

Construction Begins

Dr. E. A. Rogers, acting director of the State Health Department; University Regent C. Y. Thompson of West Point; and William Diers, chairman of the State Board of Control participate in ground-breaking ceremonies for the $1,500,000 Nebraska Psychiatric Institute at the University College of Medicine. Chancellor R. G. Gustavson watches the ceremonies.

A model scale of the Institute shows the main hospital building and two connecting activity structures, one for adults and the other for children. (Story on page 4.)

Record Goal Set

$8,000 Sought By AUF In Two Week Fall Drive

The largest All University Fund goal, $8,000, and the shortest drive, a two week period from Oct. 5-19, are the plans for the next AUF drive, announced Rocky Yapp, president, Wednesday.

"We have raised our goal $400 over the $7,600 collected last year because we feel that the highest point of solicitation has not yet been reached and we feel that we can contact more students next year than in the past," said Yapp.

He pointed out that the drive has been shortened to two weeks because of more efficient solicitation methods and the realization that students do not like to be bothered over a long period of time.

The officers for this year are: Rocky Yapp, president; Harriette Wenke, vice-president in charge of publicity; Joy Wachel, vice-president in charge of solicitations; Carl Mammel, treasurer; and Phyllis Armstrong, secretary.

The boards are: Solicitation;

Nancy Hemphill, sororities; Harlan Wiederspan, fraternities; Sally Jo Speicher, organizations; Phyllis Colbert, denominations; Jan Steffen, faculty; Eldon Wesley, Ag College; Sally Solomon, organized houses; Sue Brownlee, independent students.

Still more boards are publicity: Jack Gillespie, special events; Eileen, Mullarky, mass meetings and education; Mary Jane Mapes, radio; Cynthia Henderson, newspaper; Natalie Nelson, art; Mary Freedman, speakers; Doran Jacobs, booth; Bill Devries and Dave Erickson, assistant treasurers; and Suzy Good, office.

The sponsors are: Mrs. Virginia Trotter, Rev. Rex Knowles, and Mrs. Charles Miller.

The charities to which AUF will contribute next year will be announced soon. Last year, AUF dispersed money among three main organizations, Community Chest, Cancer Research and World Student Service Fund.

TASSEL INITIATION

Jo Johnson, L. A. Harden Win Awards

The Tassel Initiation Banquet was held Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the Union.

Jo Johnson received a plaque award for being the outstanding pledge. Lure Ann Harden was presented as the active with the most points.

Following the presentations, several pledges gave an impromptu skit and the will written by the actives was given to the pledges.

Initiation services were held immediately following the banquet. Those who were initiated into the Tassels were: Joyce Bennington, Marilyn Brewster, Phyllis Colbert, Jo Cunningham, Marlene Fulberth, and Carol Gillette. Martha Hill, Betty Hrabik, Jo Johnson, Wilma Larson, Jane Mapes, Elaine Meyer, Jo Meyers, Clorcy Ode, Nadine Osborn, Mary Ann Schlegel, Claudette Schulz, Marian Scott, Helen Sherman, Mildred Snyder, Sally Solomon and Marilyn Stelling.

Sara Stephenson, Winnie Stolz, Jeanne Villepique and Norma Westcott.

Tassel Filings Start April 8

Filings for Tassel membership in the Union Activities Office will be open Wednesday April 8, Ag students may file in the Ag Union Activities Office.

All Ag-at-large and all unfiliated-at-large women who wish to join may leave their names at one of the offices.

A tea will be held at the Alpha Phi house, April 19 for the two nominations from each organized house and residence hall and all unfiliated women who apply for membership in Tassels.

A sophomore standing or above and a 5.5 average is required for all who apply.

Hospital Reports 'Fair' For Olewine's Condition

Rev. Charles Olewine, 75, of 4727 Baldwin, was reported in "fair" condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. Olewine was seriously injured in a car-pedestrian accident Monday night. He received a possible skull fracture, a fractured collar bone, fractured pelvis and severe shock according to hospital authorities.

Wayne Johnson, 20 and a junior in Arts and Sciences, was the driver of the car which hit Olewine.

Student Council Chooses Husker Handbook Editors

Filings Coming In Slowly For Council, Class Posts

Filings for Student Council positions and Junior-Senior class officers close Saturday noon.

Applications may be picked up in Room 209, Administration building.

Dean Linscott, Student Council vice-president in charge of elections, said filings are coming very slowly and he urges students who have obtained applications to turn them in as soon as possible so an eligibility check may be made.

Fifteen Council positions are available. Each college is entitled to a certain number of representatives, as defined in the Council constitution.

Representation is as follows: Ag college, one boy and one girl; Business Administration, 2 students; Engineering, 2 students; Teachers, 3 students, at least one boy and one girl and Law, Pharmacy and Dentistry, one representative each.

Any student who will have completed more than 52 hours at the end of last semester and who has a cumulative average of 5.0 is eligible to file for a Council position. Since Council meets every Wednesday from 4-6 p.m., students who will be able to arrange their schedules accordingly may consider filing.

Student Council applications must have signatures of 25 students from the applicant's college. Class officer applicants may obtain signatures from any 25 students.

Personal data required on the application includes name, address, sex, position sought, grade average, college, social fraternity or organized house, professional organizations, activities and a pledge of purpose.

Linscott said that the purpose of the Student Council is to act as a supreme governing body in the regulation of all phases of student self-government and to serve as an agency through which faculty-student relationships may be maintained.

Applications have been received from one student in each of the following colleges to date: Law College, Business Administration, and Arts and Sciences.

An application for Junior class treasurer is the only filing turned in for class officers.

Junior officer applicants must have completed at least 27 hours and not more than 52 hours at the end of last semester. Seniors filing for office must have at least 53 hours and not more than 88 hours.

Applications are to be filled out in the manner explained for Council filings.

Rocky Yapp, president of the Junior class, said the purpose of the class officers is to promote class and University spirit. They also plan and sponsor the Junior-Senior Prom.

After approval by Dean Hallgren's office, candidates will be balloted up in the spring general elections, May 4.

Names will be placed on the ballot in order of filing.

Staff members for the Husker Handbook were filled at Wednesday's Student Council meeting when Bernita Rosenquist, sophomore in teachers college was selected editor, Jancy Carmen, freshman in Arts and Sciences and Norm Veitzer, freshman in Business Administration were appointed as joint assistant editors.

They will be in charge of the Handbook to be published this semester for distribution next fall to all new students. The handbook is intended to serve as a guide and information directory on University and campus activities.

Applications for Junior and Senior class officers and Student Council positions are coming in slower than anticipated, Dean Linscott, chairman of the committee on elections reported.

Linscott brought before the Council a suggestion that they look into the possibility of a four year identification card for all students to replace the type that are issued each semester.

Identification cards of this type are used at the University of Missouri and Northwestern as well as other colleges.

Wayne White, Council president, appointed the campus improvements committee to write the schools using these type cards.

Photo Contest Opens April 8 On Ag Campus

Ag Union is sponsoring a photo contest open to all Ag College undergraduates from April 8 to May 1.

Pictures may be entered in two divisions, Ag College Activities division and Ag College Scenery division. A student may enter one picture in each division.

Rules for the contest are: 1. The contestant must be an Ag College undergraduate student. 2. Pictures must be black and white. 3. The sizes of the pictures entered must be six by five inches.

Prizes will be given, according to Gene Kerr, chairman of the Ag Union House and Office committee which is in charge of the contest.

Theta Sigma Phi To Hold Initiation Ceremonies

Theta Sigma Phi, national Journalism Honorary for women, will hold initiation ceremonies Thursday at 5 p.m. at the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house.

Pat Beechan, president of Theta Sigma Phi, said that new members were chosen by the present members of the organization and were required to have a 6.0 average to receive consideration.

Those to be initiated include: Barbara Hemphill, Terry Barnes, Marjorie Moran, Sara Adams, Ruth Raymond, Mary Jane McCullough, Janet Nuss, Barbara Bell, and Mary Worrall.

Miss Beechan added that election of officers will also be conducted at the Thursday meeting.

Madrigal's Concert Slated For Tonight In Ballroom

Madrigals, contemporary songs, chansons, and English songs will be featured in the University Madrigal Singers concert to be presented Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

The concert has been scheduled as part of a campaign to raise expenses for a trip to the National Music Educators Conference at Milwaukee, Wis., on April 19. The Madrigals were one of about 10 collegiate musical organizations invited to perform before the Conference of 5,000 music educators. The invitation, according to Prof. David Foltz, director of the Madrigals, is one of the highest recognitions awarded to a collegiate musical group.

Tickets for the concert are being sold by members of the Madrigal Singers and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, for $1.

The madrigals included in the program will be "Fire, Fire, My Heart," by Morely; "O Softly Singing Lute," by Pinkington; "Charm Me Asleep," by Leslie; and "Come Away, Death," by Williams.

Three English songs to be presented are "I Love Thee," by Holst; "O What a Lovely Magic Hath Been Here," by Bantock and "Go, Lovely Rose," by Thiman. Contemporary songs will include "This Little Rose," by Roy; "Go Away From My Window," by Niles and "She Walks in Beauty," by Foltz.

Six chansons by Hindemith will comprise the final group: "The Doe," "A Swan," "Since All Is Passing," "Springtime," "In Winter," and "Orchard."

The Madrigal Singers, a group

NU Students First Attempted Madrigal Singing 5 Years Ago

Madrigal singing was first attempted by NU students five years ago. David Foltz, director of choral groups at the University, decided to organize a number of exceptionally talented singers into a group which would develop and make the most of these talents.

Each year the number of singers in madrigal differs. There are now 23 members. Madrigal singers receive no academic credit; their singing is purely for enjoyment.

Madrigal singing necessitates a wide interpretation viewpoint, almost like a string quartet, with tones and voices pure and clean. The slightest amount of careless singing on the part of one person detracts from the quality of the group as a whole.

Members are chosen for their ability to follow directing, their tonal qualities, and their accuracy at hitting the right note all the time. No laxity is permitted among the members of this group. Madrigal singing began centuries ago in Europe. Guests would dine at a friend's castle and following the meal, would sit at the table and sing songs for hours at a time. The host for the evening had the privilege of directing the after-dinner singing.

peak during the 14th and 15th centuries. During this time, the most valued gift a young lady could receive from her knight was a leather bound, gold embossed volume of madrigal songs. The knight based his judgment whether to continue courting the lady or not to continue courting her upon her ability to sight read the songs. If she was not apt at sight reading, the lady was unlikely to impress her knight.

Sitting around a table to sing has held over to the present day madrigal groups. The singers are always seated at a table while singing.

Four Men NU Bridge Champions

Barry Thompson, Joe Jerman, Gerald Weinberg, and Paul Galter are the 1953 campus Contract Bridge champions at the University.

The titles were conferred last week by Louis D. Day, Jr., director of Houston Hall at the University of Pennsylvania and chairman of the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee.

Teams representing Purdue and Princeton Universities won the national championship.

More than 400 other students won regional and campus titles. Thompson and Jerman were not only Nebraska campus winners, but were first in the Western Regional Conference.

Mr. James Carter, ass't professor of architecture was campus director of the tournament sponsored by the Union Recreation Committee.

Certificates will be awarded to each of the four campus winners. A plaque, for use in succeeding years, will be put on display in the Union, bearing the names of the winners.

A total of 34 students participated in the tournament at Nebraska, Saturday, Feb. 21, at the Union.

More than three thousand students, representing 110 colleges and universities in all parts of the United States, took part in the 1953 contest, now in its seventh successive year.

Worcester Polytechnic Institute and the University of Washington won second place in the tournament. Two teams from the University of Notre Dame, one of which included Oswald Jacoby, son of the noted card authority, tied for third place with a pair from Dartmouth.

Rice Institute of Houston, Texas, defending champion, captured only regional honors this year.

Other winners in the seven years are Washburn University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Wayne University, Capital University, and the University of California.

Billoni

By BILL DEVRIES Staff Writer

You know, I think I run into a joke that I think is really clever, but some how the Editors don't agree—at least it never gets printed. I sort of get a kick out of watching my column being censored, though, or butchered as the case may be.

It goes something like this: "Let's see now, Billoni, hmmm pause) I don't get it! (pause) Oh I see, she thought that he . . . hmmm, well—it's okay I guess. Now this second one, 'Then there was the college' (murmur-pause-chuckle, giggle) . . . okay. The weather is okay I guess. Let's see, 'An old maid was (murmur) when a burglar (murmur) and so finally he (murmur)'. Ha, ha, hee, hee, (giggle), ho, ho, ha, ha, aha, (giggle) HA, HA, HA, THAT'S POSITELY THE FUNNIEST THING I'VE EVER SEEN! Aha, aha . . . Hey, Tom, (crinkle, crinkle) where's the waste basket?"

And so it goes. But I think I cooled them today, when I handed in this poem:

A bather's clothes were strewn By winds that left her quite nude. When a man came along, And unless I am wrong, You expected this line to be lewd!

WORDS OF WISDOM—A woman never chases a man . . . but then a mouse trap never chases a mouse.

Overheard from the back seat—He: "Darling (sigh), your eyes are like deep pools of sparkling water; your lips are like two little red rosebuds wet with the morning dew; your teeth are like the finest pearls; but you have the darndest looking nose I've ever seen."

Prof: "Well, class, is the theory clear to you now?" Student: "Yeah, just as if it had been translated into Hindustani by Marilyn Monroe and read to me by a tobacco auctioneer!"

After talking with the weather man, I can assure you that there will be some tomorrow.

Then there was the psychiatrist who had a sign out front that read: Five Couches—No waiting.
