

All University Fund Announces Charities

Groups To Receive Support Include Cancer, World Service, Heart, Community Chest

The All University Fund announced Thursday the charities which they will help support after next fall's drive.

Cancer will receive 20 per cent of the proceeds, Dr. Donald M. Pace, professor and chairman of physiology and director of the Institute of Cell Growth, will receive 15 per cent of the amount given to cancer. The money that the Institute will receive, approximately $1200, will be used to purchase a Beckman spectrophotometer. This instrument is used to study vital processes in cell activity and cell growth. The instrument is essential for the identification of chemical components.

Since this cancer research is being conducted in Nebraska, the AUF Board felt it was worthy of whole-hearted support. The Institute of Cell Growth is the first research of living cancer cells to be established in the United States.

The remaining 5 per cent of the cancer fund will be contributed to the American Cancer Society. The American Cancer Society's activities include: the operation of 14 tumor clinics throughout Nebraska, research in oral cancer, $20,000 in research cancer grants—$10,000 of this amount is given to the College of Medicine and the remaining $10,000 to Creighton Medical School, education of the people in cancer—700,000 pieces of free literature were distributed last year.

Both of these programs were found to be financially sound after investigation.

World Service

The second charity to which AUF will contribute is the World University Service. This worldwide organization which administers international relief to many universities abroad will receive 25 per cent of the total donations. The World University Service gives aid to students in the form of food, clothing, medical care, books, rehabilitation centers, and student housing. It is entirely student benefited.

World University Service was given a place in the drive because, according to Rocky Yapp, president, 1. It is an opportunity for us, as students, to help our fellow students who are not as fortunate as we; 2. This organization depends on students and only students for support. They have the support of 600 other universities and colleges in the U. S. and also many more in foreign countries; 3. AUF recognizes the value of education in the development of world peace and understanding; 4. This charity gives an international, as well as a local and national, touch to the drive; and 5. The program is financially sound.

Heart Association

The American Heart Association is the third charity which will benefit from the drive. This organization, which aids in the research and education of heart disease, will receive 15 per cent of the total collected. The Association promotes community service for the control of heart disease, which is the greatest killer in the United States.

The reasons for selecting the American Heart Association as one of the charities are: 1. Everyone has a heart. Therefore, everyone has the chance of being afflicted with a heart disease; 2. Heart disease is the number one killer in the United States; 3. The Heart Association is doing an excellent job in the field of research and education; and 4. Their program is financially sound.

Community Chest

The Lincoln Community Chest will receive 35 per cent of the proceeds. The Chest supports wholly or in part, 29 recognized private welfare agencies and their branches. Last year the American Red Cross was incorporated into the Community Chest drive. The Chest supports the campus YWCA and YMCA by giving them $8,000 each year. In this way, the students are actually realizing a portion of their own contribution.

The reasons given by AUF for supporting the Chest are: 1. Because it benefits 29 different charities; 2. The Chest contributes $8,000 to the University YMCA and YWCA; 3. The Chest lends a community aspect to the drive, realizing that the students are 9 month residents of Lincoln; 4. It is financially sound; and 5. It

Council Presented With 21 Proposals

Suggestions Submitted By Ken Rystrom

Ken Rystrom, chairman of the committee on new activities, presented the Student Council Wednesday with 21 suggestions for its consideration.

The suggestion drawn up by Rystrom and his committee, were referred to the Council to discuss as possible campus activities that need council attention.

Heading the list was the recommendation that the Council investigate the possibility of obtaining a traffic light at the corner of 16 and R streets. This was referred for further study to the improvements committee.

Investigation of the problems arising from the present designation of classes by hours, with the object of changing the manner of designation or eliminating the problems in another manner, was second on the list. This suggestion was referred to a special committee headed by Mac Bailey.

Discussion on the recommendation that the Council investigate the possibilities for increased Student Council funds, for perhaps projects and activities brought a question of the Council's purpose before the group. Rystrom defended this suggestion by stating that the Council should be a live-wire for student interests. He emphasized that the Council should do something constructive, and if more funds were made available to the Council they could proceed to sponsor a worthy campus project.

J. Benedict however inferred that the Council should be a stabilizing body that works behind the scenes to coordinate campus activities, and promote the interests of the University.

Eldon Park brought the attention of the Council to the fact that the annual budget for the Council is in the hands of the Comptroller's office. This problem would therefore have to be taken care of through that office.

The fourth item, that of adding pressure for increased library hours and services, is now under consideration by another University committee, so was not put to a committee.

The fifth and sixth recommendations were also shelved for further consideration. They read: that the Council investigate the variety of possible honor systems; and that the Council appoint a political action committee (to; a.) coordinate University elections, b.) investigate potential election issues, c.) get out the vote, d.) coordinate elections with the Daily Nebraskan.

The seventh item, that the Council sponsor student-faculty seminars on specific topics, with invitations extended to specific individuals, was dismissed on the grounds that the Union is now sponsoring a similar activity.

The eighth and ninth suggestions were not discussed at any length. They were recommendations that the student parking stickers be redesigned and that an investigation be made of the possible teachers' scales.

The judiciary committee received the tenth and eleventh suggestions for further study. They were: that the Council consider necessary Student Council constitution amendments for action next fall; and that they investigate the organizations which are now represented on the Council to determine if they still deserve representation.

A special committee was appointed to investigate the student wages in Lincoln and on the campus, the twelfth suggestion.

The thirteenth item was scratched from the list as one that had been investigated by the University previously. It concerned the investigation of the merits of a student housing file to be maintained by the University.

The fifteenth and sixteenth items were dropped for further consideration. They read: that the Council investigate the advisor system relating to organizations and individual students; and that the Council investigate the coliseum rental fee.

The next two items were also postponed for consideration at a later date. They recommended that the Council construct a permanent outdoor bulletin board, and that the Council investigate the possibilities for a Student Council sponsored Husker Holidays.

A special committee, was drawn up to investigate the financial status of the Daily Nebraskan. Consideration of the suggestion that the Council improve bus service to Ag college or set up special facilities for Ag-to-city students was dropped because a similar investigation is being made on Ag campus.

The committee on social affairs was given the twenty-first item for further consideration. It recommended that there be a clarification of the liquor and social policies of the administration.

Two additional items were added to the suggestion list by the Council: that they look into the situation of the student tuition fee; and that they investigate and come to a decision on the merits and problems of the Junior Senior class officers.

Dean Linscott, chairman of the committee on elections announced that applications for Student Council positions and Junior and Senior class officer positions will be discontinued after Thursday.

A motion was made by Linscott that the judiciary committee investigate interpretation of the Council constitution on student-at-large, and report to the Council at their next meeting whether these students are eligible to vote in the May 4 elections.

Ground Cleared By Bulldozers

Ground clearing operations to make room for the new men's dormitories have been progressing at a rapid pace.

Trees growing in the area just west of the present men's dormitories have been removed by bulldozers. The trees were all of large size and were removed after "dozer" operators removed earth surrounding their shallow roots.

Construction of an office building for the contracting company was completed Wednesday, and work was begun on a large fence to surround the construction site. Many students noted that construction has made long detours around the construction site necessary, but even more have found their new routes of "sidewalk superintendents" most satisfying.

Every now and then, you run into some mixed metaphors, perverted definitions, or what ever you want to call them, so today, I think I will devote the column to this type of humor. Some of these types of definitions are merely nonsensical but humorous, some are not even humorous, and some are funny and yet have a serious underlying meaning. You be the judge.
