

TWO DAY SHOW

Annual E Week To Open April 30

The University's annual E-Week will be held April 30 and May 1 in order to better acquaint the general public with the activities of the Engineering and Architecture College.

E-Week is a special activity planned and executed by student groups in the College of Engineering and Architecture, with the faculty serving in an advisory capacity. The organizational, financial and operational problems are used to give educational benefits to the students. The open house and special exhibits are planned to characterize the divisions in Engineering education and to attract public interest.

Joe Good To Crown Navy Queen

Three Finalists have been selected to compete for Queen at the Navy ROTC Ball Saturday, March 21.

Jo Anne Kjeldgaard, Arts and Science senior; Marilyn Fisher, Agriculture freshman; and Rani Andreassen, freshman in Teachers College, have been selected as contenders for the honor.

Joe Good, Senior in Teachers College, has been chosen King Neptune by popular vote of the Navy unit.

Highlighting the ball will be the crowning of the Queen at intermission by King Neptune. The midshipmen and their dates will dance to the music of Jimmy Phillips and his orchestra from 9 to 12 p.m.

Committee chairmen for the ball are Allen Michele, general chairman; Bill Devries, queen chairman; Lester R. Perry, decorations; A. P. Boris, band; A. P. Tilley, publicity; and Edgar Polium, refreshments. All committee heads are members of the Battalion Recreation Council.

The event had its origin at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., where such balls have been presented for many years. As Navy ROTC units were established at colleges and universities throughout the country, the Navy Ball was incorporated into social programs.

Starlight Ball Set For April 11

The annual Starlight Terrace ball will be held Saturday, April 11th in the Ag College Ballroom.

The music is to be provided by Dave Haun & his Orchestra. Chairman of the dance is Ralph Knobel. The committee chairman are: tickets, Vernon Youngman, decoration, Ruthann Ernst, promotion—Dale Nitzell. Tickets for the Ball are $1.50 a couple.

'Ghosts' Curtain Rises Tonight

The curtain will go up Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Arena Theater on the first performance of "Ghosts," the final University Theatre production of the year. "Ghosts," a dramatic tragedy by Henrik Ibsen, will be presented Mar. 18, 19, 20, 21, 25, 27 and 28. General admission tickets, which may be purchased for $1.25, will be sold Monday through Friday until March 27 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Temple box office. Pat Loder, as Mrs. Alving; Al Hazelwood, as Pastor Manders; Wes Jensby, as Oswald; Marian Uhe, as Virginia and Jack Babcock, as Engstrand, comprise the cast. The play, considered by many scholars to be one of the finest modern tragedies, revolves around Mrs. Alving's futile attempts to erase the ghosts of past days. Max Whittaker is director of "Ghosts," John Tolch is technical director and Morrel Chute, production manager. Stage crews are guided by Kay Barton, costumes; Ruth Ann Richmond, lights; Pat Hahn, sound; Kata Kelly, stage props; Ron Decker, hand props and Peggy Larson, make-up. Students holding season tickets should make reservations by calling the box office, University extension 3263, at least two days ahead of the date they wish to attend. Appearing at the left in a scene from "Ghosts" is Miss Loder and Jensby. On the right is Miss Uhe and Babcock.

Russian Statement Hints War If Proposals Denied

The Mock United Nations General Assembly spring conference, sponsored by the Nebraska University Council of World Affairs, will open at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Union ballroom with a report by Nita Helmstadter, secretary-general. The report of the credentials committee on seating of the delegates is second on the agenda. In order to be seated, each of the 48 delegations must pay its fee and pick up its credentials at the door. Adoption of the agenda and rules and consideration of resolutions will also take place at the first sessions. The International Court of Justice will meet Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. in the State Capitol Building. Conflict and reconstruction in Korea and the North African colonial question, the two problems facing the conference, will be discussed at committee sessions Thursday and Friday at 2 p.m. These questions will be voted on at the final session, Saturday at 9 p.m. Dr. Nasrollah Saipour Fatemi, Iranian representative to the Security Council, will give the main address Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom. At the second session Friday at 3:30 p.m. the committees will give their reports. These reports will then be considered, and recommendations made. Joan Krueger, NUCWA president, said pre-conference activities indicate a fight over the seating arrangement of the Chinese delegation. She also predicted "violent objections from France on even discussing the North African colonies of Tunisia and Morocco." Other NUCWA officers, Allan Garfinkle, Pat Allen, and Jan Schmidtmann. Nita Helmstadter, Charles Kiffin, Paul Means, Neala O'Dell, Elaine Smithberger, and Bernard Wisnow are members of the board. Hunter Names Three Levels

Three levels—the level of cowardice, the level which decides conflicts and the level of creativity—in humans were spoken of by Rev. Allen Hunter at a Search Week meeting Monday night. Speaking at the Union, the pastor said that God's goodness to humans is greater than it is possible to imagine. He said war could be averted by changing the conflict situation into the level of creativity to bring good out of the situation. But he warned that it can only be done through the power of God. Rev. Hunter, main speaker of the Week's program, will speak at the agronomy building on the Ag campus Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Billoni

By BILL DEVRIES Staff Writer. If the old fashioned girl ever comes back, it'll be from an automobile ride. The office peach was well preserved. The boys thought she was grand; But when the boss' wife found out. The office peach got canned. When a girl asks for a kiss, she is liable to receive a heated reply. Hillbilly (to new bride after completing their cabin): "Well, woman, how do you like your new home?" Wife: "Not bad at all, husband, but I don't see no door." Hillbilly: "Yew a-planning' on a-go-in' somewhere?" It will be pretty chilly Thursday morning, so says the weather man, but it will warm up in the afternoon. There will be a little wind, but generally speaking it will be a beautiful day. Student: "I drink over fifty cups but it is safer to be his last."
