

Aquaquettes To Shove Off At New York Harbor

Aquaquettes, women's swim club, will show spectators the way a foreign college student lives in New York at its annual water pageant Thursday and Friday.

The show titled, "New York Times," is the story of a foreign girl from Liverpool, England, who has come to New York to college.

The water production is based on the letters she writes to her mother. In the show there are 12 letters and 12 numbers, each letter based on the next number.

Background music, special lighting and costumes ranging from Chinese coolies to body lights and black lace gloves will aid the swimmers in portraying the students life.

The first number called New York, New York shoves off at New York harbor with the girls donning scarfs, sailor hats and jeans to represent the people at the harbor.

In the next number, "Autumn in New York," the girls blossom out with leaves on their hands and hats and the next is called "Lullaby of Broadway" as the Aquaquettes wearing "zoot suits" twirl their key chains.

This followed by "Harlem Nocturne," which is a fluorescent number.

In the fifth number, "Manhattan," cafe society girls dominate the number.

The four Aquaquette officers, Sally Mallory, Joan Holden, Nadine Osborn and Ann Kokjer will portray "Snowfall" in the sixth number. In this scene the swimmers are lighted up with body lights as the sole illumination in their darkness number.

Chinese coolies add to the Aquaquettes portrayal of "Chinatown" in the seventh number, followed by "Penthouse Serenade" which portrays the wealthy class of New York. Aquaquettes don white formals, white gloves, tails and bow ties in this portrayal.

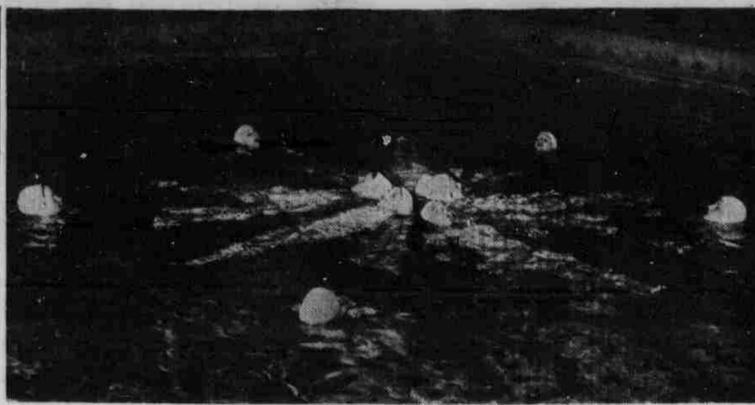

"Spring, Beautiful Spring" is the ninth number the swimmers portray, which is a typical spring in New York. Here, they will model their Easter bonnets and carry umbrellas.

The tenth number is "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," followed by "Manhattan Serenade" in which the glamour of New York is portrayed.

"Give My Regards To Broadway" is the finale with 26 costumed Aquaquettes performing.

The water pageant will be presented at the coliseum at 7:45 p.m. and tickets may be obtained from Aquaquettes and in the Union Thursday.

Aquaquette members are: Suzie Adams, Donna Borgeard, Jane Brode, Sara Carveth, Martha Cook, Marcelyn Dedrick, Phoebe Dempster, Nan Engler, Judy Flansburg, Doris Frank, Janet Healey, Joan Holden, Lynn Holland, Gail Katskee, Ann Kokjer, Jane Lease, Sally Mallory, Nadine Osborn, Louise Owens, Libby Russell, Polly Souser, Joyce Taylor, Mary Taylor, Marilu Tomassen and Betty Thurman.

PINWHEEL FORMATION . . . Here are Aquaquette members in a moving pinwheel formation. This is a scene from one of the numbers portraying a typical part of life in New York City.

CHINESE GALS . . . Three Aquaquette members are shown in "Coolie" headresses as part of the costuming in tonight's show. They are (from left to right): Marcelyn Dedrick, Janet Healey and Martha Cook.

Class Board Sales Close On April 30

Commencement announcements, being sold by the Junior-Senior Class Board for the first time in University's history, may be purchased at a Union booth until Thursday, April 30.

All profits from the sale of the announcements will go into the class treasury, according to the board. Exclusively handled by the classes, leather and cardboard covered memory books including a complete list of the class and several pictures of the campus and french-fold announcements will be sold.

Class representatives have 3,000 french-fold announcements, which will be sold on a cash and carry basis until the supply runs out. Money brought into the class treasury by the sales will be used to buy scholarship cups for the senior man and woman with the highest accumulative average for seven semesters, which will be presented Ivy Day. If any money is left after the purchase of the cups, a class gift will be bought or the money will be left in the treasury for next year's class, Board members said.

A front view of Love Memorial Library was chosen for the cover of both the memory books and the french-fold announcements. A special class committee, which met several weeks ago with Robert Stewart, manager of a local bookstore, drew up the specifications for the announcements and memory books.

OFFICERS FORMATION . . . The four officers who are going to wear body lights in tonight's number "Snowfall" are (from left to right): Joan Holden, vice-president; Ann Kokjer, secretary; Sally Mallory, president; and Nadine Osborn, treasurer.

Kuska Selected Cob President; Pep Group Takes 16 Members

Officers and new Corn Cob activities were announced for the 1953-54 year at ceremonies held Wednesday evening at the Lincoln Hotel.

Cal Kuska, photography editor of the Cornhusker, member of Block and Bridle club, Sigma Delta Chi, and Phi Kappa Psi, was named president.

Ernie Bebb, president of the Arnold Air Society, Union Board member, and Alpha Tau Omega was named vice-president by Dan Tolman, past vice-president.

J. Benedict, member of Student Council, Kosmet Klub, Junior Class vice-president, assistant business manager for the Cornhusker, and Sigma Phi Epsilon chaplain, was named secretary. Benedict was presented by Ira Epstein, past secretary.

Bill Melville, alumni secretary of Alpha Kappa Delta, and treasurer of Phi Gamma Delta, was appointed treasurer of the organization. He was presented by Marty Lewis, past treasurer.

Col. Frankforter, Corn Cob advisor for more than 20 years, complimented the group on a "year's work well done." He said there was an increased need for emphasis on scholarship. He noted that organization members could make a real contribution to the University by doing all they could to make students more aware of the necessity of good scholarship. Prior to the announcement of the new Cob officers, new members, selected on the basis of contribution and effort to the organization, were formally initiated as active Corn Cob members.

New activities are: Don Novotny, Art Raun, Brock Dutton, Russell Young, Dan Rasdal, Gene Kerr, Phil Shade, Junior Knobel, and Charles Anderson.

Others are: Paul Scheele, Mary Strome, Doran Jacobs, Mike Greenberg, Mary Friedman, Leonard Barker and Tom Woodward.

Two Colleges Complete Plans For E-Week, April 30, May 1

The Engineering and Architecture colleges will present E-Week on April 30 and May 1.

E-Week is designed to introduce visitors to the curriculum of the two colleges through displays, demonstrations, movies and tours of every department. Emphasis is placed upon the educational opportunities that are offered.

The annual activity, planned and executed by student groups, in the two colleges will begin with a general open house Thursday for all visitors.

Displays will be used to illustrate the various courses offered in Engineering and Agriculture.

The colleges' financial, organizational and operational problems are used to give educational benefits to the students and these problems will be viewed by the public through discussion groups and convocation.

An engineering convocation will be held Friday morning. At noon a picnic will be held for all visitors and students who are participating in the event. Friday evening an annual banquet will be held in the Lincoln Hotel.

Co-Chairmen for E-Week are John Whitlock and Norman Scott.

Other committees and chairmen are: Electrical engineering, Arthur Gross and Paul Moseman; civil engineering, Leslie Martin and Jack Bale; agricultural engineering, Gordon Kruse and Bill Stout; mechanical engineering, Bernard Kittle and Charles Schade; architectural engineering, John Savage and Tad Tucker; chemical engineering, Dick Pusateri and Lloyd Keller; E. M. chairman, Jack Warren.

Faculty advisor, E. B. Meier, secretary-treasurer, Dean Buckingham; guides, Paul J. Siemkiewicz; field day, Victor J. Roh; inquiries, Stanley Smith; program, Ted Kratt; window display, Bob Parsons; convocation, Glen Vest; contest, Curtis Sorenson; ribbon sales, Henry Wulf; publicity on campus, Bob Peterson; publicity off campus, John Markes; "Sledre," Howard Selk; banquet, M. a. c. Bailey and traffic, Richard Bier-man.

NU Methodists To Attend Meet

The 1953 Nebraska Methodist Student Movement annual spring conference will be held in Chadron Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The campus Methodist Student house has made arrangements to charter a bus from Lincoln to Chadron. The group will leave the Student house 8 a.m. Friday. Theme for the three-day conference will be "Keys to the Kingdom," which will be presented by Dr. D. L. Dykes, Jr., Minister of Central Methodist Church, Fayetteville, Arkansas.

The organization's program emphasis and philosophy of the MSM will be discussed by each college participating in the conference. These groups will study and analyze the ideas and questions posed by Dr. Dykes relating to the Bible and to Christian living.

Cost for transportation, room, meals and registration will be $7. Persons interested in attending the conference may sign up at the Student house office, or call 2-3117.

Billoni

By BILL DEVRIES Staff Writer

Fraternity man: "Darling, I love you as no one has ever loved before."

Sorority girl: "I can't see much difference."

A male nurse in a mental hospital spotted a patient with his ear pressed to the wall, listening intently. The patient held up a warning finger, then beckoned the nurse to come over quietly. "You listen here," he whispered. "The nurse put his ear to the wall and listened for a few moments. Then he turned to the patient and said, "I can't hear anything."

"No," said the patient knowingly, "and it's been like that all day."

Brr. It's going to be cold tomorrow morning, so says the weather man. However, there is a chance that the temperature might rise to about 50 in the afternoon with fair skies.

Chemistry Professor: "What can you tell me about nitrates?" Student: "Well—er—they're a lot cheaper than day rates."

It's a big problem with some women to keep both their girlish figures and their boyish husbands.

Two little rabbits were being chased by a pack of dogs. Finally they stopped to rest in a small ravine.

Mamma Rabbit: "Shall we run on or stop here and out-number them?"

Two vultures walking away from a pile of bones: "You can't beat camels for taste and they're milder too."

the DAILY NEBRASKAN

VOL. 52—No. 113 LINCOLN, NEBRASKA Thursday, April 16, 1953

Cherrington To Speak On Freedom

Dr. Ben Mark Cherrington will address the 25th University of Nebraska Honors Convocation Tuesday at 10:15 a.m. in the Coliseum.

The native Nebraska who is now director of the Institute of International Education in Denver will speak on "The Role of Research and Scholarship in the Preservation and Extension of Freedom."

Dr. Cherrington received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University in 1911 and an honorary L.L.D. degree in 1946. In 1938 he helped to establish the Division of Cultural Relations of the U. S. State Department.

Dr. Cherrington was associate consultant to the U. S. delegation at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco.

He also aided in the organization of UNESCO and later was elected to the executive committee of the U. S. delegation of UNESCO.

Chancellor R. G. Gustavson will preside at the morning convocation. Rex Knowles, Congregational-Presbyterian student pastor at the University, will deliver the invocation. Dr. Charles J. Kennedy, chairman of the Convocation committee, will present candidates for certificates of superior scholarship.

The University Symphony orchestra, directed by Professor Emanuel Wishnow, will play.

Students with outstanding scholastic achievements will be recognized Tuesday at the Convocation.

Dr. Cherrington will be guest speaker at a honors banquet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Banquet tickets will be available at the Union and reservations must be made by Saturday.

Courtesy Lincoln State. DR. BEN MARK CHERRINGTON . . . University graduate and holder of an honorary degree from Nebraska, Dr. Cherrington will address the Honor's Day Convocation Tuesday. See story at left.

NU Student Wins Fashion Scholarship

Shirley Lumbard, a senior in Ag College from Grand Island, has been awarded a Fashion Fellowship which has come for the first time to a student at the University.

The full tuition fellowship, valued at $1,050, is one of the three Fashion Fellowships offered annually by the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York City. The school prepares young women for executive positions in buying, advertising, styling, personnel and television.

Miss Lumbard is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary, Gamma Alpha Chi, advertising honorary and Omicron NU, homemaking honorary.

SC Votes To Extend Class Officer Filings

Filings for Junior and Senior class officer positions will be extended two and a half days, starting today at 8 a.m. until Saturday at noon, the Student Council decided Wednesday.

After a long and sometimes heated debate, the Council passed by a 15 to 6 vote a motion that the filings be re-opened.

According to the Council constitution, however, the motion must get official approval from the Judiciary Committee and the faculty Committee on Student Affairs if any nominations made in these two days are to be validated.

It was pointed out at the meeting that only three officer positions had received the required two student applications that are needed for each position to be voted on in the May 4 Council elections. These positions are: secretary of the Senior class, president and vice-president of the Junior class.

Speaking on behalf of the Junior-Senior class officers were Don Pieper, Senior class president and Sue Ann Brownlee, Junior class council member.

They both presented the Council with arguments to show why they believed it in the best interests of the University to re-open the nominations for the class positions.

Bob Hasebroeck introduced the motion that the elections be allowed to be re-opened and after receiving considerable debate, his motion was carried.

Student Council faculty representative Mary L. Mielenz, associate professor of secondary education, informed the Council that it was in the power of any student or faculty member to question the validity of a candidate's name that was accepted in the last extension of class officer filings. She said that the same conditions would apply to any name submitted under any further extension, and advised that the Council check its action with the judiciary committee.

Miss Mielenz was referring to the previous action taken by the Council when they extended the filings for a period of four days longer than had originally been planned. This extension was not passed by either the judiciary committee or the faculty committee on student affairs.

The Council referred Hasebroeck's motion to the judiciary committee, headed by Eldon Park, who will discuss its validity. It will then be taken before the faculty committee on student affairs who will also discuss its constitutionality.

Dean Linscott, chairman of the elections committee, told the Council that a new procedure of identification would be used in the forth-coming May 4 elections. He said that student identification cards would replace the formerly used identification slips that had to be cleared through the registrars office before a student could vote.

Robert Knoll, assistant professor of English was introduced to the Council for the first time as their new faculty representative. He is replacing Dr. Henry Holtzclaw, associate professor of chemistry whose term as faculty representative for the Council has expired.

Carr Trumbull reported that any action to install a traffic light at the corner of 16th and R Streets probably will not be taken until next Fall. The measure is being considered at the present time however.

Rocky Yapp informed the Council that he was drawing up a questionnaire on wages paid students here in Lincoln that will be submitted to their employers. Yapp is investigating the wages paid to University students. Wayne White announced that there would be no Council meetings here in Lincoln because of the annual Council picnic at Pioneer Park.

Officer Filings Open Today; Applications Due Saturday

Applications for all eight class officer positions will be open from Thursday until Saturday noon.

After action by the Student Council Wednesday, applications will be accepted for these posts pending a ruling by the Council Judiciary Committee and the faculty sub-committee on General Organizations.

Applications will be available

What Happened

Here's what happened during the bitter Student Council debate Wednesday afternoon over re-opening filings for class officers:

1. Bob Hasebroeck moved that the Council re-open filings. The motion was seconded.

2. There was a great deal of discussion on the motion.

3. An attempt to call the question was defeated.

4. Stan Sipple moved to refer the matter to the Judiciary Committee because of a question concerning the constitutionality of re-opening filings. This motion was seconded.

5. There was some discussion on this motion.

6. Rocky Yapp moved that Sipple's motion be postponed indefinitely. This motion was seconded and carried.

7. There was more discussion on Hasebroeck's motion.

8. The question was called.

9. Hasebroeck's motion was passed 15-6.

10. Elections Chairman Dean Linscott announced that filings would be re-opened Thursday and applications will be accepted pending approval of the Council Judiciary Committee and the faculty sub-committee on General Organization.

at Room 209 in the Administration Building. Applicants for junior offices must have completed at least 27 hours and not more than 52 hours at the end of last semester. Senior applicants must have at least 53 hours and not more than 88 hours.

In order for a filing to be valid, applicants must have signatures of 25 students. The applications ask for the candidate's name, address, sex, position sought, grade average, social affiliation, professional affiliation, activities and a pledge of purpose.

The office of Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, Frank Hallgren, must approve all applications. Because of some doubt concerning the constitutionality of re-opening filings, all filings made will only be valid if the Council Judiciary Committee and the faculty committee says so.

The constitution says that filings may only be opened between certain dates. Some Council members, however, feel that this does not mean that they may not be re-opened. Filings for Student Council offices will not be re-opened because enough students filed for those posts during the previous filing dates.

The original filing dates were extended once and closed. Still, the class officer posts did not have enough candidates for a valid election according to the Council constitution. The Constitution requires that there be at least two candidates for each office.

If the election were held without re-opening the filings, there would be voting only for senior class secretary (Merle Maupin and Bert Sample filed for that office), junior class president (Marvin Stromer and Richard Schultz filed for this office) and Council class vice president (Richard Faes, Bill Devries and James Harglerod filed for this office.)

Visitors From Princeton

SEMINARY GRADUATES TALK TO NUERS . . . Neil Hamilton (left), a Princeton Seminary graduate has the attention of the Rev. Rex Knowles and two other members of the troupe, Rex Jackson and Bill Cohea. During the past five days the three Princeton men have been talking with members of nearly every organized house on campus discussing their beliefs and ideas about God.

Join The Crusade For Safety Here Is My Pledge

I personally pledge myself to drive and walk safely and think in terms of safety throughout 1953.

I give this promise in seriousness and earnestness having considered fully my obligation to protect my life and the lives of my family and my fellow man.

I pledge myself further to advance the cause of safety by taking part in safety activities of my club, school, employee group and other organizations.

NAME _____

ST. ADDRESS OR RURAL ROUTE NO. _____

CITY AND STATE _____

An Accident Is The Hard Way To Learn Safety