

City Plans Chaperones Picnics, Parking Lots

Plans Include Adult Supervision Of Parties, Gatherings Both On And Off University Campus

Committee, to be headed by the Picnic Policy Agent. The function of the committee shall be to patrol the North 14th Street for signs of parking, or associated activities.

"It is our hope," he explained, "that students will not be rebellious to these new rules. We hope that they realize that it was the public's reaction to student practices that made these steps necessary."

The chairman of the committee said there is evidence that the men were organizing to storm these houses simultaneously and to confiscate all light bulbs over entrances.

Baby Services Begin Next Week

Offered by Eldon Park after a special meeting of the Builders executive committee.

The special service consists in a diaper delivery and pick-up service to be conducted in the interests of all faculty members.

Park said that beginning next September a Builders worker will stop at the residence of all faculty members twice daily, in the morning and early evening.

Park stated that all the members of the Builders board were unanimous in their decision to enact this service for the faculty, and he added that the Board thought it would be an effective means of promoting good-will between the University faculty and students.

NU Builders will meet in the Horse Barn on Ag Campus at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Eldon Park, president, will give a lecture on "How to Saddle a Horse."

Two Ag Groups Caught On Tax Evasion Charges

Two Ag groups, Alpha Zeta and the Block and Bridle Club have been placed under arrest for evasion of the income taxes law by officers of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The revenue agents said that each case would be tried in a Kansas court. One said that as far as he could see the best the club officers could hope for was 20 years at Leavenworth or five years in the Armed Forces.

'Faculty Senate Policies To Continue' - Gustavson

Group Approves Hand Tied Bow Ties. "Faculty Senate will definitely continue its present policy of secret meetings."

Two Ag Students Awarded $3,900 In Scholarship Grants

Grad Soils Study Barbara Raun Wins Goes To Fred Cox With Button Theme

Fred Cox, Ag College senior, has been announced as winner of the first annual Hoover Conservation Award.

The award, a $900 scholarship to encourage outstanding senior students to take graduate studies is being offered by John B. Hoover of Springfield, Mo.

Summer Students Given New Activity

University officials have noted plans for several new activities for students attending summer sessions at the University.

Wrecking Success, New Building Next

University officials announced that results of wrecking operations carried on to make room for the new men's dormitories have been so satisfactory that plans are being made to continue wrecking throughout the campus.

Athlete Freed From Stacks

Elmer Strowtovy, junior in the School of Music, was released from the Love Library stacks Wednesday morning after being imprisoned for 72 hours.

Valuable 7-Foot Jaw Bone Believed Hocked Through Sky-Lite By Vandals

The jaw bone of the shovel-tusked mastodon has been stolen from the museum of Morrill Hall.

Faculty Seminar

These faculty members avidly engaged in a discussion on contemporary affairs met weekly in the cupola in Love Library.

Animal Husbandry Hall Completed For Classes

The recently constructed Animal Husbandry Building on Ag campus is nearing completion and will be ready for classroom instruction by the twelfth week of this semester.

Director Shortens Love Library Hours

Library hours are to be shortened for better accommodations. A recent announcement by the director of Love Library states that the hours will be changed to 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Coed Points Plan Change Announced

The Associated Women Students Board has again revised the activity point system. The previous system allotted each girl a maximum of 11 points.

Summer Students Given New Activity

University officials have noted plans for several new activities for students attending summer sessions at the University.

Summer Students Given New Activity

University officials have noted plans for several new activities for students attending summer sessions at the University.

These faculty members avidly engaged in a discussion on contemporary affairs met weekly in the cupola in Love Library.

No Cornhusker To Be Published

Subscription Refunds To Start Wednesday

The Cornhusker will not be published this year due to a unforeseen accident involving its editor, Pat Bechan.

ever with 15 minutes left until midnight, four pages remained unprinted.

After working diligently to meet the deadline of 12 a.m. Tuesday, the cancellation comes as a hard blow to the staff and students.

All subscribers who paid their five dollars should report to the Cornhusker office in the Union sometime after 1 p.m. Wednesday for a refund.

Corn Shucks

Corn Shucks, campus humor magazine, will again be published at the University.

Hope Seen For Revival Of Morals

Culture on the campus has reached a low ebb, and we feel that by bringing Corn Shucks back, we will help students to appreciate the finer things in life," he continued.

Carillon Tower Site Changed

The Carillon Tower will be moved to a new site in the near future.

Class Cut Program Planned By NU

The Division of Student Affairs has announced a new plan concerning class cuts.

Director Shortens Love Library Hours

Library hours are to be shortened for better accommodations. A recent announcement by the director of Love Library states that the hours will be changed to 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

RCU Meeting

The Red Cross Campus Unit will meet on the front steps of the Union at 8 p.m. Thursday for a song practice.

Lenten Meditation

Wednesday, 7-7:30 P.M. 'In Noonday Darkness' University Lutheran Chapel 15 & 'Q' St.

Lenten Meditation

Wednesday, 7-7:30 P.M. 'In Noonday Darkness' University Lutheran Chapel 15 & 'Q' St.

Vertical text on the left edge of the page, partially obscured and cut off.

MAGEE'S advertisement featuring a woman in a striped dress and text: 'Match this Johnny Jr. original with your favorite big-brimmed straw hat...' Includes a price tag of 8.95.

Advertisements for Varsity (Now-Doubles Open), Peter Pan (Walt Disney's Technicolor), Bear Country, Easter Cards, and Mayfair (Students For that nightly snack. Let's eat at the MAYFAIR).