Substitute Scheduled For Concert

Orchestrists To Present Dance Recital Tuesday

In place of its Spring Concert, Orchestrists will present a dance recital during and coordinated with Search Week Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in Grant Memorial Hall.

There will be no admission charge.

A suite of Negro spirituals will feature vocalist Stella Marie Woodlee in accompaniment to the dancers.

The spirituals are "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," "De Gospel Train," "Every Time I Feel the Spirit" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Orchestrists and the Men's Dance Group will portray the Seven Cardinal Sins based on the talk by Bishop Sheen.

The sins are: "Anticipation," danced by Mimi Du Teau, Georgia Hulac, Ting Lilly and Mary Pattison.

"I Wonder as I Wander," Barbara Britton.

"The Greedy Ones," Bob Peters and Jerald Ramsdell.

"Those of False Pride," Jeannie Bangston, Lois Dunavan, Shirley Jesse and Nancy Kelly.

"Those of Lust," Betty Barber, Barbara Britton and Bob Peters.

"The Envious Ones," Agnes Anderson, Allison Faulkner, Charlene Katz and Sandy Ledingham.

"The Slothful One," Barbara Britton and Peggy Larson.

The group will also dance "Gesu Bambino" and "The Juggler of Notre Dame," a Christmas legend.

The Union will sponsor a coffee hour in the lounge following the recital.

R. Knowles To Preside At Meeting

Brother Of Campus Pastor To Lead Panel

"Children Are Here to Stay" is the topic of a panel discussion to be held at the fourth annual meeting of the Lincoln and Lancaster County Child Guidance Center Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Union Ballroom.

Dr. Roy C. Knowles, director of the Mental Health Center at Sioux Falls, S. D., will take part in the panel discussion.

Knowles is the brother of Rex Knowles, pastor of the Presbyterian-Congregational student house. Dr. Knowles received his pre-medical education at the University of Alabama.

Four years after receiving his A.B. degree, Knowles obtained his M.D. from the Albany Medical School, N. Y. Following his two years of internship, he practiced in Little Falls and remained there six years.

Under the education plan of the Menninger Foundation School of Psychiatry, Knowles received his psychiatric training while serving as a resident doctor in the Winter Veterans' Administration Hospital in Topeka, Kansas.

He was in-patient director of the Southard School, in the children's department of the Menninger Foundation.

Dr. D. Stewart MacDonald, executive director of the Center, will be moderator. A psychologist, a pediatrician, a social case worker and a Lincoln father, Elwood N. (Jack) Nelson, will also participate in the panel.

There will also be a question period during the discussion. The public is invited.

Coffee And Doughnuts Sale Set For Wednesday

The YWCA will hold a bake sale Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Social Sciences Building. Coffee and doughnuts will be sold for 5 cents each.

The bake sale committee includes Janet Robertson, chairman, and Beverly Bratten, Rosemary Fehr, Lorna Rutt, Dorothy Walton and Paula Scharman.

Twelve Named To Yell Squad Posts; Hild As Yell King, Fogel As Assistant

The new Yell King for the 1953-54 season was announced by Ira Epstein as Gary Hild.

Named to the post of assistant Yell King is Danny Fogel.

Chosen from a field of three, Hild is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Builders and AUF. He is a sophomore in Ag College.

Fogel, a sophomore in Business Administration, is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu, a Corn Cob worker, and a letterman on the gymnastics squad.

Winners of the competition for the women's holdover positions are: Marilyn Eaton, Teachers College sophomore and Judy Wiebe, Teachers College junior.

The remaining eight posts were highly contested by 77 freshmen. Those named to the regular male spots are:

Don Orr, freshman in Engineering College.

John Trenerry, freshman in Arts and Science.

Bruce Reiley, freshman in Teachers College.

The alternate male positions were filled by:

Norman Veltzer, freshman in Business Administration.

Allan Dawson, Ag College freshman.

Bob Kirkendall, freshman in Engineering College.

Appointment to the freshman girls posts were especially contested. Eliminations finally left only two names.

Lou Sanchez, freshman in Teachers College and Judy Polard, also a freshman in Teachers College, were those chosen for the new women's places.

Students Disapprove Negro Segregation In Enrollment

College students overwhelmingly disapprove of enrollment policies which discriminate against Negroes according to the Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students from all sections of the country were asked: "What is your opinion of college policies which state that Negroes may not enroll there?"

Of the students polled, 76 per cent disapproved of such policies. A sophomore at Gustavus Adolphus College, Minn., commented, "The sooner we realize Negroes are human and will act human if treated in such a way, the better it will be for all."

Many of the 17 per cent of students who approved of segregation were in favor of equal but separate school facilities. "Equivalent schooling can usually be provided elsewhere," said a freshman at Agnes Scott College in Atlanta, Ga.

Five per cent of the students had no opinion on the question. Two per cent, who listed "other," usually said the decision "is up to the board of trustees."

Students in the South show a clear-cut majority against segregation, but are more evenly split on the question. Fifty-three per cent disapproved, as opposed to 35 per cent approval. In the North, 90 per cent disapproved, while 5 per cent were in favor of segregation.

State Highway Engineer Praises 'Safety Crusade'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was originally published in the Omaha World Herald.

The man who builds Nebraska's highways had words of praise Thursday for the Crusade for Safety.

And he had some meaty comments on the philosophy of motorizing.

Harold L. Aitken, State Highway Engineer, wrote: "It is apparent that your Safety Crusade is causing many people to stand up and take stock of themselves."

"While more and better engineering, more and better enforcement and more and better education can contribute to traffic safety — are they the only answer?"

Citizenship is a key to safety Mr. Aitken said.

Our society is based on certain codes of conduct and ethics," Mr. Aitken said. "These codes govern us to the extent that we know it is wrong to steal, cheat, murder. We call conscientious adherence to these principles 'good citizenship.'"

"If 'good citizenship' causes a man to realize the wrongfulness of stealing, killing or violations of other basic laws of our society, then it should also cause the same man to realize that death caused by an auto accident is tantamount to murder if he is at fault."

"Property so destroyed can very well be the same as willful destruction of property, and it is essentially conduct to commit great bodily harm when other persons are injured by inconsiderate driving practices."

"In other words, development of 'good citizenship' must include the basic attitudes necessary to realize the wrongfulness of the present pattern of disregard and disrespect for traffic laws and the rights of fellow drivers or pedestrians."

The engineer, of course, still can do a lot to "minimize the ef-the highway," Mr. Aitken said. But this is a slow process.

"Such efforts are plagued by insufficient funds, trained personnel shortages and by existing laws that are woefully inadequate.

Citizenship Study Given Aid By Legion

Resolution Commends Nebraska's Educators

Research Thesis Underwritten

By JANET STEFFEN Staff Writer

A master's thesis study of outstanding citizenship education programs throughout the nation, being carried on by a University student, will be underwritten by the Nebraska Department of the American Legion.

At a department executive committee meeting Monday, the Legion approved the proposal of its education committee, headed by Earle W. Wiltse, superintendent of schools at Grand Island.

The proposal provided for supporting financially the graduate study of Ralph Kellogg, which will include a series of case studies of citizenship education projects.

LEGION RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Department Executive Committee of The American Legion, Department of Nebraska, in regular session convened this 9th day of March, 1953:

1. That the Nebraska Department of The American Legion reaffirms its faith in the effectiveness of the citizenship education carried on in Nebraska's schools, colleges and universities.

We believe that training future citizens is one of the major responsibilities of all educational institutions. The Legion commends the educational leadership of Nebraska for the steady and continuing work in the schools and colleges which instills basic loyalties to American ideals by presenting challenging study of the Declaration of Independence and our state and national constitutions, by teaching American history and literature, by teaching our national anthem, by commemorating the lives of our national heroes, by recognizing our national holidays, by presenting the problems and issues of our state and nation by open discussion, and by sponsoring activities that foster individual responsibility, leadership and good sportsmanship.

2. That we condemn the authors of subversive attacks upon the schools, whether they be diffident individuals or groups in the local communities, or inspired by evil forces, financed, directed and operated by agents of subversion against our nation and the American way of life.

3. That we call upon every member of The American Legion to be on the alert in his community to know the schools, and to recognize these attacks when they occur, and to stand ready to support and defend against all enemies.

4. That we do hereby thank the members of the teaching professions and their organizations for the great assistance rendered to the Americanism program of The American Legion.

5. That the Nebraska Department of The American Legion commends the school boards, trustees and regents of our educational system in Nebraska for their careful selection of teachers, faculties and administrators who are loyal to American premises of liberty. The Legion reaffirms its faith in the academic freedom necessary for stimulating a challenging teaching and research, but emphasizes that such freedom does not constitute license nor does it extend to the privilege of teaching precepts inimical to our American system in our Nebraska schools. The Legion commends those educational institutions which are doing their best, by realistic American teaching, to reveal the truth about communism, socialism, and other undemocratic systems.

finance Kellogg's research up to $1,000. In addition, the committee passed a resolution reaffirming "its faith in the effectiveness of the citizenship education carried on in Nebraska's schools, colleges and universities."

The resolution, also recommended by the education committee, continued: "The Legion commends the educational leadership of Nebraska for the steady and continuing work which instills basic loyalties to American ideals."

Moreover, the resolution read, "we condemn the authors of subversive attacks upon the schools, whether they be diffident individuals or groups in the local communities, or inspired by evil forces."

"We call upon every member of the Legion to be on the alert to recognize these attacks . . . and stand ready to support and defend against all enemies" the resolution continued.

In conclusion, the resolution stated that the Legion "commends the school boards, trustees and regents of our educational system in Nebraska for their careful selection of teachers, faculties and administrators who are loyal to American premises of liberty."

In financing the citizenship education study, the Legion hopes to "study and diffuse current developments in citizenship education," according to the education committee's report.

This report also states that "The American Legion believes that good citizenship is the most important goal of education."

Though the content of Kellogg's study will be entirely determined by himself and his advisor, Dr. Knapp, the Legion education committee plans to prepare a bulletin describing "the best practices revealed by the study." The bulletin would be made available to Legion posts and school officials of Nebraska, according to the education committee's report.

Dr. Knapp said that one of the case studies which will probably be included in Kellogg's thesis is the Nebraska Citizenship Project. For four years this project has helped schools develop and improve their programs of citizenship education, Dr. Knapp pointed out.

In working with schools and community groups, the Nebraska Citizenship Project work has cooperated with the American Legion and other agencies interested in citizenship, Dr. Knapp said.

At Legion-sponsored Boys State last spring, the Citizenship Project introduced a "Nebraska Problem Study," which Dr. Knapp said "focused boys' attention on the real problems of Nebraska."

An example of the type of work which Kellogg will study, Dr. Knapp said, is the Citizenship Project's pre-school workshop conducted in Grand Island. Dr. Knapp pointed out that Grand Island's program instituted citizenship education in every subject and activity from kindergarten to the twelfth grade.

"Citizenship," as defined by the Grand Island board of education, is based on seven goals—cooperation, tolerance, spiritual values, responsibility, knowledge, political citizenship and self-development.

Through "diffusing developments" of such programs, the Legion said it hopes to "encourage schools to further improve their citizenship programs."

Gibson Says 15 Vacancies For UN Trip

Registration for "Meet Your Government" and "United Nations" seminars to be held in New York City and Washington, D. C., will end Wednesday.

There are still 15 vacancies to be filled, Sam Gibson, director of the University YMCA, said Monday.

The seminars are sponsored by the National Student Council of YMCA and YWCA.

The 39 students, who will be accompanied by two chaperons, will leave in a chartered bus March 20 and return March 30. They will spend three days in the nation's capital and four days in New York City.

The total cost, between $90 and $110, exclusive of personal expenses, will cover registration for the seminars, food, rooms and transportation.
