

YWCA Rendezvous Scheduled Friday

Meeting Times Staggered So Coeds' Schedules Do Not Hinder Attendance

The YWCA Rendezvous, which provides an opportunity for coeds to register for the YWCA commission of their preference, is Friday, 3 to 5 p.m. at Ellen Smith.

The commissions are arranged for many varied interests and at different times to meet the problem of fitting them into students' schedules.

AUF Drive Started For Netherlands

University students will be given the opportunity to aid disaster-ridden Holland through an AUF sponsored clothes drive.

Starting today, a large box will be placed in the main lobby of the Union and all organized houses as well as individuals are urged to work together to fill this box with clothes that will be packaged and sent to Holland by AUF members.

The urgent needs of these flood victims becomes more apparent each day as the dead and injured toll mounts. Of the already listed dead in the entire flood area, 1,053 are from Holland and at least 50,000 from that country are known to be homeless.

NUCWA To Name Delegates, Hear Dr. Hill Tonight

Dr. Norman Hill, professor of political science will discuss various phases of the United Nations and the model United Nations Assembly to be held in March, at the NUCWA meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in Room 313, Student Union, instead of Burnett Hall, as was previously announced.

Countries which have been assigned delegations will be announced at the meeting.

Rev. Herbert Kirk Will Address Church Meeting

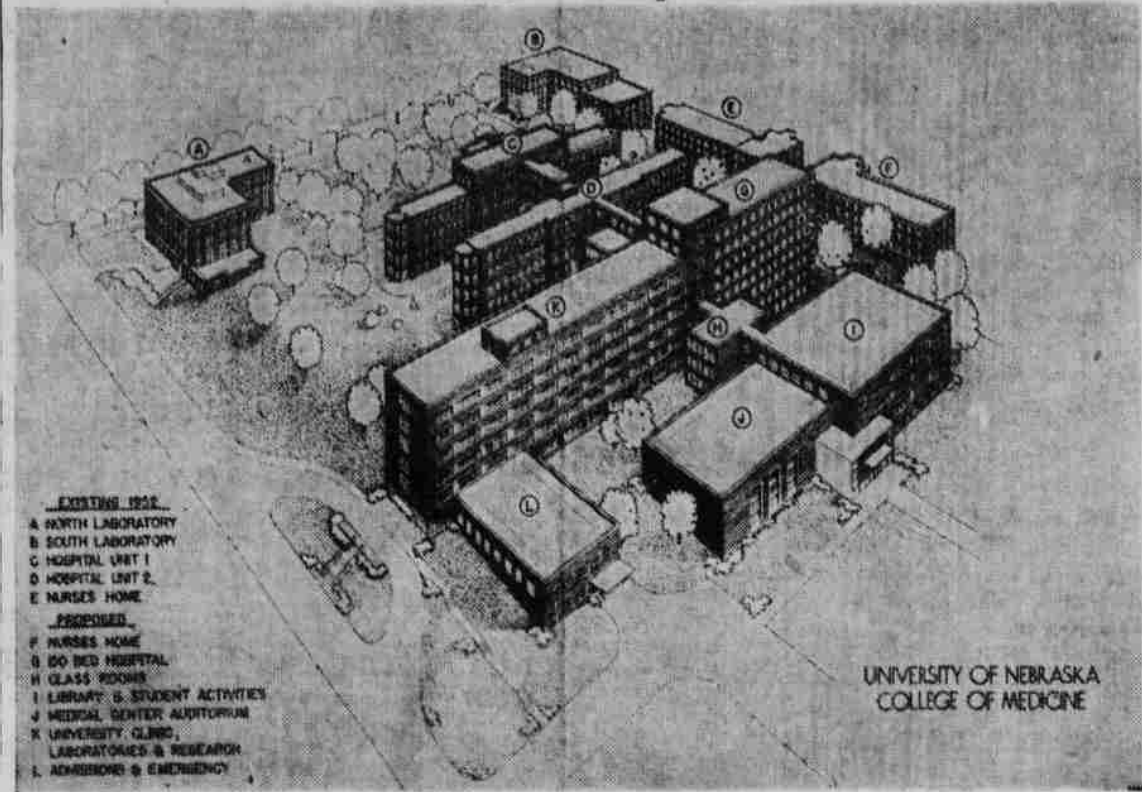

Rev. Herbert Kirk of the Evangelical Free Church in Columbus, Neb., will address the InterVarsity Christian Fellowship on "Faith" Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 315 of the Union.

Masquers Slate Annual Production

MASQUER PRODUCTION... Playing the leading roles in the sixth annual Masquer's play are Marian Uhe and Marvin Stromer. The production, "The Cat and the Canary," will be given Feb. 18, 19, and 20. (Daily Nebraskan Photo by Darwin McAfee.)

College Proposal

MEDICAL COLLEGE BUILDING... This is a drawing of the University College of Medicine at Omaha with proposed additions. The estimated cost of the proposed additions to the college is $6,000,000.

Park Releases Names Of New Builders Board Members

The following list of Builders Board members was released Wednesday by Elden Park, Builders president. The list includes the newly elected board members and their affiliations.

L. Nicholson Receives Ph.D.

Leslie L. Nicholson, a former student at the University, was given the degree of Doctor of Optometry at the commencement exercises of Chicago College of Optometry Jan. 23, 1953.

AWS Filings Due Monday

Filings for AWS officers and board memberships are due by 5 p.m. Monday in Ellen Smith Hall.

The election of these officers and board members will be held March 11.

Last Teachers' Meeting To Be Held Thursday

The second and final meeting for prospective teachers for the school year 1953-54 will be held Thursday, Feb. 5 in Love Library auditorium at 4 p.m.

Jensby, Director, Casts Stromer, Uhe, As Leads

Wes Jensby, director, named Marvin Stromer and Marian Uhe as the leading players for the Masquers dramatics honorary production, "The Cat and the Canary," to be presented Feb. 18, 19, and 20 in Room 201 Temple.

Stromer will portray Charlie and Miss Uhe will play Annabelle. Supporting roles will be played by Fletcher Coleman, as Paul; Ellie Guilliat as Mammy; and Merrill Clute, as Harry.

Also featured in the production are Marilyn Lehr, Betty Stratton, Ken Clement, Dick Marrs, and Al Hazlewood.

"The Cat and the Canary," a mystery, written by John Willard, is the sixth annual play to be presented by Nebraska Masquers.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of Nebraska Masquers and at the University Theatre box office.

Filings For CC Close Friday

Filings for Coed Counselor board positions will close Friday at 5 p.m. in Ellen Smith Hall.

Applicants must have 5.5 weighted averages. However, they need not have been big sisters to file for board positions.

Of the twelve freshmen selected to appear on the ballot at least four of the candidates must be affiliated and four unaffiliated. Four coeds, two affiliated and two unaffiliated, will be elected.

Eight of the 16 upperclassmen elected must be sophomores. At least four affiliated and four unaffiliated candidates must be on the ballot.

Draftsman's Set Stolen From Student Sunday

it happened at nu

A sorority housemother called Browns for the purpose of obtaining a plumber.

Shortly after the call a young man called at the house. "Are you with Browns?" the hopeful housemother asked.

The young man said he was. This was followed by a detailed tour of the house accompanied by the housemother and her complaints concerning the plumbing.

Leaving the man, the housemother went about her duties but still questioning the capabilities of the man.

Later, one of the coeds was frankly pacing the floor waiting for her ride home with one of her father's employees.

Christian Student's Life Theme Of Conference

What is the place of a Christian student in the University? This question is to be the theme of a conference entitled "The Christian Student Workshop" at the Congregational-Presbyterian Student house Friday through Sunday.

The conference is designed to bring faculty members and students together for the discussion of important problems in education.

Four main sessions are planned for the conference. At each meeting an open forum led by a panel of faculty members and smaller discussion groups led by students will be included.

The conference will open with a meeting Friday at 4 p.m. where the speakers' theme will be "The Basic Message of Christianity."

Leaders at the first session will be Dr. Ramey Whitney, associate professor of economics; Dr. Charles Patterson, professor of philosophy; Dr. Knute O. Broady, director of extension division; Bill Barrett, graduate student in physics; Jack Warren, engineering senior; and Bill Weir, freshman in business administration.

"The Purpose of the University" will be the discussion topic of the following session at 7 p.m. Friday.

Leaders of the second meeting will be Dr. Marvel Baker, associate director of agricultural experiment station; Dr. Clarence McNeil, professor of economics; Kathleen Dill, senior in philosophy; and Elizabeth Gass, home economics senior.

The last sessions will be Saturday at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. They will center around "Christian Ideals in a University" and "The Christian Student in a University."

Leading the third meeting will be Dr. Otto Holberg, associate professor of sociology; Dr. Leroy Laese, professor of speech and dramatic arts; Ralph Kellogg, graduate student in physical education; and Ken Rystrom, arts sciences junior.

The fourth session will be headed by Dr. Maurice Lotta, assistant professor of economics; Dr. Loretta Schlaphoff, professor of home economics; Claire Carlson, school of nursing senior; Bob Green, graduate student in law; and Hester Morrison teachers college senior.

Students will sum up the conference at a forum Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

Billoni

By BILL DEVRIES Staff Writer The love of a beautiful maid, The love of a staunch, true man, The love of a baby unafraid, Has existed since time began.

But the greatest love, the love of loves, Even greater than that of a mother, Is the tender, infinite, passionate love Of one drunken bum for another.

STORK: A bird that gets charged with a lot of things which should be blamed on a lark. Then there was the girl who used to be the campus belle, but somebody tolled on her.

Coed Follies Given Title 'Hits Road'

Show Open To Public First Time In History

"Coed Follies Hits The Road" will be presented by the AWS Board Monday and Tuesday evenings Feb. 23 and 24.

This year, for the first time, the show will be open to the public. The production has a general theme which will provide continuity throughout the show.

Coed Follies is planned to hit many of the places in the universe on its journey. Suggestion for travel, real and in fantasy, are to be featured, with ideas of what a student may expect in traveling throughout the world.

Tryouts for skits and curtain acts began February 4 and will continue to Feb. 5. Those trying out Thursday night and the times are:

7:15 Judges meet at Union Lounge and leave for houses. 7:30 Gamma Phi Beta, Skit: "Mardi Gras Magic." Skitmaster: Lynn Kunkel.

7:45 Kappa Delta, Skit: "The Land of White Rose." Skitmaster: Marilyn Lehr.

8:00 Terrace Hall, Skit: "Gloria Comes From Jungle Drums." Skitmaster: Barbara Britton.

8:15 Delta Gamma, Skit: "Hannah and the King of Siam." Skitmaster: Barbara Dillman.

8:30 Alpha Xi Delta, Skit: "You Can't Get a Man With a Brain." Skitmaster: Lois Anderson.

8:45 Delta Delta Delta, Skit: "Which Way to Australia." Skitmaster: Marilyn Luce.

The judge's decisions will be announced in this Friday's issue of The Daily Nebraskan.

AWS Meeting Thursday

At a meeting Thursday, AWS workers will sign up to help Coed Follies by making tickets, usher tags and posters for the event.

Jan Steffen, who will preside, announced that anyone interested in becoming an AWS worker should contact her.

Eddie Garner's Orchestra To Play

SNO-BALL... Preparing for the annual Ag Sno-Ball dance are Junior Knobel, dance chairman, and Jeanette Selk, decorations chairman. The dance will be in the Ag College Activity Building Friday.

Voting Procedure Altered Wednesday

Future Special University Elections Student Council To Supervise All

The Student Council voted 22 to 0 Wednesday to amend the Student Council by-laws dealing with special election rules.

The present by-laws, Article IV, Section 1, states the following laws governing special elections:

a. The Student Council must approve and must supervise special elections.

b. The Student Council may designate other groups to furnish additional student help at the polling places for special elections only.

c. A faculty member shall be present at the polling place for each special election.

The amendment passed by the Student Council will add the following:

d. A student identification card must be presented at the place of voting by the voter to determine his eligibility.

e. A voter will be able to cast but one ballot.

f. A ballot is not to be included on a ticket of admission.

The action was taken as a result of a proposal submitted to the council Nov. 19 by organized women houses. This proposal objected to the requirement of tickets to be eligible to vote for finalists in such elections as AUF's Activity Queen, Builder's Calendar Girl, Coed Counselor's Penny Carnival, Junior-Senior Prom King and Queen and Kosmet Klub's Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet.

The proposal pointed out that under the present system houses could "buy" a title with the result that the significance of the title would be less. It recommended instead that the requirement for voting would be a student identification card and that the ticket prerequisite be abolished.

On Jan. 7 the women's group presented the following amendment to the council: "Finalists for any campus election shall be chosen without the use of a ticket prerequisite." Meanwhile a Student Council election committee interviewed the organizations which sponsored such elections to learn their opinion on the matter.

At a Jan. 14 council meeting, the amendment sponsored by the women's group was defeated by the council. On the basis of interviews, the election committee submitted the alternate amendment which was passed Wednesday by the necessary two-thirds vote.

The amendment will be presented to the faculty committee of student affairs for final approval.

Clayton Hits U.S. News Suppression

By DEL HARDING Staff Writer There is a growing tendency to suppress news in America. So said Charles Clayton, editorial writer for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, at a Love Library convocation Wednesday afternoon.

News sources practice this suppression more than newspapers themselves, he said.

Police officials, school boards, and state legislatures are continuing the "suppression trend" which originated in Washington, Clayton said. Declaring "it can happen here," he pointed to cases of attempted news suppression in San Francisco, Atlanta, and Lake Charles, Louisiana.

Newsmen who accept "hand-out news" as gospel also drew the criticism of Clayton, who declared they should investigate the validity of the news releases.

"The public has a right to know the score—from the precinct level up to Washington," he continued. "The American people can think straight when given the facts. The news need not be sugar-coated—the public can take the good with the bad," Clayton added.

Contending "the right to know is basic in a democracy," he criticized some newspapers for not living up to their responsibility to "confine their opinion to the editorial page." But as a whole, he believes the American press is "alert in attempting to avoid suppression."

The primary function of a newspaper is to print the news—accurately," he said. Other functions of nearly equal importance are to "comment fairly on issues of the day," but to "keep separate the day," but to "keep separate accounts."

Clayton spoke at the first of a monthly series of journalism-school sponsored convocations.

Mortar Board Tea To Honor Coed Scholars

The annual Mortar Board scholarship tea will honor the sophomore, junior and senior women who have made outstanding averages.

The tea will take place Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in Ellen Smith Hall. The ten senior women who have made the highest averages will be presented.

Artie Westcott, Mortar Board scholarship tea chairman, said that because a 6 average was formerly required, the number invited to the tea is considerably reduced this year.

Members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary, will serve and

Cutest Baby's Picture To Win Prize At Sno Ball

The music of Eddie Garner and his orchestra will open the annual Sno Ball Dance Friday at 9 p.m. in the Ag College activities building.

A baby picture contest, featuring prominent Ag students, is a special addition to the dance. Pictures of 20 Ag students are posted on the bulletin board in the Ag Union, and additional entries may be entered in the contest as late as Friday morning.

A prize will be awarded to the person judged the cutest baby. There will also be a prize for the person who recognizes the most pictures. Everyone attending the dance may vote on the cutest baby, and the prizes will be awarded during intermission.

Sno Ball tickets may be purchased for $1.50 in the Ag Union booth or from committee members. The dance is under the direction of Junior Knobel, Ruth Ann Ernst, and Jeanette Selk.

Roundup Dance

There will be dancing in the Roundup, Saturday evening following the basketball game. The dance is casual and Cokes will be served.