

the DAILY NEBRASKAN

Voice of a Great Midwestern University

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Tuesday, April 14, 1953

VOL. 52—No. 111

Lasse Authors DSR Resolution

Two University students, Dale Johnson and Paul Laase, received national recognition for their work at the Delta Sigma Rho National Convention.

The convention, held in Chicago April 9, 10, and 11, was set up as a model to the United States Congress in Washington, D. C. During sessions of the convention, Paul Laase submitted a bill for vote which was passed by a 67 to 18 margin.

NU Students Hear Top Democrats

More than 40 University students are among the hundreds of Nebraska Democrats who gathered at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Omaha Friday to hear New York congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. and Mrs. India Edwards, vice chairwoman of the Democratic

Following the banquet congressman Roosevelt and Mrs. Edwards met briefly with the University Young Democrats to discuss ways of building the local organization and effective means of co-operating with senior party groups in the next election.

In his banquet address Roosevelt proposed a program to meet the immediate farm problem. Under the Roosevelt proposal, which he intends to introduce on his return to Washington, surplus government corn would be sold to cattle feeders at a price "in direct ratio to the current price of beef" on the major livestock markets. He described the program as temporary and designed only to meet an "immediate situation."

Roosevelt also attacked the Velde proposal to investigate communism in churches, predicting the "investigation of so-called communism in the clergy will lead to an investigation of freedom of religion itself."

In a speech at the banquet Mrs. Edwards pointed out that Nebraska and Oklahoma are the only states that have no women in their legislature. She called on Nebraska Democrats to elect one of their women to the legislature. Mrs. Edwards said she knew several who would be outstanding candidates.

Local Young Democrats made the trip by car and chartered bus.

Scholarship Change Vote Scheduled

The regular meeting of the Faculty Senate will be held Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Love Memorial Library Auditorium to consider several items of business.

The first item to be considered will be the change in times for reporting scholarship delinquencies from 6th and 12th weeks to 4th and 10th weeks, as presented to the Senate at its regular February meeting.

A recommendation by the Administrative Council that classes be dismissed Saturday forenoon of Homecoming, November 14, for students to participate in the authorized activities of that day will be submitted.

The Committee on Committees will recommend that the Dean of Admissions replace the Director of Registration and Records as one of the ex-officio members of the Committee on General Scholarship Awards. This recommendation is based upon a suggestion received from the Committee on General Scholarship Awards.

Annual reports of committees that have not yet reported and such other matters as may properly come before the Senate will also be presented.

AWS To Consider Change Of Rules

AWS members will meet at 5 p.m. Tuesday in Ellen Smith Hall to discuss changing the present rules and regulations for women students living in organized houses.

This procedure is an annual affair.

All the housemothers and presidents of organized women's residences have been invited to attend the meeting to discuss the possible changes with the board.

Board members will present the proposed changes to the housemothers for discussion. The board will later vote on the proposed changes.

The suggested changes have all been approved by the Dean of Women.

PHILOSOPHY CHAIRMAN ACCEPTS POST AT SOUTHERN CAL.

Professor William H. Werkmeister will leave the University at the end of the current semester.

Dr. William H. Werkmeister, head of the University's department of philosophy since 1947, will leave the University at the end of the current semester to become director of the School of Philosophy at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

A native of Germany, Dr. Werkmeister came to the University as a graduate scholar in 1923. Three years later, he was named to the University's instructional staff, received his Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1927 and continued as a faculty member.

In 1936 and 1937 he received an assignment as an exchange professor in Germany and in 1940 he was a guest professor at Boston University. Dr. Werkmeister is the author of "History of Philosophical Ideas in America," a book published in 1949.

"He is," Chancellor R. G. Gustavson said, "one of our topflight teachers, researchers, and professional authors." The University administration deeply regrets losing Dr. Werkmeister's services, the Chancellor said.

Before assuming his duties in California, Dr. Werkmeister will present a paper at the Eleventh International Congress of Philosophy in Brussels this summer and will attend a professional meeting in Dublin.

"Few persons have ever been more successful in arousing the interest and enthusiasm of students. His books and other scholarly publications have attracted national attention."

"His reputation as a scholar, particularly in the field of German philosophy, has attracted many students to our campus for graduate work in this field."

"Although we all rejoice in the good fortune that has come to him, the loss to this department is something that will be felt for a long time to come."

The women's organizations, Ivy Day selection and group directors are: Alpha Chi Omega, "Alpha Chi Omega Toast," Kathy Radaker; Alpha Omicron Pi, "Farewell to AOP," Janice Wagner; Alpha Phi, "Two Bright Stars," Janelle Mohr; Alpha Xi Delta, "Blue Moon," Judy Sehnert.

Participants for the 1953 Ivy Day sing have been announced by Sue Holmes and Thom Snyder, respective representatives of AWS and Kosmet Klub, groups co-sponsoring the contest.

The women's organizations, Ivy Day selection and group directors are: Alpha Chi Omega, "Alpha Chi Omega Toast," Kathy Radaker; Alpha Omicron Pi, "Farewell to AOP," Janice Wagner; Alpha Phi, "Two Bright Stars," Janelle Mohr; Alpha Xi Delta, "Blue Moon," Judy Sehnert.

The Associated Collegiate Press discovered in a recent poll that most college students are satisfied with their campus newspapers but not enthusiastic.

A cross section of college students were asked "How would you rate the job your college newspaper is doing in stimulating student thought?"

The answers were: excellent, 12 per cent; good, 46 per cent; fair, 31 per cent; poor, 2 per cent; and no opinion, 3 per cent.

Students were also asked, "How would you rate the job your college newspaper is doing in covering campus life?"

The results are: excellent, 32 per cent; good, 45 per cent; fair, 17 per cent; poor, 5 per cent, and no opinion, 1 per cent.

The Air Command Squadron will meet at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday in Room 107 of the Military and Naval Science Building.

Election of officers will be held.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

In line with the Nebraskan's safety campaign, it is becoming our study that about the only fellow who genuinely and sincerely believes in safe driving is the pedestrian.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

PHILOSOPHY CHAIRMAN ACCEPTS POST AT SOUTHERN CAL. . Professor William H. Werkmeister will leave the University at the end of the current semester.

Dr. Werkmeister Takes USC Post

Dr. William H. Werkmeister, head of the University's department of philosophy since 1947, will leave the University at the end of the current semester to become director of the School of Philosophy at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

A native of Germany, Dr. Werkmeister came to the University as a graduate scholar in 1923. Three years later, he was named to the University's instructional staff, received his Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1927 and continued as a faculty member.

In 1936 and 1937 he received an assignment as an exchange professor in Germany and in 1940 he was a guest professor at Boston University. Dr. Werkmeister is the author of "History of Philosophical Ideas in America," a book published in 1949.

"He is," Chancellor R. G. Gustavson said, "one of our topflight teachers, researchers, and professional authors." The University administration deeply regrets losing Dr. Werkmeister's services, the Chancellor said.

Before assuming his duties in California, Dr. Werkmeister will present a paper at the Eleventh International Congress of Philosophy in Brussels this summer and will attend a professional meeting in Dublin.

"Few persons have ever been more successful in arousing the interest and enthusiasm of students. His books and other scholarly publications have attracted national attention."

"His reputation as a scholar, particularly in the field of German philosophy, has attracted many students to our campus for graduate work in this field."

"Although we all rejoice in the good fortune that has come to him, the loss to this department is something that will be felt for a long time to come."

The women's organizations, Ivy Day selection and group directors are: Alpha Chi Omega, "Alpha Chi Omega Toast," Kathy Radaker; Alpha Omicron Pi, "Farewell to AOP," Janice Wagner; Alpha Phi, "Two Bright Stars," Janelle Mohr; Alpha Xi Delta, "Blue Moon," Judy Sehnert.

Participants for the 1953 Ivy Day sing have been announced by Sue Holmes and Thom Snyder, respective representatives of AWS and Kosmet Klub, groups co-sponsoring the contest.

The women's organizations, Ivy Day selection and group directors are: Alpha Chi Omega, "Alpha Chi Omega Toast," Kathy Radaker; Alpha Omicron Pi, "Farewell to AOP," Janice Wagner; Alpha Phi, "Two Bright Stars," Janelle Mohr; Alpha Xi Delta, "Blue Moon," Judy Sehnert.

The Associated Collegiate Press discovered in a recent poll that most college students are satisfied with their campus newspapers but not enthusiastic.

A cross section of college students were asked "How would you rate the job your college newspaper is doing in stimulating student thought?"

The answers were: excellent, 12 per cent; good, 46 per cent; fair, 31 per cent; poor, 2 per cent; and no opinion, 3 per cent.

Students were also asked, "How would you rate the job your college newspaper is doing in covering campus life?"

The results are: excellent, 32 per cent; good, 45 per cent; fair, 17 per cent; poor, 5 per cent, and no opinion, 1 per cent.

The Air Command Squadron will meet at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday in Room 107 of the Military and Naval Science Building.

Election of officers will be held.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

In line with the Nebraskan's safety campaign, it is becoming our study that about the only fellow who genuinely and sincerely believes in safe driving is the pedestrian.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Nothing makes you tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being there.

Another thing a modern child learns at his mother's knee is to watch out for hot cigarette ashes.

Convo Speaker Asks, 'Recognize Red China'

United States Must Leave Door Open For Negotiations Or Communist Chinese Forced To Close Ties With Russia

Convocation speaker Jean-Jacques Servan Schreiber told an audience of nearly 2,000 students Monday that the United States should recognize Red China and take a realistic view of European rearmament.

The foreign editor of the Paris newspaper Le Monde ("World") criticized the assumption made by the United States that 1954 would be the crucial year in European defense.

"Because of this unwise decision, the burden of the rearmament program has suppressed Europe's economic progress and we are losing the real battle with Russia," said Schreiber.

He explained that in spite of Russia's lag behind Europe in standard of living now, at the present rate of economic progress the Soviet Union will reach Europe's level in two years, and then go on to surpass it.

Schreiber fears that in a generation the Soviet world's output will be so great that "should the Russians raise the Iron curtain, Europe might be forced to close it," because the economic appeal to Europe's masses might be too great to counteract. In order to avoid such a turn of affairs Schreiber said that it is necessary to seek a balanced economic outlook in Europe.

With regard to his second criticism, Schreiber said: "In this nation you believe that proof of that country's government to recognize a country means agreement. This is not true."

To illustrate the point that negotiations are sometimes desired by other nations, but not put into effect until some sign of willingness is shown by the second nation, he said that Yugoslavia's communist Politburo had a faction willing to negotiate with the West in 1945. This was not taken advantage of at that time, he said, thus delaying the eventual break with Russia.

For this reason, Schreiber said the United States must leave a door open showing willingness to negotiate with Red China. Such negotiations, he said, would separate Red China and Russia in time.

"If these two countries are allowed to remain united, they will form a strong empire with which the west could not cope. The first objective in the Far East, therefore, must be the settlement of the Korean war."

Saying that the agreed with U. S. foreign policy four-fifths of the time, Schreiber declared that the French agree with the policy of strong resistance to Communism and willingly follow the leadership of the United States. He said, however, that the United States should expect some advice from the followers.

"U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict," according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

DN Again To Sponsor Miss Rag Mop Contest

A different kind of Queen contest—one that emphasizes brains plus beauty—will be sponsored by the Nebraska beginning Wednesday.

The "Miss Rag Mop" beauty-queen contest, designed to bring a special honor to some Coed, will be different from other beauty-queen contests since the qualifications are:

1. The candidate must have a 7.5 average or above

2. The candidate must not have participated in any extra-curricular activities (activities as listed by the AWS board)

3. She must be attractive

4. She must not be pinned, engaged, going steady, or married

5. She must not have won a beauty title by a campus organization

Last year's winner, Miss Bonnie Varney, was chosen on the basis of her 8.1 average, her beauty, and ready wit and excellent sense of humor. Miss Varney majored in chemistry and bacteriology.

The applications for an interview must include accumulated grade averages up to and including last semester, compiled and signed by the Registrar's office, and a picture of the applicant.

Entries should be left in the Nebraska office, room 20 of the Union, or in the Nebraskan mail box.

The winner's prize will be the possession of the title, her picture in the Nebraskan, and a new note book.

Judges for the contest will be the male members of the Nebraskan staff.

Water Show Production Thursday

Twenty-six costumed Aquagettes will perform in the annual water pageant Thursday and Friday.

The show titled, "New York Times," is the story of a foreign girl from Liverpool, England, who has come to New York to college.

The show is based on the letters she writes to her mother. In the show there are 12 letters and 12 numbers, each letter based on the next number.

The show will be held at the Coliseum at 7:45 p.m. and tickets may be obtained from Aquagettes and in the Union until Thursday.

Aquagette officers are: Sally Mallory, president; Joan Holden, vice-president; Nadine Osborn, treasurer; and Ann Kokjer, secretary.

Other members are: Suzie Adams, Donna Borgaard, Jane Brode, Sara Carveth, Martha Cook, Marcelyn Dedrick, Phoebe Dempster, Nan Engler, Judy Flansburg, Doris Frank, Janet Healey, Lynn Holland, Gail Katskee, Kathleen Kerr, Jane Laase, Louise Owens, Libby Russell, Polly Souser, Joyce Taylor, Mary Taylor, Marilyn Tomasson and Betty Thurman.

A mass meeting of the All University Fund Solicitation Committee will be held Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in room 315 in the Union.

"We hope to get approximately 250 solicitors in order to accomplish our challenge of contesting every independent student next year." Sue Brownlee, independent solicitation chairman said.

The brief meeting will feature a movie and explanation of the AUF solicitation system and the background and purpose of AUF.

The solicitation of funds next year will be concentrated on two nights, October 6 and October 7. Lincoln will be divided into 12 separate sections. Team captains to head each section will be selected at the mass meeting.

All students interested in soliciting for AUF are invited to attend the meeting and sign up for the committees.

Dance Lessons

Polka, charleston, and waltz steps will be taught at Union dancing lessons, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

The lessons, sponsored by the Union Dance committee, the fifth in a series of 6, is open to all students.

Donna McCandless, professional dance instructor, will direct the lesson.

It Pays To Be Safe

As a part of The Daily Nebraskan's safety campaign, your student newspaper is publishing the names of all students and faculty members convicted of traffic violations in Lincoln Municipal Court. All names will be run. The Nebraskan is not trying to embarrass individuals—but impress everyone for the need for safety.

APRIL 10, 1953—Jiles L. Harris, 3954 Sumner, freshman in Ag College, pleaded guilty to negligent driving, fined $15 and costs.

APRIL 11, 1953—Betty J. Clark, 5010 Adams, freshman in Teachers College, pleaded guilty to speeding, fined $9 and costs.

Patricia R. Keltner, 415 No. 16th, junior in Teachers College, pleaded guilty to negligent driving, fined $5 and costs.

Joseph L. McDonald, Men's Dorm, sophomore in Arts and Science, pleaded guilty to illegal left turn, fined $1 and costs.

Robert W. McNamee, 1724 F, sophomore in Dental College, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident, fined $15 and costs.

Carroll P. Peterson, 1701 E, sophomore in Business Administration, pleaded guilty to following too closely, fined $5 and costs.

Donald L. Shatto, 723 North 16th, sophomore in Arts and Science, pleaded guilty to violation of stop sign, fined $5 and costs.

John Niederhaus, 4103 Y, freshman in Teachers College, pleaded guilty to speeding, fined $27 and costs.

APRIL 12, 1953—Richard D. Mead, 1141 E, junior in Business Administration, pleaded guilty to speeding, fined $11 and costs.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.

U. S. entrance into the Korean conflict, according to Schreiber, "in effect told Russia that the United States will not tolerate aggression." This, he said, is something that the Russians can understand for they fear an all-out war.