LETTER TO PRESIDENT

Foreign Student Fights To Take ROTC Courses

Vladislav M. Biro, University student, is writing letters to President Harry S. Truman and Senator Hugh Butler trying to obtain permission to take courses in ROTC.

A law passed by Congress prevents foreign students from taking such courses unless permission is given by Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces or Congress changes the law pertaining to ROTC.

Biro said, "I am going to fight for this permission until I get it. I will be a citizen of the United States in two and a half years and would like to attend courses in ROTC for my future."

Biro is a freshman in the college of Arts and Science majoring in dentistry. Before moving to the United States he lived in Slovakia. He has lived in Lincoln for about 2 1/2 years.

His letter to President Truman says: "Dear Mr. President: I am a foreign student at the University of Nebraska attending ROTC classes.

"By the notice from the commanding officer 'all foreign students without citizenship won't be able to stay in military courses.'"

"I will be a citizen in two and a half years. I would like to attend ROTC for my future. The commanding officer further said, there are two ways to stay in ROTC. First, get a special permission from the Commander-in-chief or if Congress will enact a future change of this law at the meeting of Congress.

"I would appreciate any information on this matter. Sincerely I am, Vladislav M. Biro, 4900 J St., Lincoln, Nebraska."

new students in the University. They are Polly Ackerson, Sally Adams, John Bitzes, Janice Corrick, Yvonne Gibbs, Don Kautsch, John Lynch, Duane McCutchan, Ruth Raymond, Robert Sineal and Bonnie Wesley. Jack Paap and Steve Carveth were contacted at the University College of Medicine in Omaha.

Richard Green and Joan Engelkemier, graduates of the University, were called. All of these 15 persons denied calling the American Legion.

The Nebraskan also found where 11 of the former class members now are living. George Sohl is attending the University but there is no record of his phone number or address. Dave Cohen, Darrell Montgomery and Larry Nordin are in the army. Cohen is at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., Nordin at Ft. Sill, Okla., and Montgomery is stationed in New Jersey.

Paul Fenske is doing welfare work in India. Shirley Miller is teaching school in Norfolk. Kenneth Wallace, a former reporter for The Lincoln Star, is now in Mesa, Ariz. Mrs. Ralph Paul, the former Rita Renard, lives in Bellevue.

The last known addresses for the following people were: Joan Hoyt, McCook; Annette Luebbers, Ft. Dodge, Ia.; and Lovis Nyquist, Craig.

The Daily Nebraskan could find no trace of Gerald Barret and Otis Edwards. Both men were graduated in June.

New Circle K Club Set Up On Campus

The Circle K Club, a new club sponsored by the Lincoln Kiwanis Club held its organizational dinner at 6 p.m. at the Union Wednesday night.

The new club is a service organization which in the words of its newly-elected president, Don Marti, "will parallel its activities to the University with the activities of the Kiwanis Club to Lincoln." The organization will hold two meetings a month, one to be

California Singers To Give NU Show

The Junior-Senior Choral Concert, to be held Feb. 4 at St. Paul's Methodist Church, will feature the University of California glee club, Bob Hasebrook, concert committee chairman, has announced.

The glee club, composed of 54 men, is being brought here under the sponsorship of the Junior-Senior Class Council. The committee in charge of making arrangements, includes Bill Hodder, Nancy Weir and Hyle Thibault.

Lighting the candles will be done by Lois Keichhafer and Roma Laun.

Rev. John Douglas Clyde of the Westminster Presbyterian Church will give the invocation and benediction. Following the invocation, Janet Fullerton will play an organ prelude.

Soloists for the choral program include Marilyn Musgrave, Alyce Donnelly, Pat Russell, Jo Ann Shimonek, Joyce Spittgerber, and Mrs. Shirley Marsh. A mixed quartet including Maxine Patterson, Pat Russell, Don Jarchow and Ken Clement will also sing. Accompanist for the program will be Marilyn Paul.

Lois Keichhafer and Art Kuhl, co-chairmen of the service, announced that it will be open to the public.

CIMADE French Head To Make Week-end Visit

Madeleine Barot, French head of CIMADE, Christian service organization of Protestant youth, will be in Lincoln Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Barot will meet informally with all interested students at the Lutheran Student House at 9:15 p.m. Sunday. Available also for personal appointments, Miss Barot may be contacted Saturday or Sunday at the city YWCA.

Miss Barot came to America from France to attend a meeting in Denver of the World Council of Churches, which sponsors the CIMADE. Set up first in France during World War II, the CIMADE gave help to prisoners of war, refugees, and displaced persons.

Later young volunteers from different countries and churches, including America, participated in the fast-growing program; and the work was extended, as time went on, to include other countries and such services as student centers in overpopulated cities, kindergartens in devastated areas, and educational facilities for refugees.

Another world service group in which Miss Barot has been active is the European Student Relief Fund, which is a part of the World Student Service Fund. University students contribute to his fund, which receives 40 per cent of the All University Fund donations.

Ever since 1927, the ESRF has enabled students the world over to attend college. Like the CIMADE, its roots rose out of the devastation of World War II, when money was raised in America to aid the reconstruction of university life in these areas.

Faculty Woman's Club is sponsoring an informal social hour and tea for all faculty members and their husbands Sunday, from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Union.

Mrs. Taylor, secretary of the club, said the hour was arranged so that members may attend the "Messiah" concert at the Coliseum at 3 p.m. and then come to the Union for the informal gathering and refreshments. Women faculty members are especially urged to attend, she said.

Second Semester Schedules Released For Distribution

Class schedules for the second semester were released Tuesday and may be picked up by students. Students in the College of Business Administration may obtain schedules in Dean Earl Fulbrook's office, Room 210A Social Science Building. Ag students may pick up schedules in the office of Dr. Ephraim Hixson, 206 Agricultural Hall. Schedules are available to other students in the Registration and Records office, B-7 Administration building.

Students should see their advisers early about working out a program of study for the second semester. All Junior Division students are expected to have their programs completed by December 15.

Only Junior Division students leave their work sheets with their advisers. Other students are expected to bring one copy of their work sheet with them when they report to the assignment committee during the week of Jan. 12.

All students must have their work sheets signed by the dean of their college, except those in Arts and Science or Agriculture. Junior Division students must have their work sheets signed by the Director of the Junior Division.

Students who have earned 26 semester hours or less as of September 1, 1952, should pick up registration numbers in the drill hall, Military and Naval Science Building during the week of Jan. 5. Students who are enrolled in the College of Agriculture may obtain their numbers from Dr. Hixson, 206 Agricultural Hall.

The assignment committee will begin its work during the week of Jan. 12. Seniors will register first, then juniors, sophomores, and freshmen according to their registration numbers.

Registrations are not complete until the fees have been paid on January 27, 28, or 29. Fees will be payable in the drill hall, Military and Naval Science Building, on those three days.

Registration for new students will be held Jan. 30, 1953.

Naming Of Calves Falls Back On Titles Of Goddesses, Famous Operas, Dances

By PAT PECK
Feature Editor

Prospective mammas and papas puzzling over the name for the new offspring have an easy task compared to that which faces Robert G. Fossland, instructor in Dairy Husbandry.

The Department of Dairy Husbandry has a crop of about 50 new dairy calves to be named each year. When a calf is named its name is begun with the same letter as the name of its mother. It was only a matter of time before the list of common names was exhausted. The department then coined names which no one understood, according to Fossland.

Fossland has had musicology, knowledge of music, as a hobby for about 12 years. When the supply of names for calves ran out he turned to his music and there was a new fund of names. Calves are named for operas and dances. Names may be borrowed from the title of the opera or from the characters in the opera.

The herd of cattle so named now numbers about 40. Some of the calves are sold or die after they are named.

Marguerite, from the opera "Faust," was the first opera name given to a calf. She was born in 1947, a Holstein.

Following Marguerite a month the Holstein prima-donnas were Tristram and Isolde, Carmen Brunhilde, Juliet, Friga, Alcione, Kriehilde, Freya and Waltraute. Opera titles "La Boheme," and "Lakme" have been called to serve as names. The herd also includes the Rhine maidens from Wagner's opera "The Ring," and Gilbert and Sullivan's Peppie.

The Jersey class may seem rather neglected, having only one member, "Aida," named after the opera.

Dellah and Pamela appear in the Guernsey class. Ayrshire opera personalities are Ariadne, Althea and Salome.

It didn't take long at this rate to run out of names from operas. The next field that presented itself as a source of names was the field of dances.

The Holstein class-list includes Waltz, Pavane, Quadrille, Rhum-

Big Seven Convo Set For Dec. 12-14

The Big Seven Student Government Plant Association Convention plant are being completed, said Wayne White, Student Council president.

Delegates from all Big Seven schools will attend the Dec. 12, 13, and 14 convention at Columbia, Missouri.

The University will send two official delegates and three observers. Wayne White and Bob Peterson will serve in the capacity of the official delegates. The three observers are Rocky Yapp, Joyce Johnson, and Janet Steffen.

The delegates from the Big Seven schools will discuss such topics as student welfare, academic affairs, student organization and interschool activities, and public and alumni relations.

Music Department Gives 2nd Recital

The second in a series of music department recitals was held Wednesday afternoon.

Some 60 students of piano, string, voice and organ instruction participated. The Department of Music sponsors a number of such recitals each semester to accustom music majors to performing before an audience.

Due to the number of participants, the Social Science and Temple building as well as the Music Building were used for the affair.
