Selzer is general secretary and several University instructors have been members of the Board of Directors. A University instructor, Dr. Amos G. Warner, led the movement in the spring of 1951 to found the Association.

According to Dr. Frank Glick, head of the University's Graduate School of Social Work, three students are conducting their field practice work in conjunction with the Family Service Association this year. Dr. Glick said that since establishment of the school in 1937, his students have worked closely with the Association.

The All-University Party, on Oct. 17 of this year, presented the Junior-Senior class board with a $56 check to aid with the activities of the upper-classes.
