

the DAILY NEBRASKAN

Voice of a Great Midwestern University

VOL. 52—No. 79

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Tuesday, November 10, 1953

Speech Entries Due For Contest

Finalists To Compete Feb. 20 In Extemporaneous Speaking

Entries in the annual Delta Sigma Rho extemporaneous speaking contest, to be held Feb. 17, 18 and 19, may be submitted this week.

The contest, open to all University students who are not present or former members of the Debate Squad, includes two preliminary rounds in which participants present five to seven minute speeches. Finalists are then chosen to compete in the final round Feb. 20.

Students wishing to enter the contest, for which a traveling trophy is awarded to the winning individual as well as the winning organized house, may submit names to Donald Olson, director of debate, Room 202, Temple Building, until Friday at 5 p.m. Preliminary rounds will have three judges. The finals will be judged by five faculty members from Lincoln outstanding in the field of speech. Awards will be presented immediately following the last round by representatives of Delta Sigma Rho, national speech honorary and sponsor of the contest. Final round will be in Love Library Auditorium.

An effort is being made this year to increase the number of independent contestants, said Joan Krueger, Delta Sigma Rho president. Although one award necessarily must go to an organized house, she continued, independent students are definitely eligible for the outstanding speaker's cup. Kappa Alpha Theta presently possesses the traveling house trophy won by Lee Ellen Creeseman and Mary Worrall in 1952.

Rosemary Amos was last year's winner of the outstanding individual speaker's cup. Both trophies are inscribed with the winners' names.

One new feature of this year's contest is the subject material which will be confined so far as possible to campus topics. In the past, topics of general current affairs have been used.

Detailed rules and procedures will be announced later.

KNUS Hits Air Waves On Tuesday

Tuesday at 3 p.m. KNUS, the radio station of the students, for the students, and by the students, will go on the air for the second semester, 1952-53.

The five-year-old station has scheduled a completely new program system. Instead of broadcasting a variety of miscellaneous programs from 3 to 5 each afternoon, KNUS will present all programs of the same type on one day. The only daily feature will be the news and sports coverage at 4:45 p.m.

"Talk" programs are the basis of Monday's schedule. "Authors of the Ages," short stories adapted from famous stories, will be continued from last semester. A discussion of contemporary English literature and play reviews presented by the theater department are two new programs planned for Monday's entertainment.

Tuesday's schedule will feature popular music, and is composed entirely of disc jockey shows. Bob Wells will present a new disc jockey show, broadcasting from various Greek houses on campus. This Tuesday he will broadcast from the Sig Alpha house, chatting informally with officers and members of the fraternity. Another Tuesday show will be m.c.'d by Al Hazelwood, a graduate student.

Wednesday is KNUS variety day. A liberal sampling of music and a woman's show featuring interviews by Lynne Morgan have been scheduled.

Classical and semi-classical music will be featured on Thursday; and dance music, on Friday. Two of Friday's disc jockey shows will be "3379 Dance Street" with Fred Longacre, and "Roll Up the Rug" with Al Kenyon.

An all-new staff guides the reins at KNUS this semester. John Barrett is station manager; George Nancarrow is production director; Lorraine Coryell has taken over as continuity director; Lloyd G. Graff, as news director; and Roger Schimm, as sports director. Al Hazelwood is chief announcer and Jim Crump is chief engineer.

Air Age Exhibit

EDUCATION PERIOD . . . George Maul, Lincoln High School junior, explains the portion of the display to Lee Hiezel and Joan Carlson, University students. (Daily Nebraskan Photo by Del Harding.)

it happened at nu

A freshman coed was registering for AWS Board in Ellen Smith. She wrote her name, address and her interests in the organization.

Then she came to the question "What is your approximate weighted average?" Her answer was "About 135 pounds."

Scholarships Awarded To 29 Students

Twenty-nine University of Nebraska students have been granted scholarships worth a total of $1,080 for the second semester, David Foltz, chairman of the department of music, announced Friday.

Phyllis Maloney of Council Bluffs, Ia., an entering freshman, received a $70 Regents Music scholarship. Other first year students who earned renewals of their Regents Music scholarships on the basis of their first semester's scholastic achievements include:

Sally Buckendorf, Bassett; Jane Farnum, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Carolyn Fricke, Ogallala; Jack Lund, Washpeton, N. Dak.; Phyllis Maloney, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Martha Payne, Hooper; John Poutre, Wyoming; Kenneth R. Rumery, Omaha; Virginia Thomas, Lincoln; Stella Marie Woodlee, Alliance.

The Regents Music scholarships are being awarded this school year for the first time. Recipients were selected after special auditions held last summer.

Freshmen who received renewals of scholarships granted on the basis of performance at the University's Fine Arts Festival last April include: Carol Jean Armstrong, Holdrege; Ann Bramwell, Lincoln; Norman Cizek, Wilber; Betty Clark, Lincoln; Billie Croft, Fremont; Oline Foxall, Omaha; Gene Hazen, Lincoln; Marilyn Herse, Albion.

Others are Alice Logie, St. Paul; Sue Kirkman, Tecumseh; Jack McKie, Lincoln; Virginia McPeck, Geneva; Edwin Martin, Holbrook; Beverly Ross, Aurora; Carolyn Roxberg, Lincoln; Marianne Sayer, Cambridge; Norbert Schuerman, DeWitt; Phyllis Sherman, Tecumseh, and Carole Unterseher, Lincoln.

Rowen To Direct Religious Council

The new slate of officers for the Religious Welfare Council was elected under a new constitution last Thursday at a meeting at the city YMCA.

The new constitution, approved by the Religious Welfare Council at their December meeting, has not yet been officially approved by the Student Council.

The new officers and the organizations they represent will assume office at the meeting on March 5th. They are:

Dick Rowen of Canterbury Club, president; Tim Nelson of Presby House, second vice president; Roger Heimer of the Baptist Disciples of Student Fellowship, third vice president; Gail Roksburg of the Lutheran Student Association, secretary; and Harold Brockman of Newman Club, treasurer. There is no first vice president but the position will be filled by an appointment made by the Search Week Council.

Dick Gary is the Council's outgoing advisor. The new advisors will be named at a later date.

The Council's primary purpose is to co-ordinate the activities of the various student religious organizations. It co-operates closely with Search Week activities. In the fall it sponsors a World Friendship Dinner and plans a World Friendship Picnic in the spring.

'Cutest Baby' Winner

Courtesy Lincoln Star

THEN AND NOW . . . The above photo of Connie Clark, Ag College junior, was selected Friday as the cutest baby picture in the annual Sno-Ball contest. The photos above show a difference of 18 years.

Eligible Bachelors Begin Campaigning For Voting

The thirteen candidates for Eligible Bachelors may campaign any time now through election day on Feb. 19.

From the following candidates, six men will be elected by University women to be known as the University's "most eligible" men: Jim Coedahl, Phi Delta Theta; James Collins, Acacia; James N. Farris, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Richard A. Goll, Phi Gamma Delta; Dick Huebner, Beta Sigma Psi; Jerry Minnick, Delta Upsilon; Wayne Moody, Farm House; Dave Noble, Phi Kappa Psi; Robert Pecha, Alpha Tau Omega; Thom Snyder, Tau Kappa Epsilon; J. Carr Trumbull, Sigma Chi; Bob Wagner, Kappa Sigma, and Tom Woodward, Sigma Nu.

Debate Teams Win 9 Rounds, Lose Eleven

Four University debate teams won nine rounds and lost 11 in the Doane Invitational Conference debate tournament during the past weekend. Ten schools entered the competition.

The debate teams consisted of Don Overholt and Charles Kiffin who won three and lost two; Russell Gutting and Norman Alexander who won three and lost two; Jerry Igou and Allen Overcash who won two and lost three; and Don Rosenberg and Robert Raasch who won one and lost four.

Don Overholt, who also entered a discussion group, placed second in competition with 30 other students. Russell Gutting placed second in discussion leading competition.

Norman Alexander entered oratory competition and Jerry Igou entered extemporaneous speaking but neither placed.

Speech instructors Don Kline, Bruce Kendall and Donald O. Olson coached the University contestants.

Senate To Hear Committee Report

Committee reports concerning the renumbering of University courses will be presented at the Faculty Senate meeting, 4 p.m. Tuesday, in Love Library Auditorium. The meeting is open to the student body.

Other committee findings will be considered at the meeting. Dean J. Colbert will lead a discussion on the problem of scholarship.

New Poly Sci Head Named

Dr. Adam C. Breckenridge, former associate professor of Political Science, has been named head of the University Political Science department upon the leave of absence of Dr. Lane W. Lancaster, chairman of the department since 1938.

Dr. Breckenridge joined the University staff in 1946 and was appointed associate head in 1950. During the years 1951-52 he served as a lieutenant commander in the office of Chief of Naval Operations, in Washington, D. C. He returned to the University last September after this leave of absence.

Dr. Lancaster will continue as professor of political science but is planning to leave the University to complete work on the third volume of "Master of Political Thought."

Two volumes in this series have been written and previously published. The authors are Michael Foster of Christ College, Oxford, England and W. T. Jones of Pomona College in California. Dr. Lancaster's book will begin with writings on John Stuart Mills and will complete the study on "political theory." He expects the book to be published.

Second Semester Enrollment Down

Enrollment for second-semester classes at the University was placed at 6,022 students Saturday by Dr. Floyd W. Hoover, acting director of registration and records.

This figure compares with an enrollment of 6,100 last year at this time.

The breakdown of this mid-year enrollment is: Non-veterans: undergraduates, 4,859; graduates, 363; medical, 278; technicians, 21, and nurses, 120.

Veterans: undergraduates, 262; graduates, 55, and medical, 64.

Job Openings Available For Ag Graduates

Ephraim Hixson, dean of resident instruction of the Agricultural College announced that various companies are seeking employees from the graduating classes.

He said that the deadline for graduating students to place their names in his office is Feb. 27.

The number of students who wish interviews with these companies will govern the companies that will conduct the interviews on the campus. The more students interested, the more companies Hixson will contact for interviews in the spring.

At present about seven companies are scheduled for interviews in the spring. Most of the companies are offering on the job training for many of the fields in agriculture.

The Dean's office will notify students who place their names in his office as to the time and place of the interviews.

Students wishing to apply for assistantships and scholarships for graduate study should make their application in his office. Hixson said many of these grants are still available for students entering the graduate fields.

Billoni

By BILL DEVRIES Staff Writer

A college student appeared before a judge and pleaded that his marriage be annulled.

"On what grounds?" asked the judge.

"Her father didn't have a license for his gun."

A wolf is like a modern spot remover; it works fast and leaves no ring.

WORDS OF WISDOM America: the only country where you can go from a plain cabin to a cabin plane in one generation.

Last night I held a little hand So dainty and so sweet. I thought my heart would surely break So wildly did it beat.

No other hand in all the world Can greater solace bring Than the pretty hand I held last night

Four Aces and a King! Activities man: "Now here's one name on the committee that I never heard of."

Vice-President: "Oh, that's probably the person who actually does the work."

A miss in the car is worth two in the engine.

Social worker: "And what is your name, my good man?" Convict: "99985437."

Social worker: "Oh, but that's not your real name." Convict: "Now, that's only my pen name."

The weatherman says to leave on your fur coat and to continue taking cold pills, for Wednesday's temperature will not go much above 39.

During a tennis tournament a fellow sat down beside a girl. "Whose game?" he asked. "I am," she said.

Joe: "How'd you like your date last night?" Pete: "Fine, she said she was an old-fashioned girl and she drank a dozen of 'em to prove it."

Gustavson Talks At Cornhusker

Educator Denounces Professionalism In Education At Communion Breakfast

Chancellor R. G. Gustavson denounced the professionalism of today's education as he spoke before more than 160 University of Nebraska Newman Club members and their friends and families.

The Chancellor spoke at a Communion breakfast in the Hotel Cornhusker Sunday morning. The breakfast began National Cardinal Newman day festivities.

"Education today," said Dr. Gustavson, "is a Gulliver tied down with strings. We are trying to break these strings."

Gustavson explained that the problem is to maintain a code of education that will discipline the mind. The chancellor does not believe that this can be done with the emphasis on transit studies; those subjects which train the mind on particular professional matters rather than on the arts and sciences of all the universe.

The chancellor used the medical education to explain his point. He pointed out if a medical education was not tied down with strings requiring every student to take practically all the same courses, there would be more medical graduates with outstanding preparation in various fields of work.

He also said the University should not be expected to supply the technical professional skills for a journalist when the profession itself says it does not have the time to teach prospective journalists those skills.

The chancellor pointed out that in many states the teaching of denominational faiths in the university is forbidden by law. The Newman Club and the Catholic church, said Dr. Gustavson are the answer to their members' need for education that cannot be given in a university.

Without education, he said, man would be barbarous, even with all the other learning in the world.

Religion, he continued, is man's response to the social world.

The new officers of the Newman Club for 1953 are Robert Meehan, president; Lawrence Nordhues, vice president; Marjorie Moran, secretary; and Robert Malone, treasurer.

New Mr. and Mrs. club officers and Mother's club officers have also been named.

Series Topic Set To Cover Europe Plans

Dr. Eugene N. Anderson, professor of history, will present the first in a series of lectures, Thursday, covering the topic, "An Appraisal of the European Realities and Prospects in the Global Conflict."

The lectures, sponsored by the University Extension Division, will be held in Love Library Auditorium, 7:15 to 8:45 p.m. each Thursday for the next seven weeks.

Registration fee for the lectures is $5. Anyone desiring to attend the lectures may register at the Extension Division, 101 Architectural Hall, or at Love Library Auditorium following the first lecture. No college credit will be given for attending the lectures.

"Can Germany Solve Her National Problems?" is the title of Dr. Anderson's first lecture. Discussion periods will follow the lectures.

The other lectures and their dates of presentation are Feb. 19, "Will the Monnet Plan Revive France?"; Feb. 26 "Is Britain an Island in the Schumann Plan?"; March 12, "What is the Organization and Purpose of NATO?"; March 19, "Is it Realistic to Assist in the Development of Underdeveloped Areas?"; and March 26, "What are Realities in the U.S.S.R. Which We Have to Consider?"

All of the lectures are scheduled for 7:15 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium.

Flying Club To Meet

University Flying Club will hold a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

All members are urged to attend the meeting, a spokesman said. It will be held in the Student Union, Room Z.

YW Rendezvous

COMMISSION MEMBER . . . Freshman Alana Ackerman joins the YWCA by signing for a YWCA commission group. Assisting her are Neala O'Dell, president, (left) and Eleanor Skelenar. (Daily Nebraskan Photo by Del Harding.)