Nearly 100 Coeds To Compete For Campus Titles, Positions

Nearly 100 coeds will be vying for campus titles and positions March 11.

Associated Women Students, Coed Counselors, Barb Activities Board of Women and Women's Athletic Association will be electing their presidents, vice-presidents and board members. May Queen election will also be held.

The slates for these organizations will be announced March 10. The May Queen candidates were announced yesterday.

AWS Board
Associated Women Student positions total 17 vacancies. Besides the president and vice-president, five board members will be elected from each class.

Senior AWS Board members picked the slate. The 90 coeds interviewed for positions were judged on the basis of their work done for AWS, their past experiences in activity work and their suggestions for improvement of the AWS Board.

Class representation must include one independent girl. The complete board must have no more than one Lincoln girl and one girl from the College of Agriculture.

In the past year, the AWS Board has revised the activity point system and the rules governing university women. They have sponsored the Activities Mart for freshmen coeds and Coed Follies. Their next project is the Ivy Day Sing.

Coed Counselors

Two senior girls will be candidates for president of Coed Counselors. The Board will be composed of two seniors, six sophomores and eight juniors.

A change has been made in the constitution of Coed Counselors. The Board will no longer be composed of equal numbers of affiliated and unaffiliated girls.

it happened at nu

Two students were observed at a campus bookstore yesterday purchasing get-well cards. They passed as they inspected the various cards, obviously looking them over critically for one that contained the proper sentiment.

The sympathetic clerk pointed out assorted cards in an effort to assist the men in their selection of the most appropriate card.

After the choice had been made and the clerk was returning with charge slip, he happened to glance on the envelope which the students were addressing.

His mouth fell open as he read Yofis Vissarianovich Stalin.

'Anti-Trust Enforcement Will Go Up'

Hamilton Praises Two Nebraskans

Anti-trust enforcement can go only one way now that Nebraska's Herbert Brownell Jr. is attorney general and that way is up, Dr. Walton H. Hamilton, economist-lawyer and visiting lecturer on the University campus, said Wednesday.

Vigorous anti-trust enforcement is a Nebraska product, related Hamilton, who was a special assistant to the attorney general from 1938 to 1945.

"Enforcement reached its peak between 1938 and 1943 when attorney general and his two right Nebraska graduates," he stated.

During President Truman's Administration, however, he noted a tendency toward relaxation in the division.

"But now that a Nebraskan is again at the helm, I expect enforcement to rise to the highest point since Arnold," Hamilton prophesied. But he pointed out stumbling blocks in Brownell's path, interference from Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who may attempt to "box him in."

Hamilton will remain on the campus through Friday, lecturing in two classes daily. His subjects will concern the patent by cost accounting and anti-trust laws. His visit is being sponsored by the Research Council, and Colleges of Law and Social Sciences.

Hamilton and Arnold are members of a Philadelphia law firm. He has been a faculty member of the Universities of Yale, Texas, Michigan, Chicago and Amherst. He was on the National Recovery Administration board from 1934 to 1935, and is the author of five books.

Chicago Meet Set For Seven Coeds

Seven home economics students will attend the Heiber Convention (home economics in business) in Chicago Friday and Saturday.

The students are Betty Anderson, Elizabeth Anderson, Joan Follmer, Mary Kay Richards, Marilyn Schnert, Helen Dickie, Dora Hueftle, Donna Tinkham and Delores Gade. Miss Lorraine Wilson is sponsoring the group.

The convention, which will be held in the Sherman Hotel, is for successful student home economists in all universities and colleges.

"Hello Girl" dance. Previous to this dance, a typical independent girl is elected by popular campus vote.

Taking an active interest in the welfare of other people, BABW makes up a food basket for a needy family at Christmas and sponsor "Get Acquainted" parties for foreign students.

WAA Officers

Three officers of the Women's Athletic Association will be chosen Wednesday.

WAA members who have earned 10 points this year will vote for president, treasurer and secretary of the organization.

An amendment to the WAA Constitution will also appear on the ballot, allowing representatives from organized houses to be sports chairmen.

Stormy Debate Student Council Disagrees On Constitution's Meaning

Stormy debate over the interpretation of the question by the Council after he is able to secure more information on the matter from Miss Mielenze, associate professor of secondary education.

Miss Mielenze originally pointed out the suggested interpretation to Linscott as the one intended by the framers of the constitution.

It was decided by the Council that Linscott will be able to present the question to the Council for further consideration.

Wayne White, president of the Student Council, announced that a passage had been erroneously left out of the latest printing of the constitution. Section 'M' was eliminated, stating that an independent student Association of similar group has the right to be represented on the Council.

Linscott added that in the case of these two organizations an exception was in order only if they felt that it would be to their best interest to nominate junior candidates for Council positions.

Ed Perry, law representative, questioned the validity of this interpretation on the grounds that it did not parallel with previous Council interpretations on election rules.

Perry was backed by the majority of the Council in his opposition to Linscott's statement. After a period of debate a motion was passed to leave the constitutional interpretation as it stands. This motion was passed by a clear majority.

Linscott appealed for reconsideration of the question by the Council after he is able to secure more information on the matter from Miss Mielenze, associate professor of secondary education.

Mar. 25 Set As Opening For Law College Trials

A "Battle of Wits" has begun at the University Law College, with the first "Moot Court" of this year will be scheduled for March 25.

The purpose of a "Moot Court" is to give the students a chance to apply their learning to a fictitious case prepared by members of the Board of Advisors, comprised of scholastically high students in the Law College.

The students are divided into teams of two or three and these teams are arranged in separate rounds, freshman, sophomore and senior.

Each team is given a transcript of the case including all events up to the appeal. It is then the job of the teams to build a case, either pro or con, and present it to the court.

The winning team is decided by a three year competition elimination system. The winning freshman will compete again in their sophomore year with all but two teams eliminated for the senior and final round.

All cases, with the senior case excepted, are tried in the Law College courtroom. The judges are selected from a number of Lincoln area lawyers. The senior case is tried in the Supreme Court at the capitol building and judged by three members of the State Supreme Court. State rules apply to all these cases.

The winning seniors are presented with gold keys and their names are inscribed on a plaque in the main foyer of the law building.

Pairings for the cases are:

It is hoped that these tests can be used on a larger scale in the future to detect deficiencies in hearing.

Dr. Thorpe, principal of the school, and Mr. Candee are in charge of the tests.
